Him & Him & Him.
This week we're back with a topic:
"THE VAGINAL ELASTICITY"
BATOTO SCANS

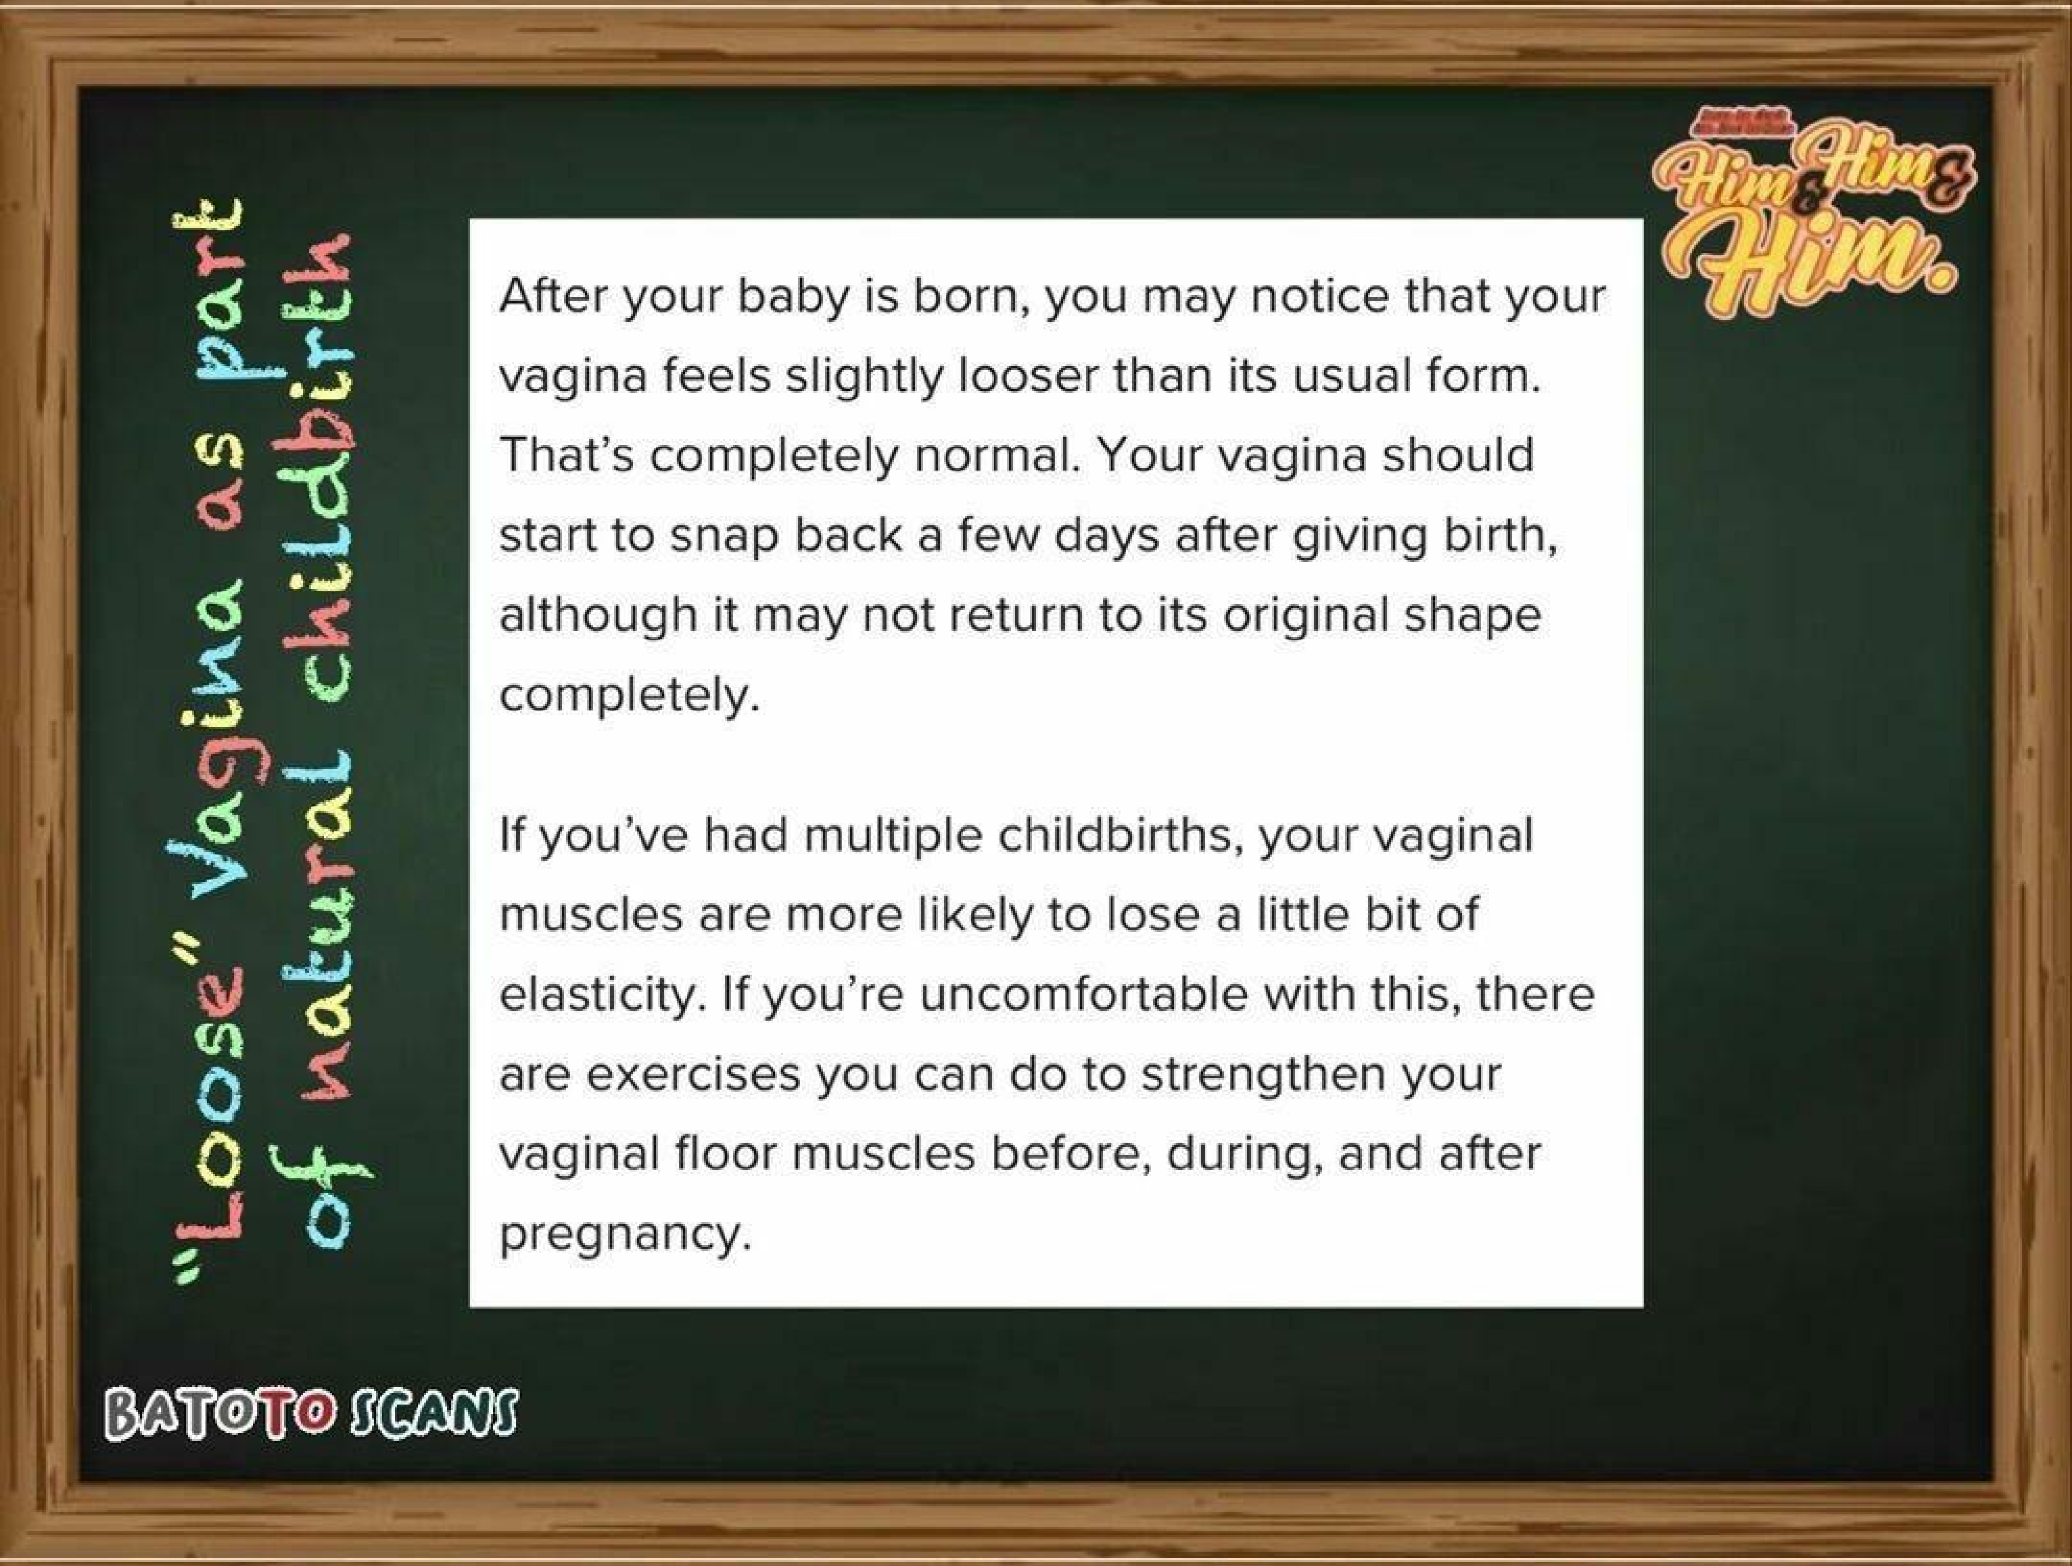

Him & Him & Him.
"Loose" vagina has always been used as a term to stereotype and mock woman about their sex life, while "Tight" vagina are usually more desirable, even considered as a symbol of purity.
Today, we're gonna break the myths between "loose" and "Tight" vagina.
BATOTO SCANS

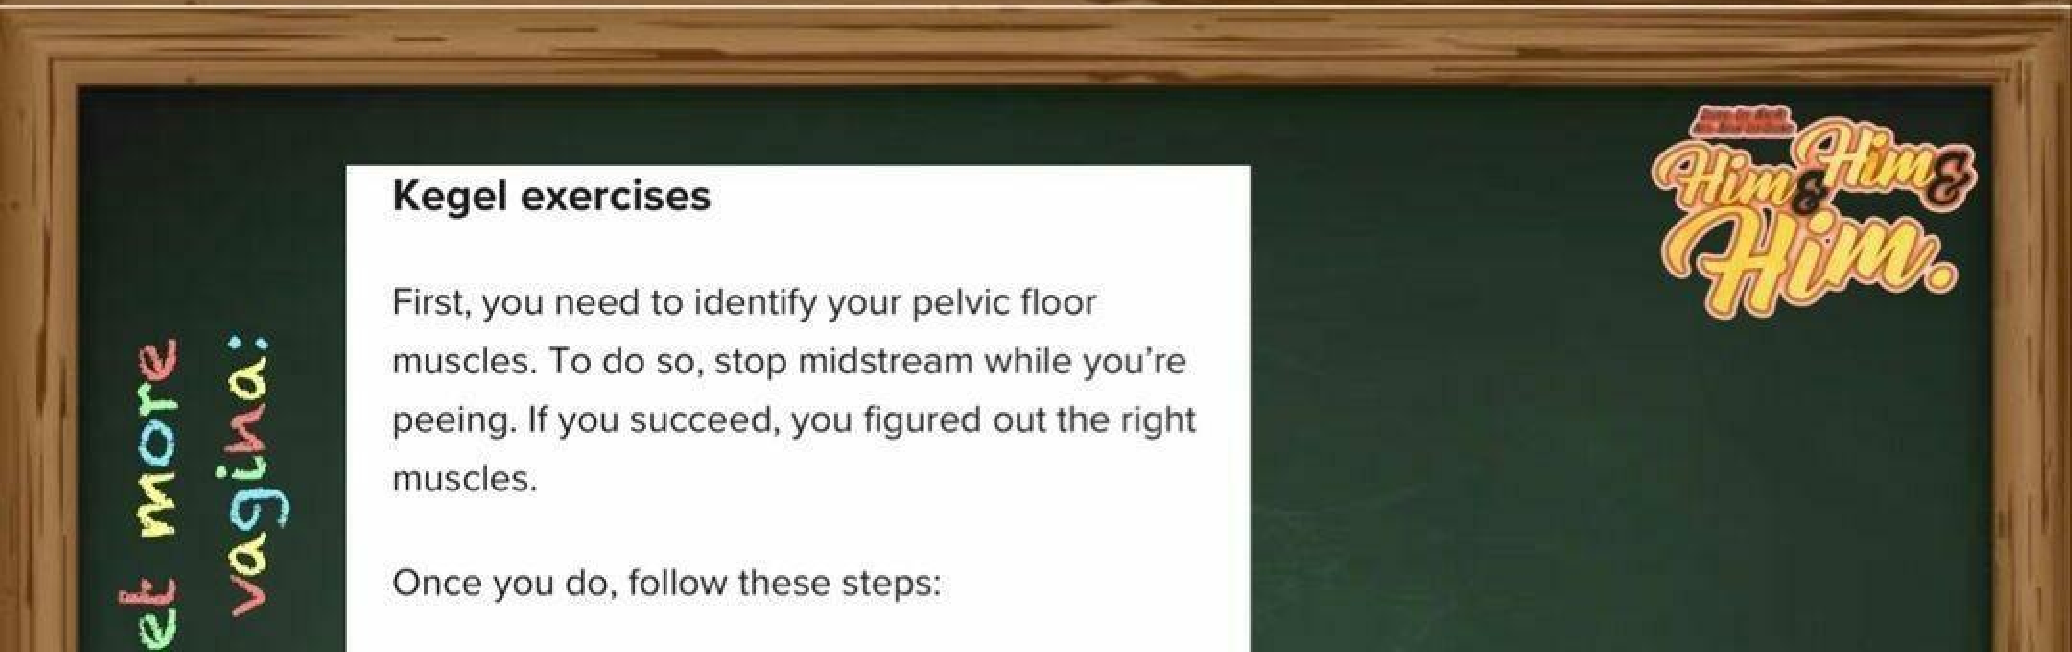

Him & Him & Him.
"Loose" Vagina
Breaking down the myth of a 'loose vagina'
First thing's first: There's no such thing as a "loose" vagina. Your vagina may change over time due to age and childbirth, but it won't lose its stretch permanently.
The myth of a "loose" vagina has historically been used as a way to shame women for their sex lives. After all, a "loose" vagina isn't used to describe a woman who has a lot of sex with her partner. It's primarily used to describe a woman who has had sex with more than one man.

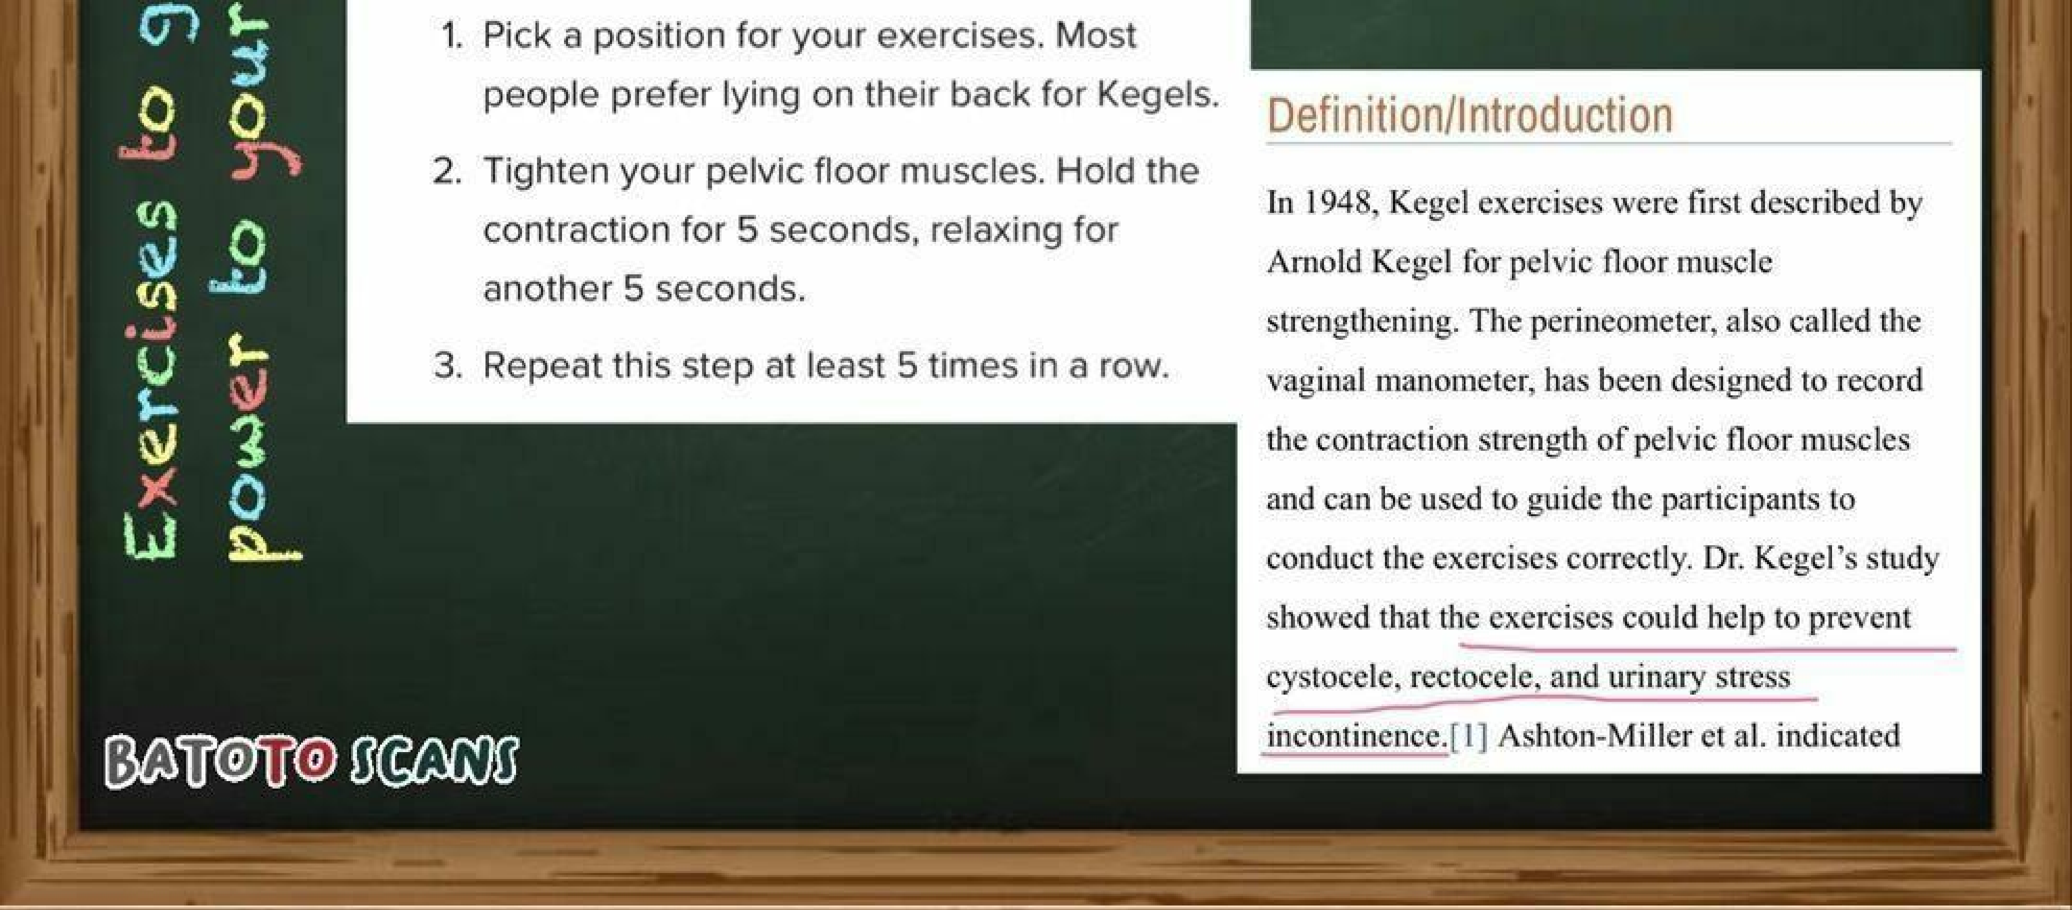

But the truth is that it doesn't matter who you have sex with or how often. Penetration won't cause your vagina to stretch out permanently.
BATOTO SCANS

"Loose" Vagina
Him&Him&Him.
Your vagina will change over time
Only two things can affect your vagina's elasticity: age and childbirth. Frequent sex — or lack thereof — won't cause your vagina to lose any of its stretch. !!!
Over time, childbirth and age could potentially cause a slight, natural loosening of your vagina. Women who've had more than one vaginal birth are more likely to have weakened vaginal muscles. However, aging can cause your vagina to stretch slightly, regardless of whether you've had children.
BATOTO SCANS

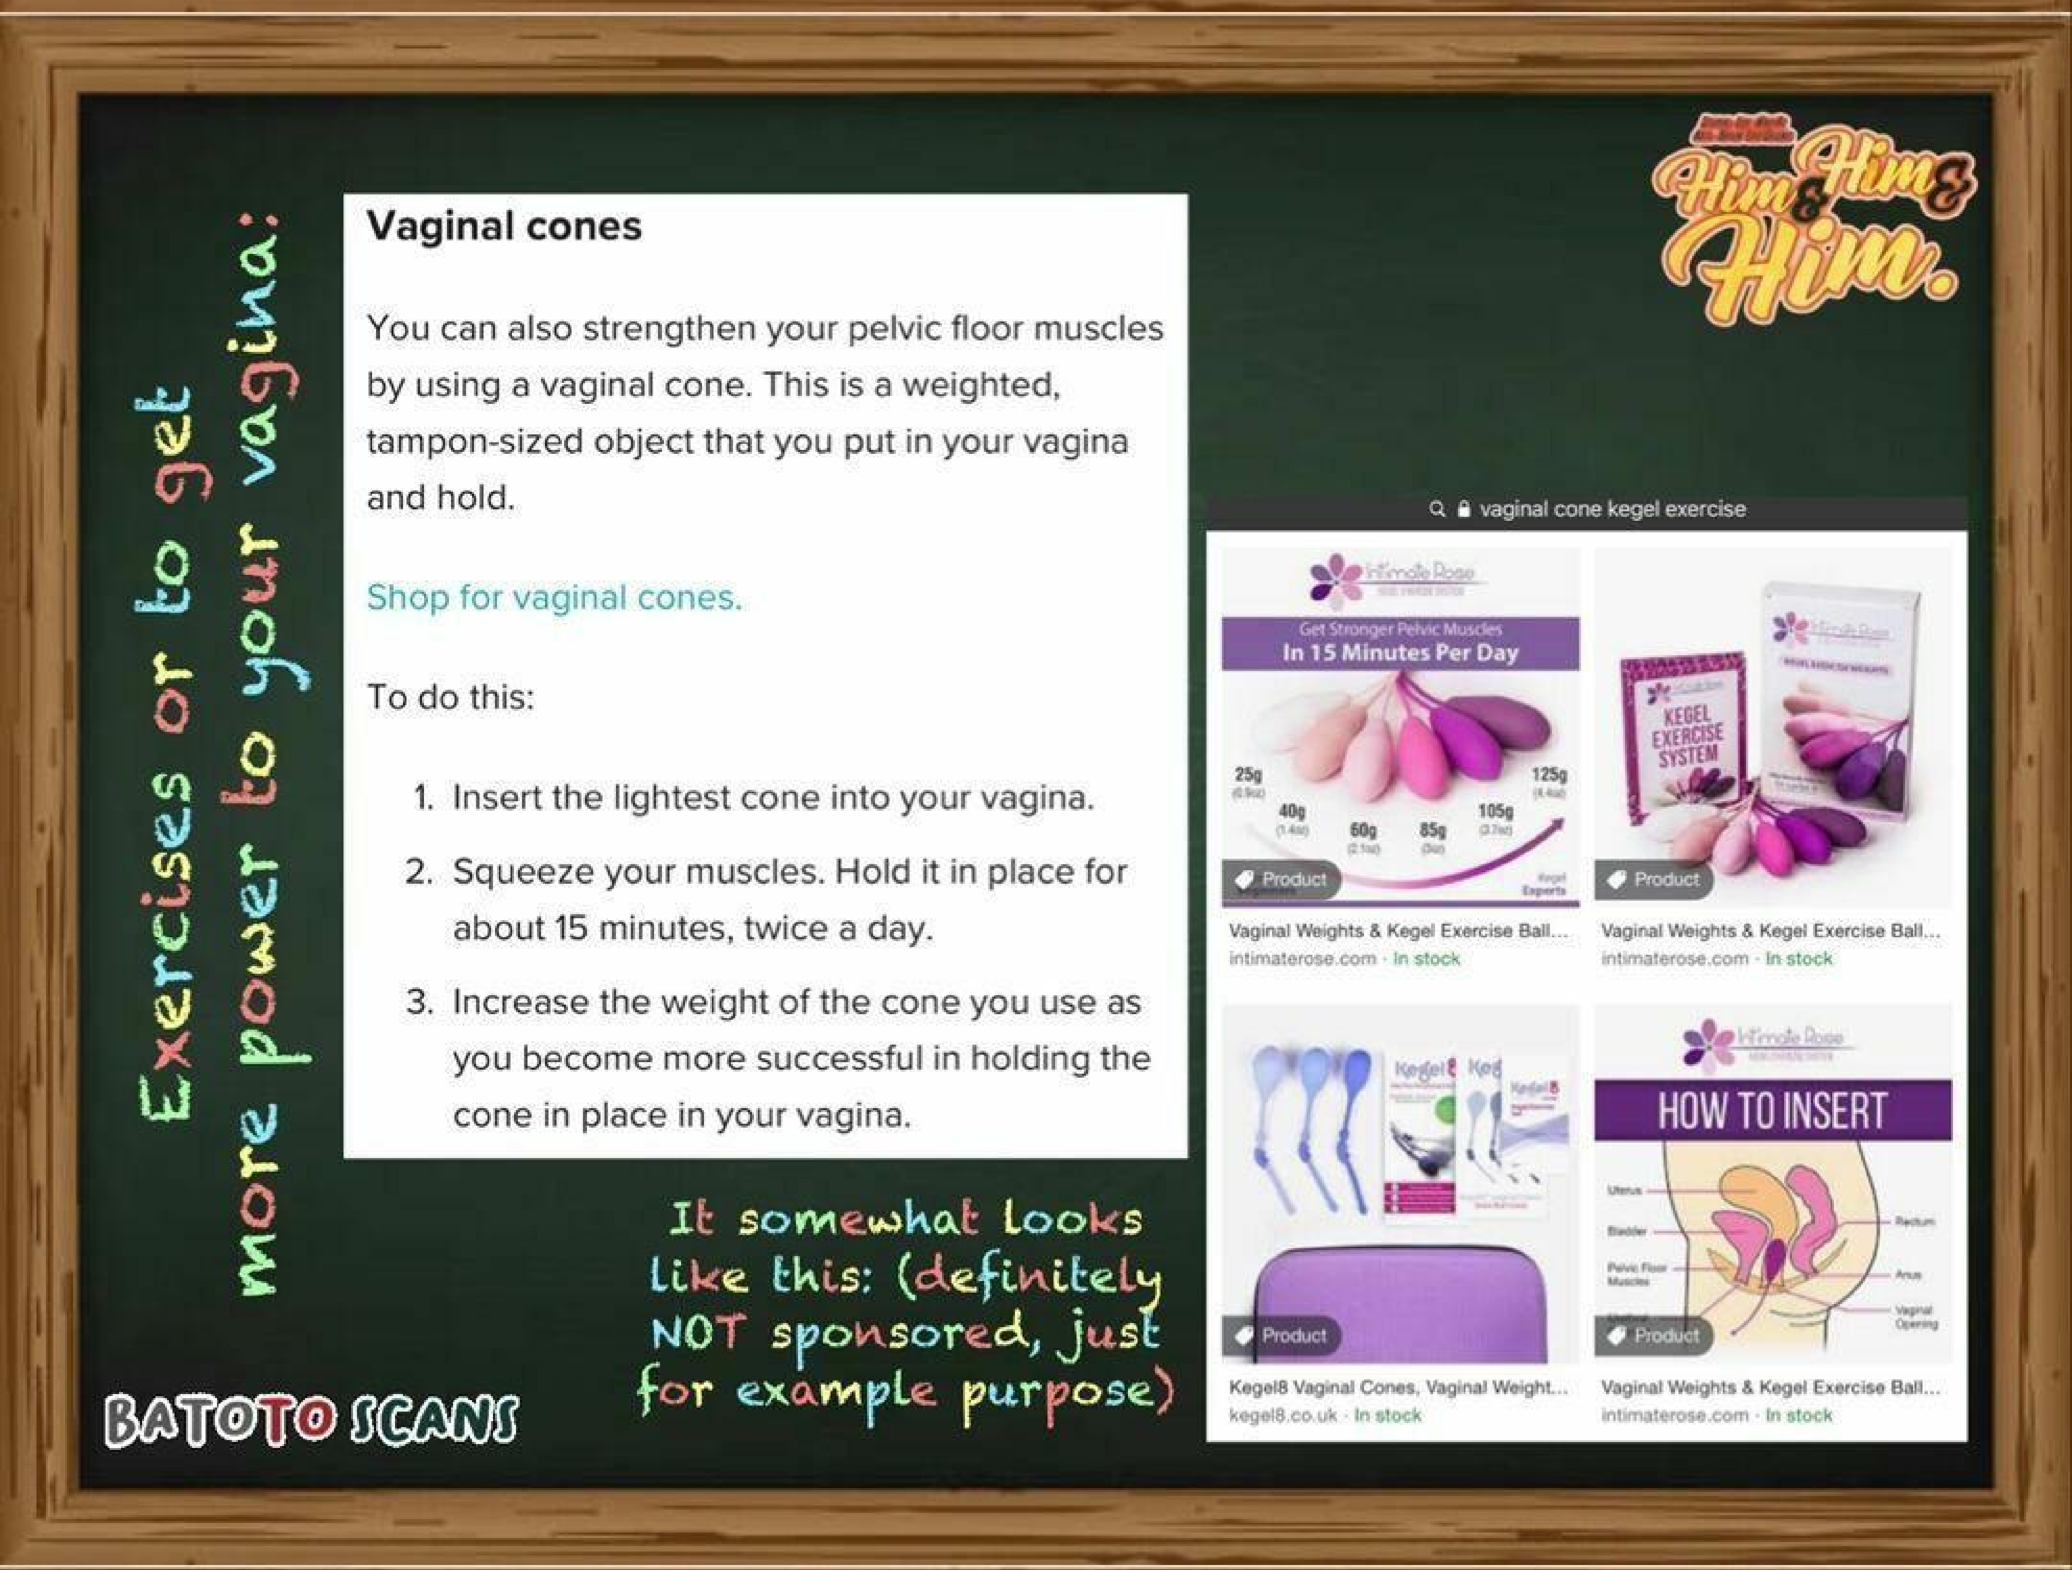

"Loose" Vagina as part of natural aging
Him&Him&Him.
You may begin to see a change in your vagina's elasticity starting in your 40s. That's because your estrogen levels will begin to drop as you enter the perimenopausal stage.
A loss of estrogen means your vaginal tissue will become:
• thinner
• drier
• less acidic
• less stretchy or flexible
BATOTO SCANS

"Loose" Vagina as part of natural childbirth
Him&Him&Him.
After your baby is born, you may notice that your vagina feels slightly looser than its usual form. That's completely normal. Your vagina should start to snap back a few days after giving birth, although it may not return to its original shape completely.
If you've had multiple childbirths, your vaginal muscles are more likely to lose a little bit of elasticity. If you're uncomfortable with this, there are exercises you can do to strengthen your vaginal floor muscles before, during, and after pregnancy.

Kegel exercises
First, you need to identify your pelvic floor muscles. To do so, stop midstream while you're peeing. If you succeed, you figured out the right muscles.
Once you do, follow these steps:

Exercises to g power to your
1. Pick a position for your exercises. Most people prefer lying on their back for Kegels.
2. Tighten your pelvic floor muscles. Hold the contraction for 5 seconds, relaxing for another 5 seconds.
3. Repeat this step at least 5 times in a row.
Definition/Introduction
In 1948, Kegel exercises were first described by Arnold Kegel for pelvic floor muscle strengthening. The perineometer, also called the vaginal manometer, has been designed to record the contraction strength of pelvic floor muscles and can be used to guide the participants to conduct the exercises correctly. Dr. Kegel's study showed that the exercises could help to prevent cystocele, rectocele, and urinary stress incontinence.[1] Ashton-Miller et al. indicated more power to your vagina:

Vaginal cones
You can also strengthen your pelvic floor muscles by using a vaginal cone. This is a weighted, tampon-sized object that you put in your vagina and hold.
Shop for vaginal cones.
To do this:
1. Insert the lightest cone into your vagina.
2. Squeeze your muscles. Hold it in place for about 15 minutes, twice a day.
3. Increase the weight of the cone you use as you become more successful in holding the cone in place in your vagina.

Exercises or Treatment to get more power to your vagina:
Pelvic tilt exercises
To strengthen your vaginal muscles using a pelvic tilt exercise:
1. Stand with your shoulders and butt against a wall. Keep both of your knees soft.
2. Pull your bellybutton in toward your spine. When you do this, your back should flatten against the wall.
3. Tighten your bellybutton for 4 seconds, then release.
4. Do this 10 times, for up to 5 times a day.
Neuromuscular electrical stimulation (NMES)
NMES can help strengthen your vaginal muscles by sending an electric current through your pelvic floor using a probe. The electrical stimulation will cause your pelvic floor muscles to contract and relax.
You can use a home NMES unit or have your doctor perform the treatment. A typical session lasts 20 minutes. You should do this once every four days, for a few weeks.
BATOTO SCANS

Him & Him & Him.
"Tight" Vagina
A 'tight' vagina isn't necessarily a good thing
It's important to know that a "tight" vagina may be a sign of an underlying concern, especially if you're experiencing discomfort during penetration.
Your vaginal muscles naturally relax when you're aroused. If you're not turned on, interested, or physically prepared for intercourse, your vagina won't relax, self-lubricate, and stretch.
BATOTO SCANS

Vaginismus:

Vaginismus is pain that happens before or during penetration. This could mean sexual intercourse, slipping in a tampon, or inserting a speculum during a pelvic exam.

This can happen:

- as the partner attempts penetration
- when a woman inserts a tampon
- when a woman is touched near the vaginal area

Vaginismus doesn't interfere with sexual arousal, but it can prevent penetration.

Vaginismus:

Types of vaginismus

Vaginismus is classified into two types:

- primary vaginismus: when vaginal penetration has never been achieved
- secondary vaginismus: when vaginal penetration was once achieved, but is no longer possible, potentially due to factors such as gynecologic surgery, trauma, or radiation

Some women develop vaginismus after menopause. When estrogen levels drop, a lack of vaginal lubrication and elasticity makes intercourse painful, stressful, or impossible. This can lead to vaginismus in some women.

Causes of vaginismus

There's not always a reason for vaginismus. The condition has been linked to:

- past sexual abuse or trauma
- past painful intercourse
- emotional factors

In some cases, no direct cause can be found.

To make a diagnosis, your doctor will do a physical exam and ask about your medical and sexual history. These histories can help give clues to the underlying cause of the contractions.

Vaginismus:

Sexual dysfunction can take a toll on relationships. Being proactive and getting treatment can be crucial in saving a marriage or relationship.

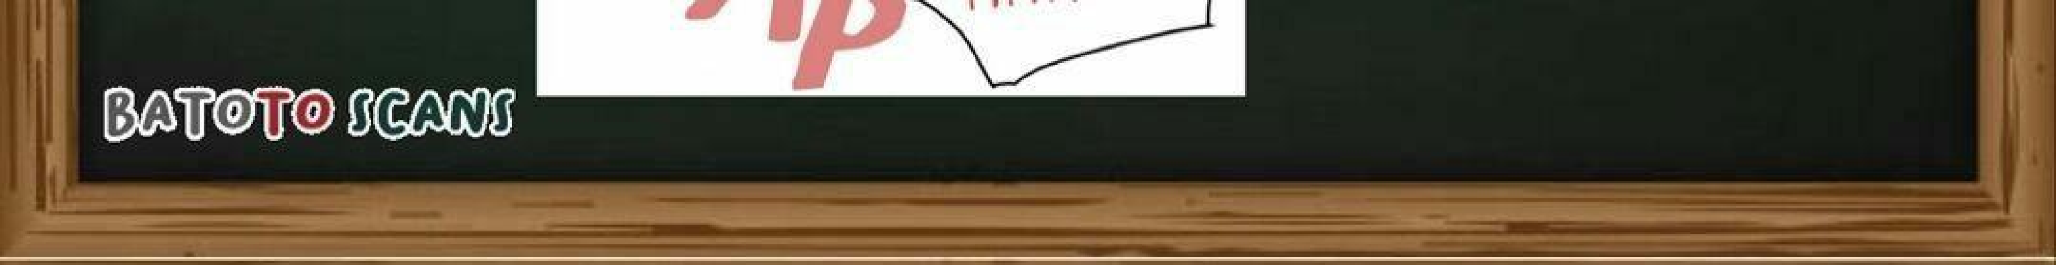

It's important to remember that there's nothing to be ashamed of. Talking with your partner about your feelings and fears about intercourse may help you feel more relaxed.

Your doctor or therapist can provide you with ways to overcome vaginismus. Many people recover and go on to live happy sexual lives.

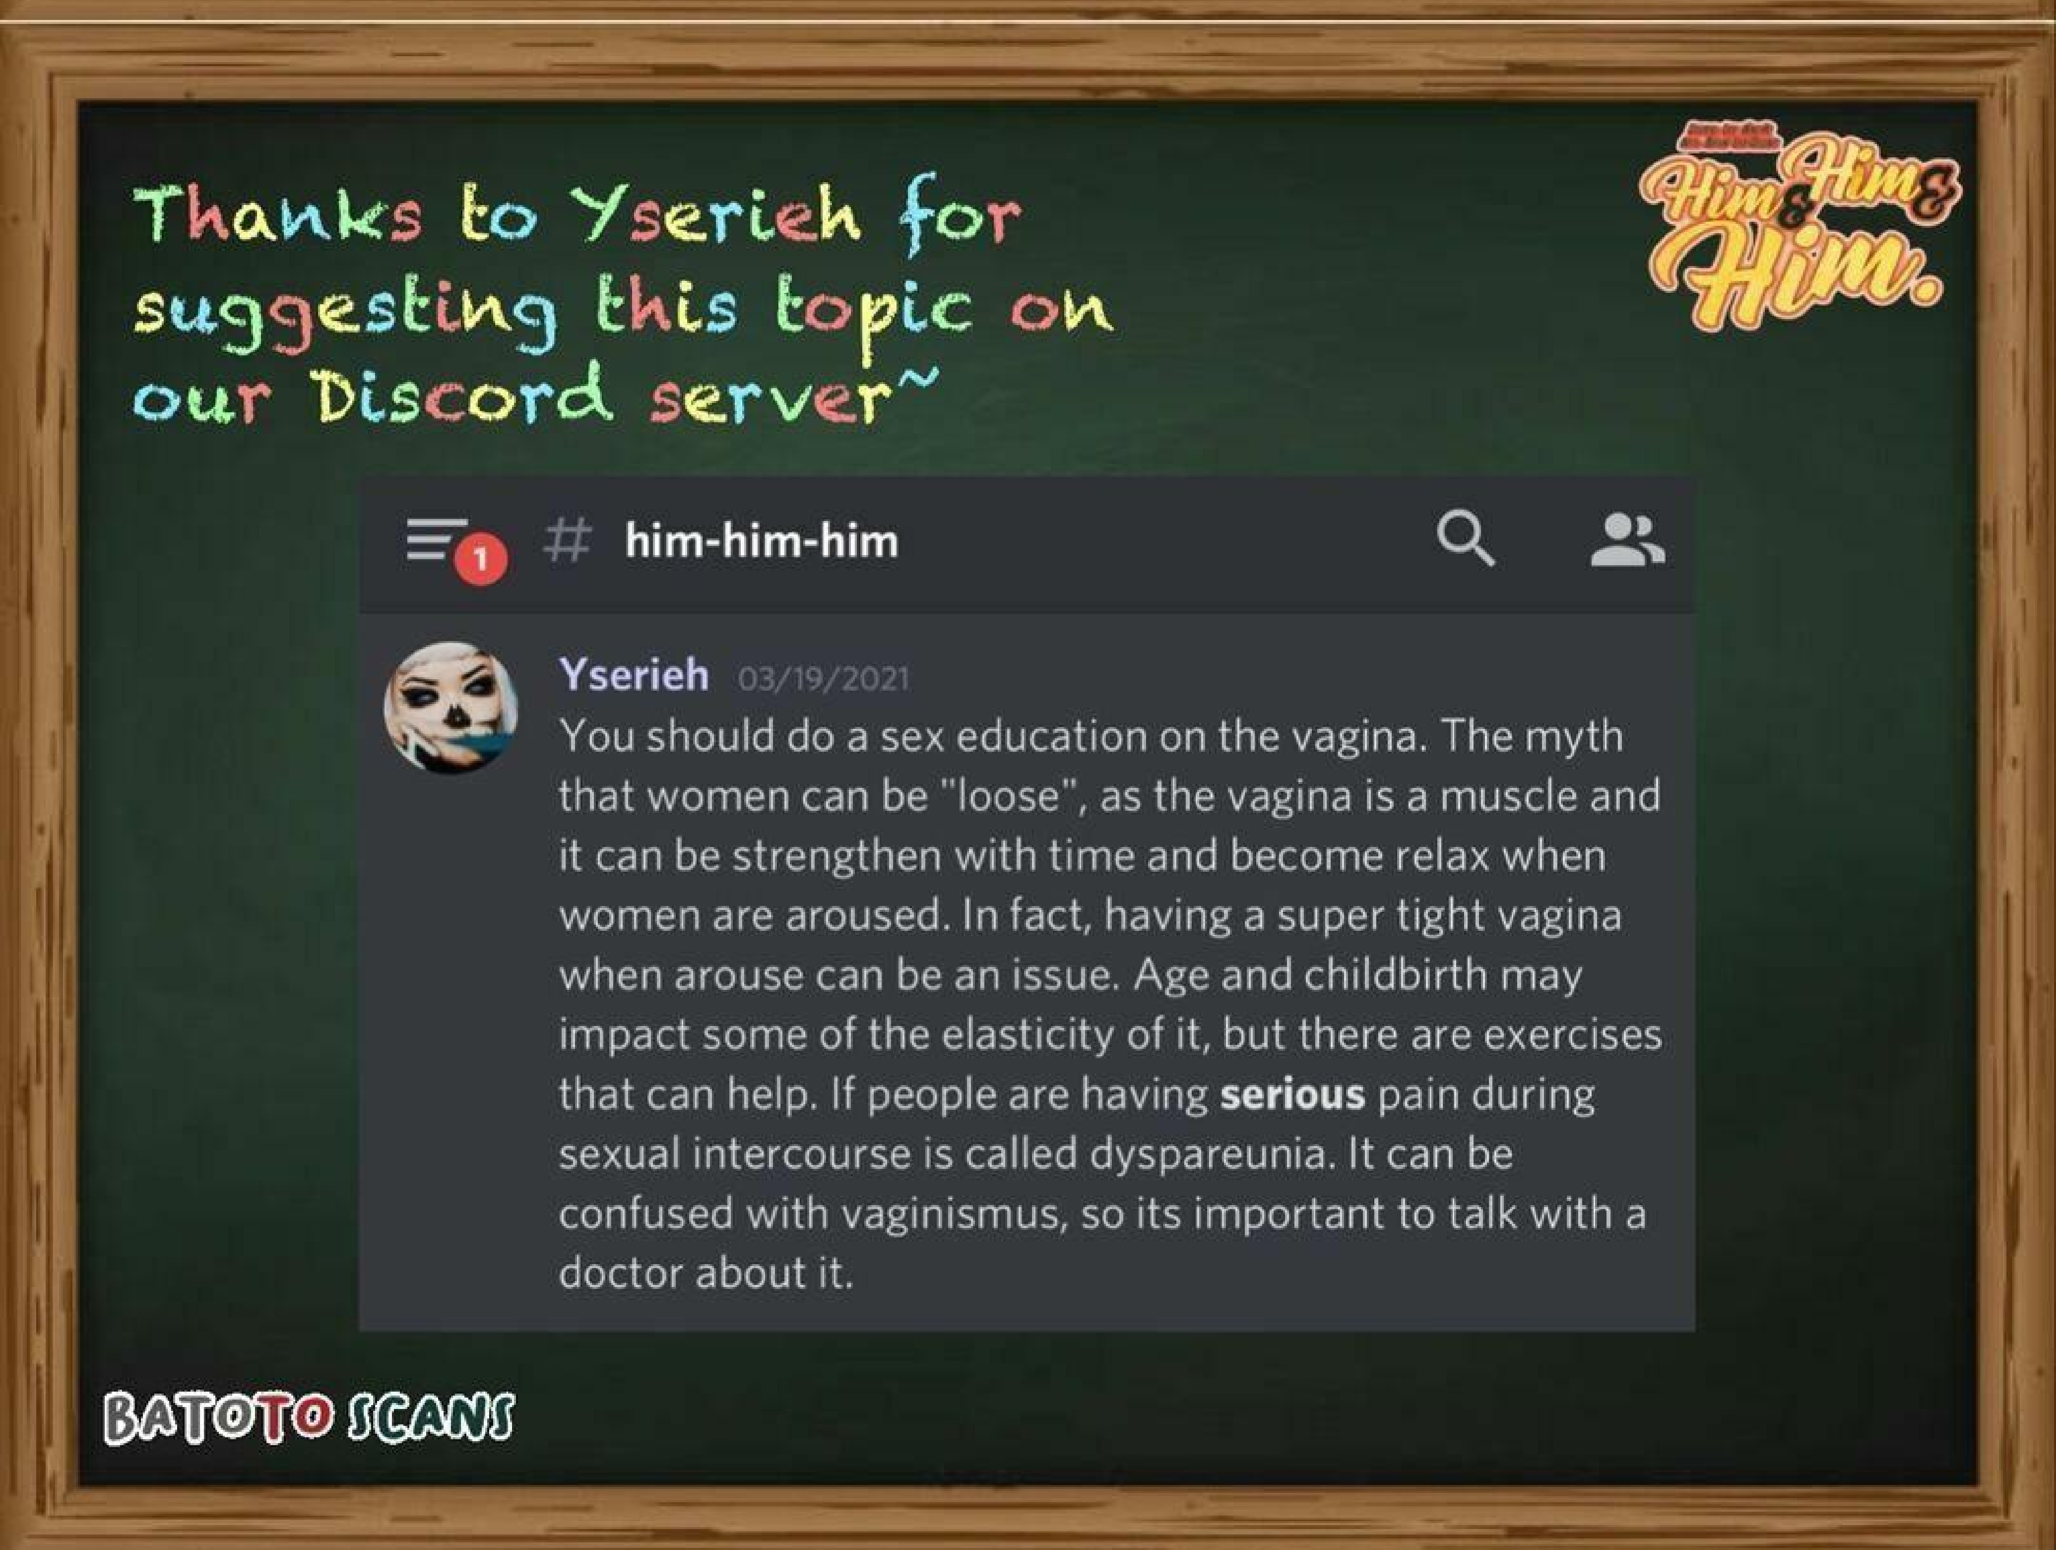

When it's TOO tight and painful, just stop and listen to your body!

You should do a sex education on the vagina. The myth that women can be "loose", as the vagina is a muscle and it can be strengthen with time and become relax when women are aroused. In fact, having a super tight vagina when arouse can be an issue. Age and childbirth may impact some of the elasticity of it, but there are exercises that can help. If people are having serious pain during sexual intercourse is called dyspareunia. It can be confused with vaginismus, so its important to talk with a doctor about it.

LET'S TALK ABOUT
SEXUAL CONSENT, SHALL WE?
BATOTO SCANS

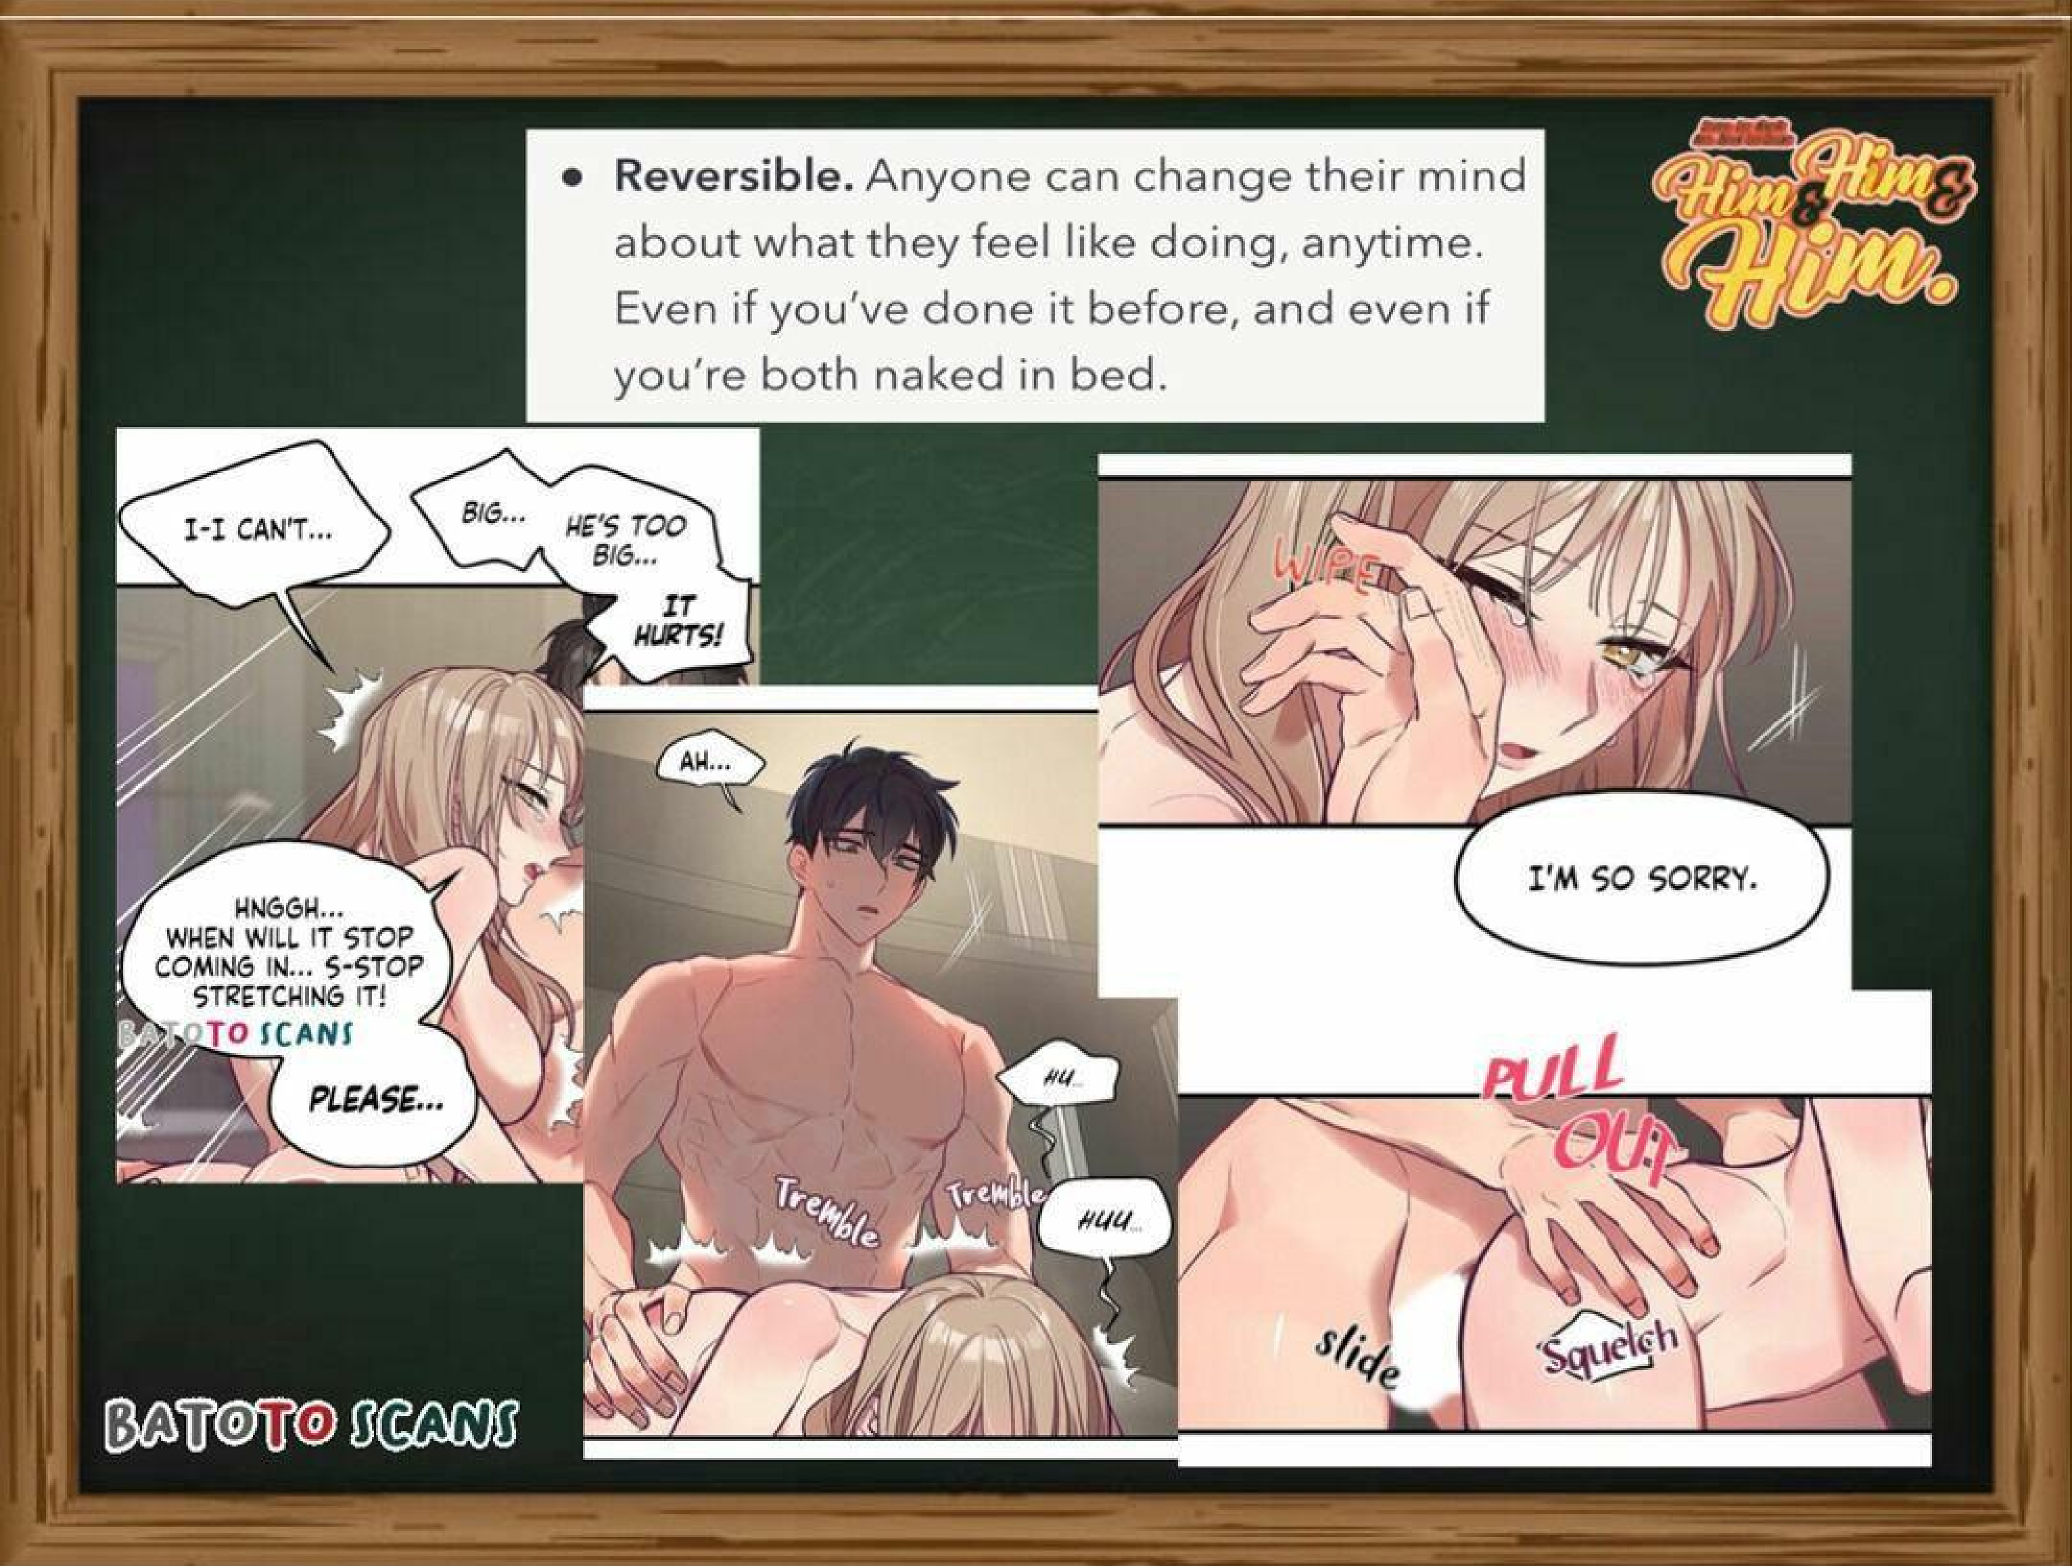

WHAT IS
SEXUAL CONSENT?
Sexual consent is an agreement to participate in a sexual activity. Before being sexual with someone, you need to know if they want to be sexual with you too. It's also important to be honest with your partner about what you want and don't want.
Consenting and asking for consent are all about setting your personal boundaries and respecting those of your partner – and checking in if things aren't clear. Both people must agree to sex – every single time – for it to be consensual.
Consent is never implied by things like your past behavior, what you wear, or where you go. Sexual consent is always clearly communicated – there should be no question or mystery. Silence is not consent. And it's not just important the first time you're with someone. Couples who've had sex before or even ones who've been together for a long time also need to consent before sex – every time.
There are laws about who can consent and who can't. People who are drunk, high, or passed out can't consent to sex. There are also laws to protect minors (people under the age of 18) from being pressured into sex with someone much older than them.

WHAT IS
SEXUAL CONSENT?
Beyond Words Defining Consent and Asking for Its Regulation

"Affirmative consent" means affirmative, conscious and voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity (according to the 2014 law). Meaning, when a person says "no" at any kind of sexual engagement, the other person must understand the "no" as such. Sexual contact with a person who has not given her/his consent constitutes a crime. The affirmative consent law

WHY DO WE NEED SEXUAL CONSENT?
1) A sex without mutual consent is a crime. Even if you did it with your s/o.
apa.org
Sexual abuse is unwanted sexual activity, with perpetrators using force, making threats or taking advantage of victims not able to give consent. Most victims and perpetrators know each other. Immediate reactions to sexual abuse include shock, fear or disbelief. Long-term symptoms include anxiety, fear or post-traumatic stress disorder. While efforts to treat sex offenders remain unpromising, psychological interventions for survivors — especially group therapy — appears effective.
BATOTO SCANS

WHY DO WE NEED

SEXUAL CONSENT?

2) Reducing Gender-Based Violence (GBV) in relationship.

All types of relationships, at any age, should be free of coercion. Social influence, especially peer influence, plays a crucial role on adolescent decision making (Ciranka and van den Bos, 2019). Education on consent is needed for all children, youth, teens and adults. People from all walks of life are participating with the feminist movement, and joining the struggle against sexual harassment to make to possible to have positive sexual relationships (Joanpere and Morlà, 2019). Awareness on consent, from early ages, has to do with freedom, shaping the limits of one's own body and that of the other person. Duress, body and that of the other person. Duress, coercion and any similar kinds of acts committed by another individual, are considered harmful and they can potentially involve seriously adverse life-course health consequences (Bellis et al., 2019). Indeed, sexual harassment and gender-based violence have serious negative repercussions on people's physical and mental health (World Health Organization [WHO], 2018). Kandel et al. from the neuroscientific field, also demonstrated GBV's long-term effects on people's health (Kandel et al., 2012). Considering it as a public health issue, the damage of violence is difficult to endure psychologically for many victims. Addressing this reality becomes a matter of high importance for psychology.

WHY DO WE NEED SEXUAL CONSENT?

3) Promoting a healthy, positive relationship for better well-being.

common element among adolescents. Poor quality relationships, many of them based on this type of forceful friendship might have a long-lasting impact people's lives. On the other hand, high quality relationships protect against harassment and ensure a good quality of life (Harvard Study of Adult Development[5]). Positive relationships also improve work environments and may contribute to overcome situations of conflict and violence (De Cordova et al., 2019).

Social and cultural factors form not only our environment and understanding but also our brain. By shaping our way of thinking and behaving in society, understanding and applying consent becomes singularly relevant. This is true for making each person understand that they own their bodies, and above all, for making people with whom interaction is produced, understand not only the impossibility of touching another body without permission, but the severity of doing so. Thus, individuals would then avoid memories of unwanted relationships, which leave deep marks on human brains (Hirst and Rajaram, 2014) and potential problems later in life. Within

psychologytoday.com

While being sufficient informed to be in a position to give consent does not demand knowing exactly what the other person wants or expects, being informed nonetheless requires certain expectations to be fulfilled. Consenting to sex is consenting to sex with a particular person (or persons). If the person you agree to have sex with is someone other than you think he or she is, your compliance does not count as consenting. If you believe you are about to have sex with your husband but unbeknownst to you the man in your bed is his twin brother, your compliance isn't consensual—not even if he (for some peculiar reason) believes you are his wife.

Likewise, when consenting to an act, you consent to what you believe the act is. If you believe that you are consenting to a non-sexual act (e.g., a medical procedure) that turns out to be sex, your compliance does not count as consent.

Let's call dishonesty or failure of disclosure aimed at increasing the chance that the impending sexual act will occur 'sexual deceit'. Sexual deceit thus encompasses both failure to disclose information about oneself as well as lying about oneself.

Cases of sexual misconduct based on sexual deceit include (among many others) lying about the use of contraception, lying about your age, gender, marital status, religion or job, lying about having been tested for sexually transmitted diseases and infections, pretending to be someone's partner, withholding information about having arranged for the sexual encounter to be video recorded, and falsely making the partner believe that the sexual act is a medical procedure (Mappes, 1987; Rubenfeld, 2012-2013; Short, 2013; Dougherty, 2013).

THIRD-PARTY DECEPTION

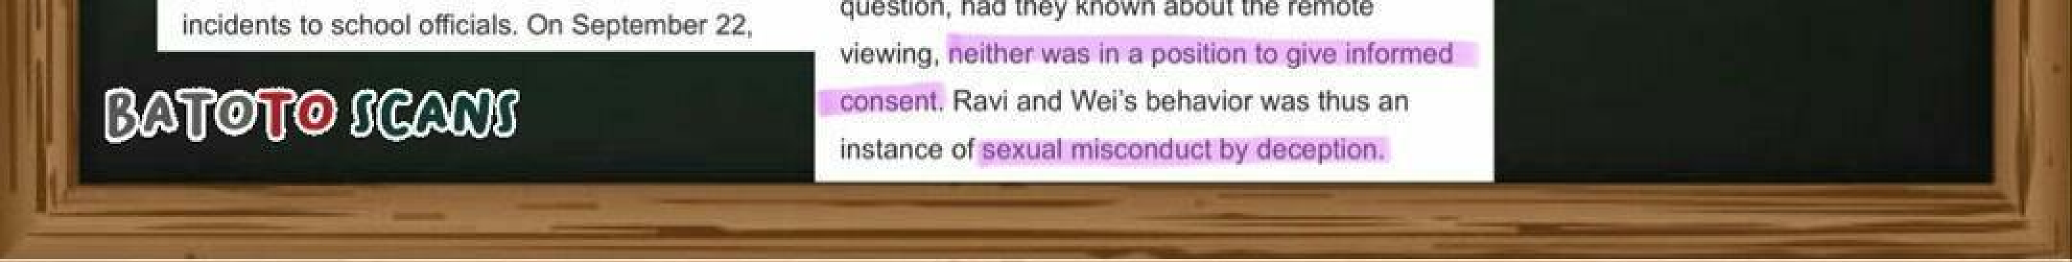

psychologytoday.com

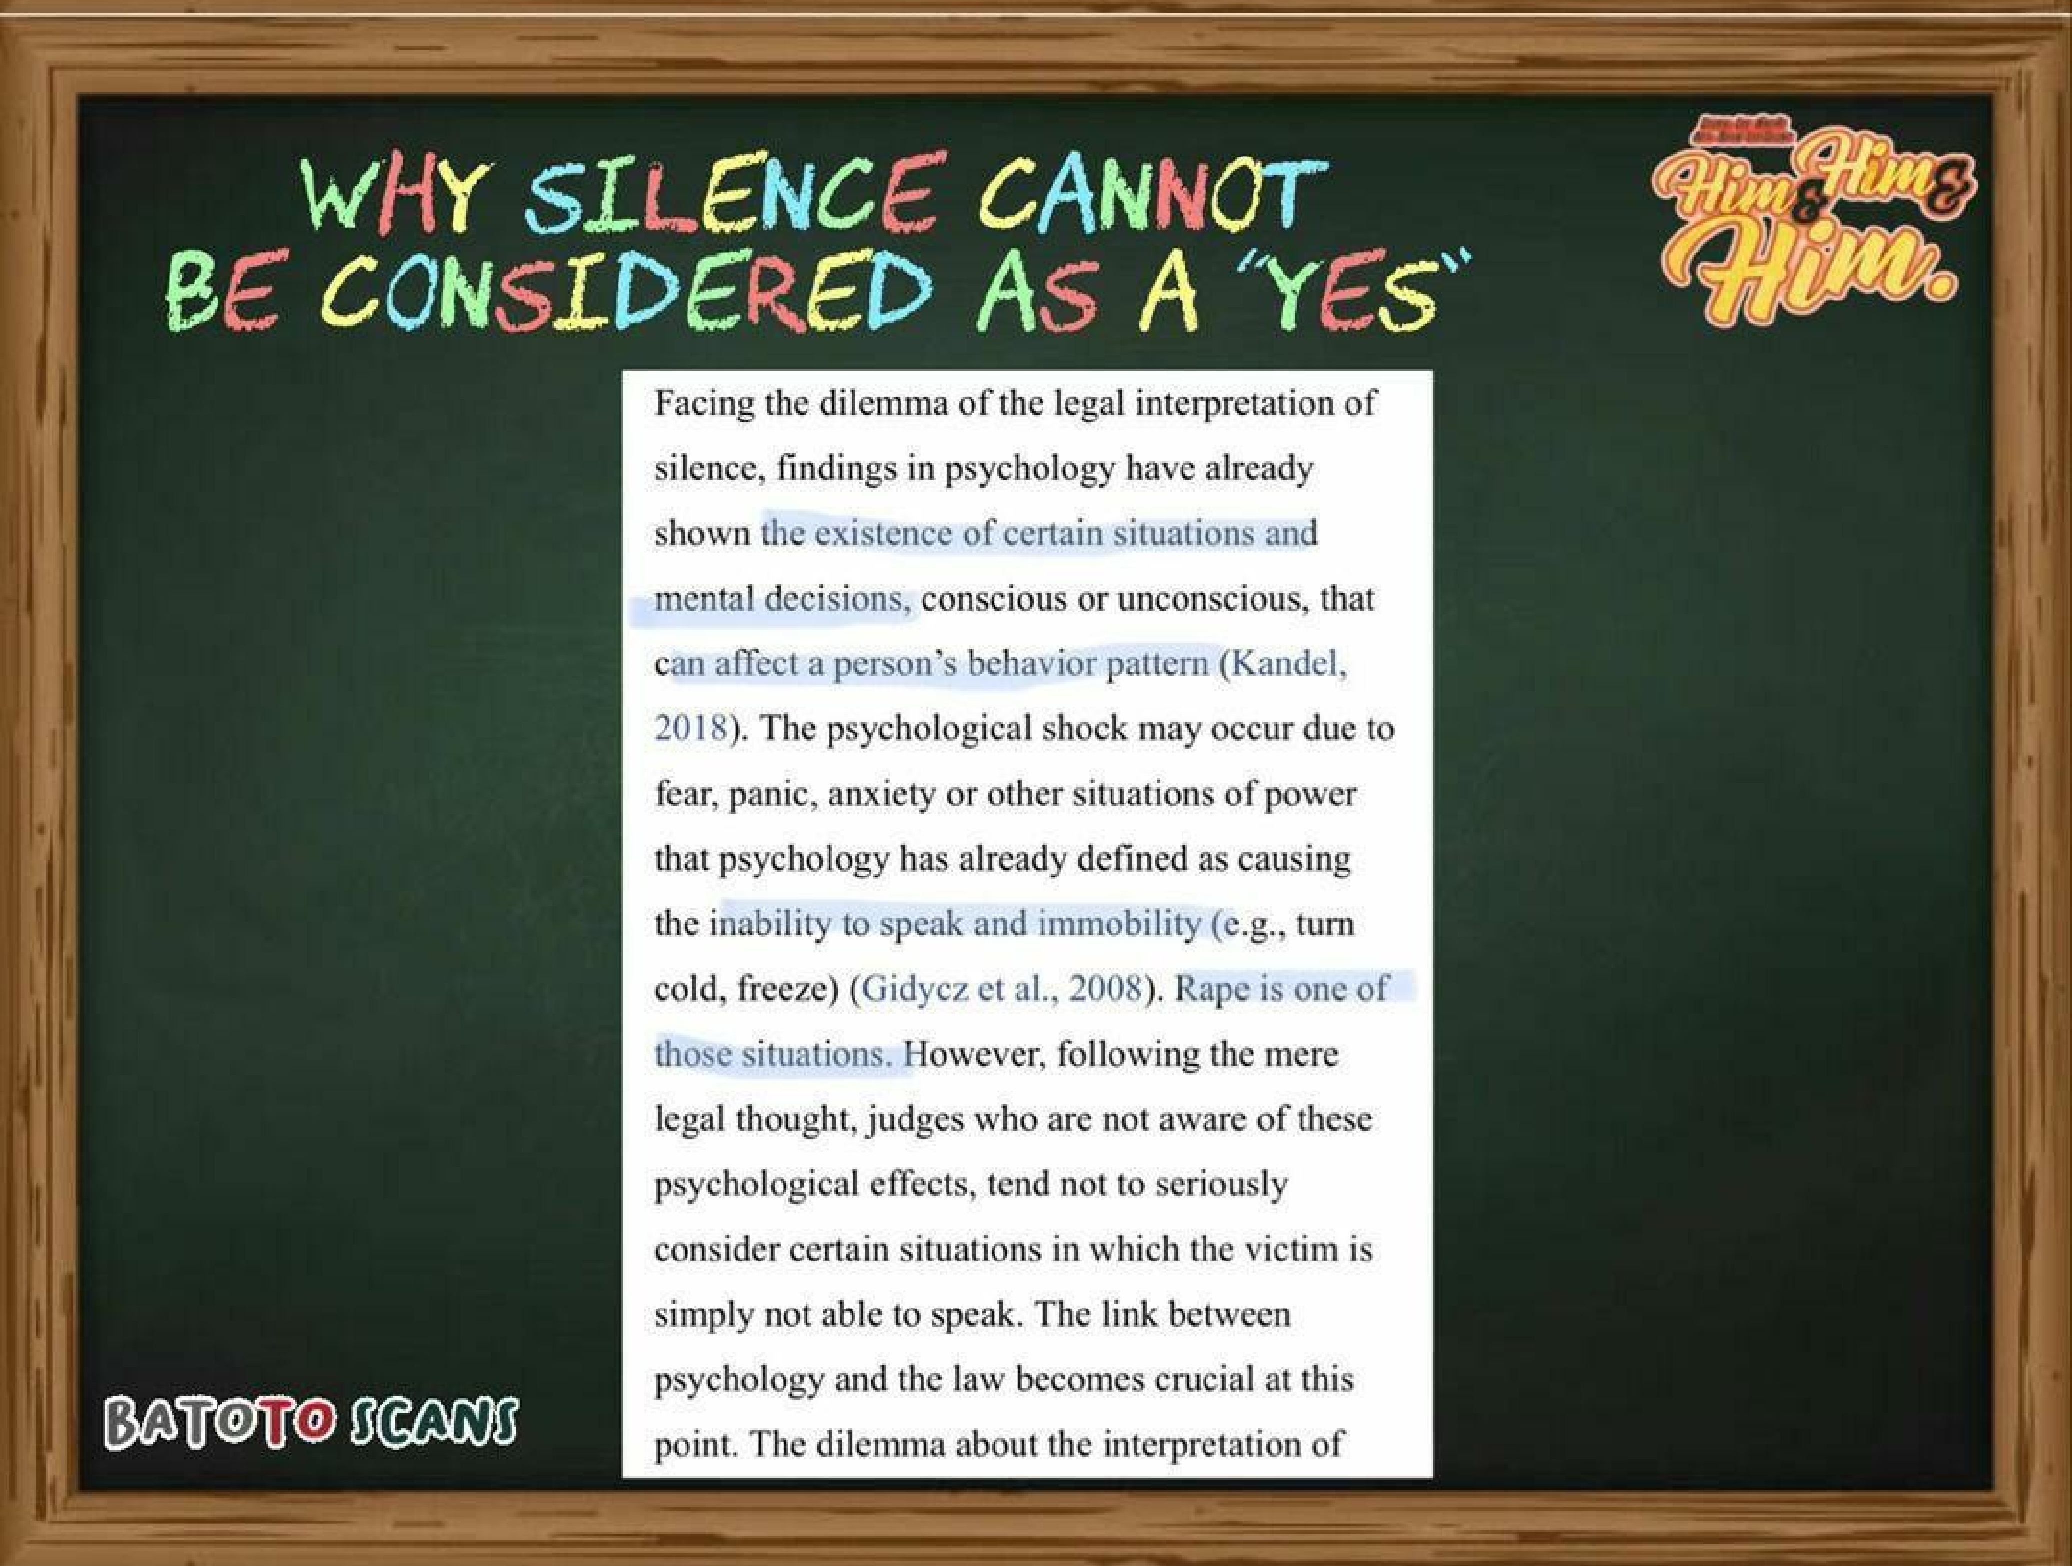

Third-Party Deception: Deception by a third party can compromise consent as well. If a third party (not directly involved in the sexual act) withholds information that is personally important to the consenting person because it matters to whether he or she agrees to have sex, then their compliance is not based on being informed within reason. So, they are not sufficient informed to be in a position to give informed consent to the act.

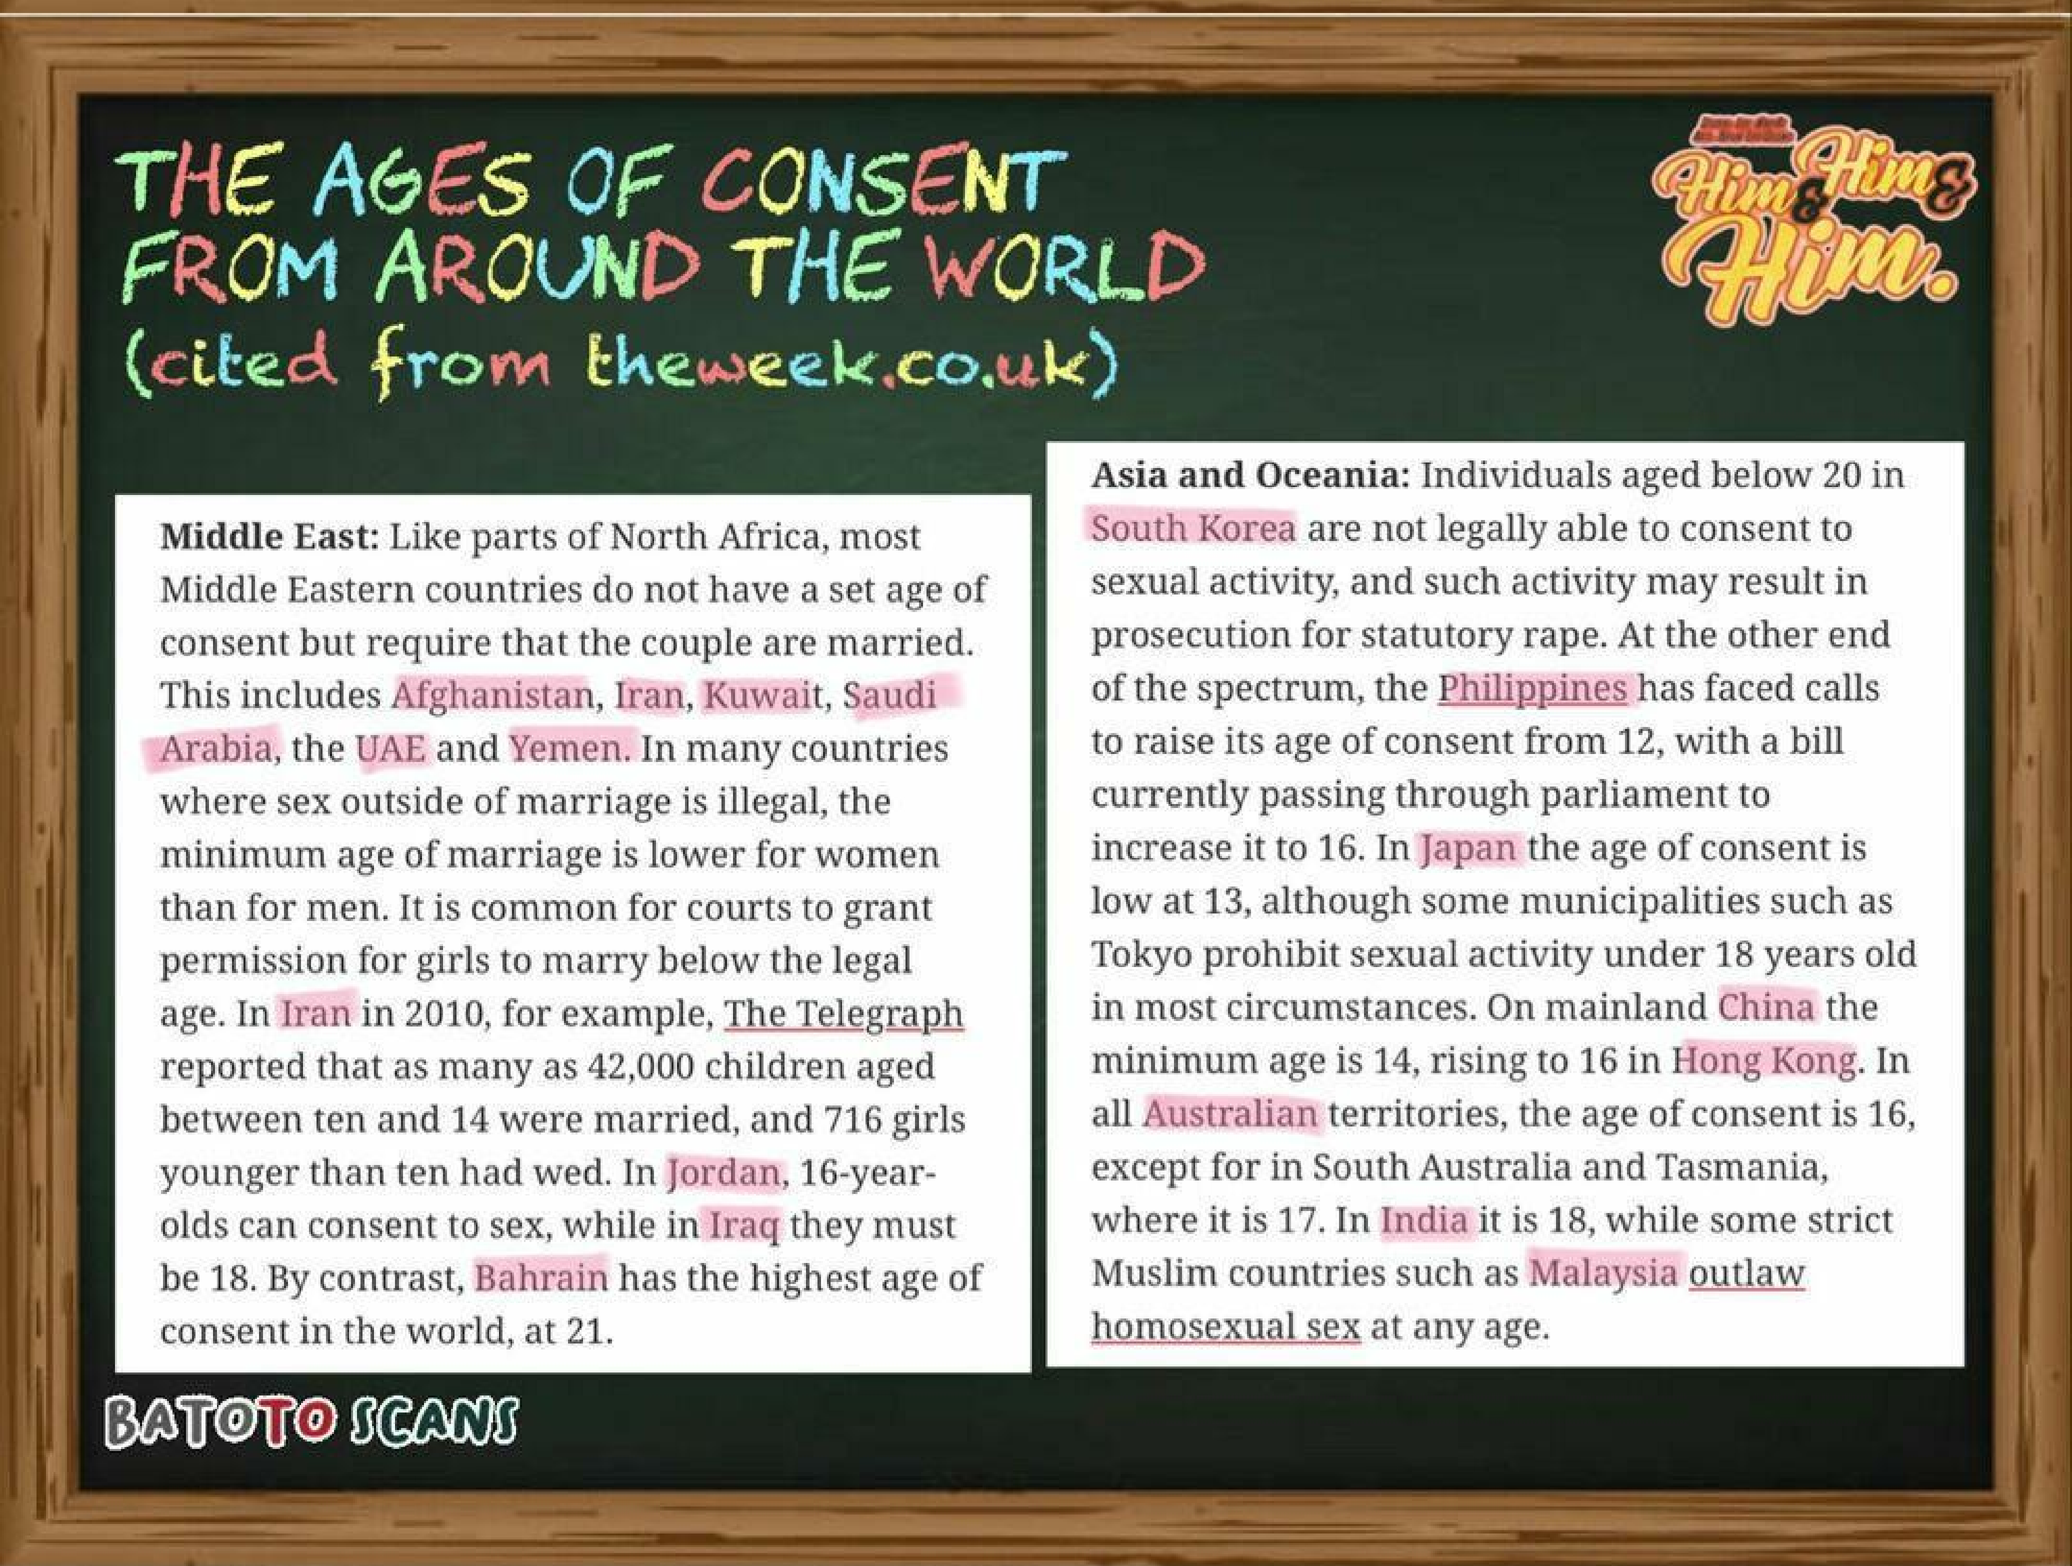

Here is a real-life example of third-party deception. In 2010 Rutgers student Tyler Clementi asked his roommate Dharun Ravi to use their room on the evenings of September 19 and September 21 for a private visit. On September 19 Ravi left the computer webcam on and joined his friend Molly Wei in her room, where the two of them secretly viewed Clementi and his boyfriend in a sexual encounter. Shortly after the spying, Ravi posted a tweet about the incident: "Roommate asked for the room till midnight. I went into molly's room and turned on my webcam. I saw him making out with a dude. Yay." In anticipation of Clementi's second private evening, Ravi invited his friends via social media to join him in spying on Clementi but Clementi averted the attempt by disabling the webcam, and later that evening he reported the only three days following the viewings, Clementi jumped from George Washington Bridge and was found dead in the Hudson River. Ravi was tried and convicted in 2012 on multiple charges related to the spying but he appealed and his sentence was reduced to "attempted violation of privacy."

This is a tragic instance of a third party compromising consent (in this case both Clementi and his boyfriend's consent) by withholding important information with the aim of viewing a sexual encounter without the knowledge of the primary parties. As Clementi or his boyfriend would not have agreed to have sex at the time in incidents to school officials. On September 22, question, had they known about the remote viewing, neither was in a position to give informed consent. Ravi and Wei's behavior was thus an instance of sexual misconduct by deception.

WHY SILENCE CANNOT BE CONSIDERED AS A "YES"
Him & Him & Him.
Facing the dilemma of the legal interpretation of silence, findings in psychology have already shown the existence of certain situations and mental decisions, conscious or unconscious, that can affect a person's behavior pattern (Kandel, 2018). The psychological shock may occur due to fear, panic, anxiety or other situations of power that psychology has already defined as causing the inability to speak and immobility (e.g., turn cold, freeze) (Gidycz et al., 2008). Rape is one of those situations. However, following the mere legal thought, judges who are not aware of these psychological effects, tend not to seriously consider certain situations in which the victim is simply not able to speak. The link between psychology and the law becomes crucial at this point. The dilemma about the interpretation of

THE AGES OF CONSENT FROM AROUND THE WORLD
(cited from theweek.co.uk)
Him & Him & Him.
Middle East: Like parts of North Africa, most Middle Eastern countries do not have a set age of consent but require that the couple are married. This includes Afghanistan, Iran, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, the UAE and Yemen. In many countries where sex outside of marriage is illegal, the minimum age of marriage is lower for women than for men. It is common for courts to grant permission for girls to marry below the legal age. In Iran in 2010, for example, The Telegraph reported that as many as 42,000 children aged between ten and 14 were married, and 716 girls younger than ten had wed. In Jordan, 16-year-olds can consent to sex, while in Iraq they must be 18. By contrast, Bahrain has the highest age of consent in the world, at 21.
Asia and Oceania: Individuals aged below 20 in South Korea are not legally able to consent to sexual activity, and such activity may result in prosecution for statutory rape. At the other end of the spectrum, the Philippines has faced calls to raise its age of consent from 12, with a bill currently passing through parliament to increase it to 16. In Japan the age of consent is low at 13, although some municipalities such as Tokyo prohibit sexual activity under 18 years old in most circumstances. On mainland China the minimum age is 14, rising to 16 in Hong Kong. In all Australian territories, the age of consent is 16, except for in South Australia and Tasmania, where it is 17. In India it is 18, while some strict Muslim countries such as Malaysia outlaw homosexual sex at any age.

Africa: In most parts of Southern Africa, including Botswana, Namibia and South Africa, people can consent to sex from the age of 16. In Libya and Sudan, the age of consent is not specified, but marriage is legally required before sex is allowed.
South America: In Brazil, Colombia and Ecuador, the age of consent is 14, regardless of gender or sexual orientation. Paraguay, meanwhile, has the age set at 14 for heterosexual relations, but at 16 for homosexual sexual activity, and does not have a close-in-age exemption. In Chile, where the age of consent is 18, it is possible for two individuals both aged 17 or under who willingly engage in intercourse to be prosecuted for statutory rape, although this is rare.

Europe: Spain previously had the lowest age of consent in Europe, but raised it from 13 to 16 in 2013, bringing it in line with the UK, Russia, the Netherlands, Norway, Finland and Belgium. Children as young as 14 are considered able to consent to sex in Germany, Austria, Hungary,
The US: Set on a state-by-state basis, the age of consent ranges from 16 to 18. In some states, a close-in-age exemption, commonly known as "Romeo and Juliet laws", exists to decriminalise consensual sex between two individuals who are both under the age of consent, according to Italy and Portugal. By contrast, the age of consent is much higher in Turkey, at 18.

The Vatican is the only jurisdiction in Europe not to have equal and gender-neutral age limits. In accordance with canon law all sex outside of marriage is illicit regardless of the age or willingness of those who engage in it, although the age at which a woman can marry is 14 compared to 16 for a man.

Roughly half of all US states allow children under the age of consent to get married with special permission, either from parents or from a court. Children as young as ten were among the almost 250,000 US minors who got married between 2000 and 2010, The Guardian reports. Several states are in the process of introducing legislation to close these loopholes.

Him Him & Him.
BATOTO SCANS

Him Him & Him.
So you've seen Seah
having fun by herself using some kind of... device.
That 'device' is just one of many, types of Sex Toys out there.
So let's just jump into it!
BATOTO SCANS

WHAT ARE SEX TOYS?
Him Him & Him.
Sex toys – also called adult toys or "marital aids" – are objects people use to have more pleasure during sex or masturbation. Sometimes sex toys can also have medical uses if you have a sexual dysfunction or medical condition. There are many different types of sex toys, and people use them for lots of different reasons.
It's totally normal to use sex toys, but it's also totally normal not to – it's a personal decision, and everyone's different. As long as you're using sex toys safely, there's nothing harmful about it.
BATOTO SCANS

WHY DO YOU USE THEM?
Him Him & Him.
All kinds of people may choose to use sex toys, for many different reasons. For some, using sex toys is the easiest (or only) way they can have an orgasm – this is especially common for people with vulvas. Sometimes people use sex toys to help them masturbate. People can also use sex toys during sex with their partners.
For transgender, nonbinary, or gender nonconforming people, certain sex toys may help affirm their gender identity or help relieve gender dysphoria.

WHY DO YOU USE THEM? (2)

Some people with disabilities or limited mobility use sex toys to make it easier to masturbate, have sex, or do certain sexual activities or positions that would otherwise be harder or not possible for them.

Sex toys can also help treat the symptoms of certain disorders, like erectile dysfunction, genital arousal disorder, hypoactive sexual disorder, and orgasm disorder. And some people find that sex toys help them deal with the sexual side effects of certain medications, health conditions, or menopause – like a low sex drive or decreased sensation in their genitals.

SOME BASIC TYPES OF SEX TOYS
(That you might've see before in other releases on this beloved site :>)

- Vibrators (aka vibes, personal massagers) – Objects that vibrate (move continuously/buzz) to stimulate your genitals. It's very common for people to use vibrators to stimulate their clitoris and other parts of their vulva and vagina. But vibrators can also stimulate the penis, scrotum and testicles, nipples, and anus. Vibrators come in all shapes and sizes. Some can go inside a vagina or anus, and others are meant to be used outside the body.
- Dildos – Objects that go inside a vagina, anus, or mouth. Dildos come in many shapes and sizes, but they're often shaped similarly to a penis. Some look like realistic penises, and others are more abstract. They can also be slightly curved, to help stimulate your g-spot or prostate. Dildos can be made out of lots of different materials, like silicone, rubber, plastic, metal, or, break-resistant glass.

SOME BASIC TYPES OF SEX TOYS (2)
(That you might've see before in other releases on this beloved site :>)

- Penis rings (aka cock rings, erectile dysfunction rings, or constriction rings) – rings that go around your scrotum and/or penis. Penis rings slow blood flow out of the penis when it's erect (hard), which can increase sensation, or make your erection harder and longer-lasting. The safest penis rings are made from soft, flexible materials that you can easily remove, like silicone, rubber, or leather with snaps. Some penis rings have little vibrators on them, to stimulate you and/or your partner. Because penis rings restrict your blood flow, don't wear one for longer than 10-30 minutes, and take it off right away if you feel any pain or discomfort. And talk to your nurse or doctor before using penis rings if you have a bleeding disorder or are on blood-thinning medicine.
- Pumps (aka penis pumps, vacuum pumps, or vacuum erection pumps) – Vacuum-like devices that use a hand or battery-powered pump to create suction around your penis, clitoris, vulva, or nipples. Pumps drive blood flow to the area, which helps increase sensitivity and sensation. Some people also like the feeling of the suction. Penis pumps can help you get an erection, but they won't make your penis permanently bigger. Some pumps are designed to help treat erectile dysfunction, genital arousal disorder, and orgasm disorder – you can get more information about these pumps from a nurse or doctor, like the ones at your local Planned Parenthood health center. But most of the pumps you buy in sex stores or adult shops are not medical devices, they're just meant to enhance pleasure during sex and masturbation. Make sure to follow the instructions on the packaging, and don't pump for longer than the instructions say. And talk to your doctor before using a pump if you have a blood disorder, or are on blood-thinning medication.

SOME BASIC TYPES OF SEX TOYS (3)
(That you might've see before in other releases on this beloved site :>)

- Ben Wa balls (aka Kegel balls, Kegel trainers, vagina balls, orgasm balls) – Round objects that you put inside your vagina. They can
- Packers (aka prosthetics) – objects that look and feel like a realistic penis (usually soft) that create a "bulge" in your underwear or help you do exercises that tone and strengthen your Kegel muscles. Kegel balls are usually weighted so you have to squeeze your vagina to keep them inside your body. Some are hollow with smaller balls inside that roll and bounce when you move, making a jiggling sensation. You don't need these balls to do Kegel exercises, and not everyone uses them for that purpose – many people just like the way they feel inside their vagina.

clothes. Some packers also let you pee standing up (called stand-to-pee or STP packers). Many trans, genderqueer, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming people use packers to help affirm or express their gender identity. Like with anyone's genitals, packers aren't always sexual or used for sex. But some packers can be worn bent down or sticking up, so they can resemble both an erect (hard) and non-erect (soft) penis and can be used for sex.

ALTHOUGH REMEMBER...

Yes, if you use them responsibly and keep them clean – otherwise, sex toys can pass on sexually transmitted infections (STIs) and infections passed on through the blood (blood-borne infections).

Avoiding STIs

You can avoid STIs by:

- keeping sex toys clean – wash them after each use
- covering penetrative sex toys, such as vibrators, with a new condom each time they're used
- not sharing sex toys
- having a different set of sex toys for each partner

Sex toys can pass on:

- chlamydia
- syphilis
- herpes
- bacterial vaginosis
- shigella

There is an increased risk of bacterial vaginosis in women who have sex with women who have a history of sharing sex toys, or whose partners have bacterial vaginosis.

ALTHOUGH REMEMBER...

Avoiding blood-borne infections

Do not share any sex toy that may draw blood from the skin, as this type of sex toy can pass on blood borne infections.

Take care when using penetrative sex toys, particularly if there are any cuts or sores around the vagina, anus or penis and blood is present, as there's an increased risk of passing on infections such as:

- hepatitis B
- hepatitis C
- HIV and AIDS

HOW TO USE KEEP THEM SAFE: USE LUBES

If you're using a sex toy in your anus, make sure you use lots of lube. The anus doesn't lubricate itself (get wet) the way a vagina does, so putting something in your butt without adding lube can be painful, uncomfortable, and even unsafe. And never put a sex toy that's been in an anus into a vagina without washing it or changing the condom first. If germs from your anus get into your vagina, it can lead to vaginitis.

It's also important to make sure that any sex toy you use in your anus has a wide base or some other way to keep it from going all the way in. If a sex toy goes so far into your anus that you can't reach it, you may need to see a nurse or doctor to get it out. (You can't lose a sex toy in your vagina because your cervix blocks the end of it.)

Don't use silicone lube with silicone sex toys (unless you put condoms on them) – silicone lube can react with the solid silicone in your toy and damage it. Water-based lube is a safe bet to use with any sex toy (and any condom).

HOW TO USE KEEP THEM SAFE: CLEAN AND/OR WRAP

How you clean a sex toy depends on:

- what the sex toy is made of
- if the sex toy uses batteries and has parts that cannot be washed

Sex toys should come with advice about how to clean and store them. Follow the manufacturer's instructions carefully.

For reusable sex toys, make sure you wash them thoroughly with warm water and soap after each use.

Sex toys made from materials that may be porous – like silicone blends, jelly rubber, PVC, vinyl, TPR, TPE, elastomer, or other rubbery plastics – can absorb germs that can lead to infections, even if you always wash your toy. But you can always use a condom on your toy to help it stay clean and keep any possible germs on it out of your body.

MENSTRUATION
Blood?
Part 1/?
Get To Know
The Female Reproductive System
BATOTO SCANS

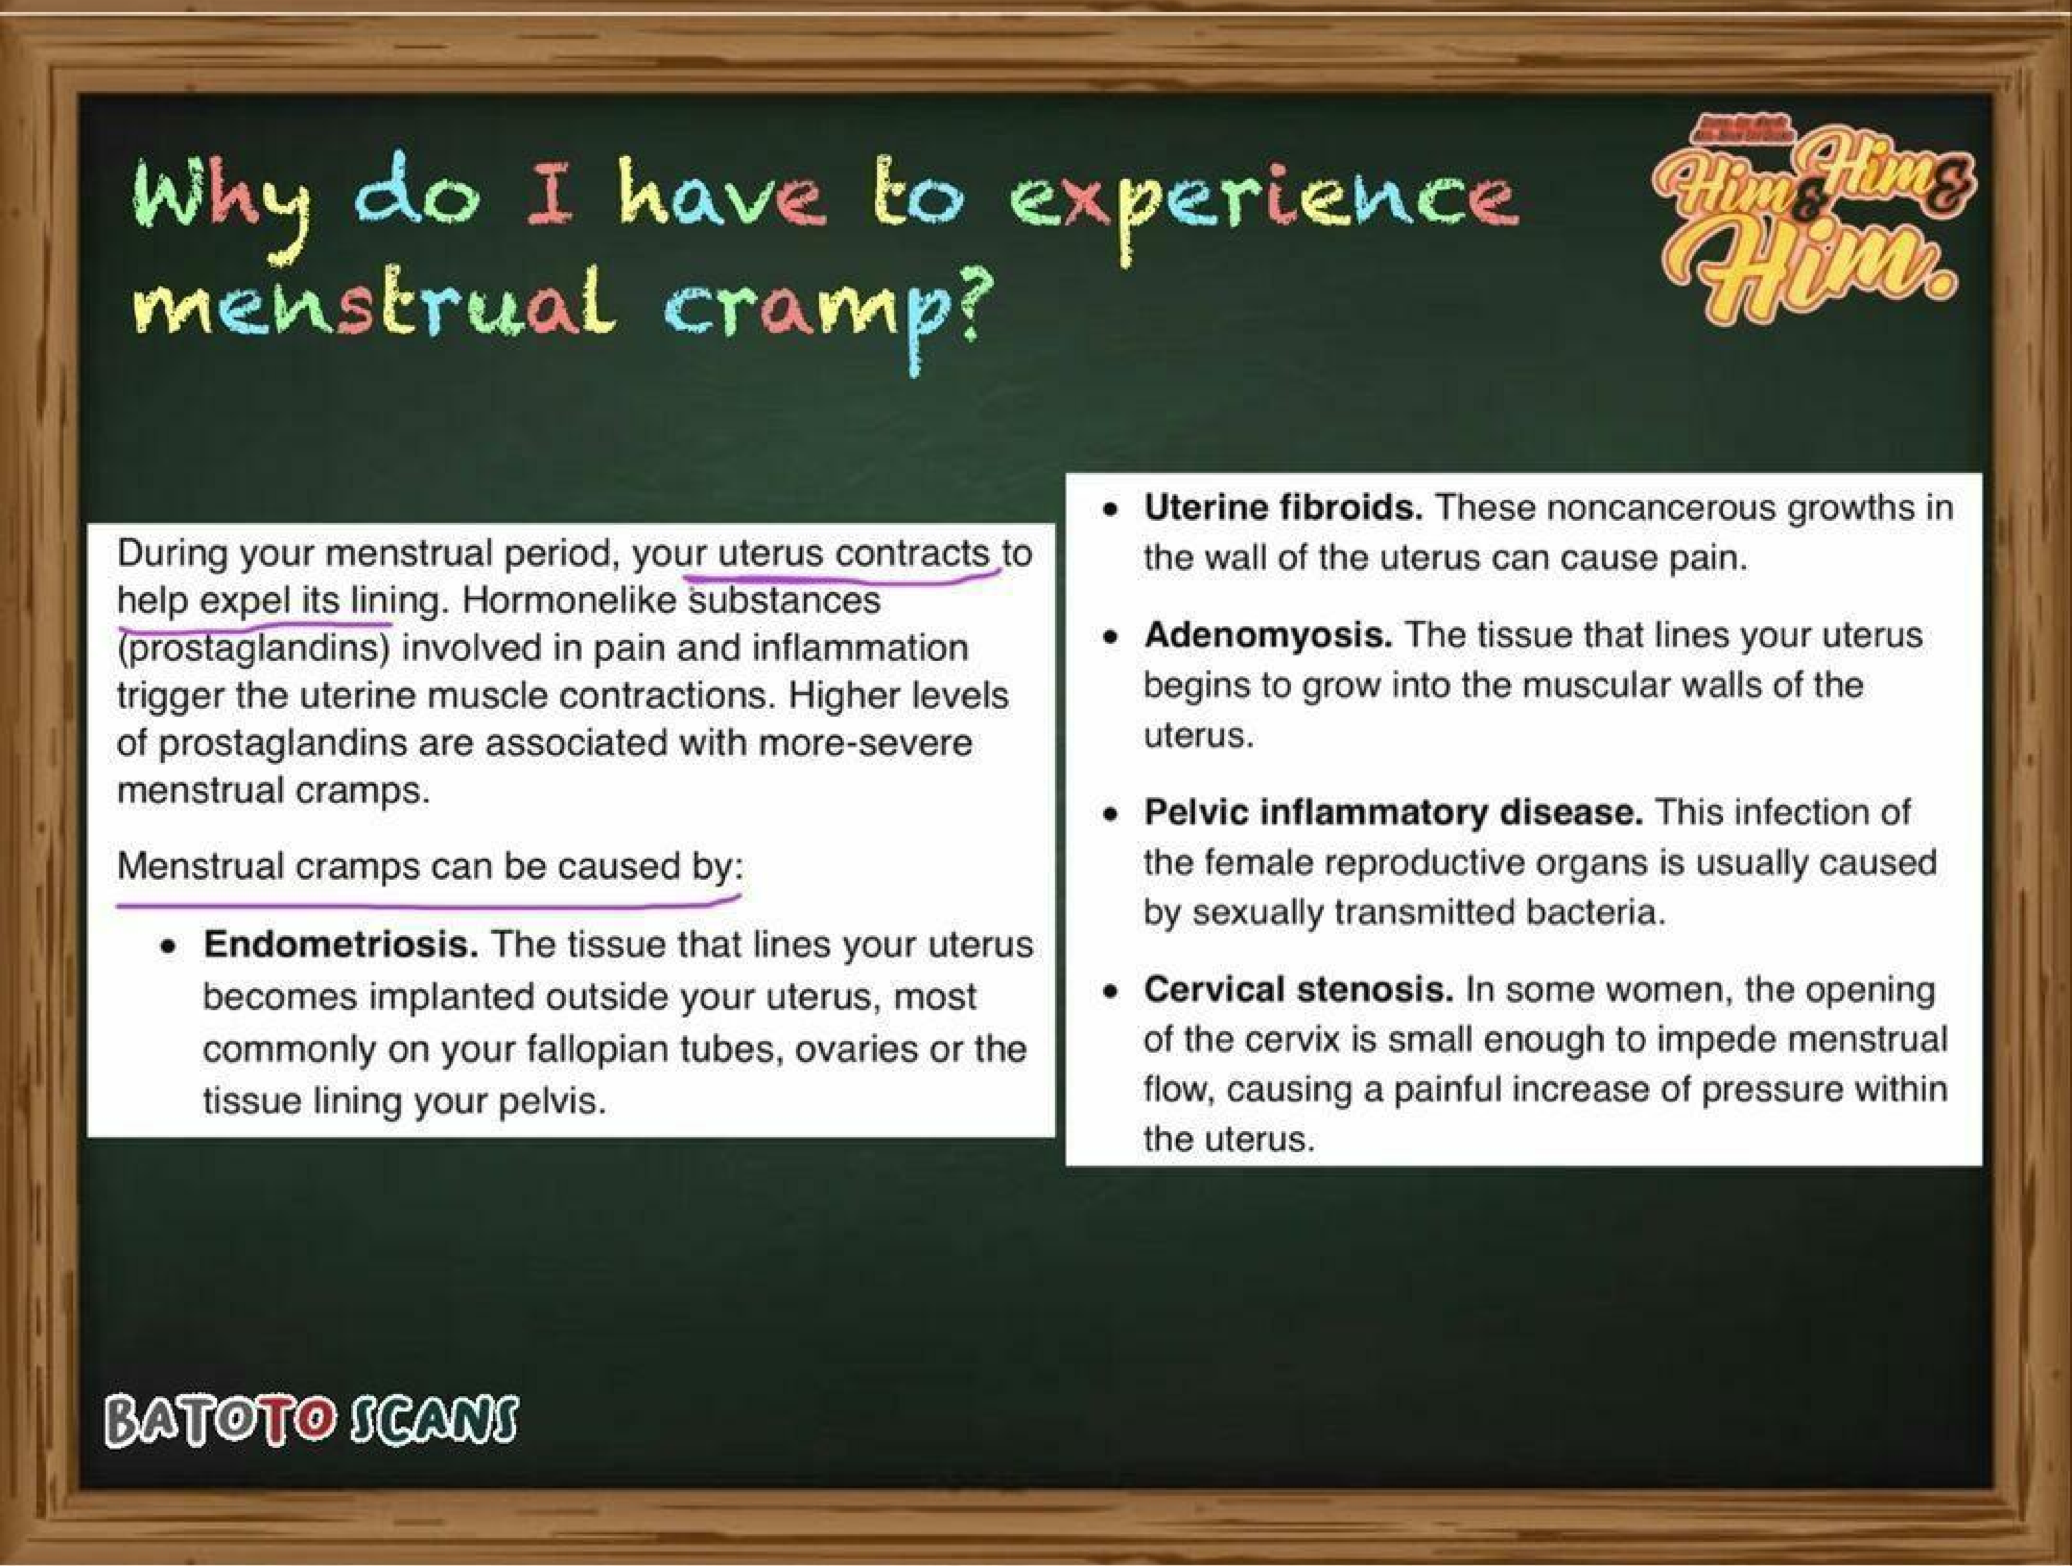

What is Menstruation?
medlineplus.gov
Menstruation, or period, is normal vaginal bleeding that occurs as part of a woman's monthly cycle. Every month, your body prepares for pregnancy. If no pregnancy occurs, the uterus, or womb, sheds its lining. The menstrual blood is partly blood and partly tissue from inside the uterus. It passes out of the body through the vagina.
Periods usually start between age 11 and 14 and continue until menopause at about age 51. They usually last from three to five days. Besides bleeding from the vagina, you may have
• Abdominal or pelvic cramping pain
• Lower back pain
• Bloating and sore breasts
• Food cravings
• Mood swings and irritability
• Headache and fatigue
BATOTO SCANS

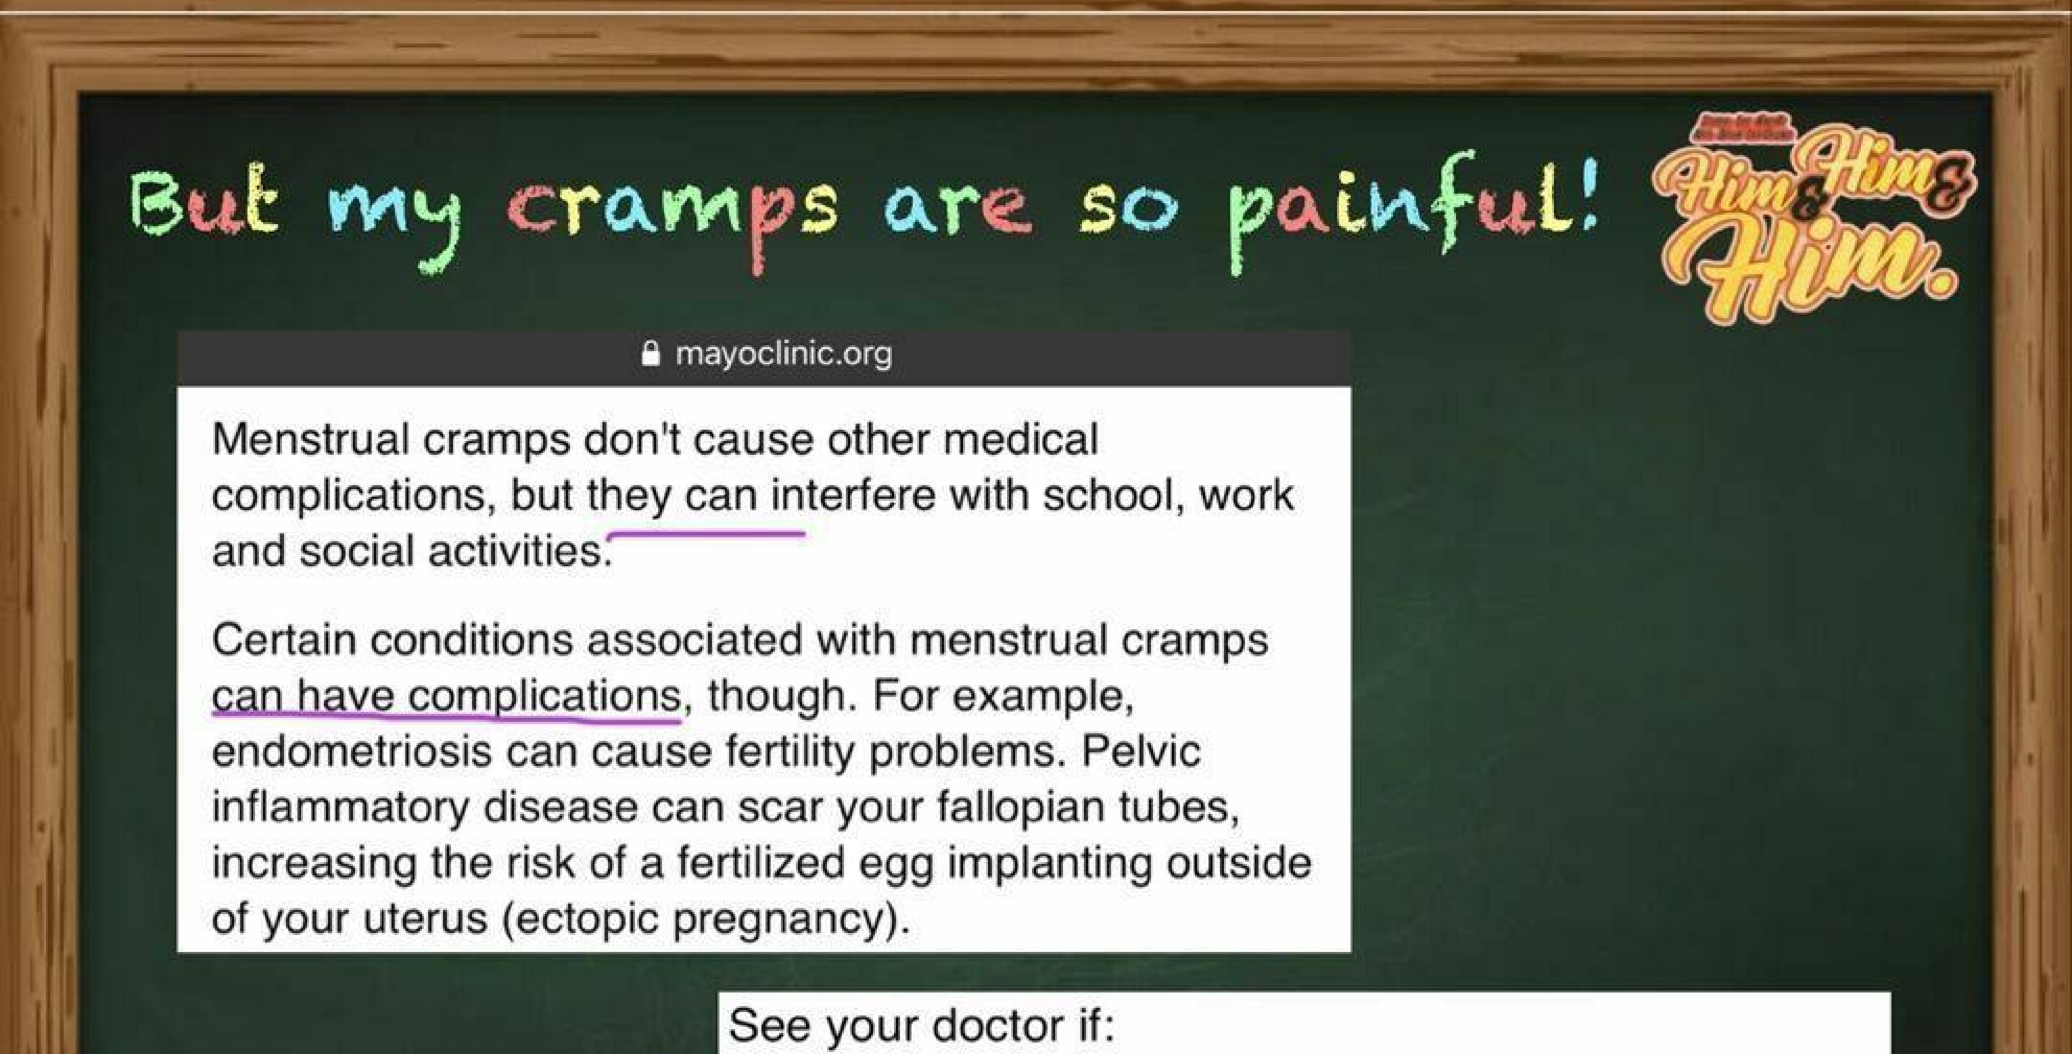

How does that happen? (1)
A period happens because of changes in hormones in the body. Hormones are chemical messengers. The ovaries release the female hormones estrogen and progesterone . These hormones cause the lining of the uterus (or womb) to build up. The built-up lining is ready for a fertilized egg to attach to and start developing. If there is no fertilized egg, the lining breaks down and bleeds. Then the same process happens all over again.
BATOTO SCANS

How does that happen? (2)
Before a Period
During a Period
Thick Lining
Uterus
Most of the lining is shed in the menstrual flow
Vagina
© The Nemours Foundation/KidsHealth®
It usually takes about a month for the lining to build up, then break down. That is why most girls and women get their periods around once a month.
BATOTO SCANS

Wait umm... explain more plz
Him & Him & Him.
You have 2 ovaries, and each one holds a bunch of eggs. The eggs are super tiny – too small to see with the naked eye.
During your menstrual cycle, hormones make the eggs in your ovaries mature – when an egg is mature, that means it's ready to be fertilized by a sperm cell. These hormones also make the lining of your uterus thick and spongy. So if your egg does get fertilized, it has a nice cushy place to land and start a pregnancy. This lining is made of tissue and blood, like almost everything else inside our bodies. It has lots of nutrients to help a pregnancy grow.
About halfway through your menstrual cycle, your hormones tell one of your ovaries to release a mature egg – this is called ovulation. Most people don't feel it when they ovulate, but some ovulation symptoms are bloating, spotting, or a little pain in your lower belly that you may only feel on one side.
Once the egg leaves your ovary, it travels through one of your fallopian tubes toward your uterus.
BATOTO SCANS

Okay so, what are the chances?
Him & Him & Him.
If pregnancy doesn't happen, your body doesn't need the thick lining in your uterus. Your lining breaks down, and the blood, nutrients, and tissue flow out of your body through your vagina. Voilà, it's your period!
If you do get pregnant, your body needs the lining – that's why your period stops during pregnancy. Your period comes back when you're not pregnant anymore.
BATOTO SCANS

Why do I have to experience menstrual cramp?
Him & Him & Him.
During your menstrual period, your uterus contracts to help expel its lining. Hormonelike substances (prostaglandins) involved in pain and inflammation trigger the uterine muscle contractions. Higher levels of prostaglandins are associated with more-severe menstrual cramps.
Menstrual cramps can be caused by:
• Endometriosis. The tissue that lines your uterus becomes implanted outside your uterus, most commonly on your fallopian tubes, ovaries or the tissue lining your pelvis.
• Uterine fibroids. These noncancerous growths in the wall of the uterus can cause pain.
• Adenomyosis. The tissue that lines your uterus begins to grow into the muscular walls of the uterus.
• Pelvic inflammatory disease. This infection of the female reproductive organs is usually caused by sexually transmitted bacteria.
• Cervical stenosis. In some women, the opening of the cervix is small enough to impede menstrual flow, causing a painful increase of pressure within the uterus.
BATOTO SCANS

But my cramps are so painful!
Him & Him & Him.
mayoclinic.org
Menstrual cramps don't cause other medical complications, but they can interfere with school, work and social activities.
Certain conditions associated with menstrual cramps can have complications, though. For example, endometriosis can cause fertility problems. Pelvic inflammatory disease can scar your fallopian tubes, increasing the risk of a fertilized egg implanting outside of your uterus (ectopic pregnancy).
See your doctor if:

- Menstrual cramps disrupt your life every month
- Your symptoms progressively worsen
- You just started having severe menstrual cramps after age 25

FAQ #1:
Q: Can you have sex during period?
A: Yes or YES!

Don't let your period put a halt to your sex life. If you do a little prep work, sex can be just as enjoyable during those five or so days as it is the rest of the month. You might be surprised to find that sex is even more exciting during your period.

Here are a few tips to make period sex a more comfortable and less messy experience:

- Be open and honest with your partner. Tell them how you feel about having sex during your period, and ask how they feel about it. If either of you is hesitant, talk about the reasons behind the discomfort.
- If you have a tampon in, remove it before you start fooling around.

FAQ #2:
Q: Benefits and Risks of period sex?

In general, the possible benefits of having sex during menstruation include:

- shorter periods due to uterine contractions during orgasm
- lighter, less painful periods
- reduced stress
- improved sleep
- headache relief
- strengthened immune system
- improved fitness

There is a risk of infection when having oral, anal, or vaginal sex, or any form of skin-to-skin genital contact — even during menstruation.

There are two types of infection that may occur due to sexual activity: STIs and problems caused by changes in normal vaginal flora, such as yeast infections and bacterial vaginosis.

While yeast infections can also occur without engaging in sexual activity, people may have a higher risk of getting a yeast infection due to the hormonal changes during a period.

The only way to protect against STIs is to use barrier methods such as condoms or dental dams. These protective measures do not guarantee that a person will not contract an infection, but they can significantly reduce the risk when used correctly.

BATOTO SCANS

Menstrual Cycle
Him & Him & Him.
According to The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, most women experience a 28-day menstrual cycle.
This cycle lasts from the first day of menstrual bleeding to the day before bleeding begins the following month. The length of the cycle varies between individuals, but is usually between 26–32 days long, with 28 days being the average.
The most fertile time of the menstrual cycle is between days 8 and 19.
This is the time when the egg is released from the ovary during ovulation and travels down the fallopian tube where fertilization occurs. If fertilized by a sperm, the egg makes its way to the uterus for implantation.
BATOTO SCANS

Things affecting your menstrual cycle:
Him & Him & Him.
Changes in menstrual regularity can make it more challenging to accurately determine which days a woman is most fertile. Menstrual regularity may be influenced by:
• breast-feeding or pregnancy
• eating disorders
• weight loss or extreme exercise
• polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS)
• premature ovarian failure

- premature ovarian failure
- pelvic inflammatory disease (PID)
- uterine fibroids
- endometriosis

Getting pregnant

Working out when you can get pregnant – your fertile time – can be difficult. It's around the time you ovulate, which is about 12 to 14 days before the start of your next period.

But sperm can survive inside a woman's body for up to 7 days before ovulation occurs. This means your fertile time extends back earlier in your cycle.

You can calculate when your period will start and your peak ovulation times using an online period calendar.

You cannot get pregnant if you do not ovulate. Some hormonal methods of contraception, such as the contraceptive pill, contraceptive patch and contraceptive injection, work by preventing ovulation.

Although timing is everything, some important facts to consider include:

Following ovulation, an egg can stay alive and viable in a woman's fallopian tube for 24 hours.

Sperm can live for 3 to 5 days after being ejaculated into the body.

Because of these fluctuations, a woman can theoretically get pregnant at any time. Unless people are in a same-sex partnership or are trying to conceive, birth control should be used even if a woman is menstruating.

Sanitary products

Sanitary products soak up or collect the blood released during your period. The main types of sanitary products are:

- sanitary pads
- tampons
- menstrual cups

Sanitary pads

Sanitary pads are strips of padding that have a sticky side you attach to your underwear to hold them in place. One side of the pad is made of an absorbent material that soaks up the blood.

Pads come in many sizes, so you can choose one to suit how heavy or light your period is.

Pantyliners are a smaller and thinner type of sanitary pad that can be used on days when your period is very light.

Get to know your Best Buddy during periods! (2)

Tampons

Tampons are small tubes of cotton wool that you insert into your vagina to soak up the blood before it comes out of your body.

There are 2 types of tampon - ones that come with an applicator and others without an applicator that you insert with your fingers. In both cases, there's a string at one end of the tampon, which you pull to remove it.

Tampons come with instructions that explain how to use them. If the tampon is inserted correctly, you should not be able to feel it inside you. If you can feel it or it hurts, it might not be in properly.

It is not possible for a tampon to get stuck or lost inside you. Your vagina holds it firmly in place and it expands inside you as it soaks up the blood.

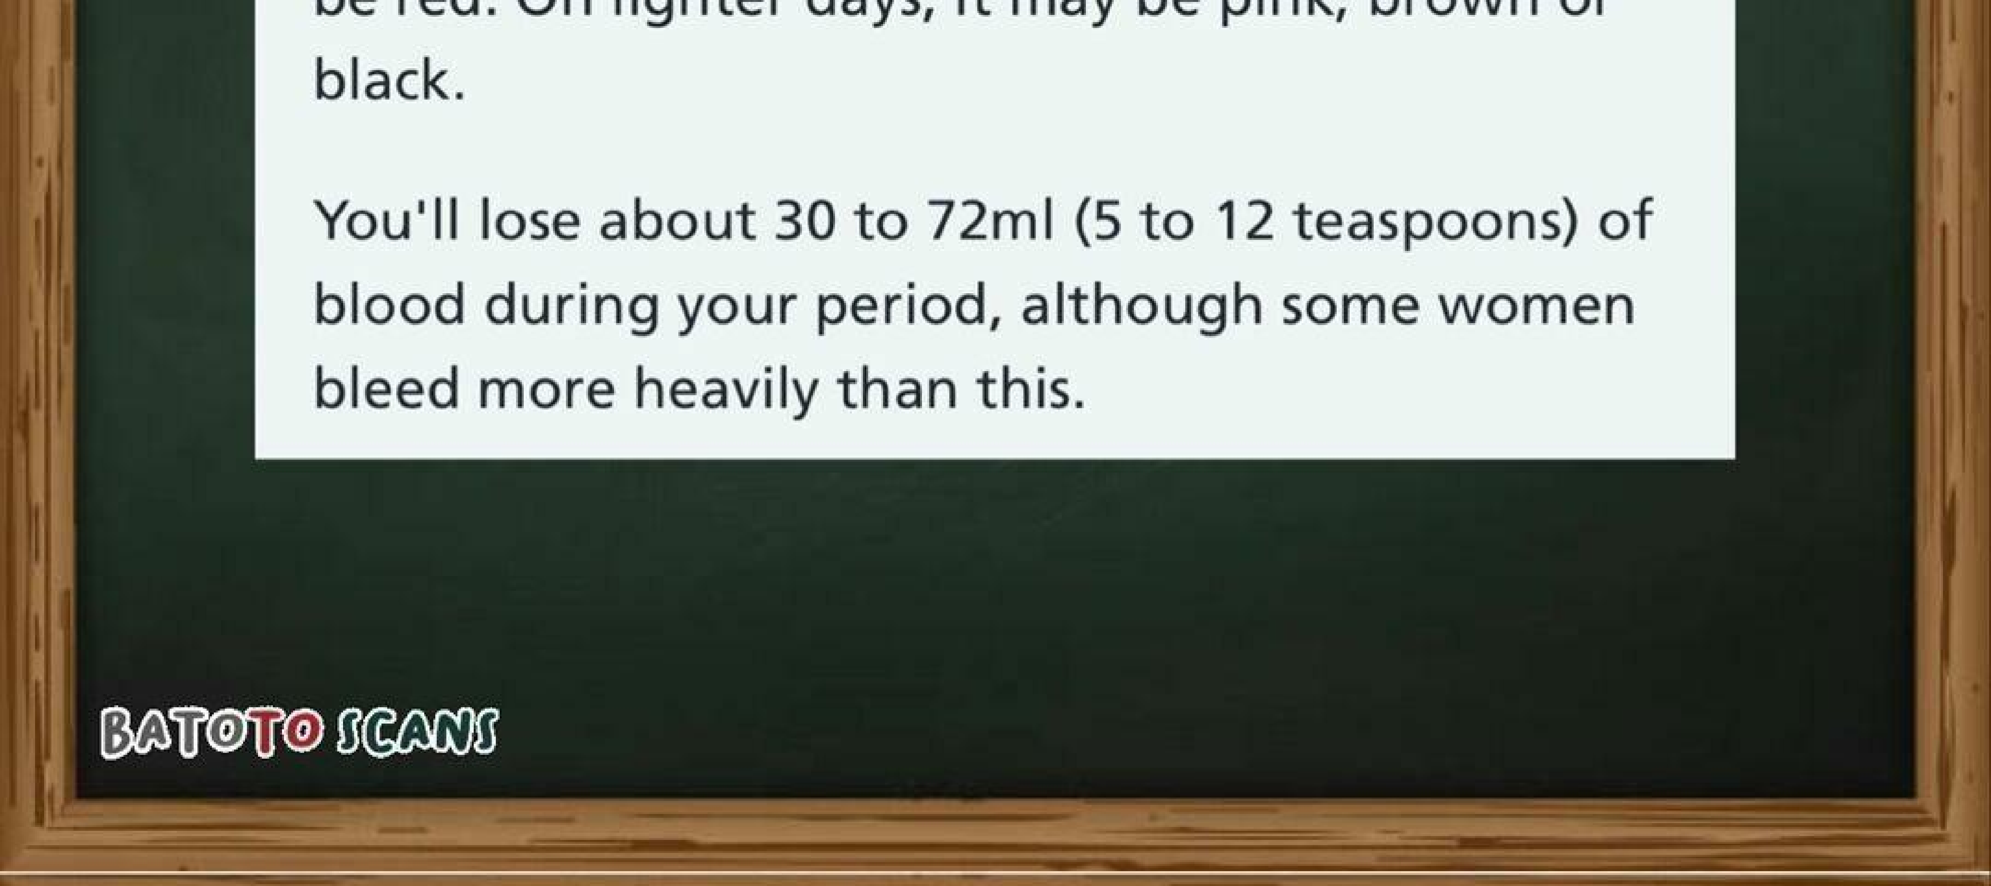

Menstrual cups

Menstrual cups are an alternative to sanitary pads and tampons. The cup is made from silicone and you put it inside your vagina.

Menstrual cups collect the blood rather than absorb it. Unlike sanitary pads and tampons, which are thrown away after they've been used, you can wash menstrual cups and and use them again.

Additional things about your menstrual discharge:

When your period is at its heaviest, the blood will be red. On lighter days, it may be pink, brown or be red. On lighter days, it may be pink, brown or black.

You'll lose about 30 to 72ml (5 to 12 teaspoons) of blood during your period, although some women bleed more heavily than this.

I'VE ALSO MASTURBATED WHILE THINKING OF YOU.
WH- WHAT?!

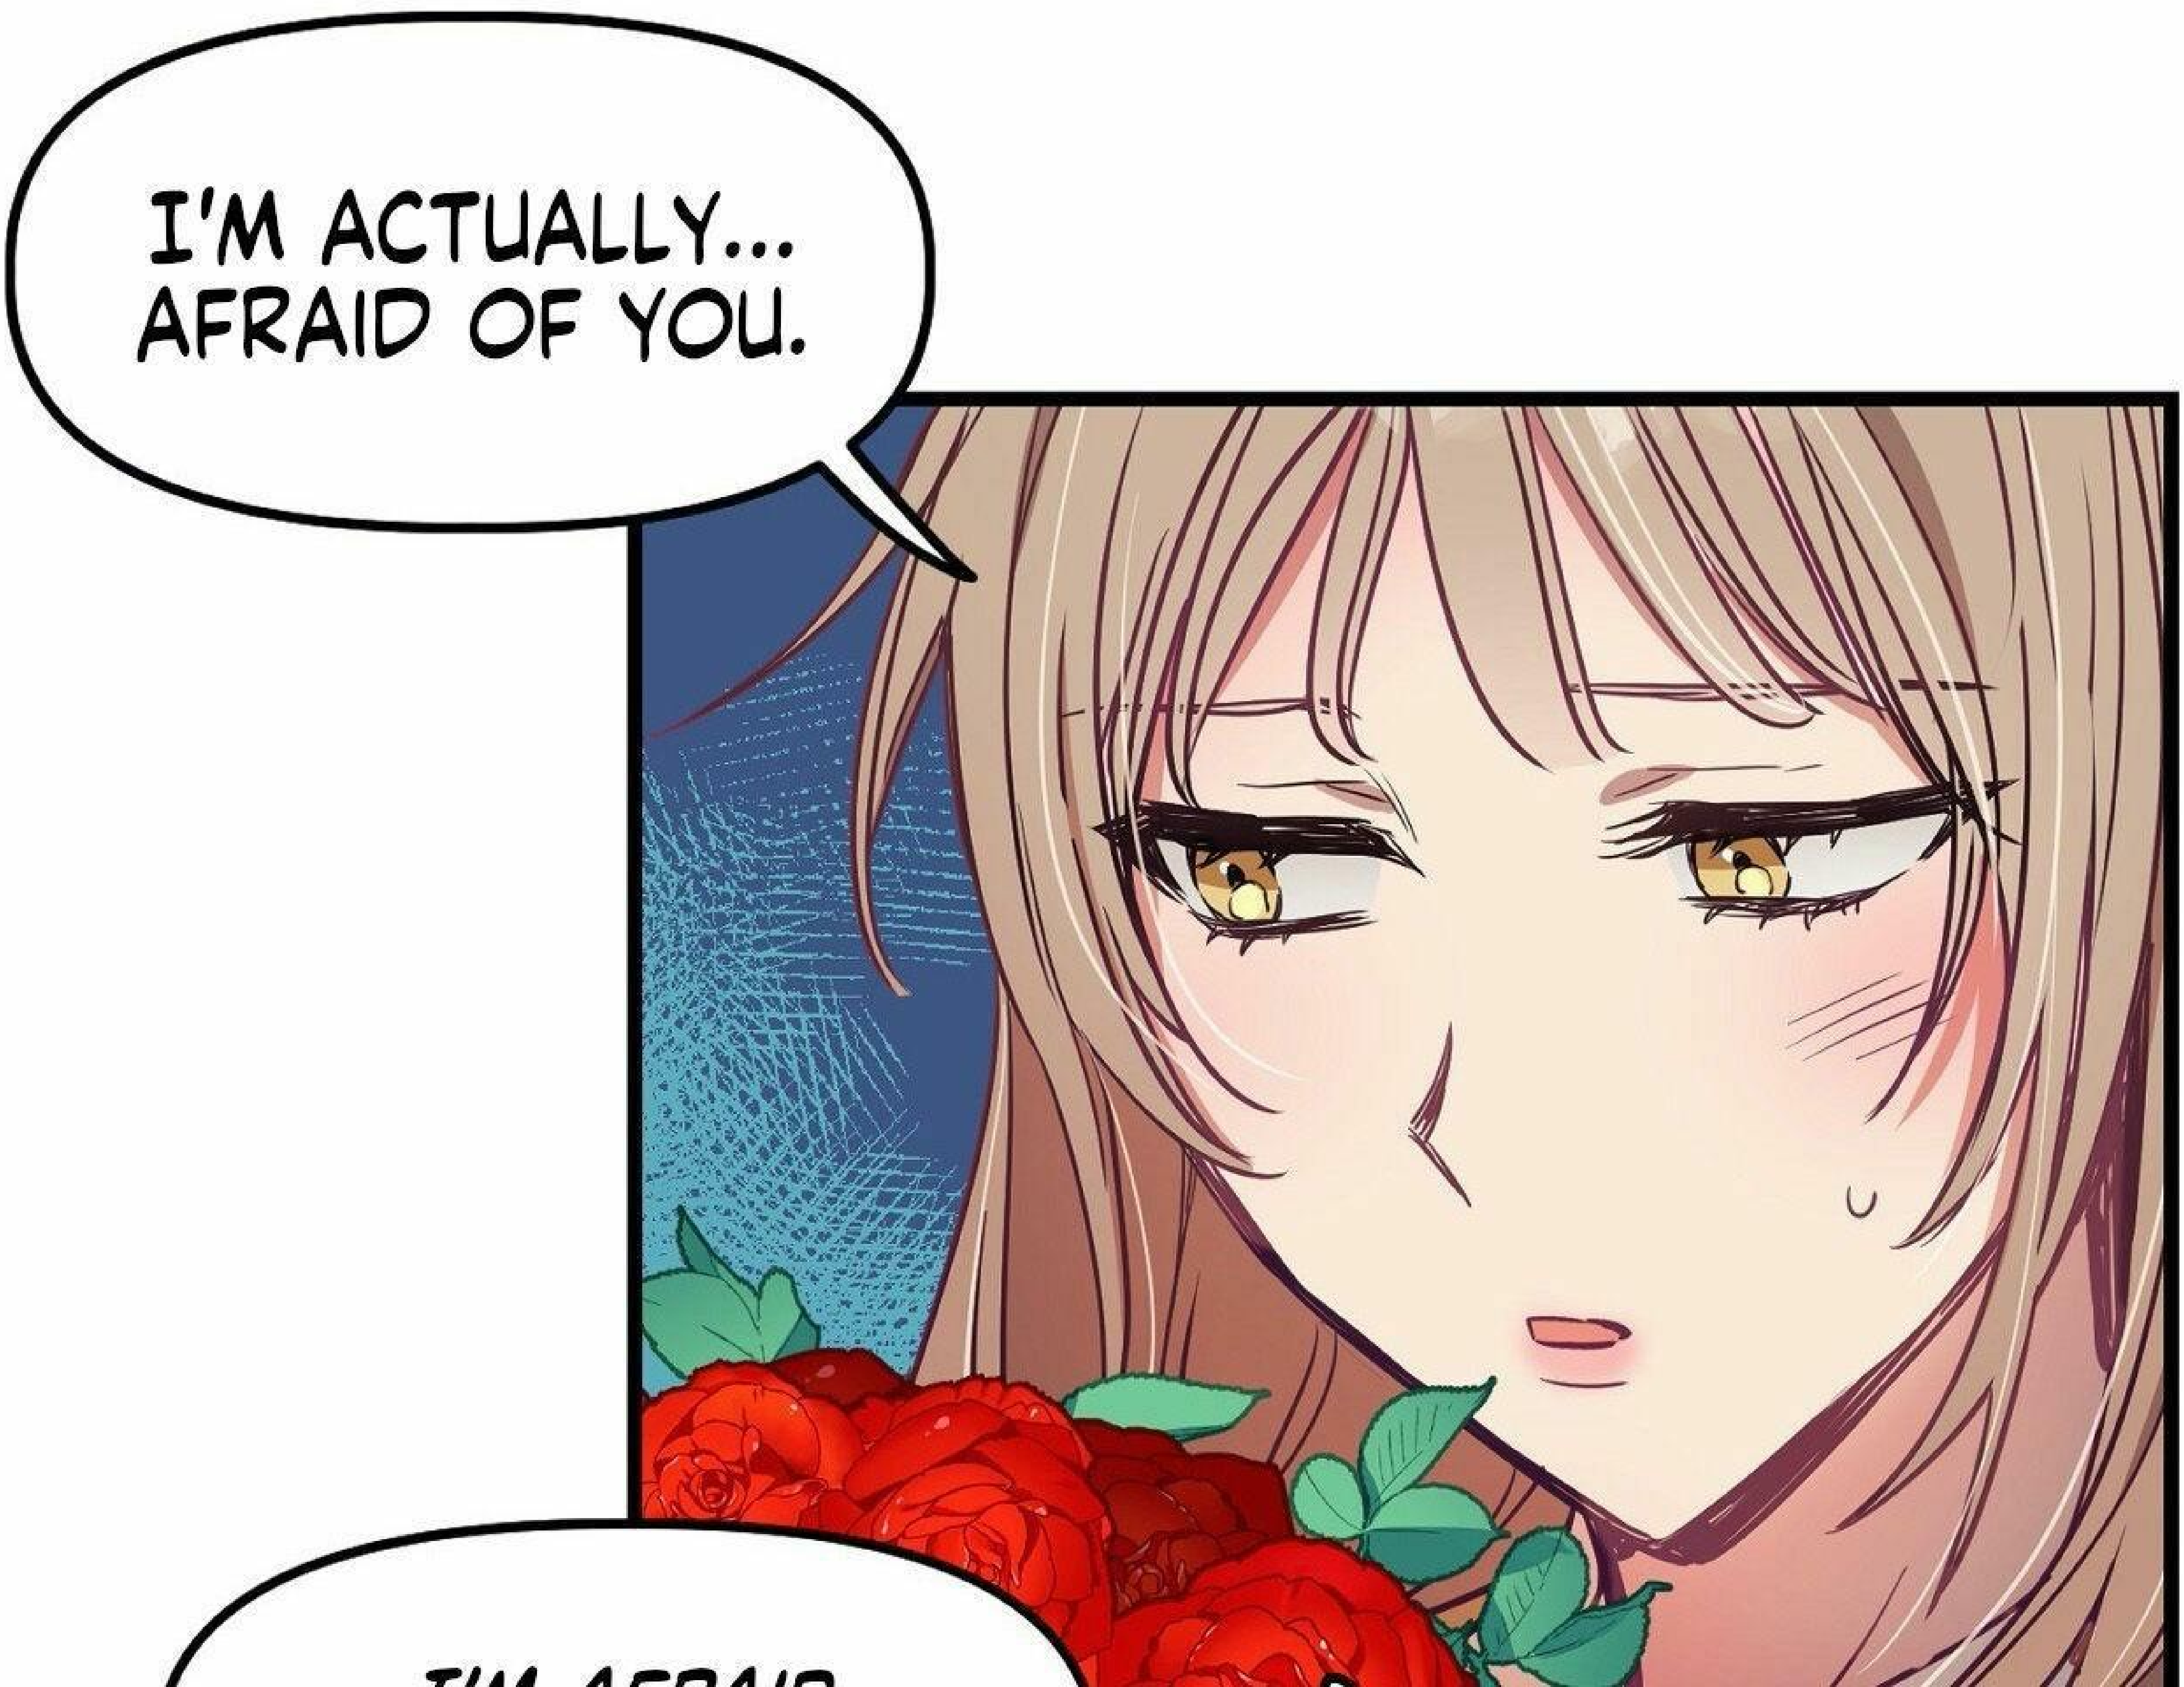

THOUGH IT DOESN'T FEEL AS GOOD AS WHEN I THRUST INSIDE OF YOU.
NORMALLY, PEOPLE WOULD MASTURBATE FIRST AND THEN LEARN ABOUT SEX LATER. BUT FOR ME, IT WAS THE OPPOSITE. MAYBE THAT'S WHY I WON'T BE ABLE TO DO IT A SECOND...
JUST WHAT KIND OF NONSENSE ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT RIGHT NOW?!
SMACK
SMACK
OH WELL. MOST PEOPLE WOULD VALUE THEIR FIRST TIME, AREN'T THEY?

BUT IN MY CASE, THAT "FIRST TIME" HAD LEFT SUCH A HUGE, NEGATIVE IMPACT.
WHICH LEADS ME TO THE CONCLU-SION THAT...
...I CAN ONLY GET IT ERECT FOR YOU.
I CAN'T TELL IF YOU'RE PLEADING WITH ME TO RUN AWAY OR IF YOU'RE THREATENING TO KILL ME IF I RUN AWAY.

I WANT YOU TO BE HAPPY AS MUCH AS YOU CAN WHILE STAYING BY MY SIDE. HOW ABOUT YOU THINK OF IT THAT WAY?
YOU'RE QUITE SHAMELESS...

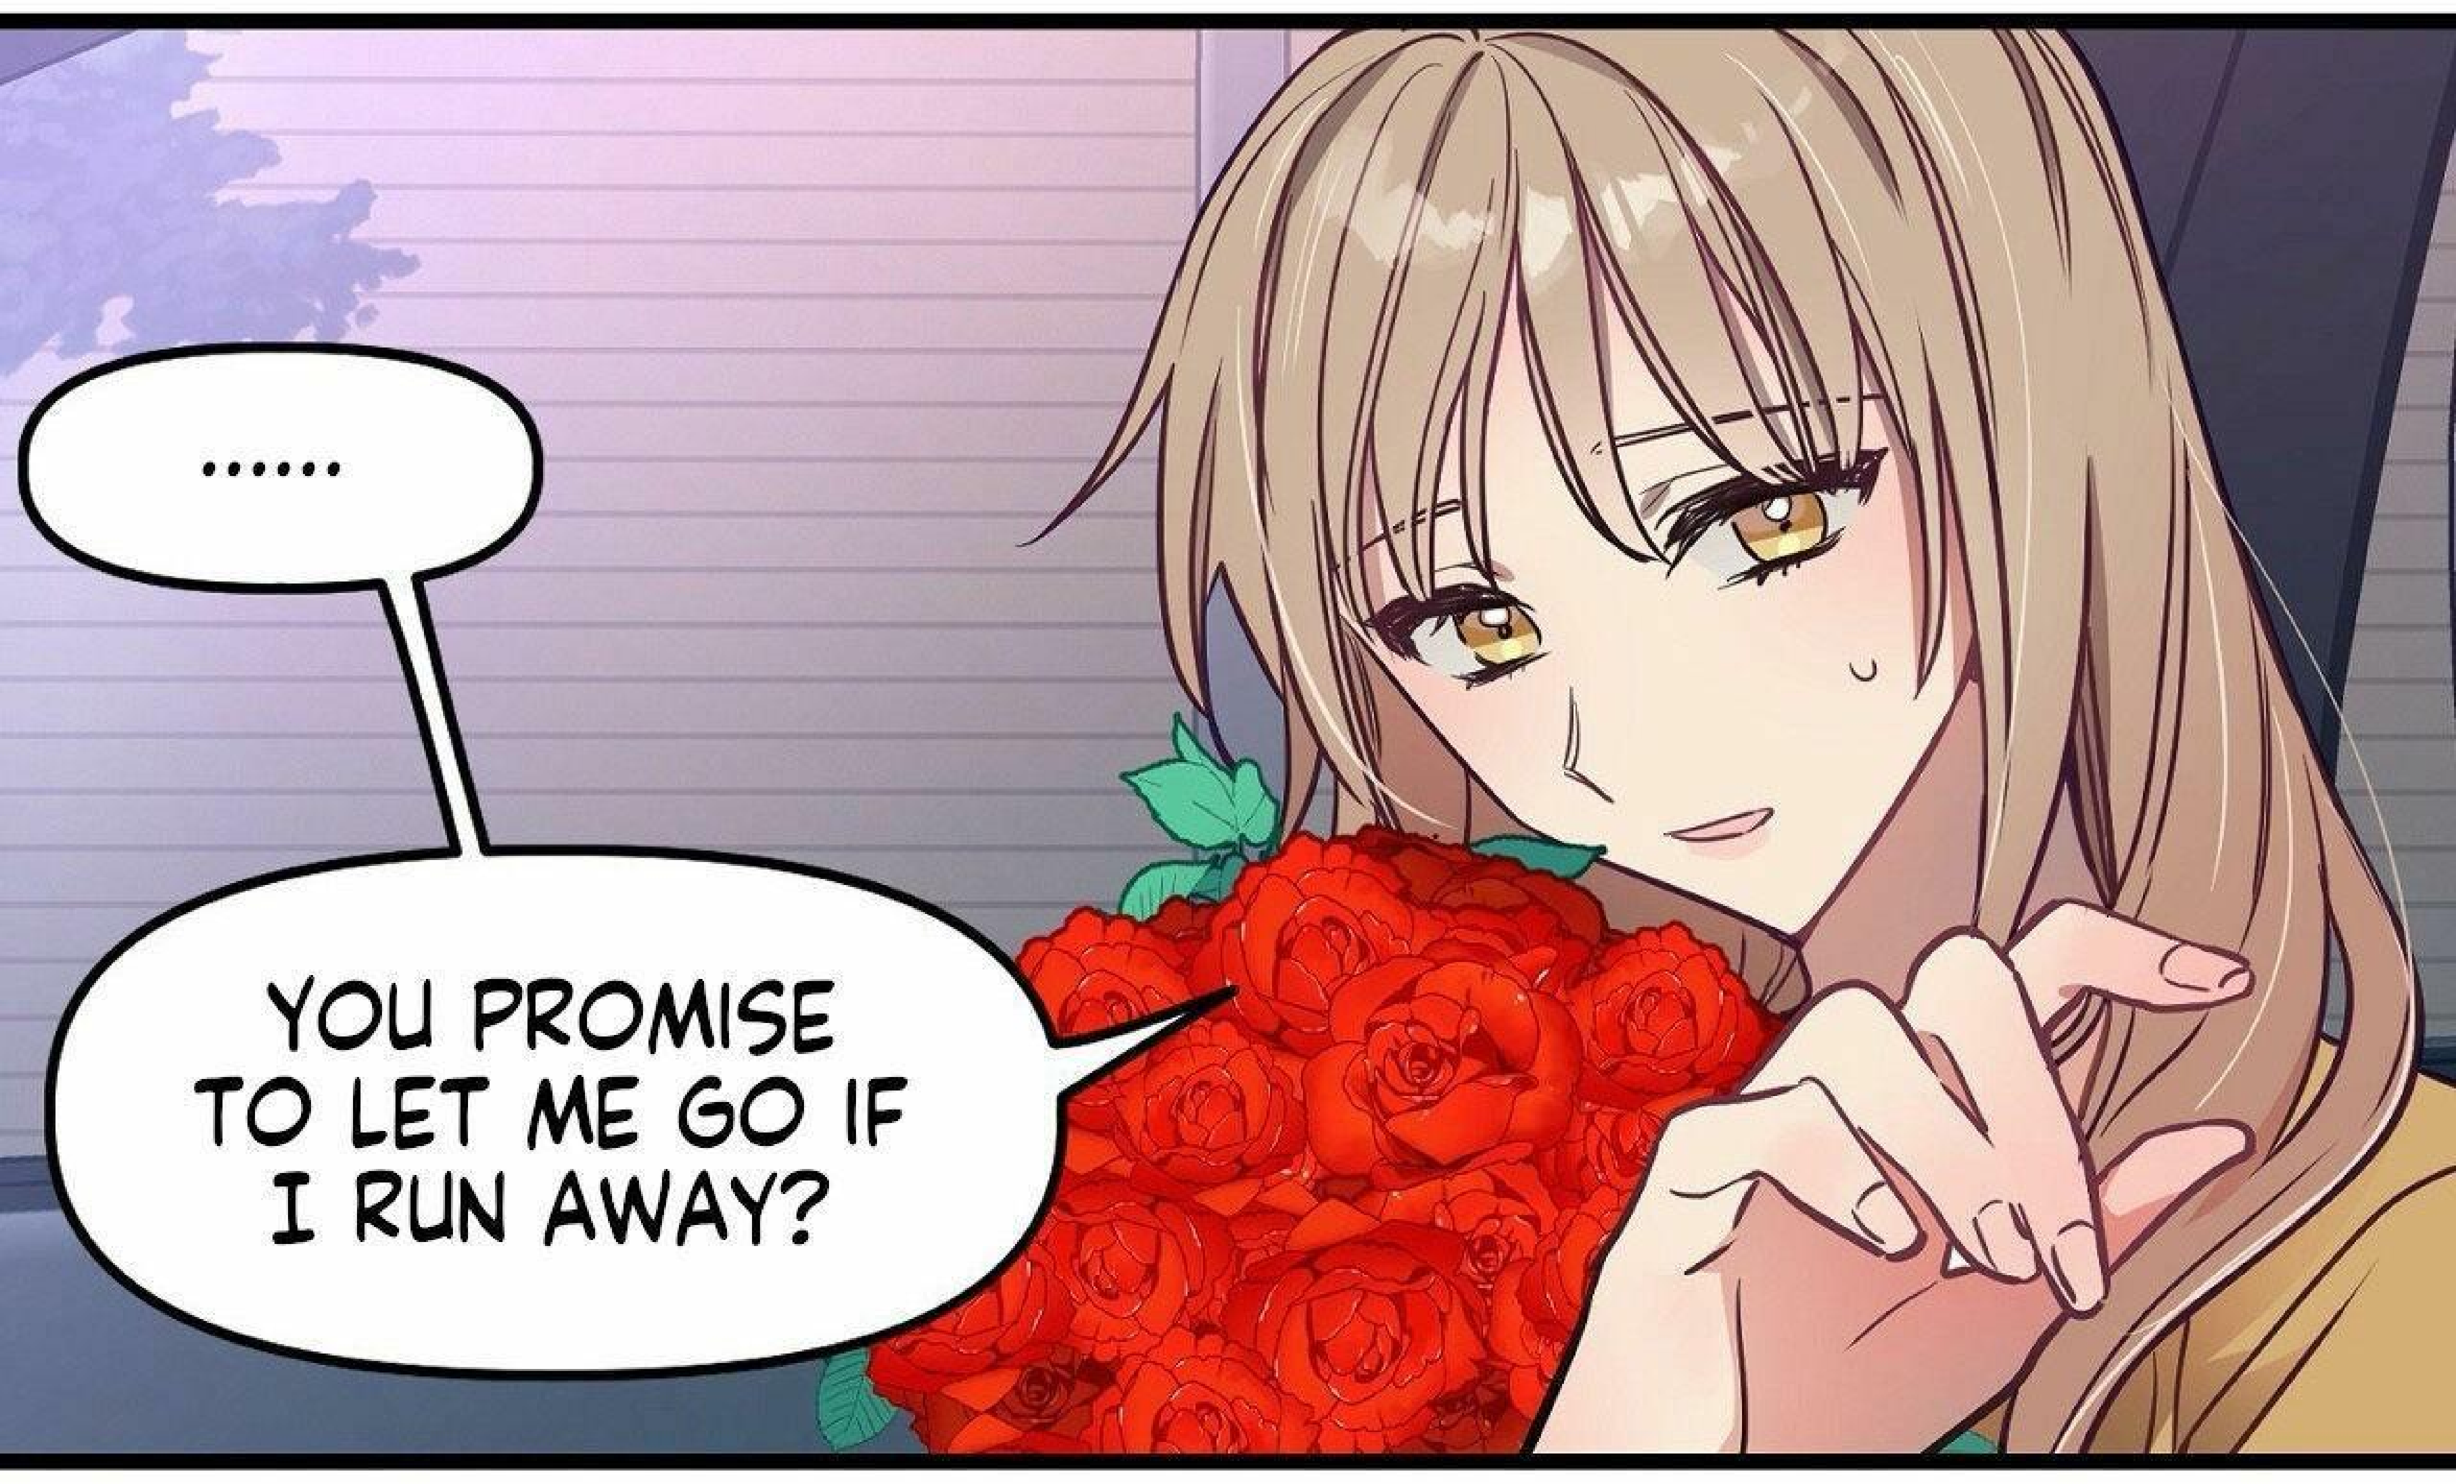

I'M CONFIDENT THAT I CAN MAKE YOU THE HAPPIEST YOU'VE EVER BEEN IF YOU DECIDE TO STICK WITH ME.
YOU CAN TAKE YOUR TIME TO THINK ABOUT IT CAREFULLY. AND PLEASE, DON'T TAKE MY WORDS LIGHTLY.

.....

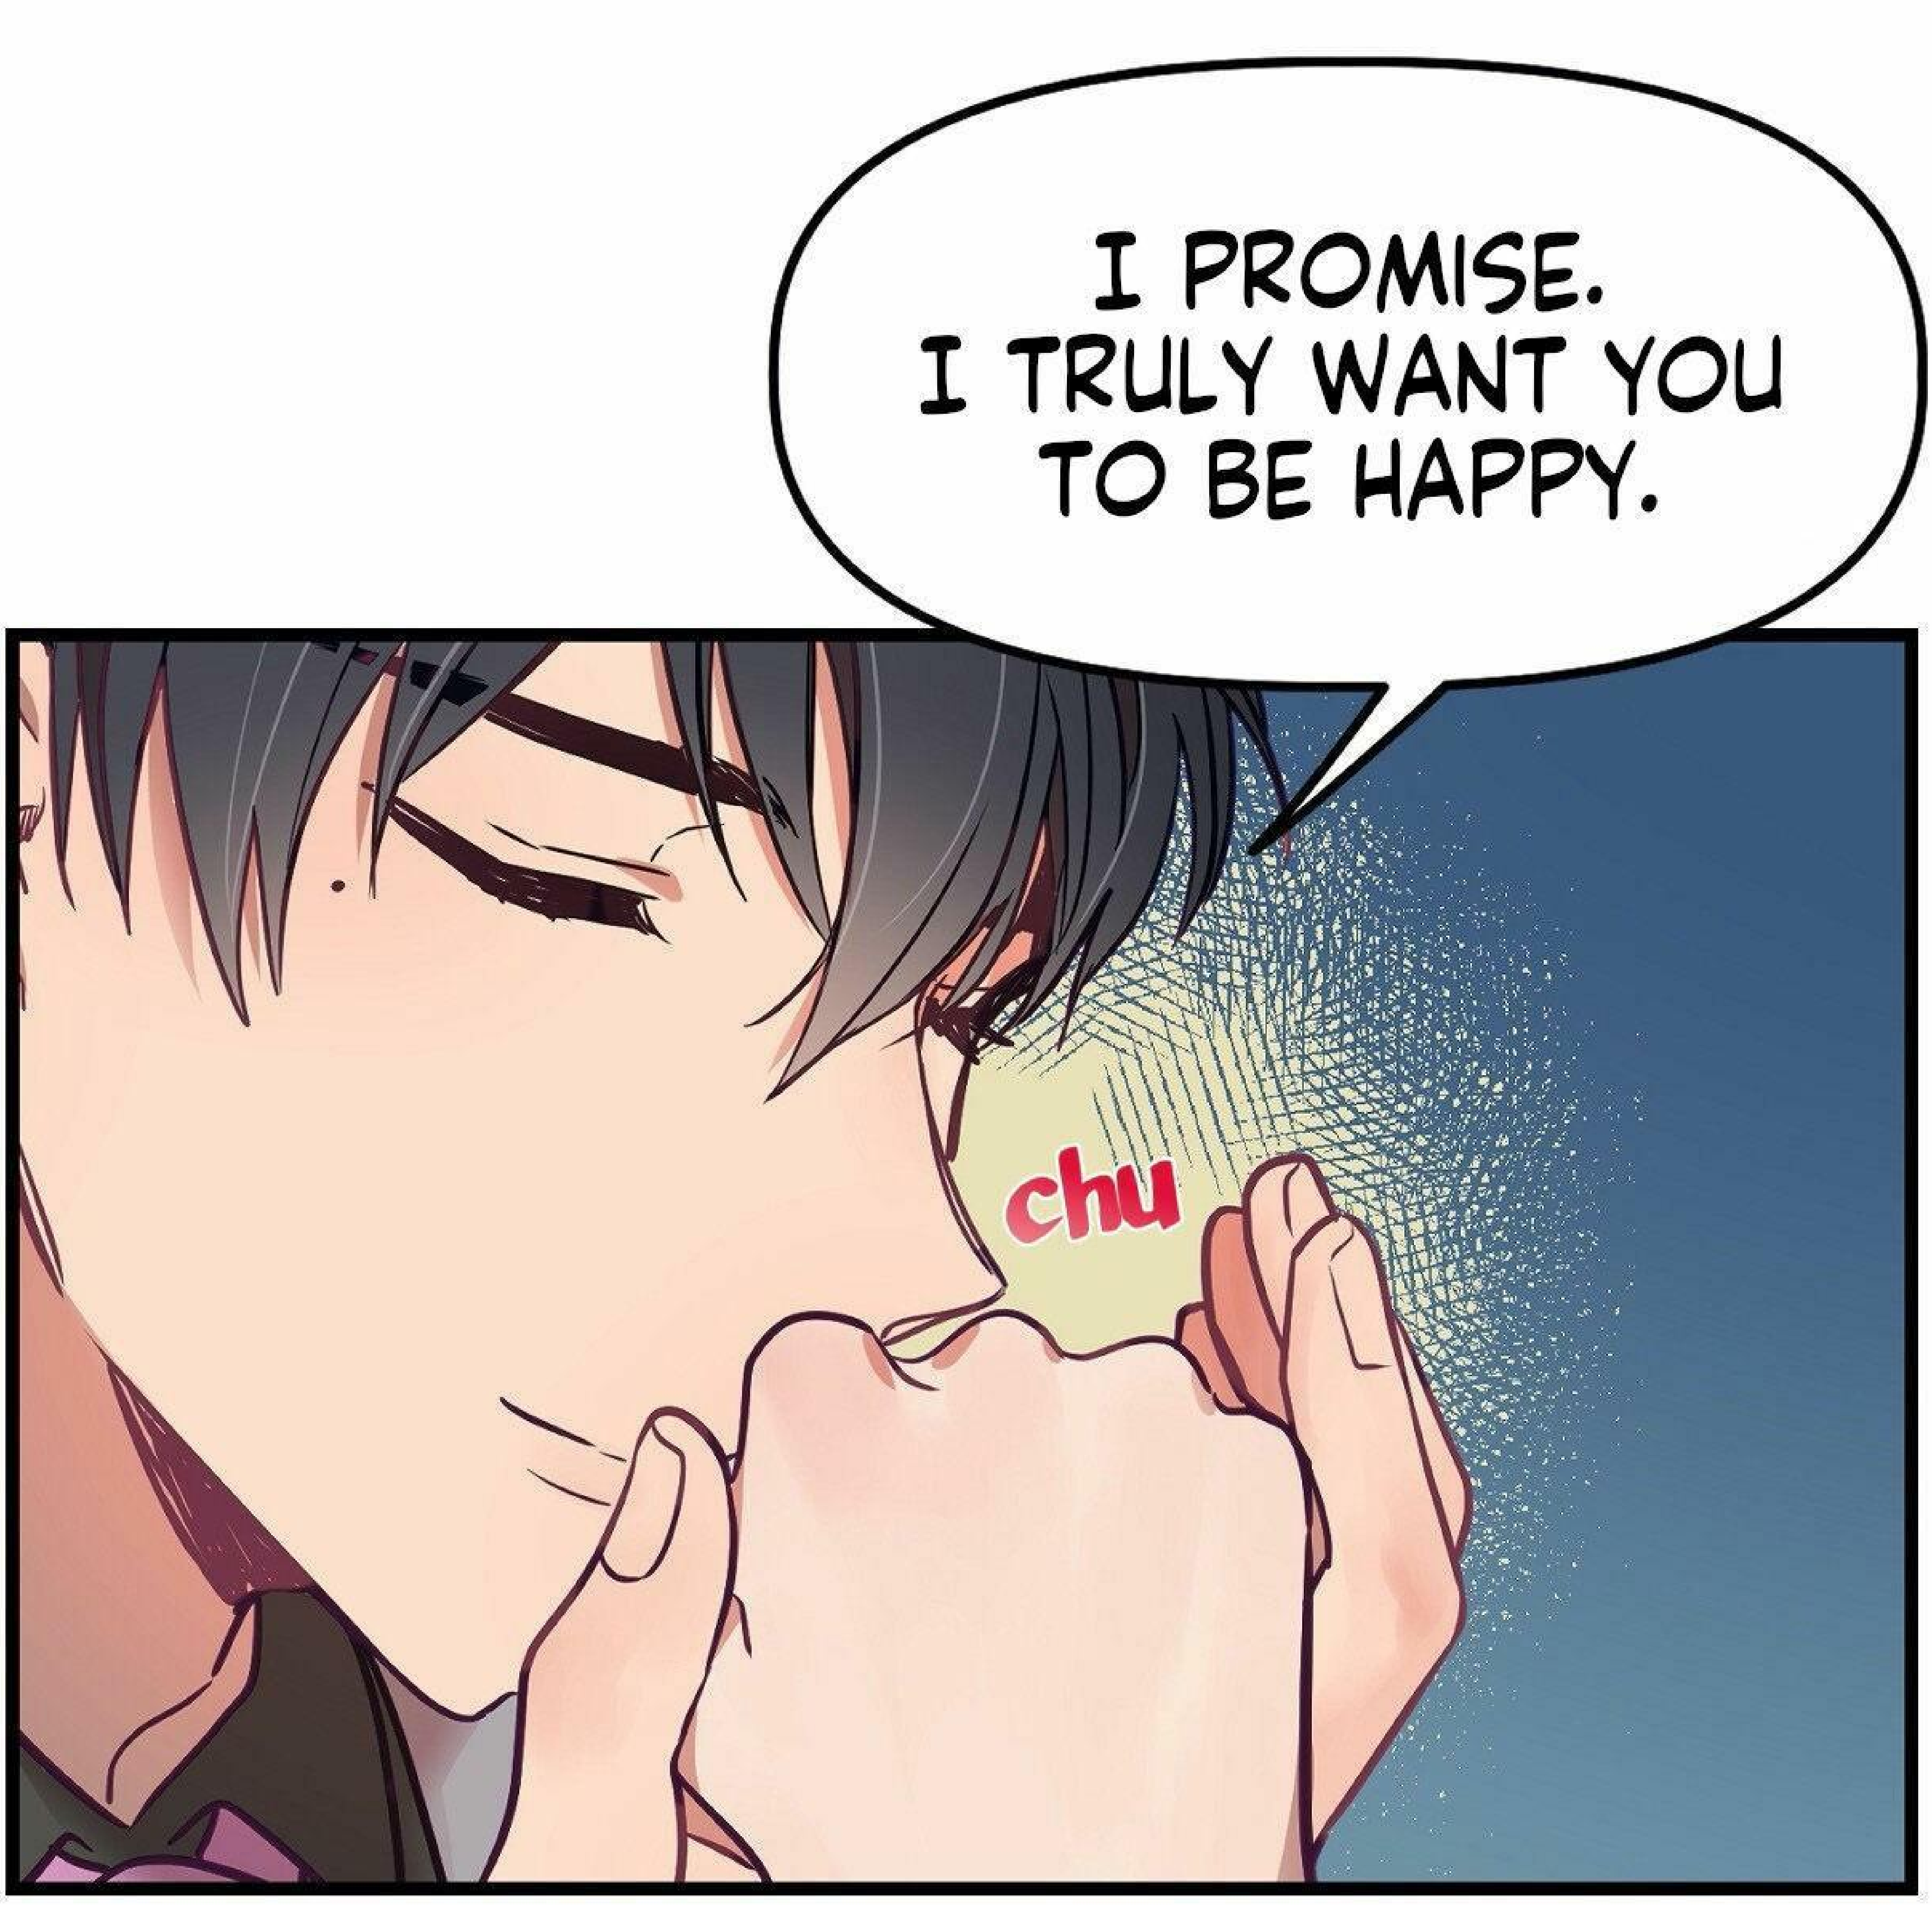

I'M ACTUALLY... AFRAID OF YOU.

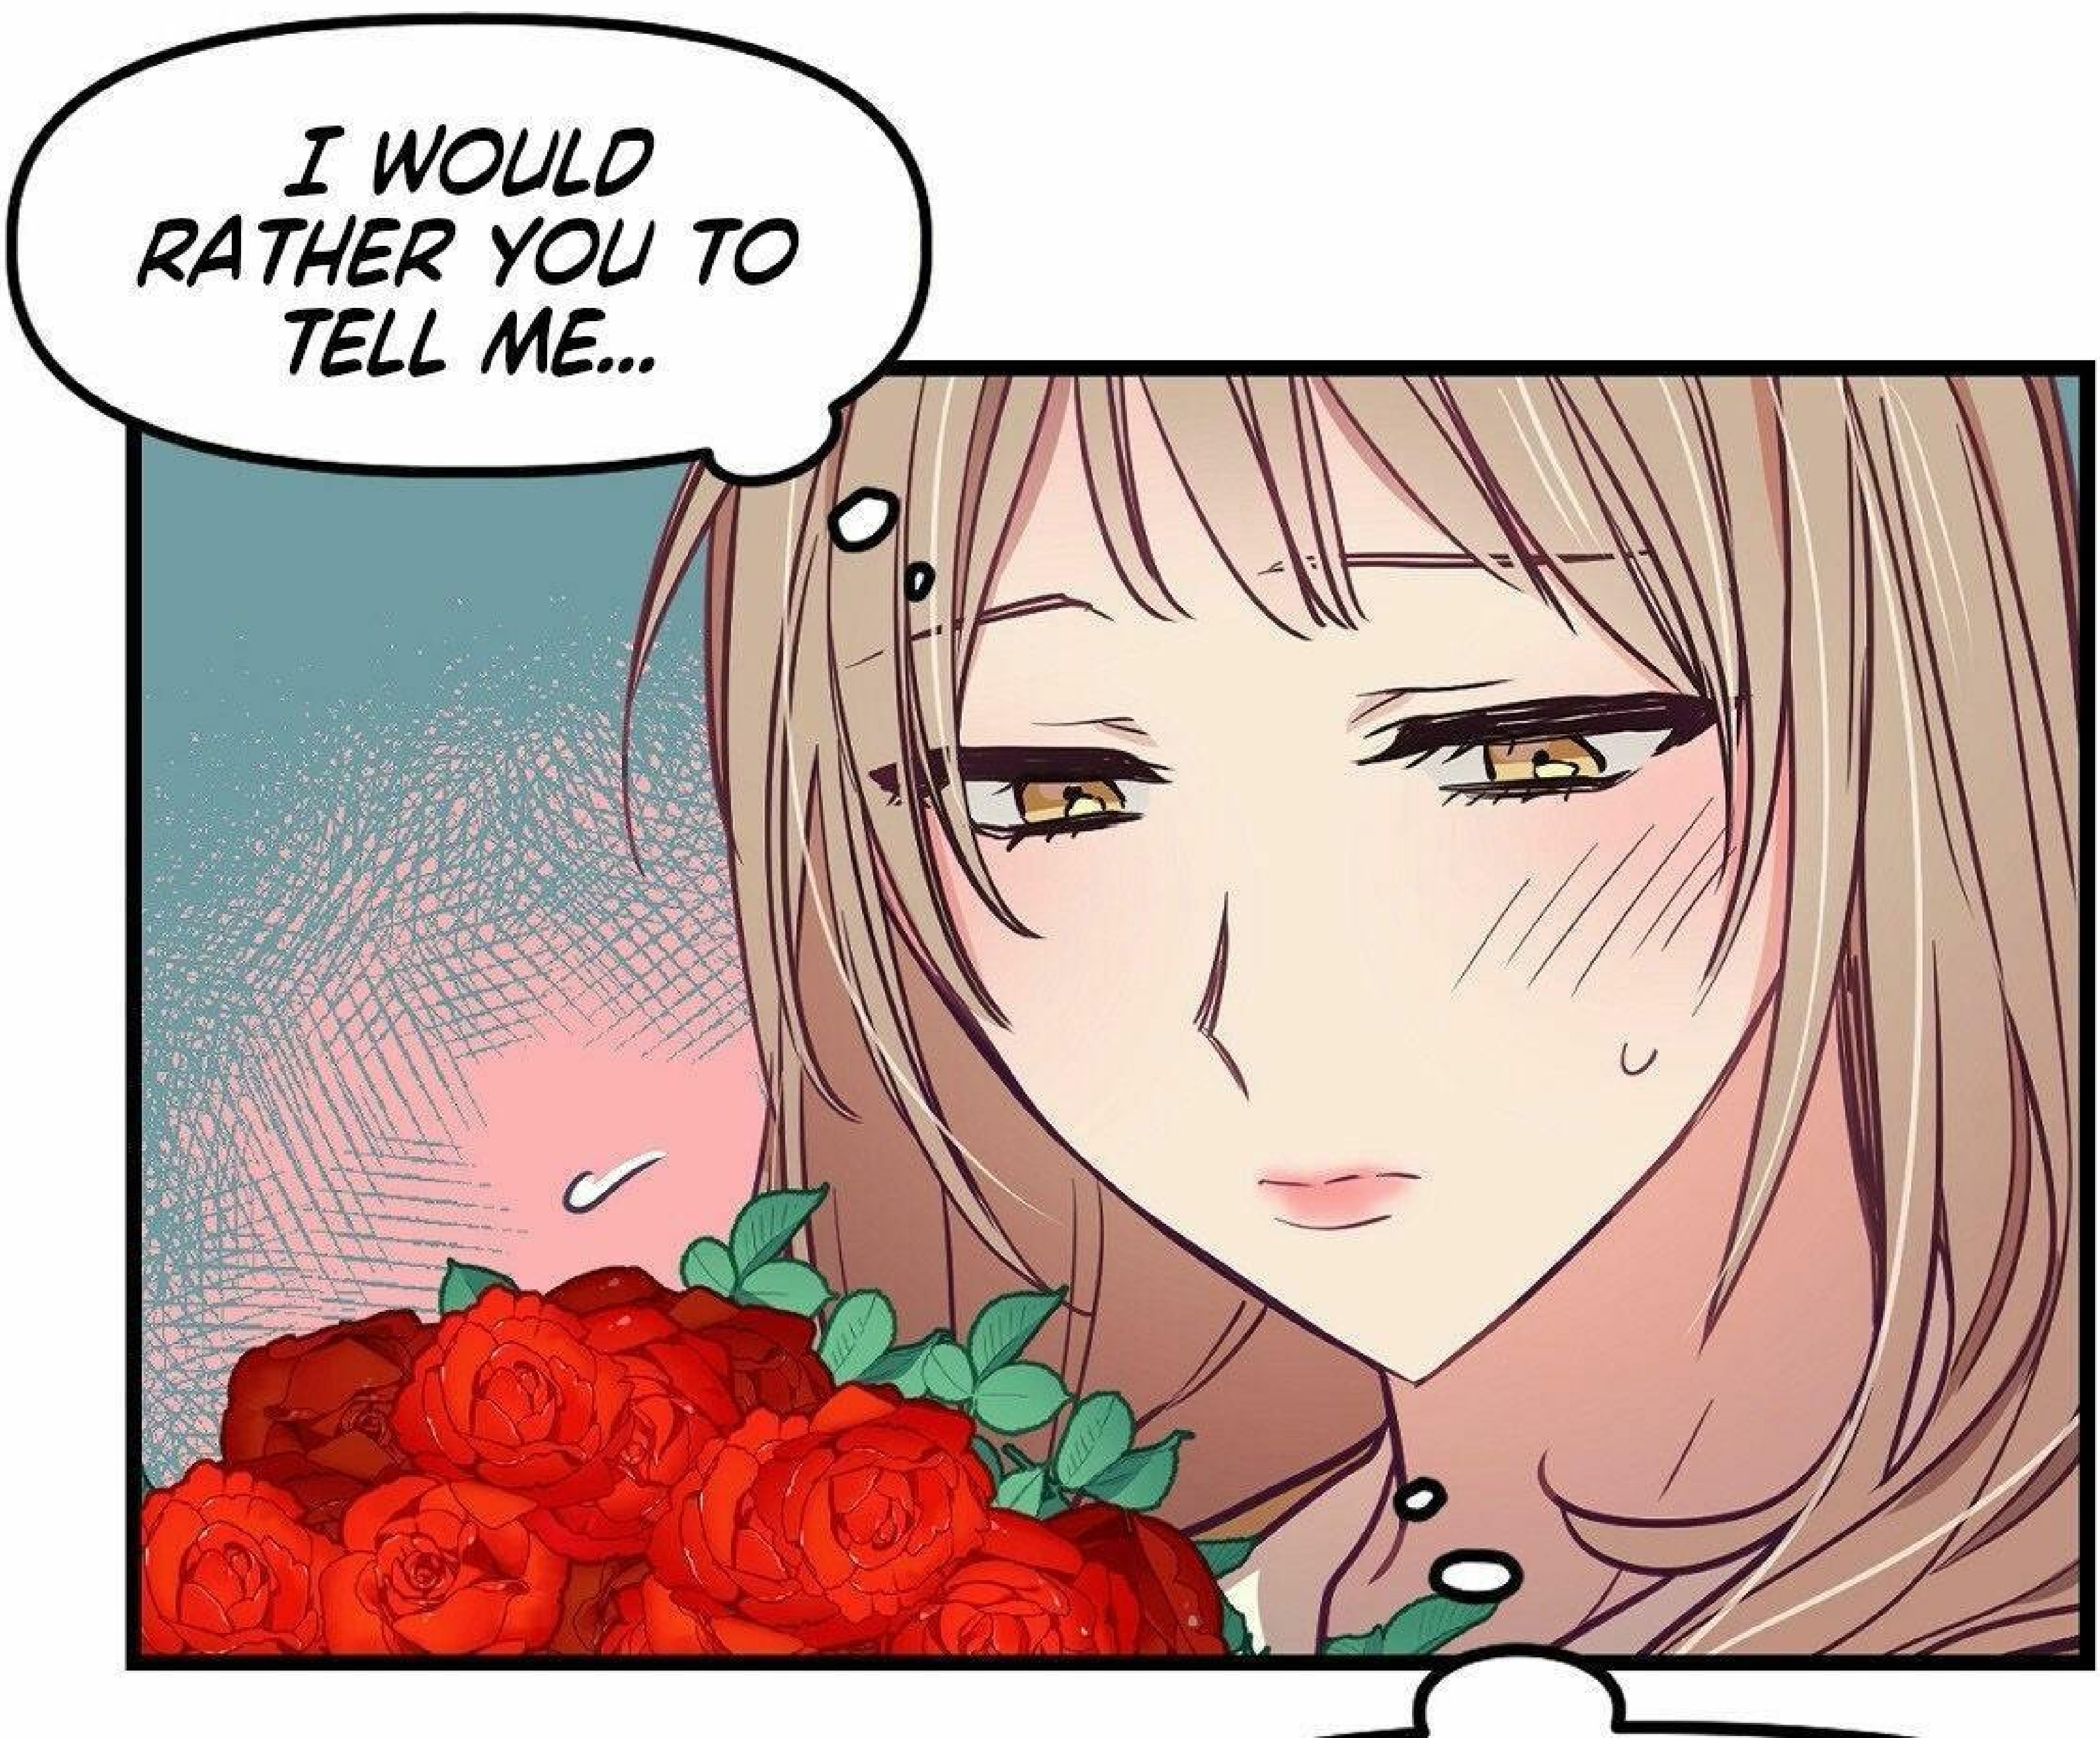

I'M AFRAID THAT I'LL FALL FOR YOUR CHARM.
SO, YOU FEEL SORRY FOR ME AT THE SAME TIME. YOU THINK I'M A PERSON WHO HAD A PIECE OF THEM BROKEN.
N-NOT TO THAT EXTENT...
GLOOM
IT DOESN'T HAVE TO MEAN ANYTHING BAD. YOU'RE THE FIRST PERSON TO EVER FEEL SORRY FOR ME. THAT MAKES ME HAPPY.

......
YOU PROMISE TO LET ME GO IF I RUN AWAY?

HOLD

I PROMISE. I TRULY WANT YOU TO BE HAPPY. chu

I WOULD RATHER YOU TO TELL ME...

...THAT YOU DID ALL OF THIS FOR YOUR OWN HAPPINESS... THEN I WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN THIS SAD.

ARE YOU GOING TO TAKE IT WITH YOU?
YOU'RE THE ONE WHO GAVE ME THIS, SO WHY ARE YOU ACTING ALL AWKWARD ABOUT IT?
BECAUSE I WAS THINKING OF THANKING THE SECRETARY THAT RECOMMEND ME TO GET IT.
HM? SO THIS BOUQUET WASN'T YOUR IDEA?
SMILE
WELL... AS YOU ALREADY KNOW NOW, IT'S MY FIRST TIME DOING THINGS LIKE THIS.

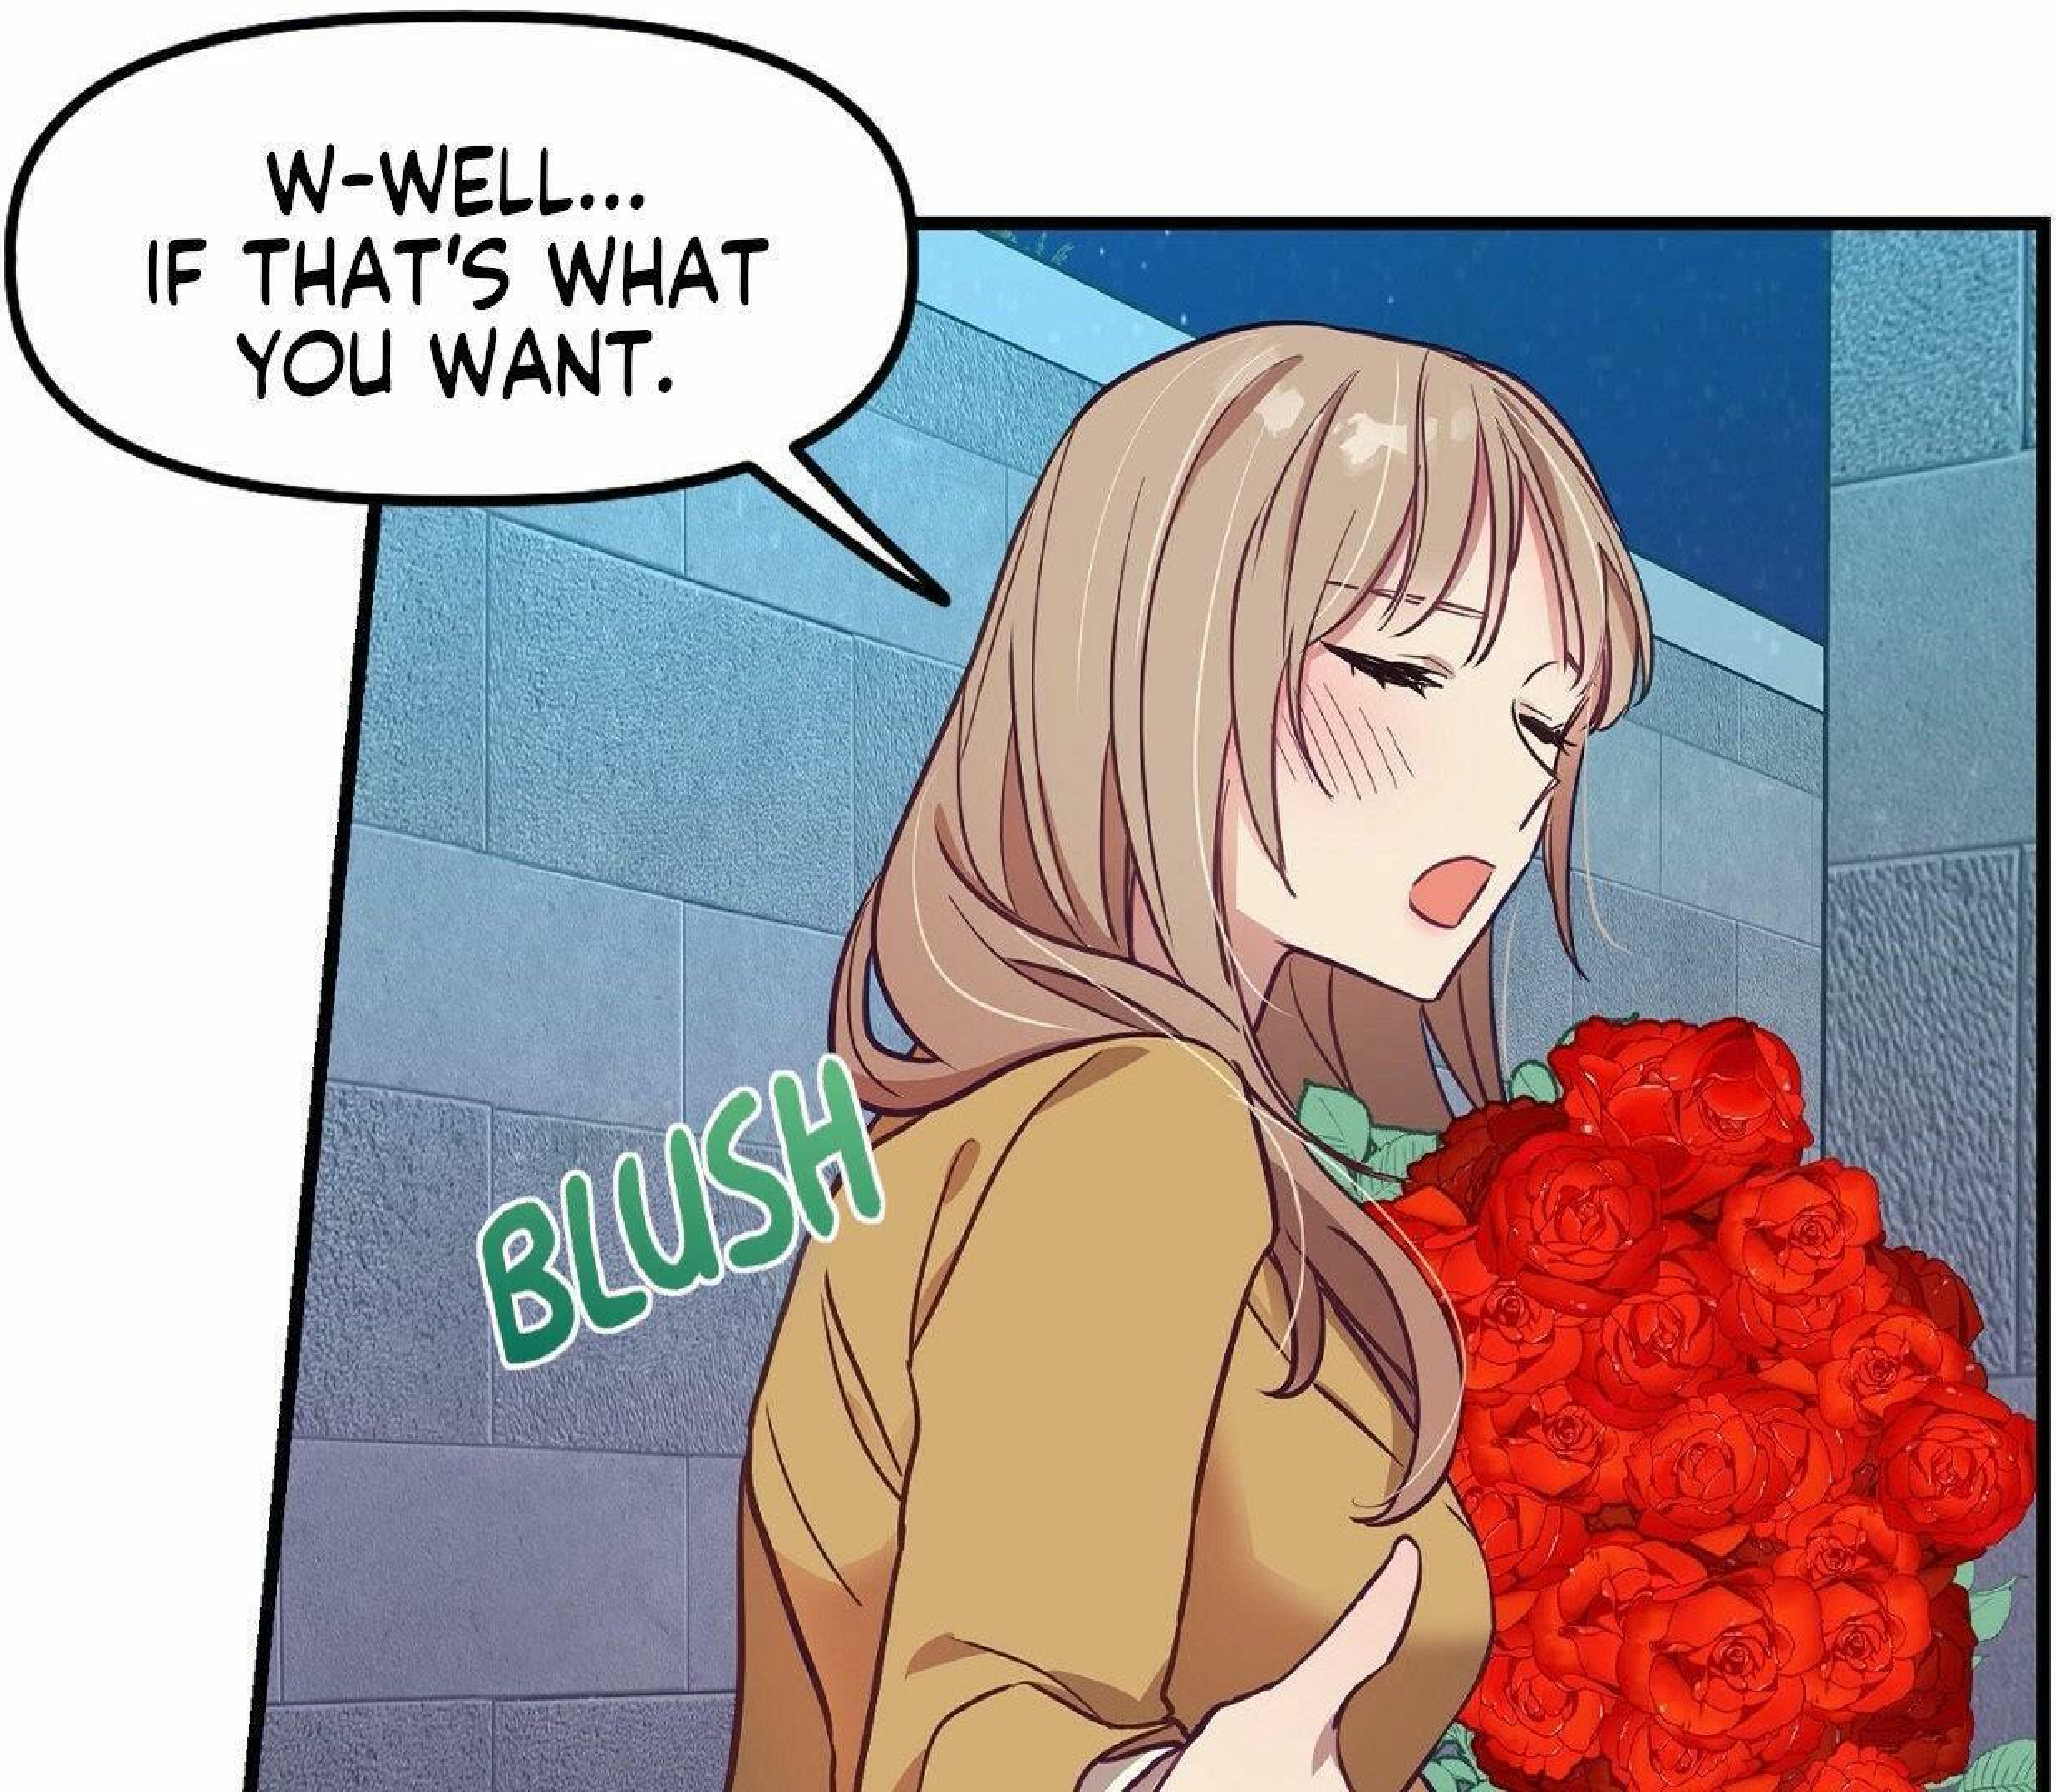

...IF I LEAVE THIS INSIDE THE CAR, IT'S GOING TO WITHER RIGHT AWAY.
SO I'LL HAVE TO PUT IT IN A VASE WHEN WE GET INSIDE.

JUST WHAT THE HECK IS THIS?
I THINK IT HAPPENED WHEN I WAS AROUND 6?
YOU SEE... I WAS GOING THROUGH THE OEDIPUS COMPLEX* PHASE AT THAT TIME, SO I WAS REALLY ATTACHED TO MY MOTHER.
*Oedipus complex is a term used by Sigmund Freud (1856-1939) to explain one of a psychosexual stages in his psychoanalytic theory.
Him Him & Him.
BATOTO SCANS
Let's find out~ ✨

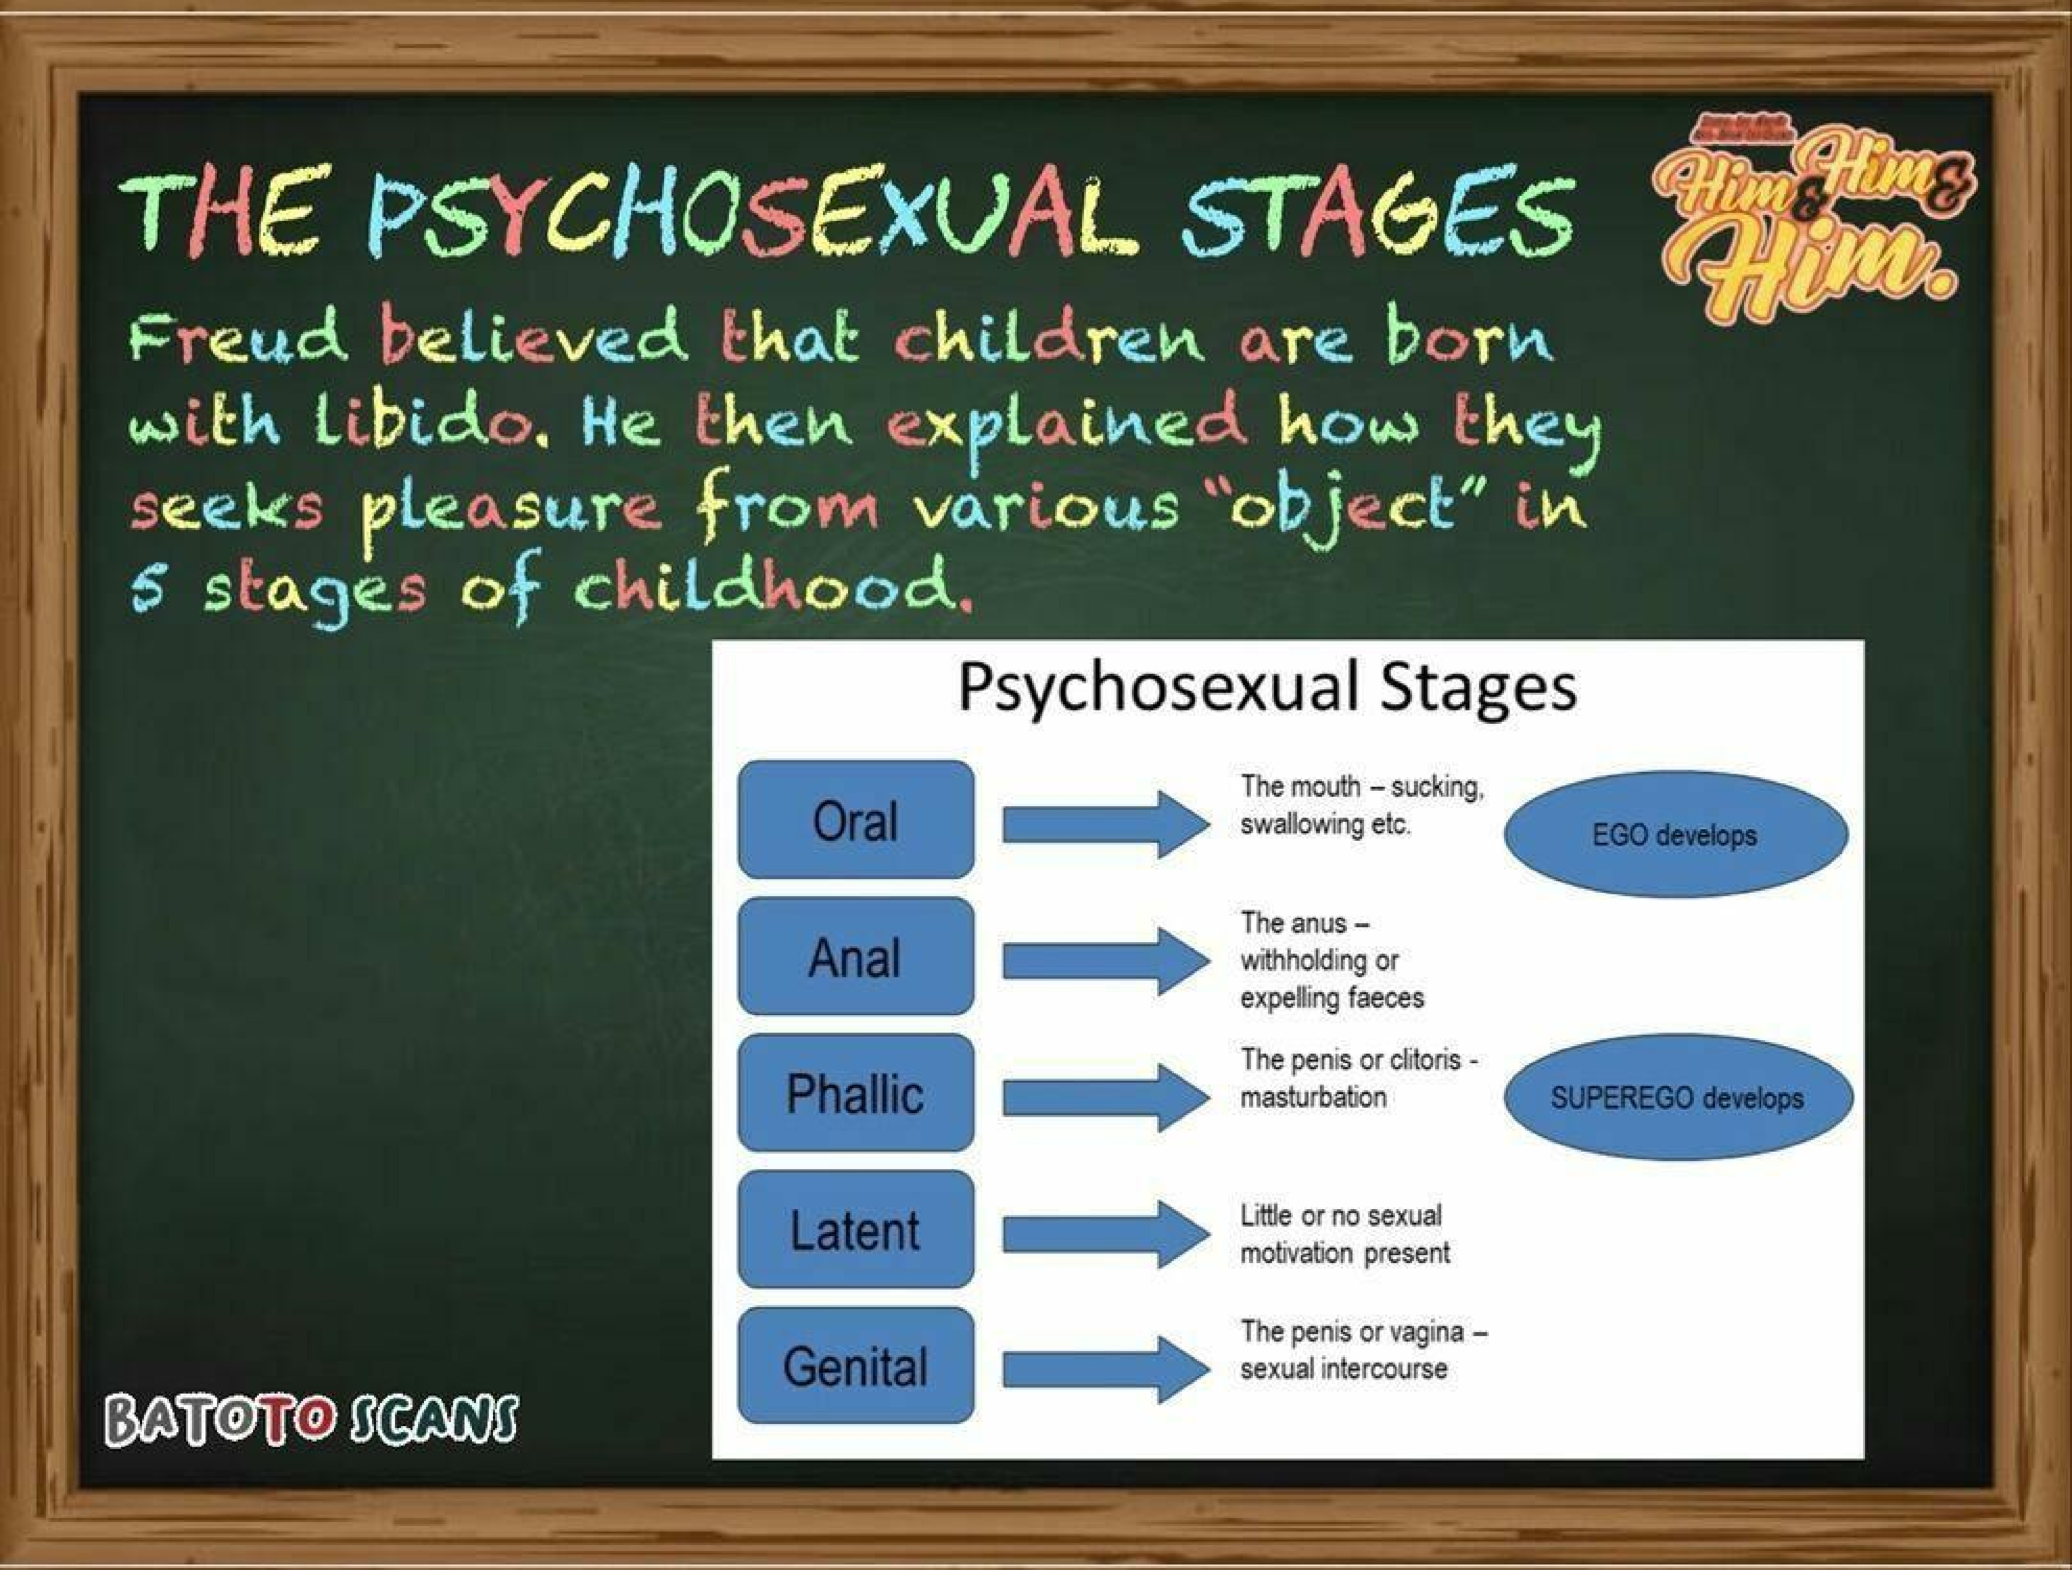

INTRODUCTION
Him Him & Him.
SIGMUND FREUD (1856-1939) was an Austrian Neurologist who developed Psychoanalisis, a set of theories to explains human behaviors and methods to treat mental health condition.
BATOTO SCANS

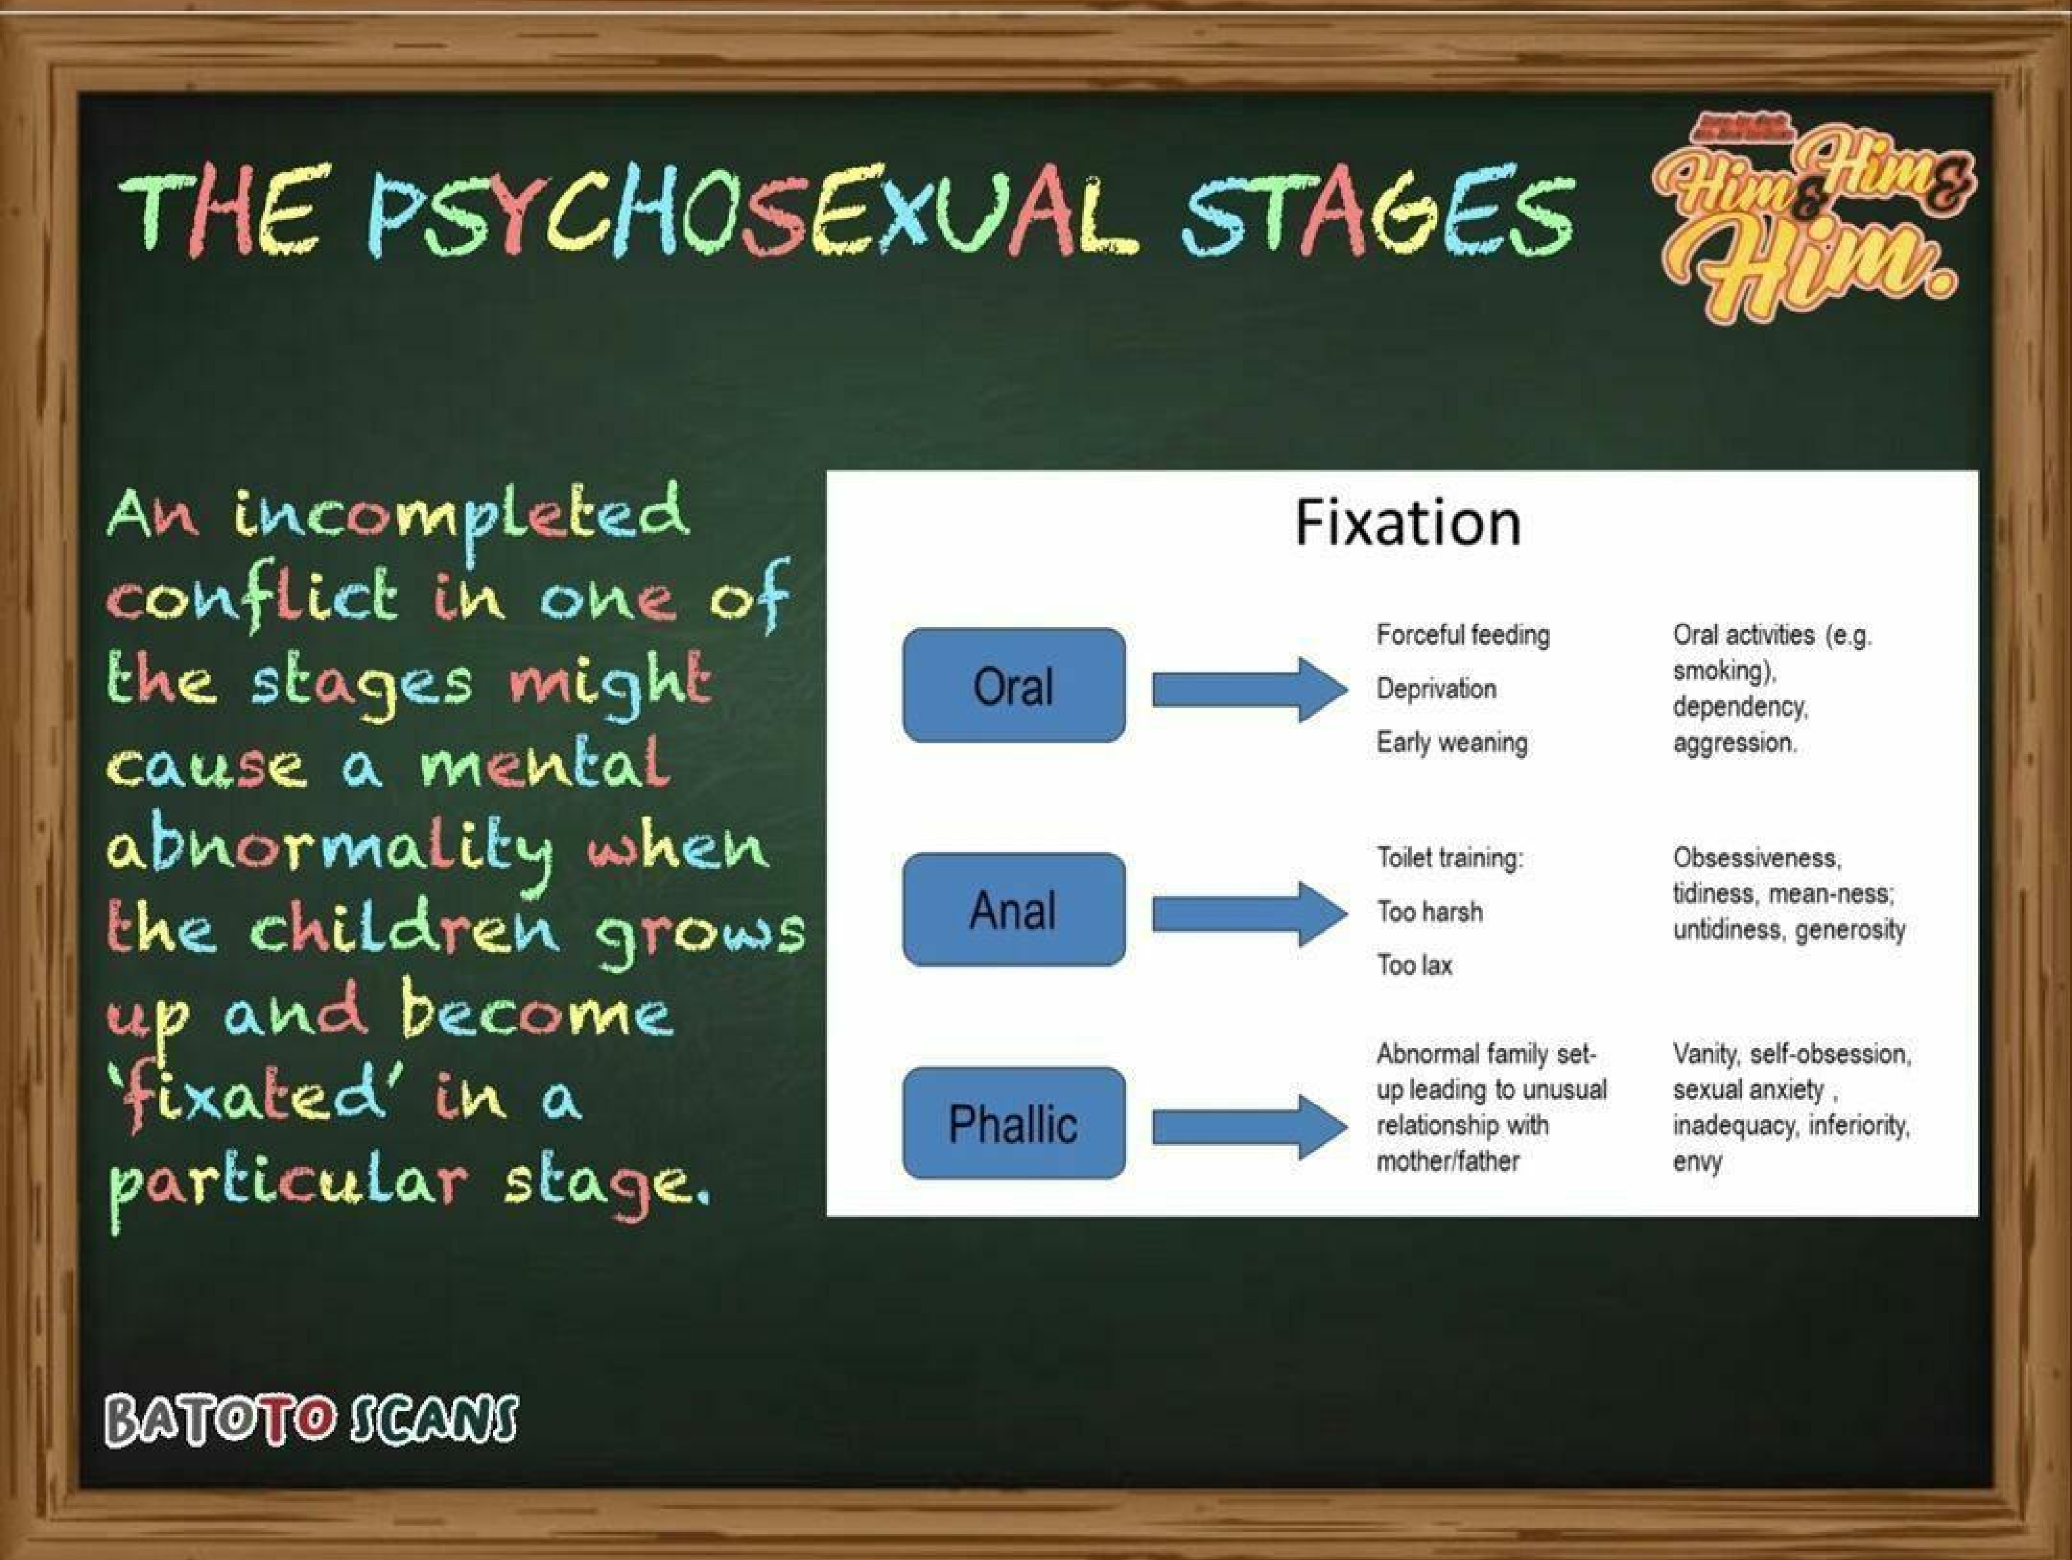

INTRODUCTION (I)
Him Him & Him.
He believed that every adult human behaviors is shaped by their childhood memories. When a children experienced a traumatic event, it'll be repressed in their unconscious mind and may cause problem at later stage of life.

BATOTO SCANS
INTRODUCTION (I)
Him & Him & Him.
He then began to performed a 'hypnosis therapy' to treat his patients and formed the theory in his first publication "The interpretation of Dreams" in 1900s. Which... was ignored at first but becomes controversial over the time.
BATOTO SCANS
THE PSYCHE: ID
Him & Him & Him.
Id:
Instincts
According to Freud, the "ID" in human body operates in biological drives that formed two kinds of basic instincts;
EROS (sex, self-preservation, love, life, to unite, etc), and;
THANATOS (aggression, violence, breaking connections, the death instinct, etc).
BATOTO SCANS
THE PSYCHE: EGO
Him & Him & Him.
Ego:
Reality
While ID developed during infancy, babies started to discover that they can't always be satisfied as how exactly they want it to be (Freud described it as "images of 'Mother, Milk and Warmth' doesn't eliminate their hunger"). In reality, there's a difference between self and outer world.
EGO's goal is to fulfill ID's demands, but in a way where it's socially acceptable. Thus operated in both conscious and unconscious area of mind.
BATOTO SCANS
THE PSYCHE: SUPEREGO
Him & Him & Him.
SUPEREGO is the last to develop. It happened during early childhood when they resolved the oedipus complex and start to identify themselves with the same sex parent. SUPEREGO consisted in two parts:

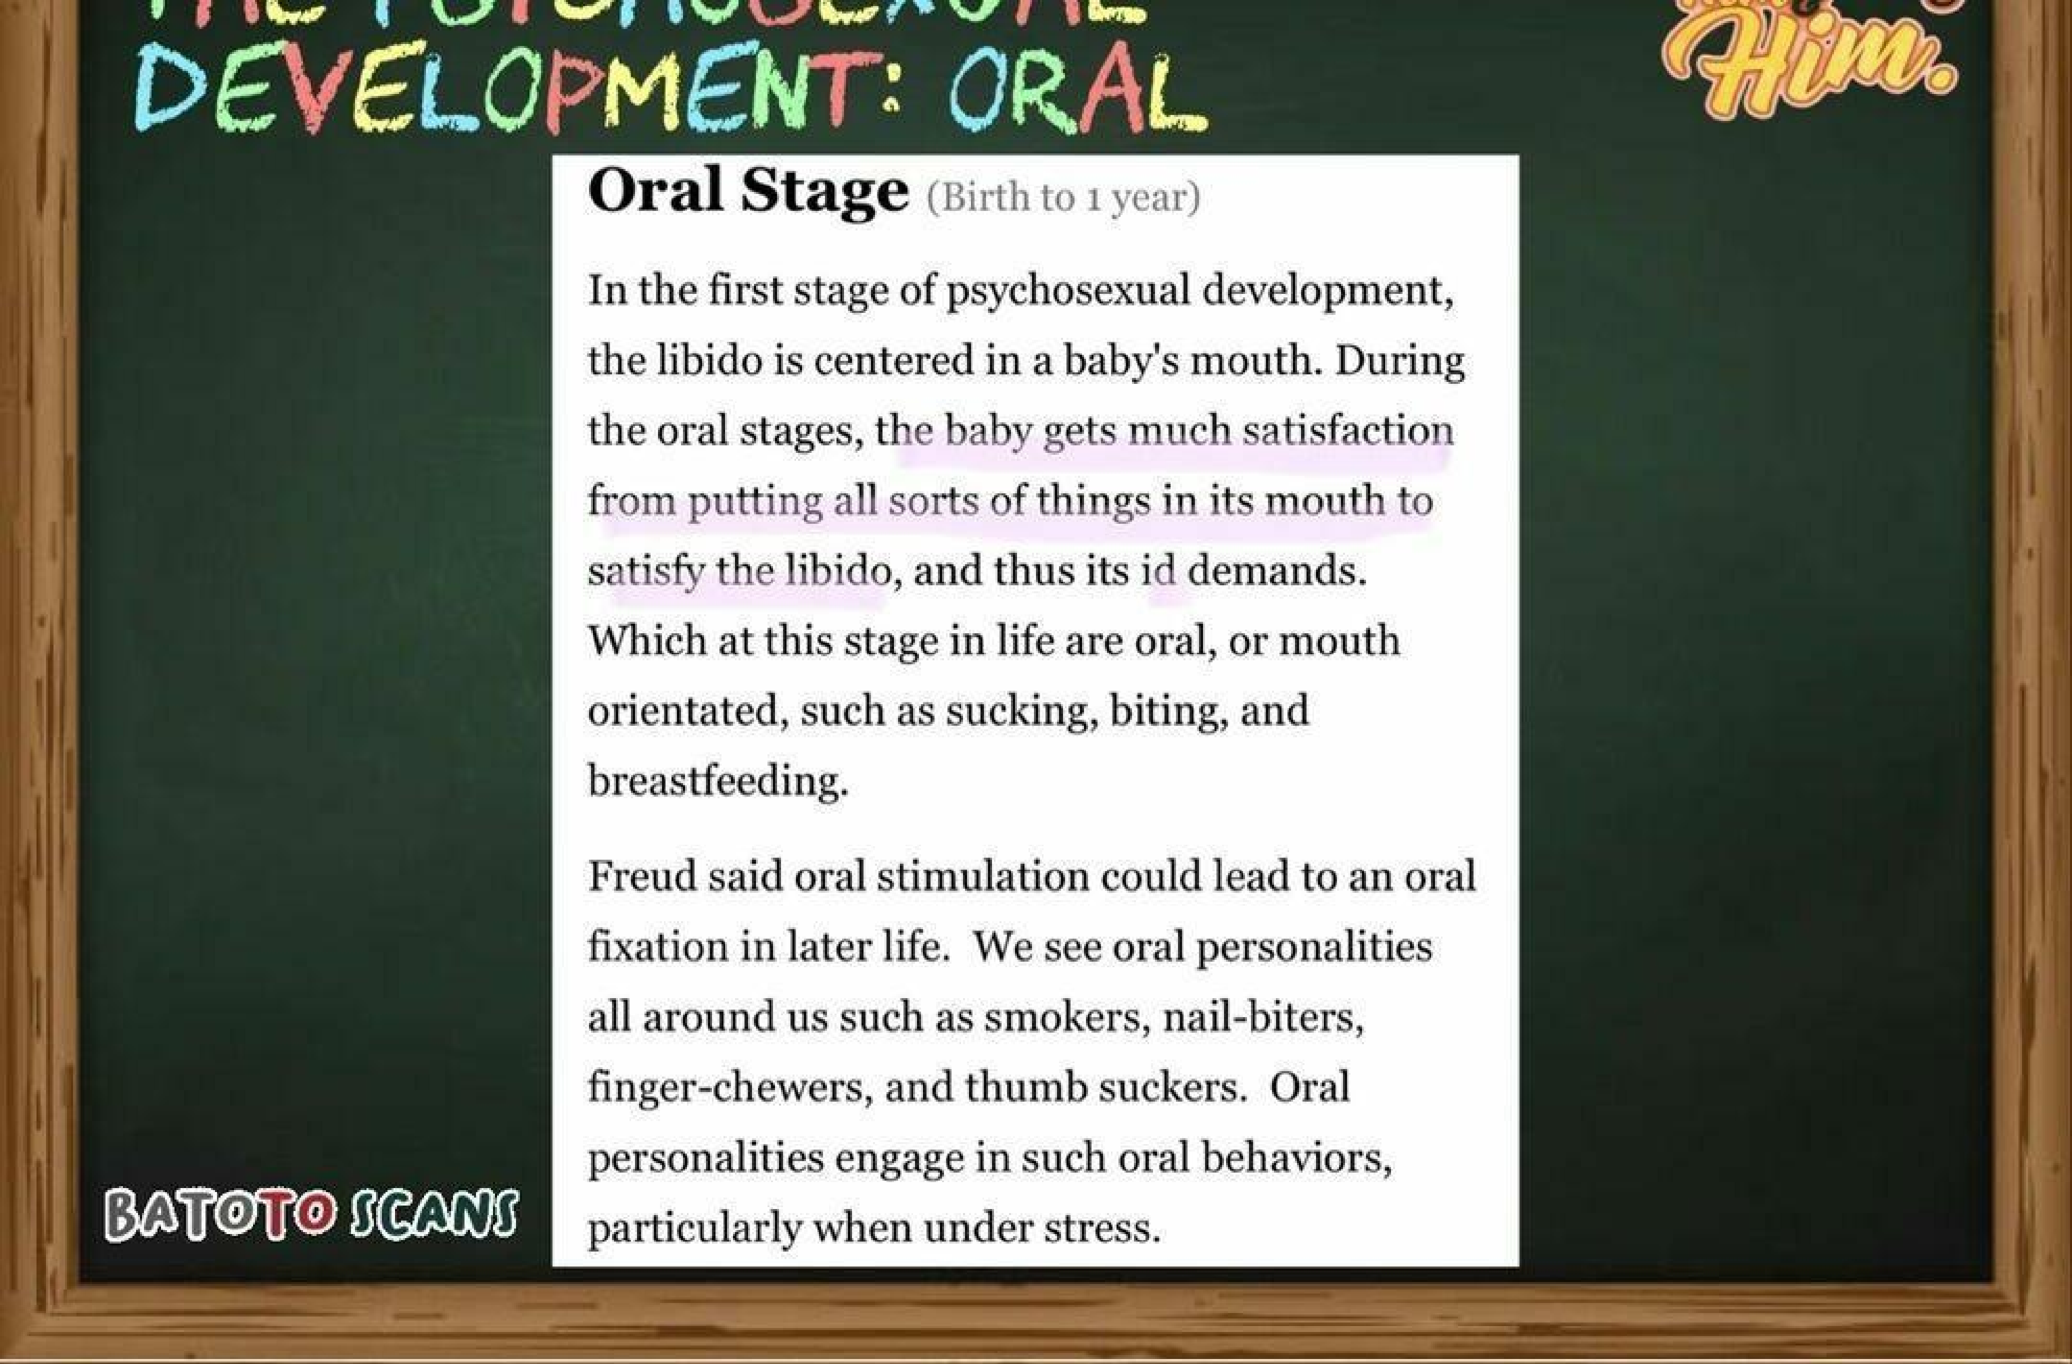

Superego:
Morality
CONSCIENCE - the negative; When children punished by their parents from wrongdoings. It developed guilt for not following the rules.
EGO IDEAL - the positive; When children rewarded from performing certain action and behavior. Children feel pride from it and strive for more.
SUPEREGO is the 'moral compass' and always in constant struggle with ID. EGO has to mediate the two and deploy any type of defense mechanism to resolve it.
BATOTO SCANS

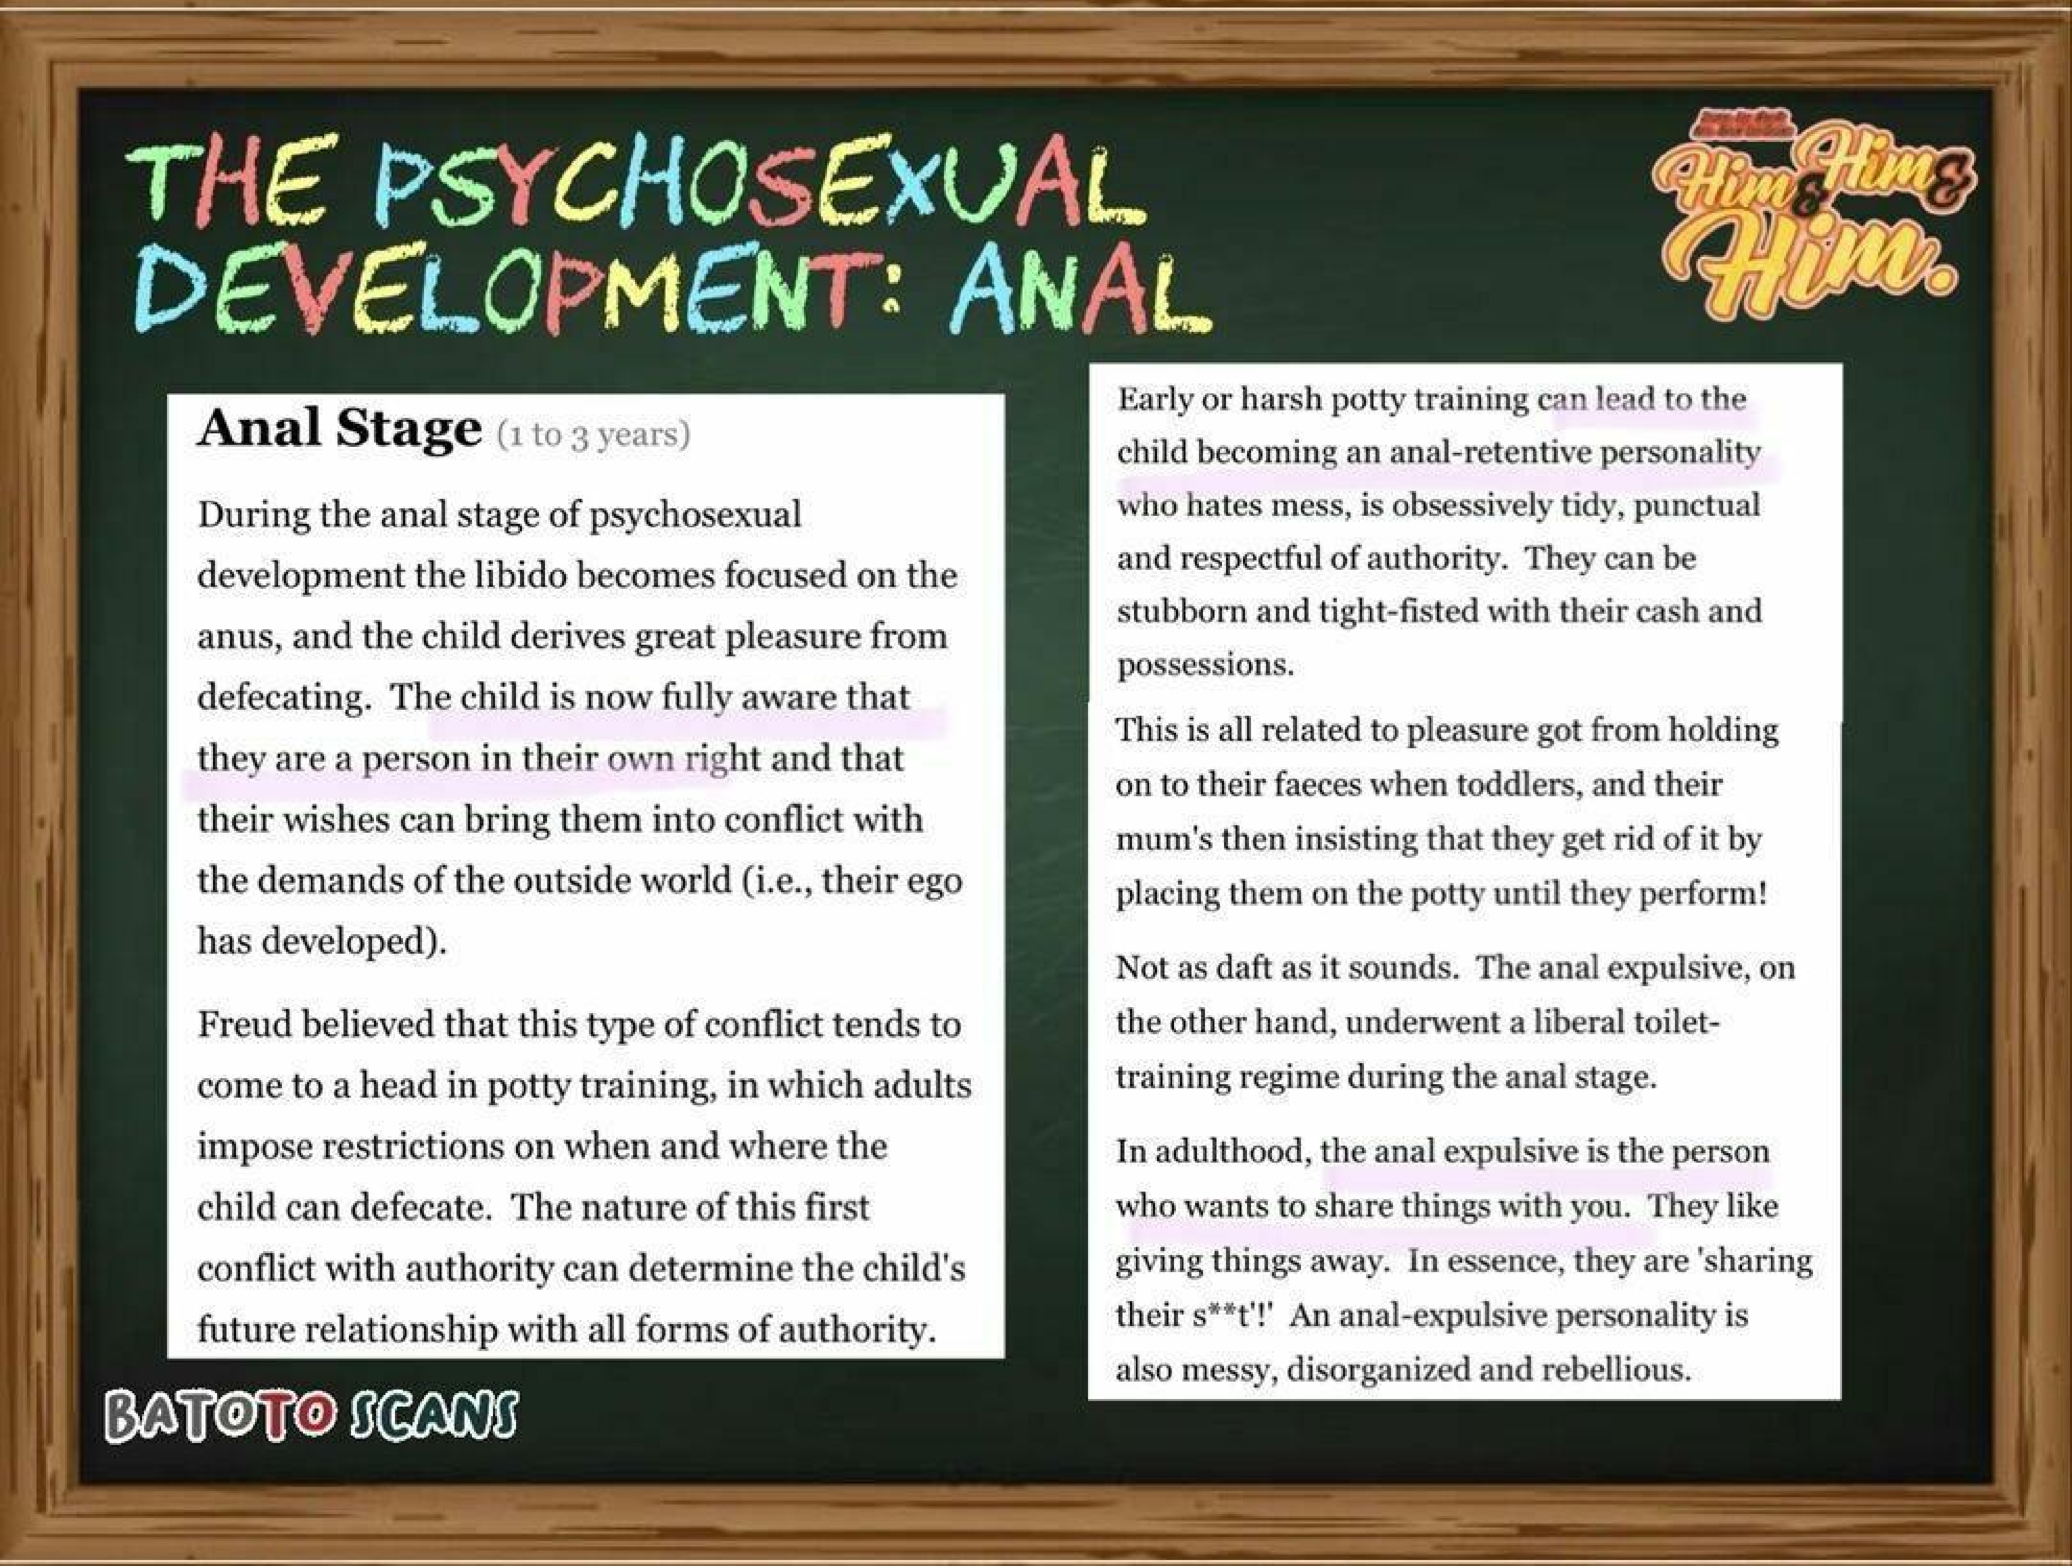

THE PSYCHE

Here is how Freud visualized the triplets:
Conscious
Preconscious
EGO
SUPEREGO
ID
Unconscious
BATOTO SCANS

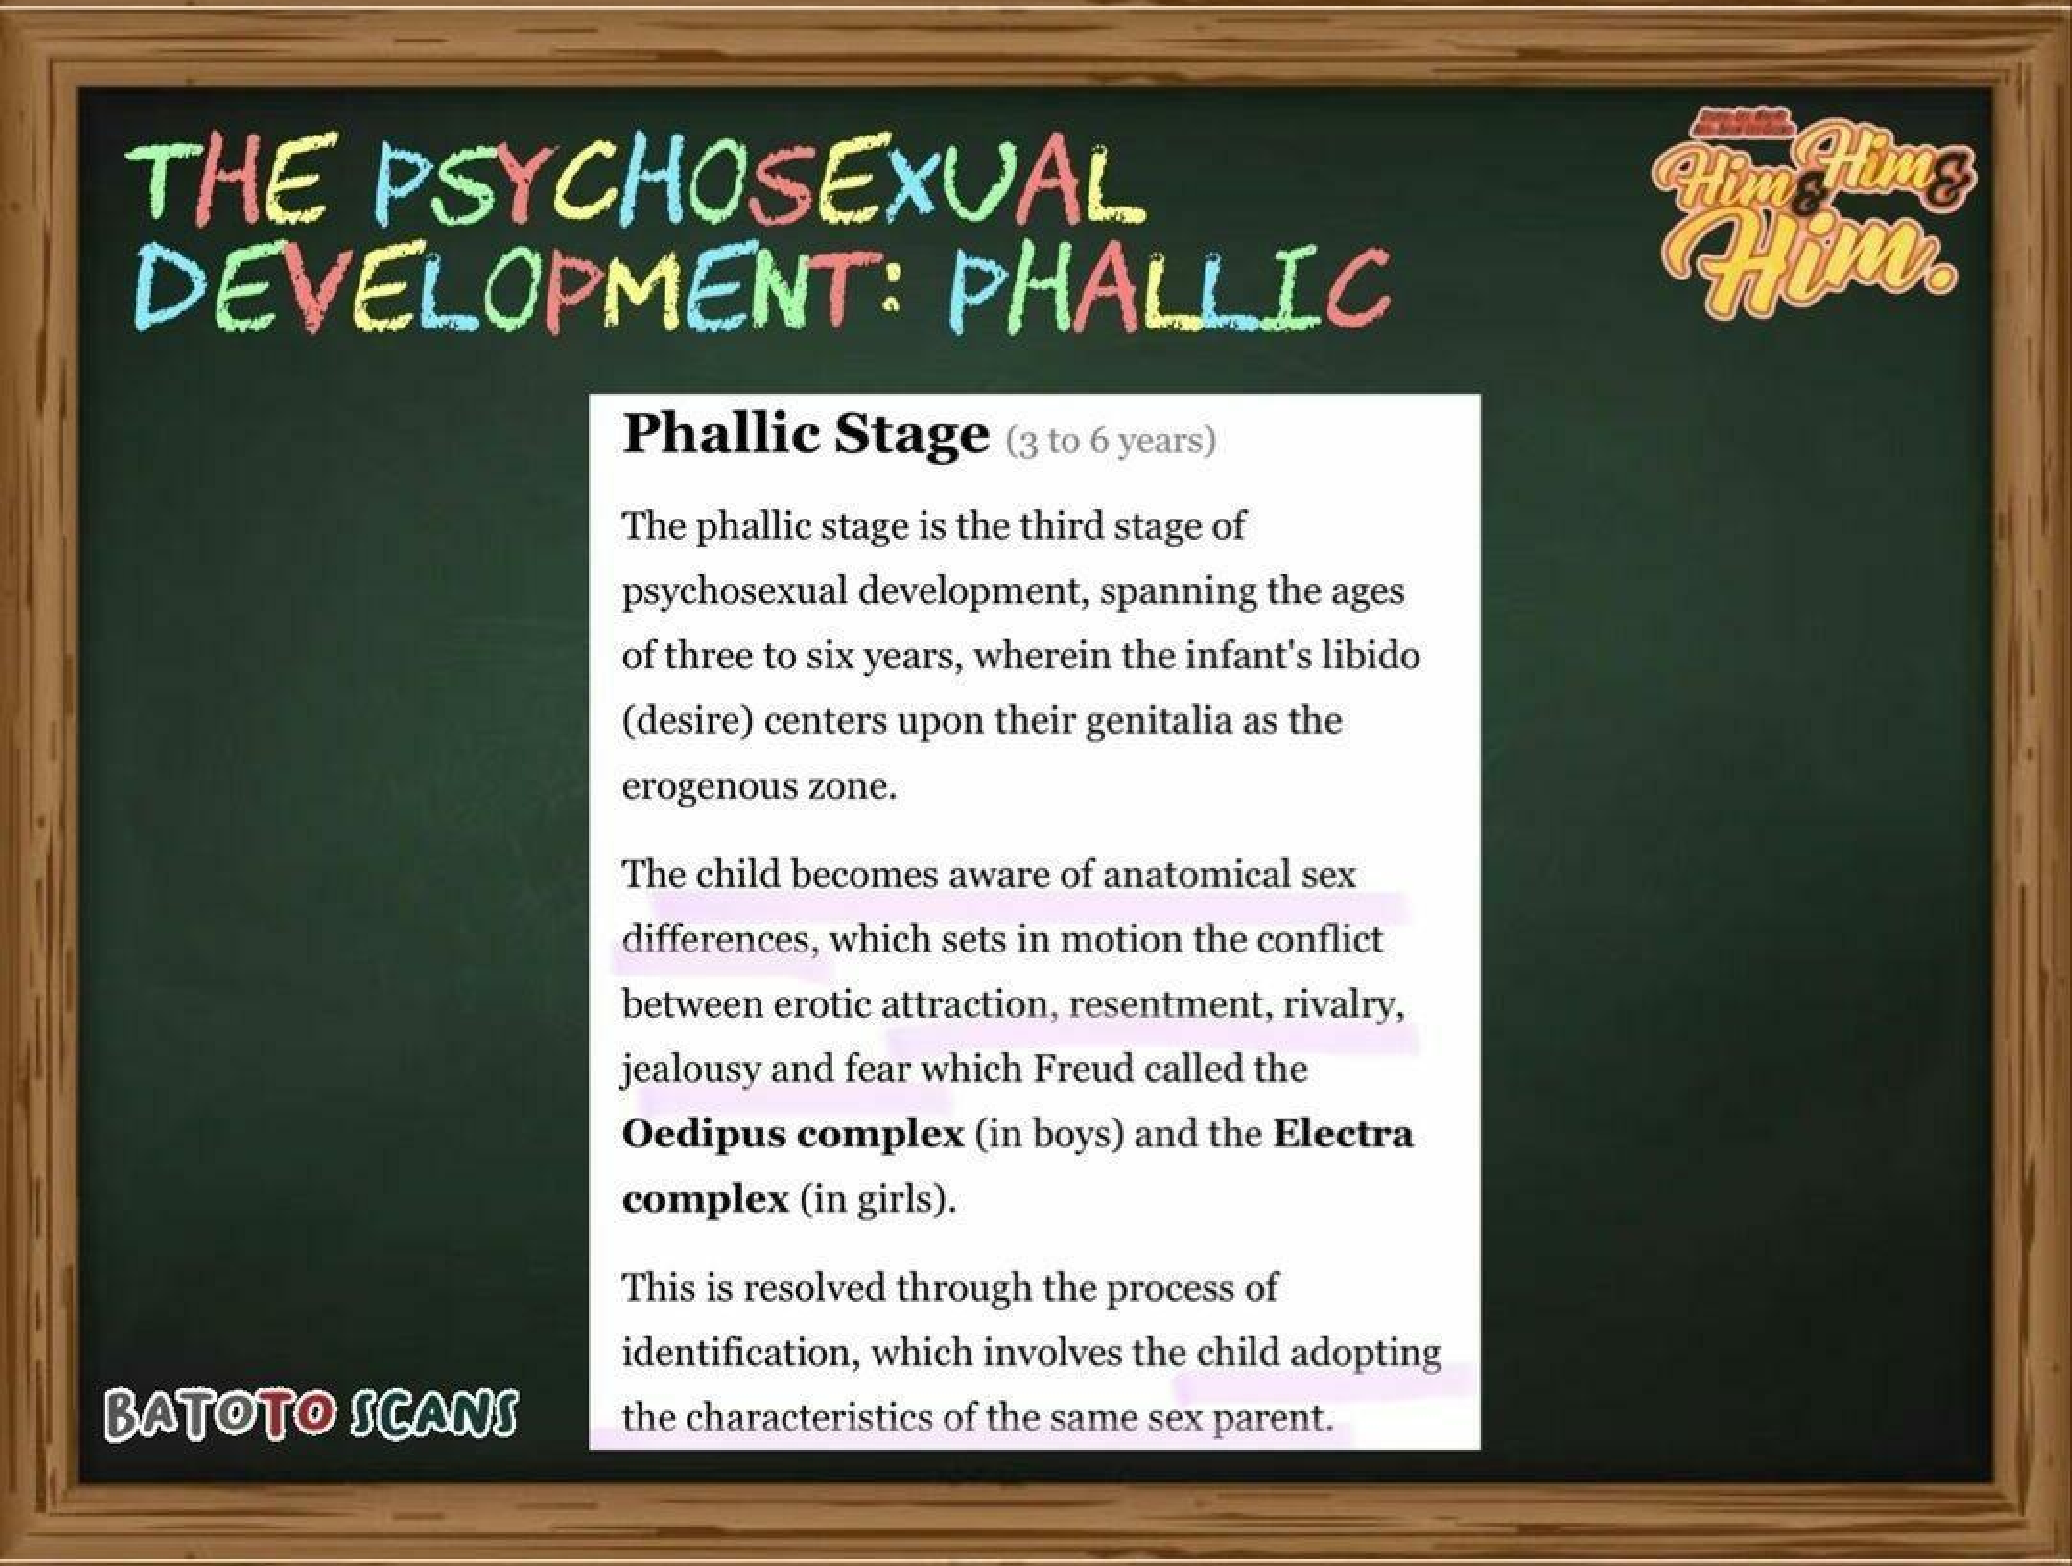

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL STAGES
Him & Him & Him.
Freud believed that children are born with libido. He then explained how they seeks pleasure from various "object" in 5 stages of childhood.
Psychosexual Stages
Oral
The mouth – sucking, swallowing etc.
EGO develops
Anal
The anus – withholding or expelling faeces
Phallic
The penis or clitoris - masturbation
SUPEREGO develops
Latent
Little or no sexual motivation present
Genital
The penis or vagina – sexual intercourse
BATOTO SCANS

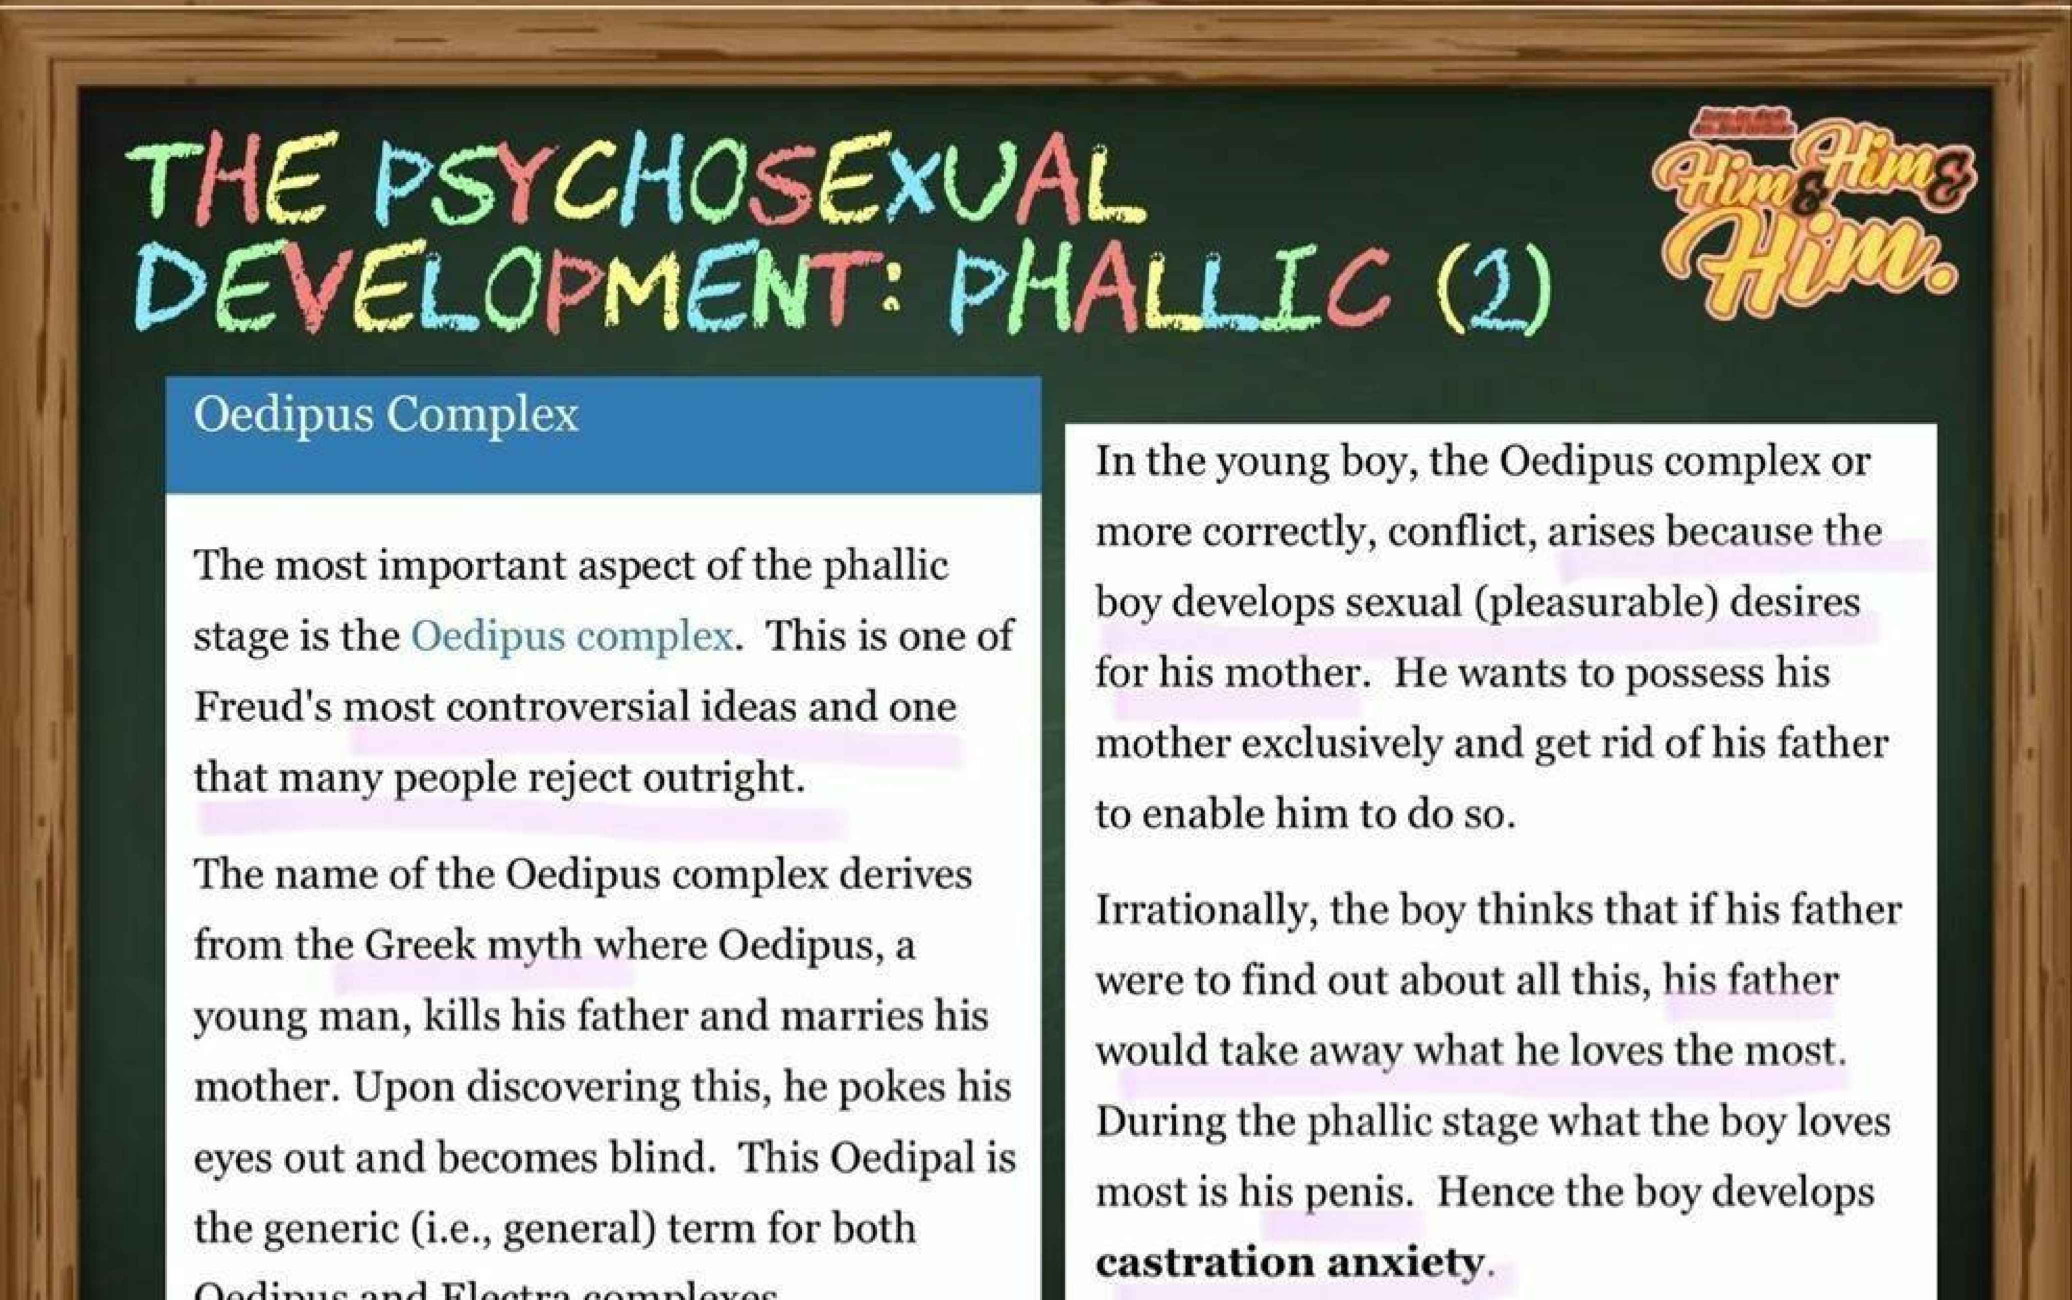

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL STAGES
Him & Him & Him.
An incompleted conflict in one of the stages might cause a mental abnormality when the children grows up and become 'fixated' in a particular stage.
Fixation
Oral
Forceful feeding Deprivation
Early weaning
Oral activities (e.g. smoking), dependency, aggression.
Anal
Toilet training:
Too harsh
Too lax
Obsessiveness, tidiness, mean-ness; untidiness, generosity
Phallic
Abnormal family set-up leading to unusual relationship with mother/father
Vanity, self-obsession, sexual anxiety , inadequacy, inferiority, envy
BATOTO SCANS

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL

DEVELOPMENT: ORAL
Oral Stage (Birth to 1 year)
In the first stage of psychosexual development, the libido is centered in a baby's mouth. During the oral stages, the baby gets much satisfaction from putting all sorts of things in its mouth to satisfy the libido, and thus its id demands. Which at this stage in life are oral, or mouth orientated, such as sucking, biting, and breastfeeding.
Freud said oral stimulation could lead to an oral fixation in later life. We see oral personalities all around us such as smokers, nail-biters, finger-chewers, and thumb suckers. Oral personalities engage in such oral behaviors, particularly when under stress.
BATOTO SCANS

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: ANAL
Anal Stage (1 to 3 years)
During the anal stage of psychosexual development the libido becomes focused on the anus, and the child derives great pleasure from defecating. The child is now fully aware that they are a person in their own right and that their wishes can bring them into conflict with the demands of the outside world (i.e., their ego has developed).
Freud believed that this type of conflict tends to come to a head in potty training, in which adults impose restrictions on when and where the child can defecate. The nature of this first conflict with authority can determine the child's future relationship with all forms of authority.
Early or harsh potty training can lead to the child becoming an anal-retentive personality who hates mess, is obsessively tidy, punctual and respectful of authority. They can be stubborn and tight-fisted with their cash and possessions.
This is all related to pleasure got from holding on to their faeces when toddlers, and their mum's then insisting that they get rid of it by placing them on the potty until they perform!
Not as daft as it sounds. The anal expulsive, on the other hand, underwent a liberal toilet-training regime during the anal stage.
In adulthood, the anal expulsive is the person who wants to share things with you. They like giving things away. In essence, they are 'sharing their st'!' An anal-expulsive personality is also messy, disorganized and rebellious.
BATOTO SCANS

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: PHALLIC
Phallic Stage (3 to 6 years)
The phallic stage is the third stage of psychosexual development, spanning the ages of three to six years, wherein the infant's libido (desire) centers upon their genitalia as the erogenous zone.
The child becomes aware of anatomical sex differences, which sets in motion the conflict between erotic attraction, resentment, rivalry, jealousy and fear which Freud called the Oedipus complex (in boys) and the Electra complex (in girls).
This is resolved through the process of identification, which involves the child adopting the characteristics of the same sex parent.
BATOTO SCANS

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: PHALLIC (2)
Oedipus Complex
The most important aspect of the phallic stage is the Oedipus complex. This is one of Freud's most controversial ideas and one that many people reject outright.
The name of the Oedipus complex derives from the Greek myth where Oedipus, a young man, kills his father and marries his mother. Upon discovering this, he pokes his eyes out and becomes blind. This Oedipal is the generic (i.e., general) term for both
In the young boy, the Oedipus complex or more correctly, conflict, arises because the boy develops sexual (pleasurable) desires for his mother. He wants to possess his mother exclusively and get rid of his father to enable him to do so.
Irrationally, the boy thinks that if his father were to find out about all this, his father would take away what he loves the most. During the phallic stage what the boy loves most is his penis. Hence the boy develops castration anxiety.

Oedipus and Electra complexes.

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: PHALLIC (3)

The little boy then sets out to resolve this problem by imitating, copying and joining in masculine dad-type behaviors. This is called identification, and is how the three-to-five year old boy resolves his Oedipus complex.

Identification means internally adopting the values, attitudes, and behaviors of another person. The consequence of this is that the boy takes on the male gender role, and adopts an ego ideal and values that become the superego.

Electra Complex

For girls, the Oedipus or Electra complex is less than satisfactory. Briefly, the girl desires the father, but realizes that she does not have a penis. This leads to the development of penis envy and the wish to be a boy.

The girl resolves this by repressing her desire for her father and substituting the wish for a penis with the wish for a baby. The girl blames her mother for her 'castrated state,' and this creates great tension.

The girl then represses her feelings (to remove the tension) and identifies with the mother to take on the female gender role.

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: LATENCY

Latency Stage (6 years to puberty)

The latency stage is the forth stage of psychosexual development, spanning the period of six years to puberty. During this stage the libido is dormant and no further psychosexual development takes place (latent means hidden).

Freud thought that most sexual impulses are repressed during the latent stage, and sexual energy can be sublimated towards school work, hobbies, and friendships.

Much of the child's energy is channeled into developing new skills and acquiring new knowledge, and play becomes largely confined to other children of the same gender.

THE PSYCHOSEXUAL DEVELOPMENT: GENITAL

Genital Stage (puberty to adult)

The genital stage is the last stage of Freud's psychosexual theory of personality development, and begins in puberty. It is a time of adolescent sexual experimentation, the successful resolution of which is settling down in a loving one-to-one relationship with another person in our 20's.

Sexual instinct is directed to heterosexual pleasure, rather than self-pleasure like during the phallic stage.

For Freud, the proper outlet of the sexual instinct in adults was through heterosexual intercourse. Fixation and conflict may prevent this with the consequence that sexual perversions may develop.

For example, fixation at the oral stage may result in a person gaining sexual pleasure primarily from kissing and oral sex, rather than sexual intercourse.

WHAT IS MORNING WOOD?

"Morning wood" is a slang term that refers to a person having an erect penis when they wake up in the morning. The medical term is nocturnal penile tumescence. Some call it having a nocturnal erection.

Many people assume a morning erection is a sign of sexual stimulation, however this isn't always the case. Morning wood is likely the response your body has to one of several natural occurrences.

WHAT CAUSES MORNING WOOD? (1)

The cause of NPT is likely multifactorial. Doctors have a few theories that help explain why men wake up with an erect penis from time to time, but none of these theories are supported by concrete, medical evidence. These theories include:

Physical stimulation

Though your eyes are shut, your body is still very much aware of what's happening around you. If you or your partner accidentally touch or graze your genitals, you may become erect. Your body senses the stimulation and responds with an erection.

Hormone shifts

Your testosterone level is at its highest in the morning after you wake up. It is highest immediately after waking up from rapid eye movement (REM) sleep stage. The increase in this hormone alone may be enough to cause an erection, even in the absence of any physical stimulation. As men get older, usually between ages 40 and 50, natural testosterone levels begin to fall. As this level decreases, episodes of NPT may decrease as well.

WHAT CAUSES MORNING WOOD? (2)

The cause of NPT is likely multifactorial. Doctors have a few theories that help explain why men wake up with an erect penis from time to time, but none of these theories are supported by concrete, medical evidence. These theories include:

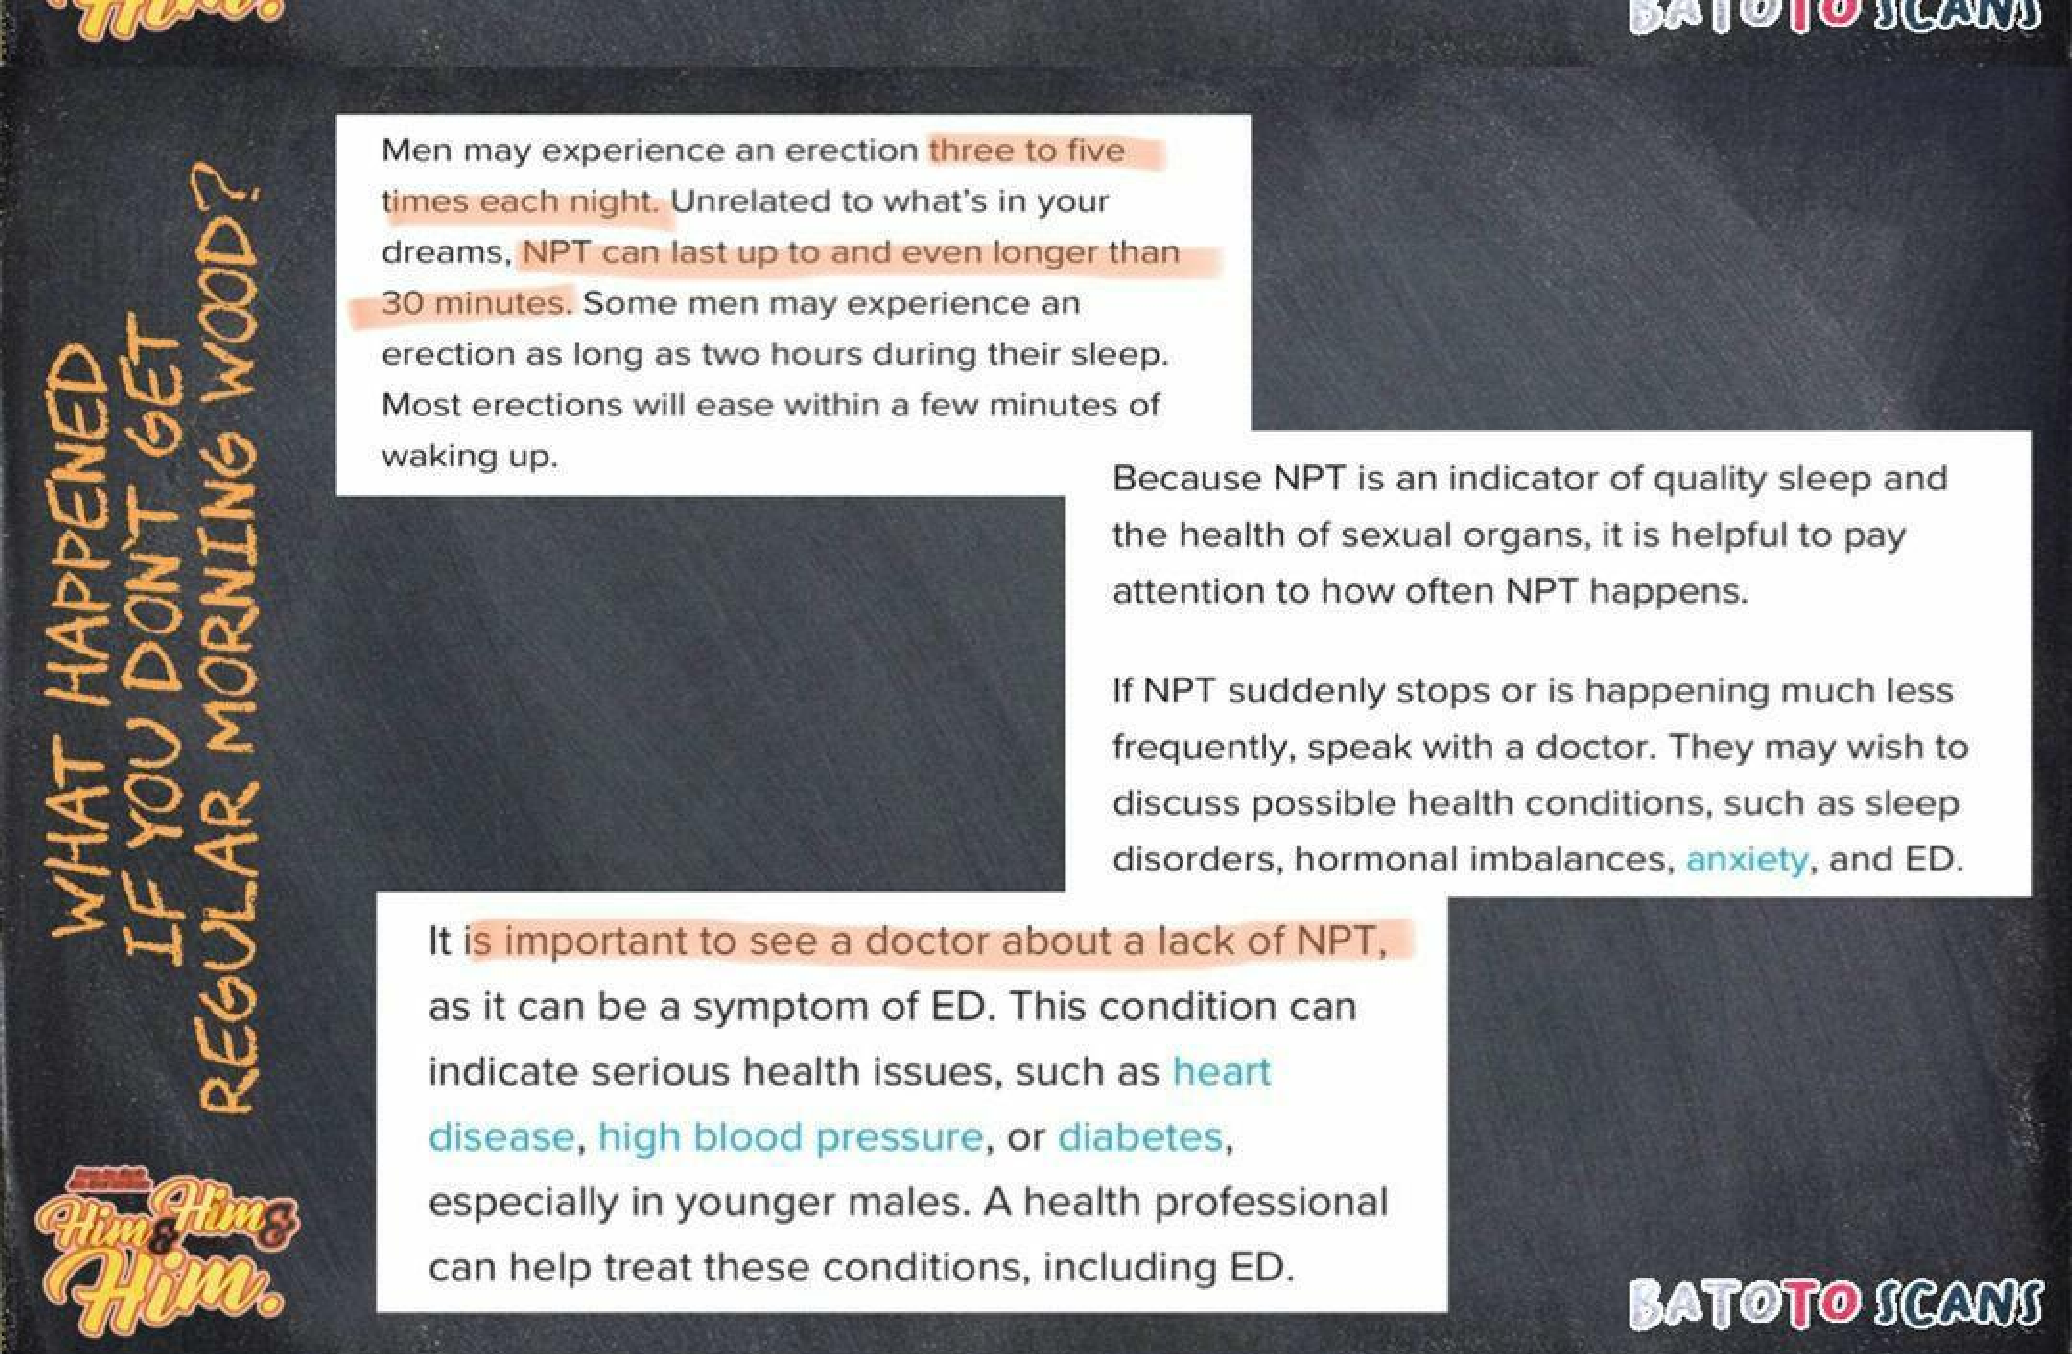

Brain relaxation

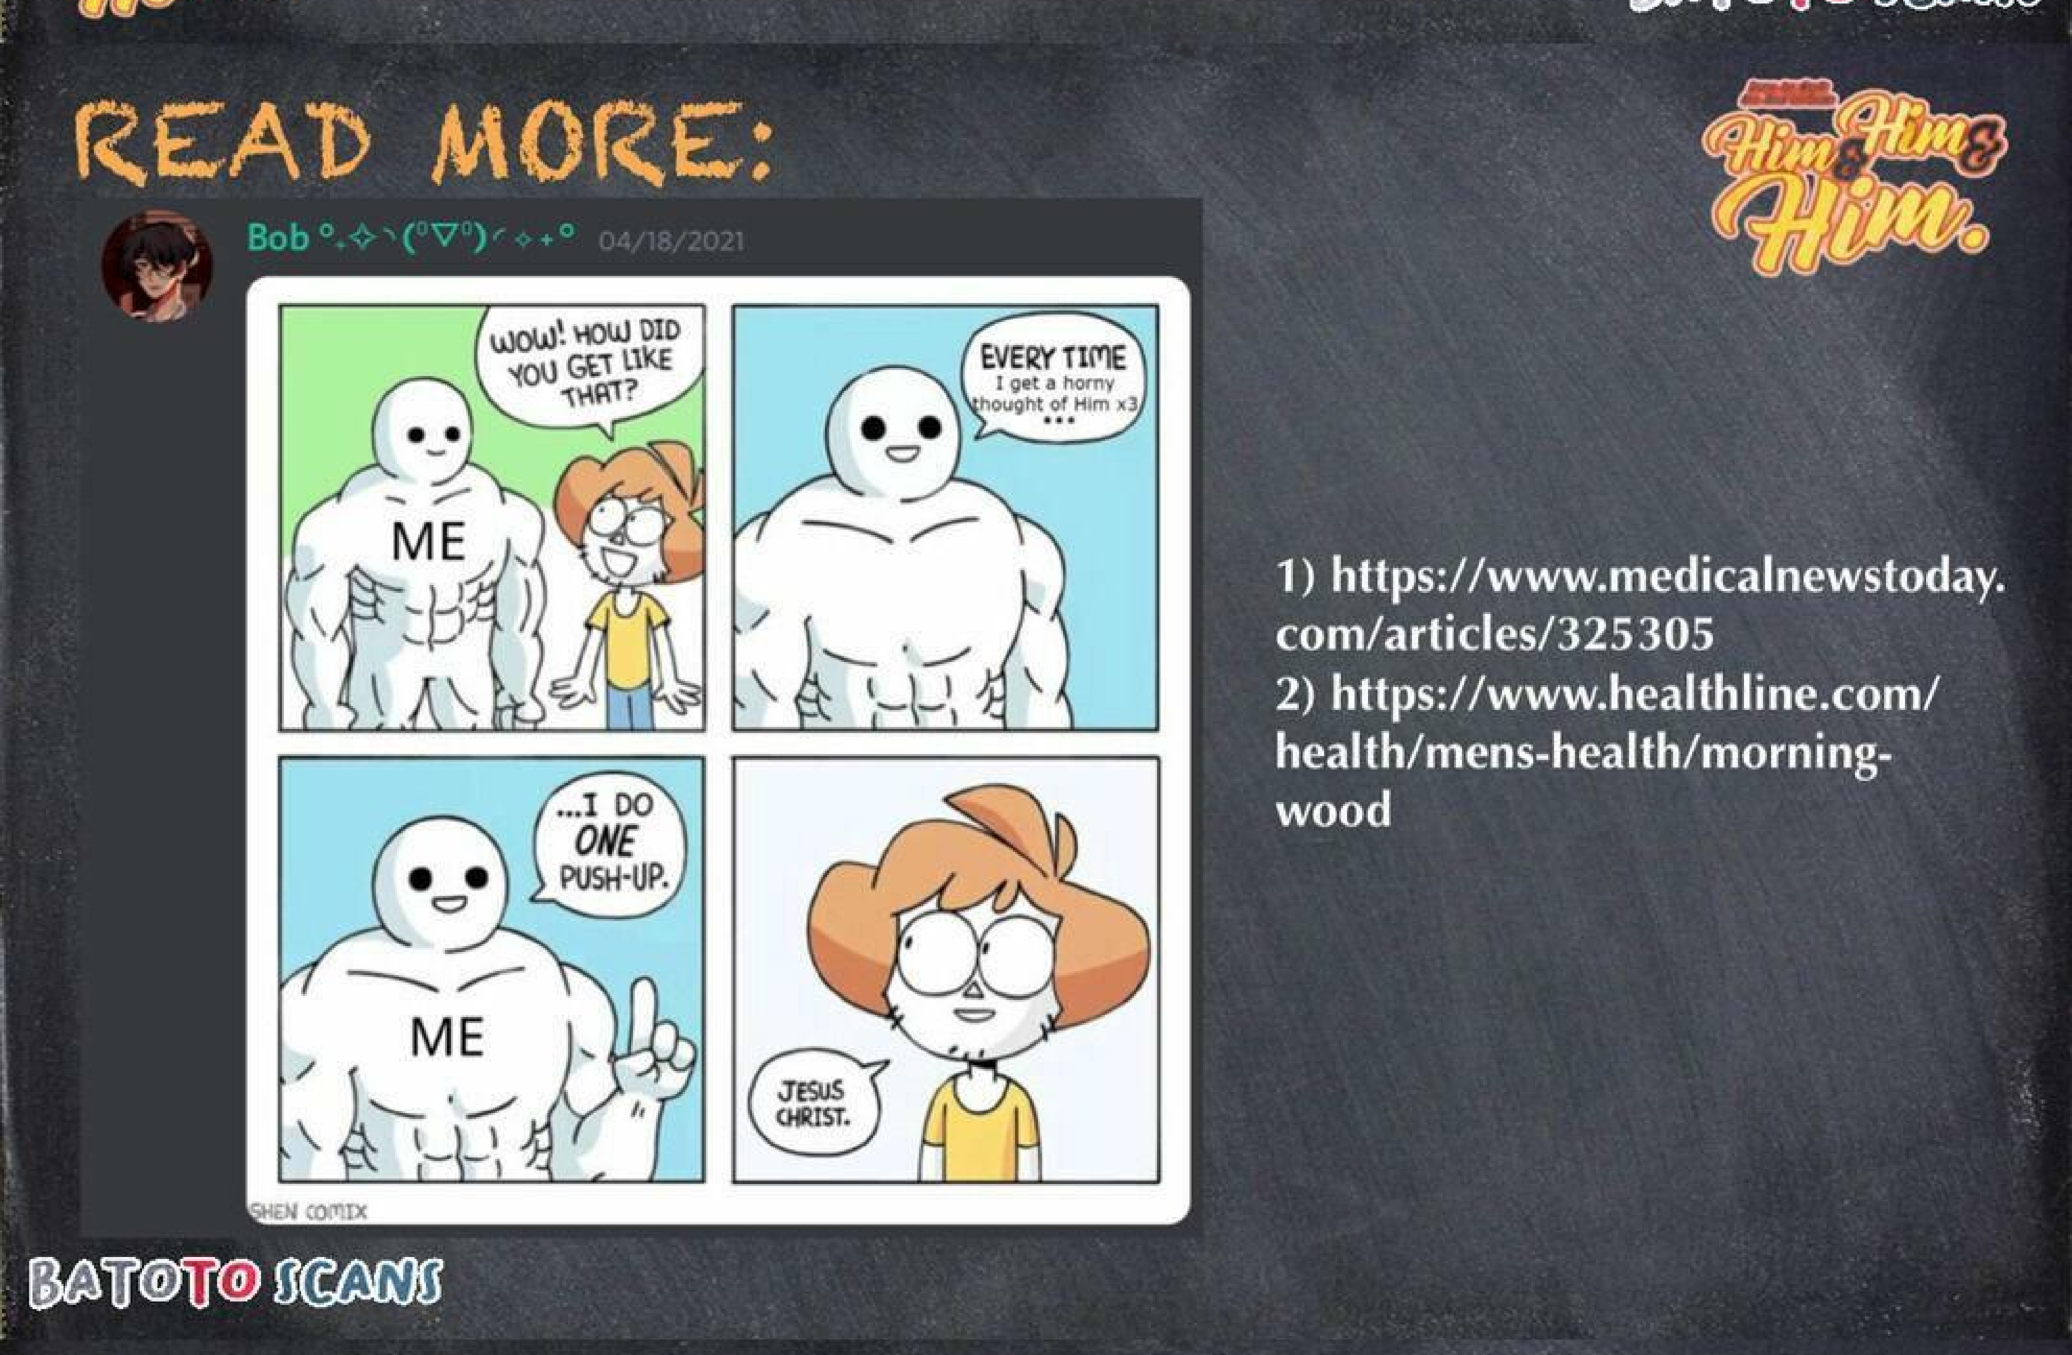

During your waking hours, your body releases hormones to suppress erections. When you're asleep, your body releases less of those hormones. Combine this fact with the other reasons you may experience an erection in your sleep, and NPT becomes more likely.

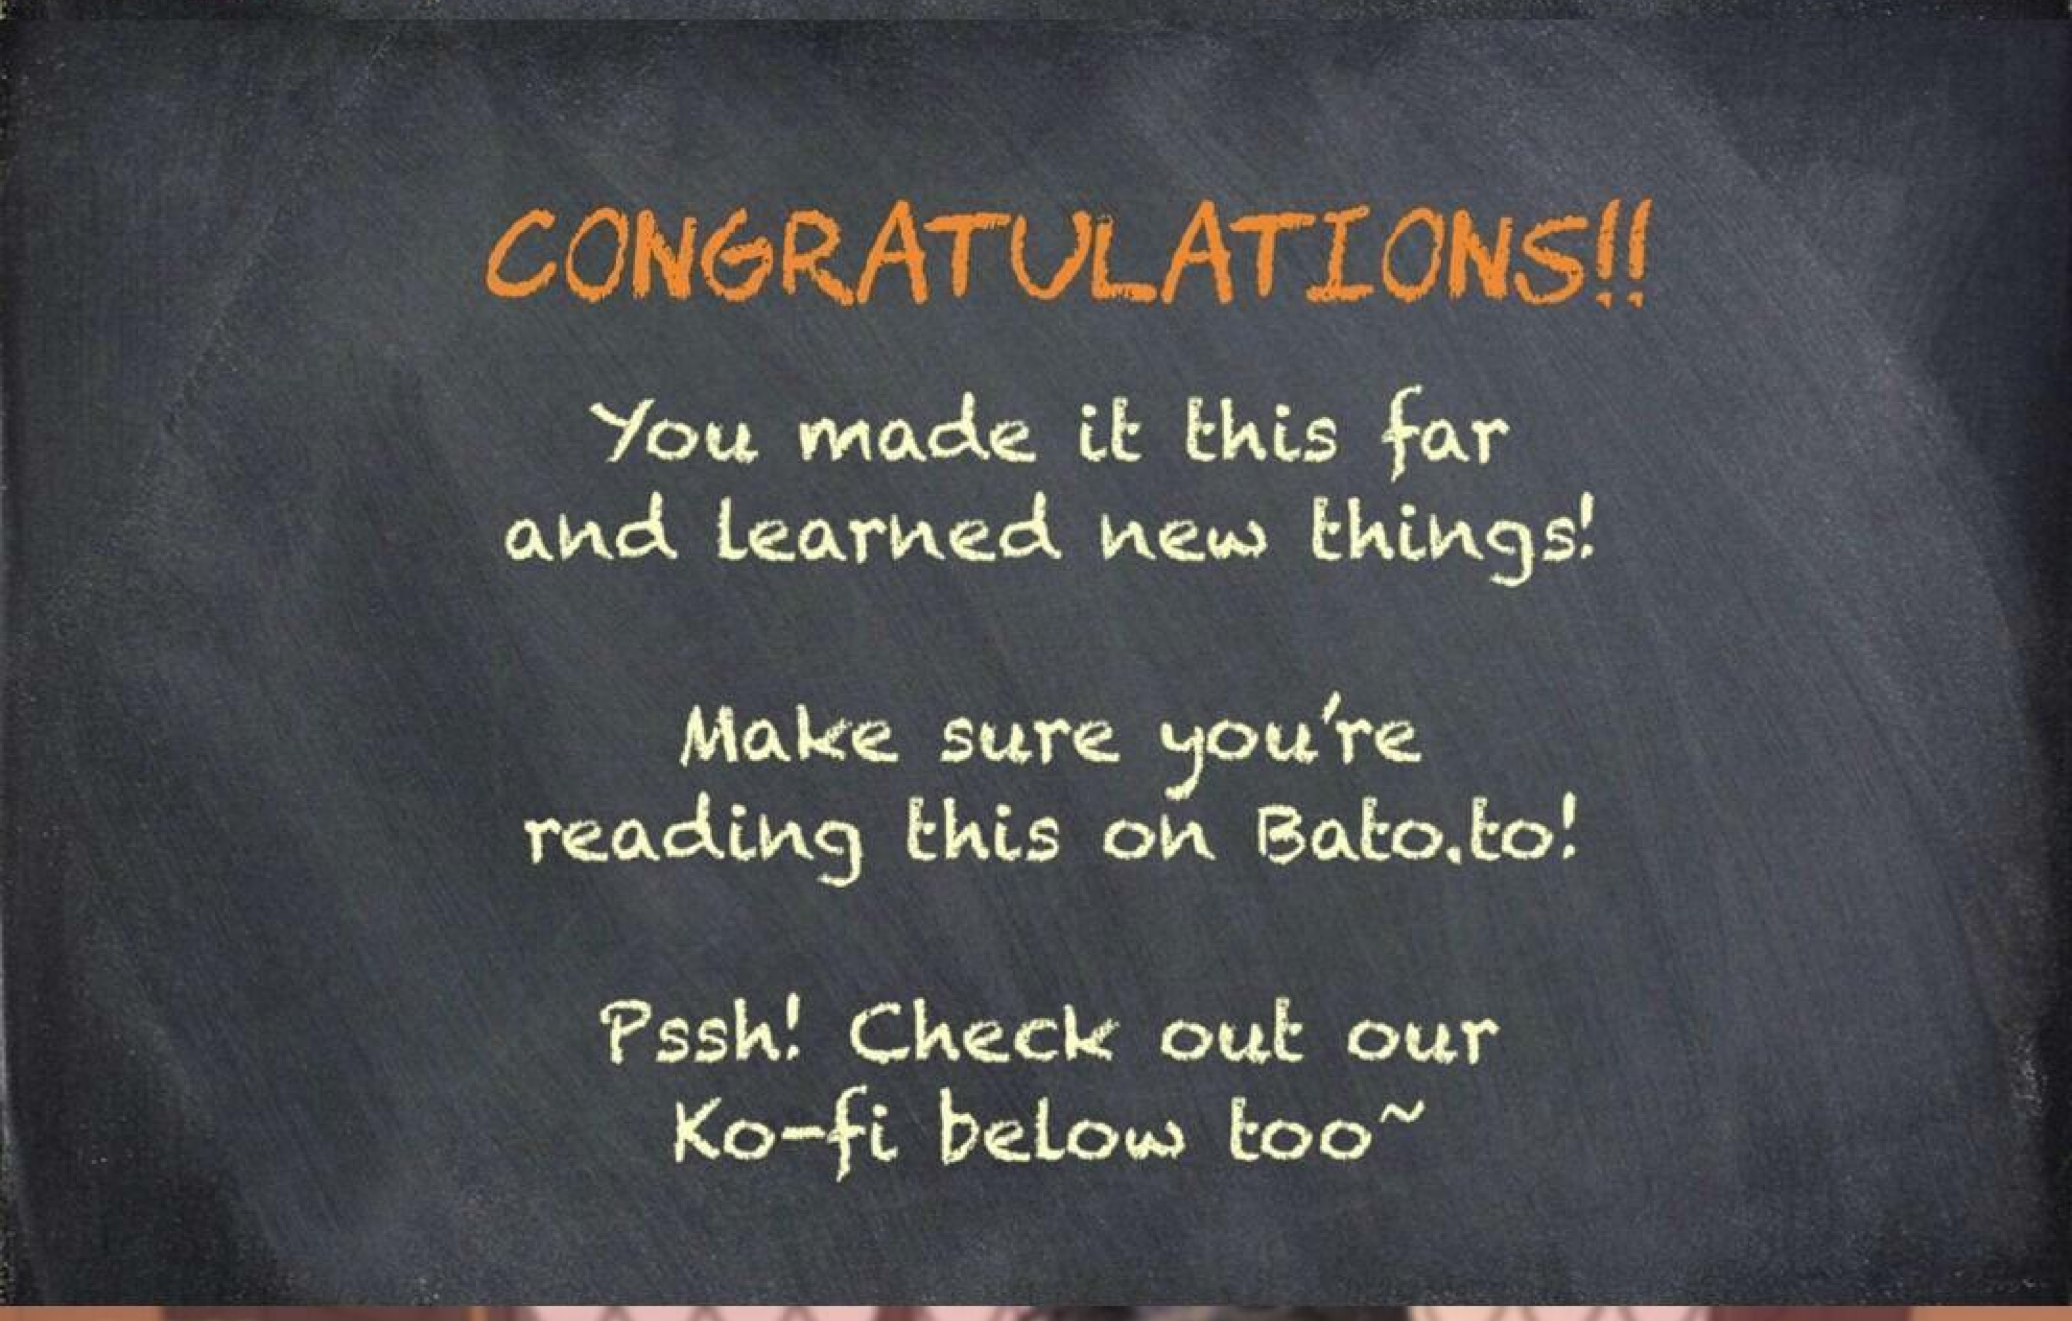

WHY MORNING WOOD?

In fact, regular episodes of NPT are a sign that the nerves and blood supply to the penis are healthy.

If a male does not have NPT regularly, it can indicate a health issue, such as erectile dysfunction (ED), which involves having trouble getting or keeping an erection. Not having regular NPT can also suggest other problems with the nerves or the blood supply to the male reproductive organs.

WHAT HAPPENED IF YOU DON'T GET REGULAR MORNING WOOD?
Men may experience an erection three to five times each night. Unrelated to what's in your dreams, NPT can last up to and even longer than 30 minutes. Some men may experience an erection as long as two hours during their sleep. Most erections will ease within a few minutes of waking up.
Because NPT is an indicator of quality sleep and the health of sexual organs, it is helpful to pay attention to how often NPT happens.
If NPT suddenly stops or is happening much less frequently, speak with a doctor. They may wish to discuss possible health conditions, such as sleep disorders, hormonal imbalances, anxiety, and ED.
It is important to see a doctor about a lack of NPT, as it can be a symptom of ED. This condition can indicate serious health issues, such as heart disease, high blood pressure, or diabetes, especially in younger males. A health professional can help treat these conditions, including ED.

DON'T WANT THAT...

Him & Him & Him.

YOU DON'T WANT TO BREAK THINGS OFF?

THEN LET'S NOT BREAK IT OFF.
WHAT?

SIGH
NO MATTER HOW MUCH I LIKE OUR CURRENT RELATIONSHIP, I REFUSE TO HAVE AN AFFAIR.
I HAVE BOUNDARIES TOO, AND THEY SHOULD BE RESPECTED.

DO YOU LIKE US?

.......!
YOU'VE NEVER MENTIONED HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT US.

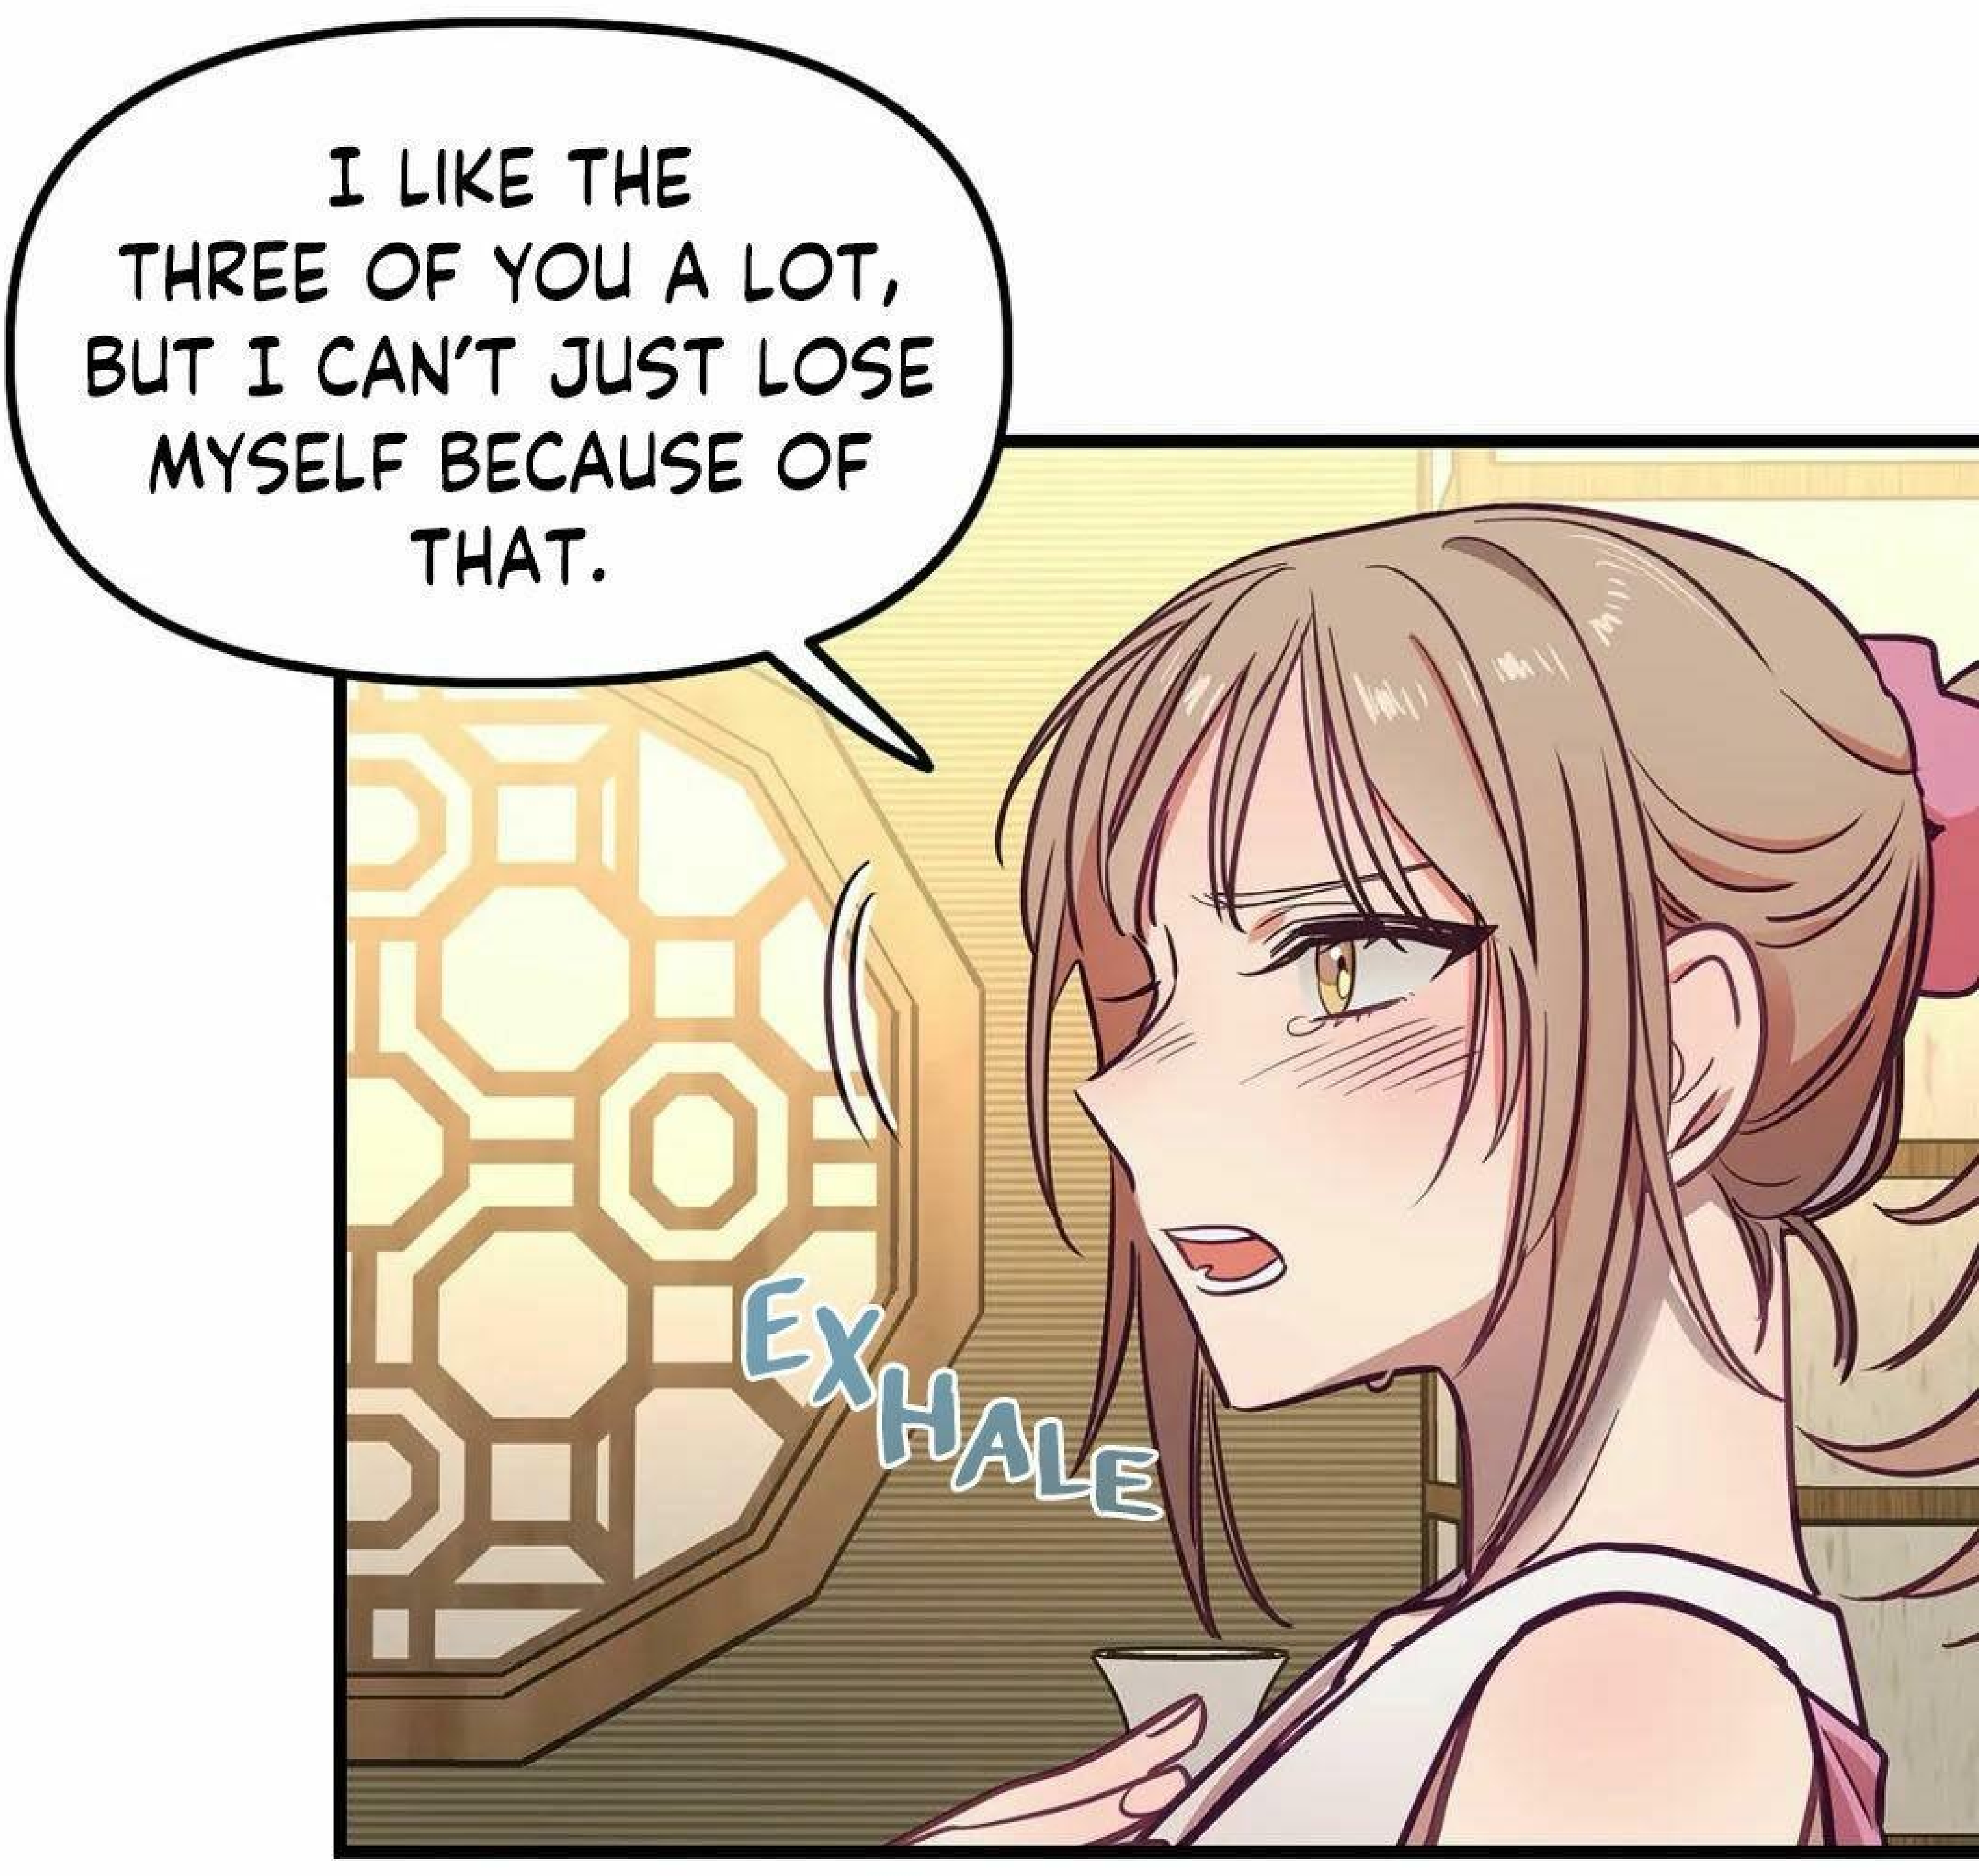

TL/N (yu): She's wondering what label to put on her relationship with the 3 men

DOHA, HANKYEOM...
AND HANKYEOL,
YOU TOO.

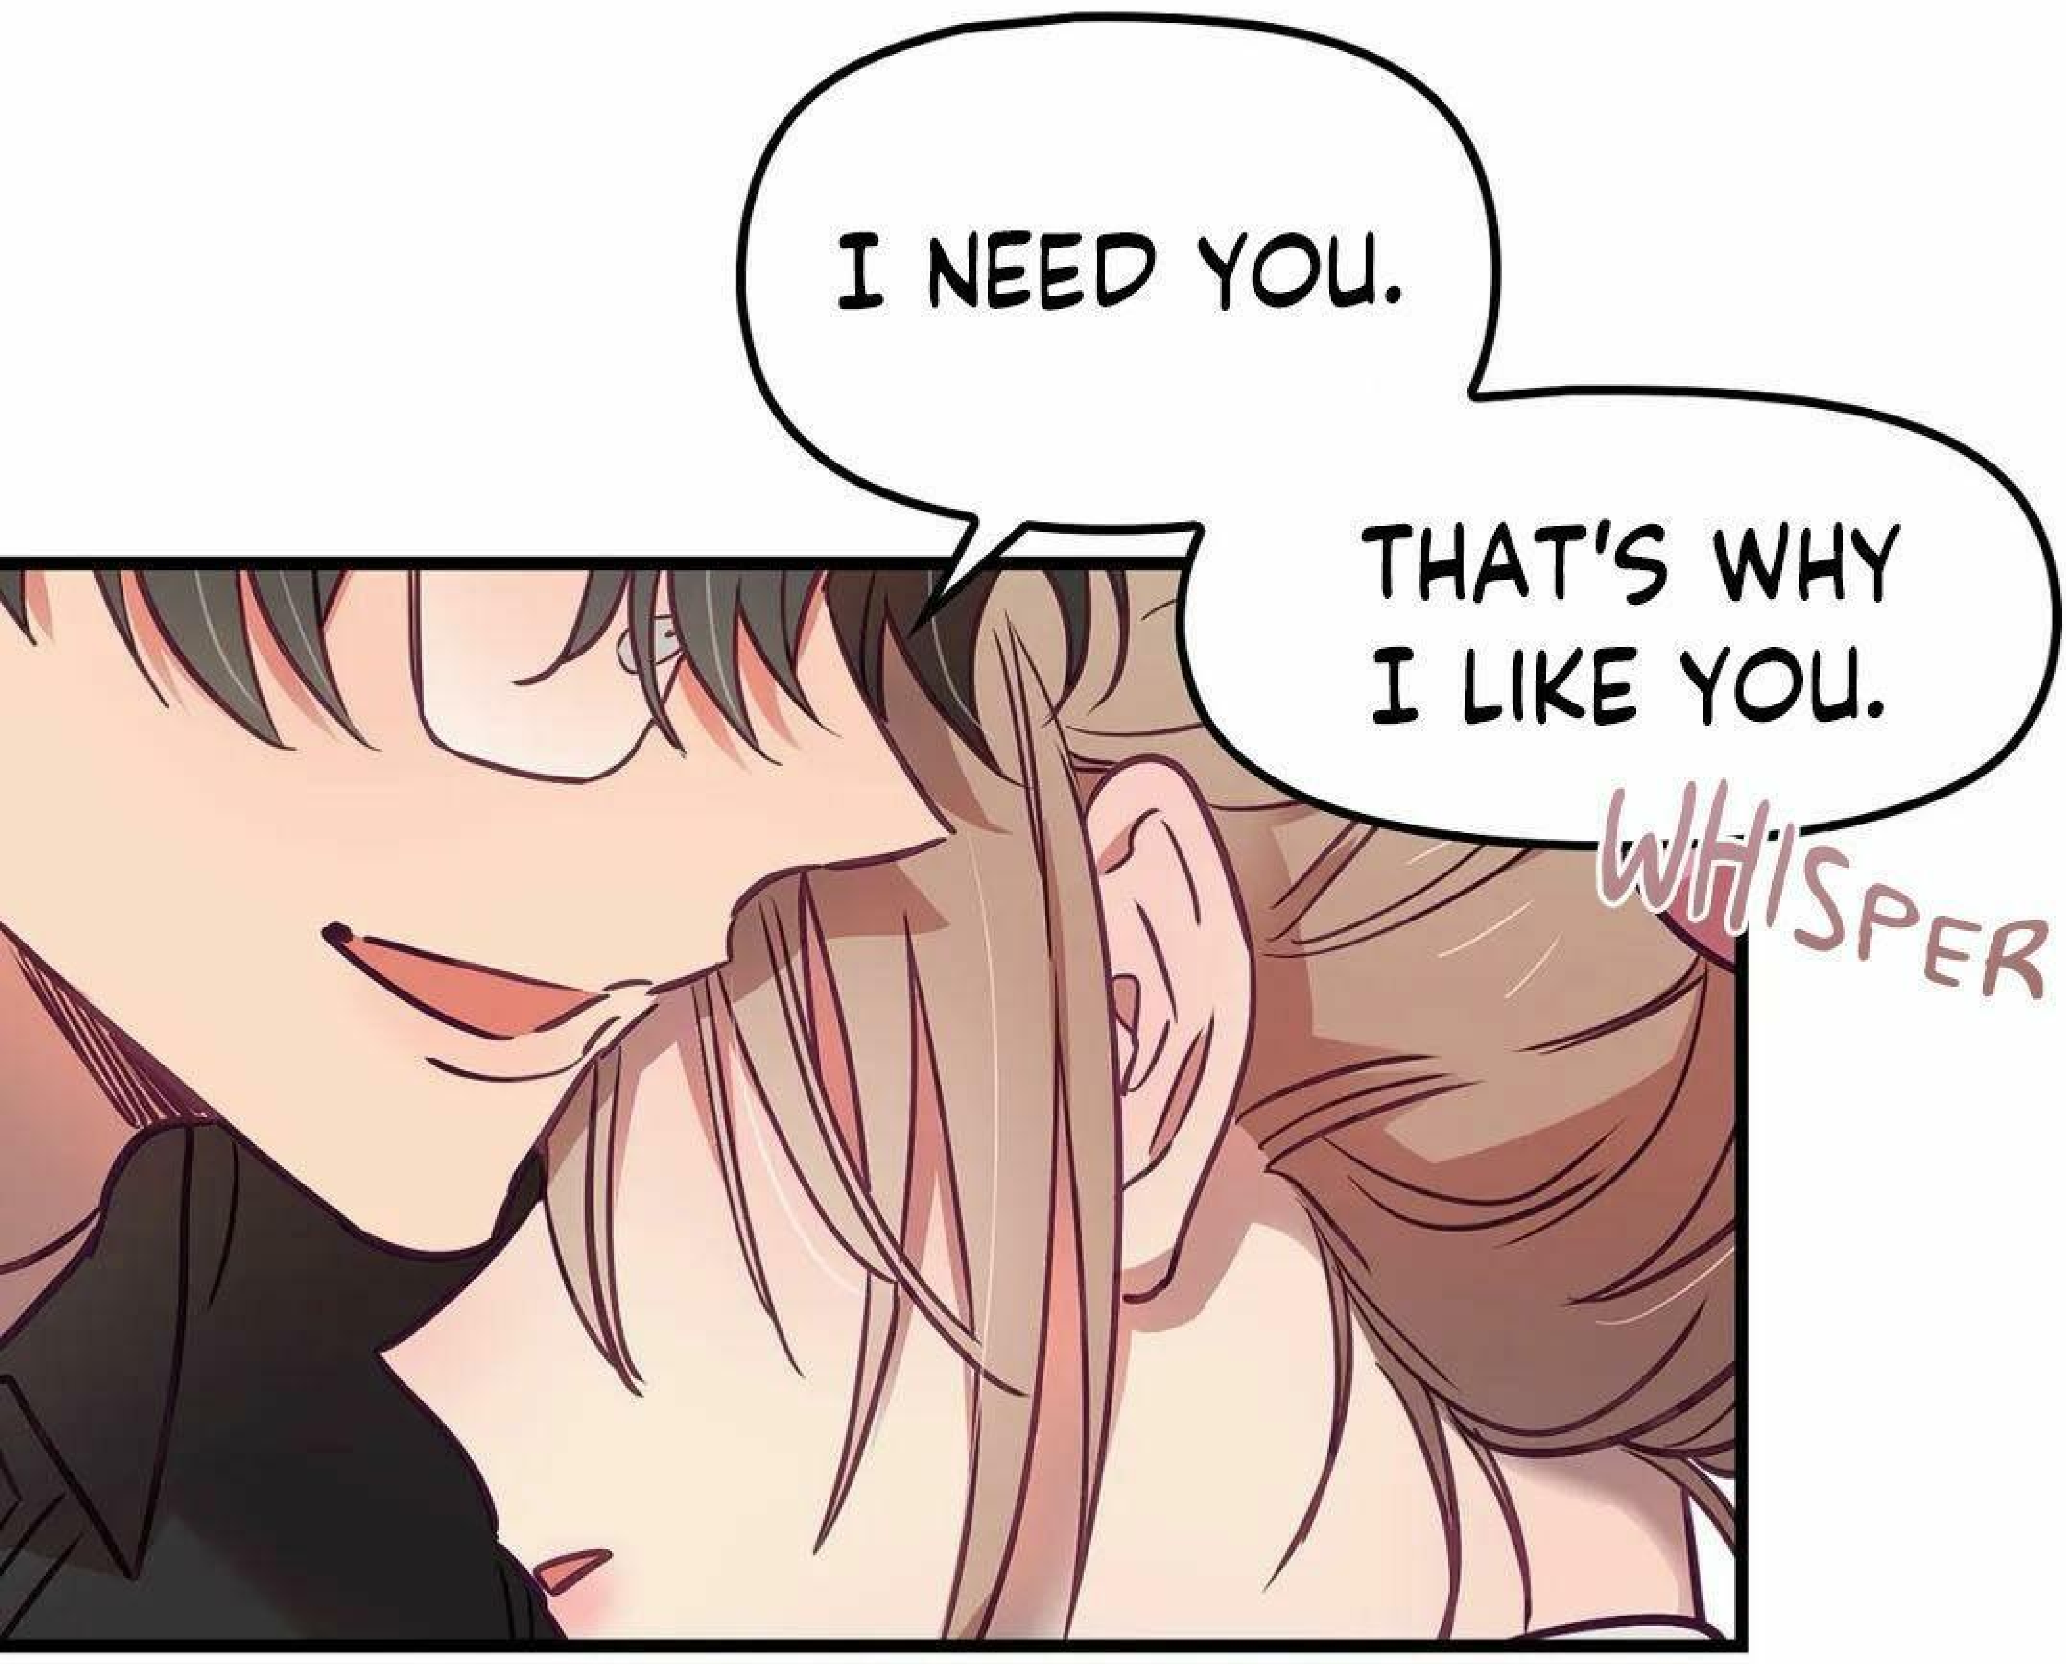

I'M GOING TO BE JEALOUS OF THOSE TWO,
SINCE I WAS THE ONE WHO CONFESSED TO YOU FIRST.
NOW THAT

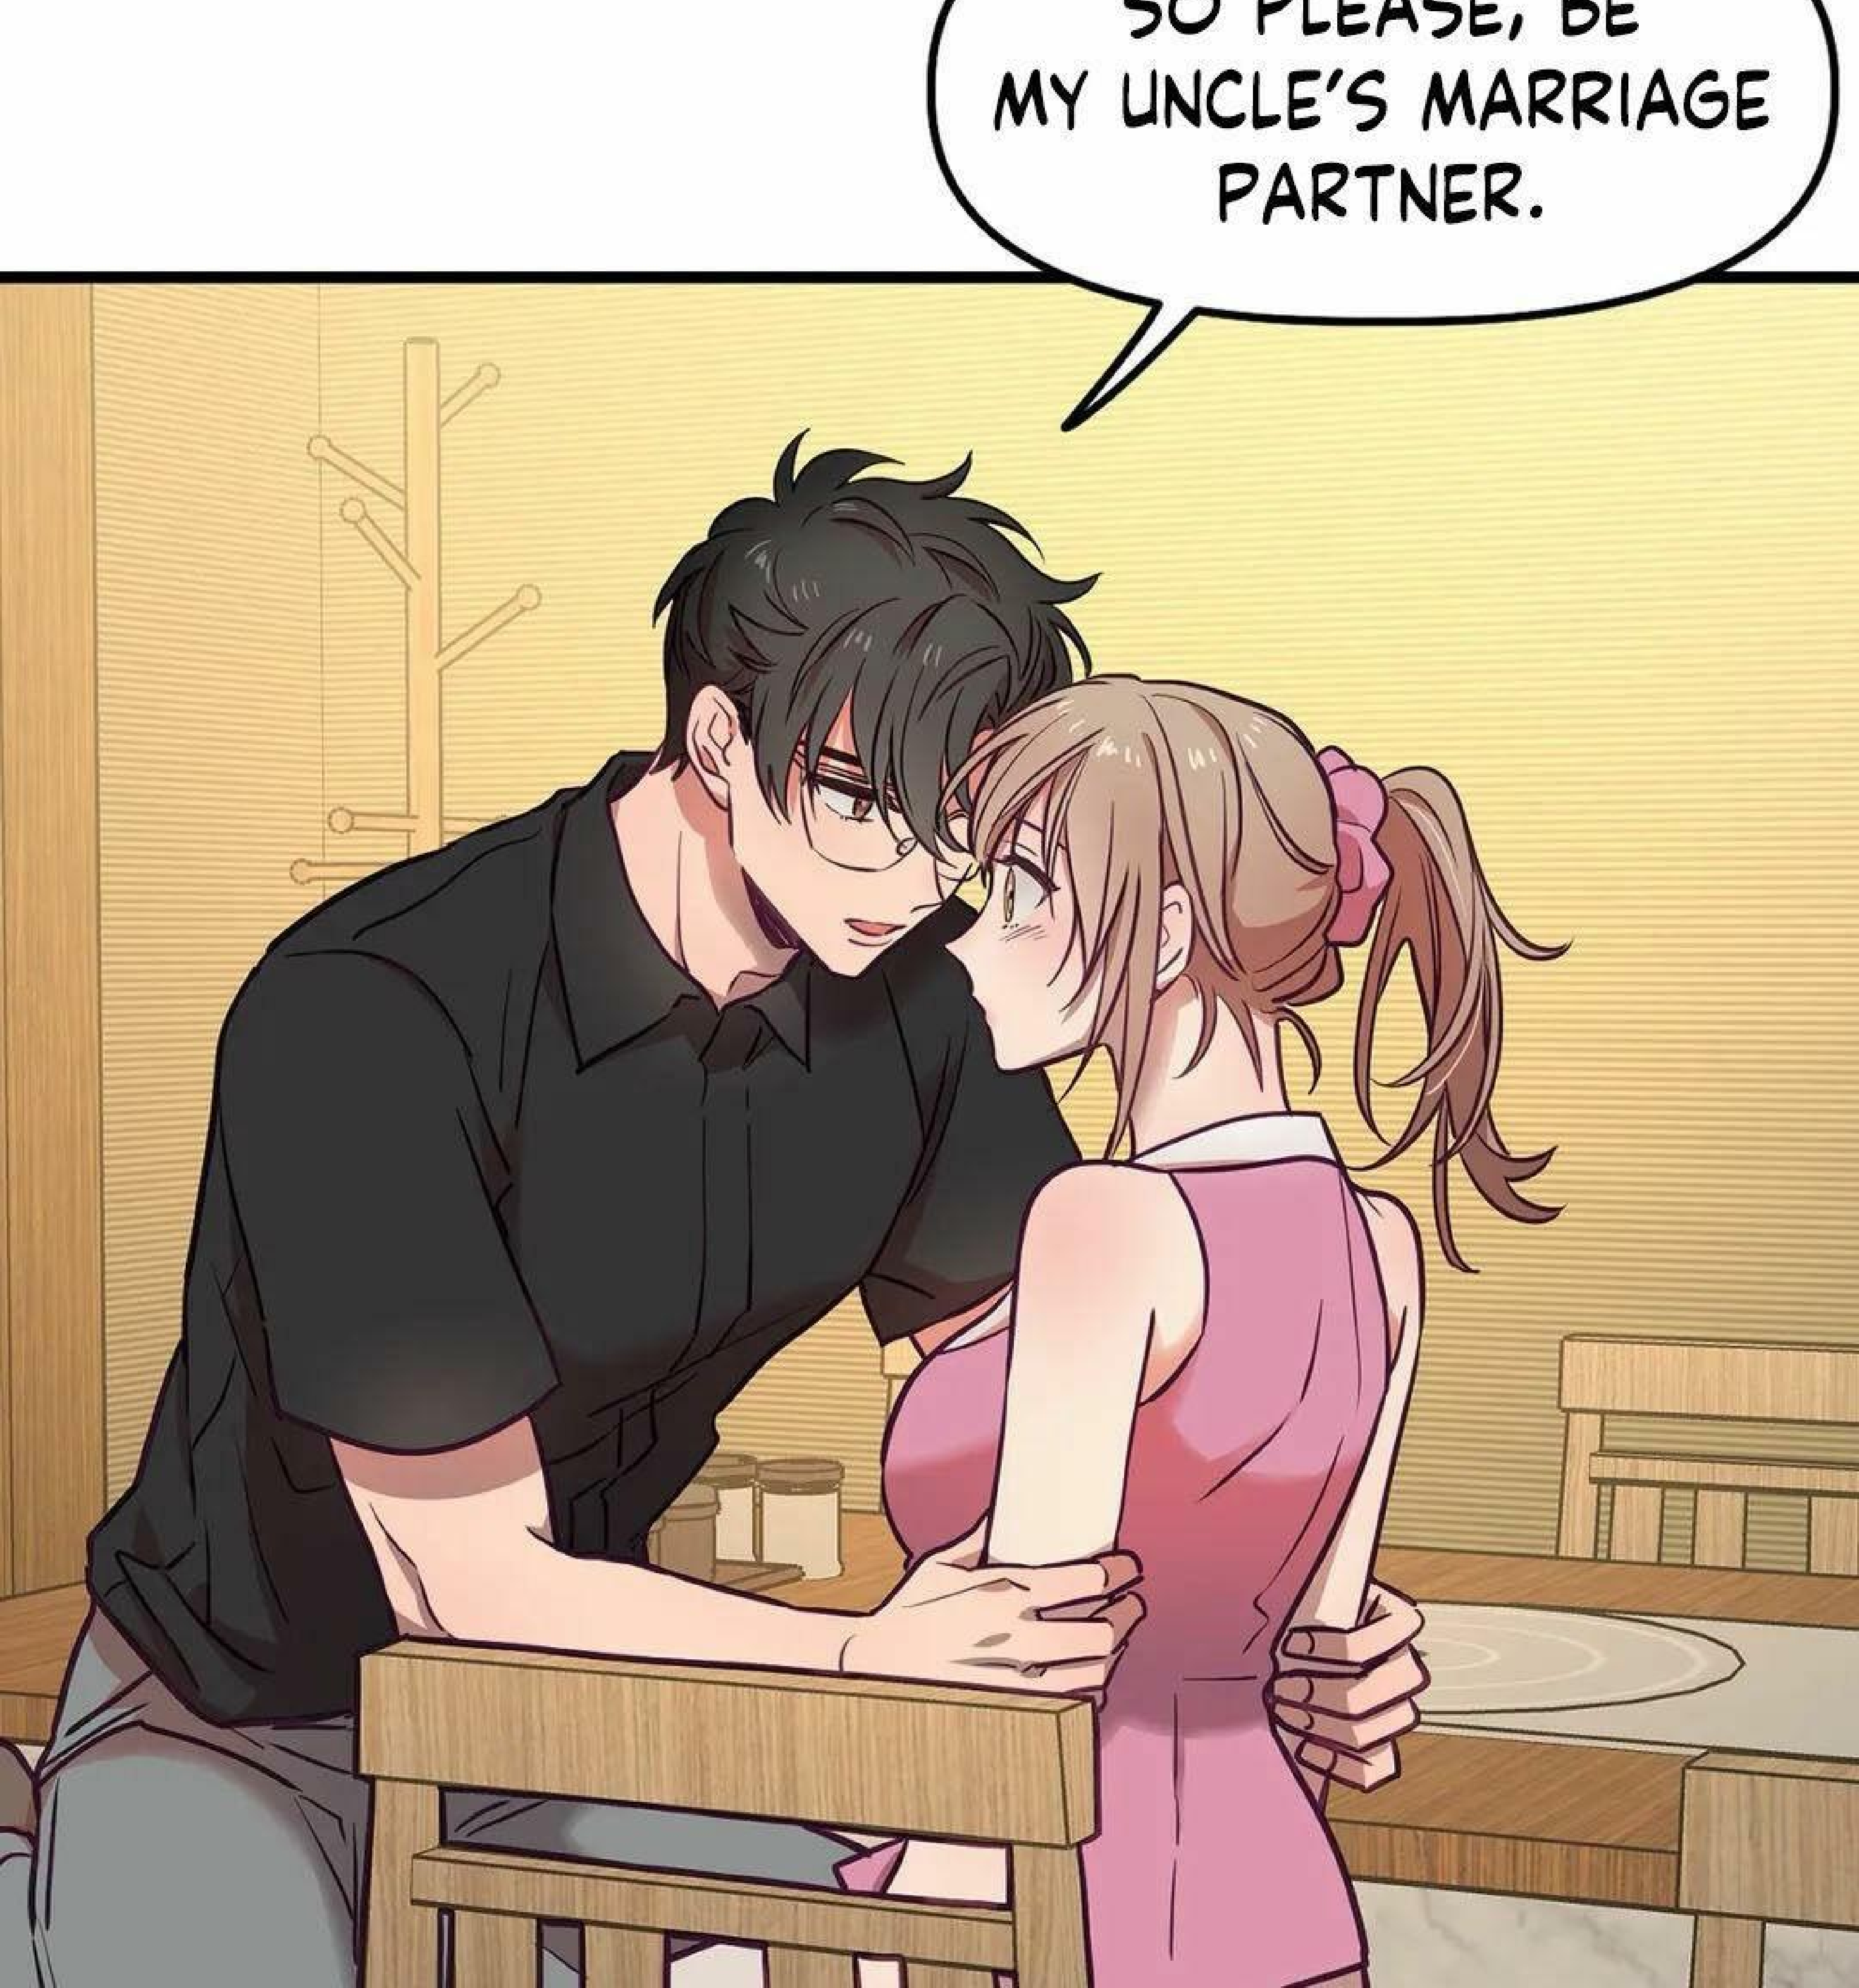

IT'S THE END, IT DOESN'T MATTER ANYMORE.

I LIKE THE THREE OF YOU A LOT, BUT I CAN'T JUST LOSE MYSELF BECAUSE OF THAT.
EXHALE

THIS IS WHY I LIKE YOU.

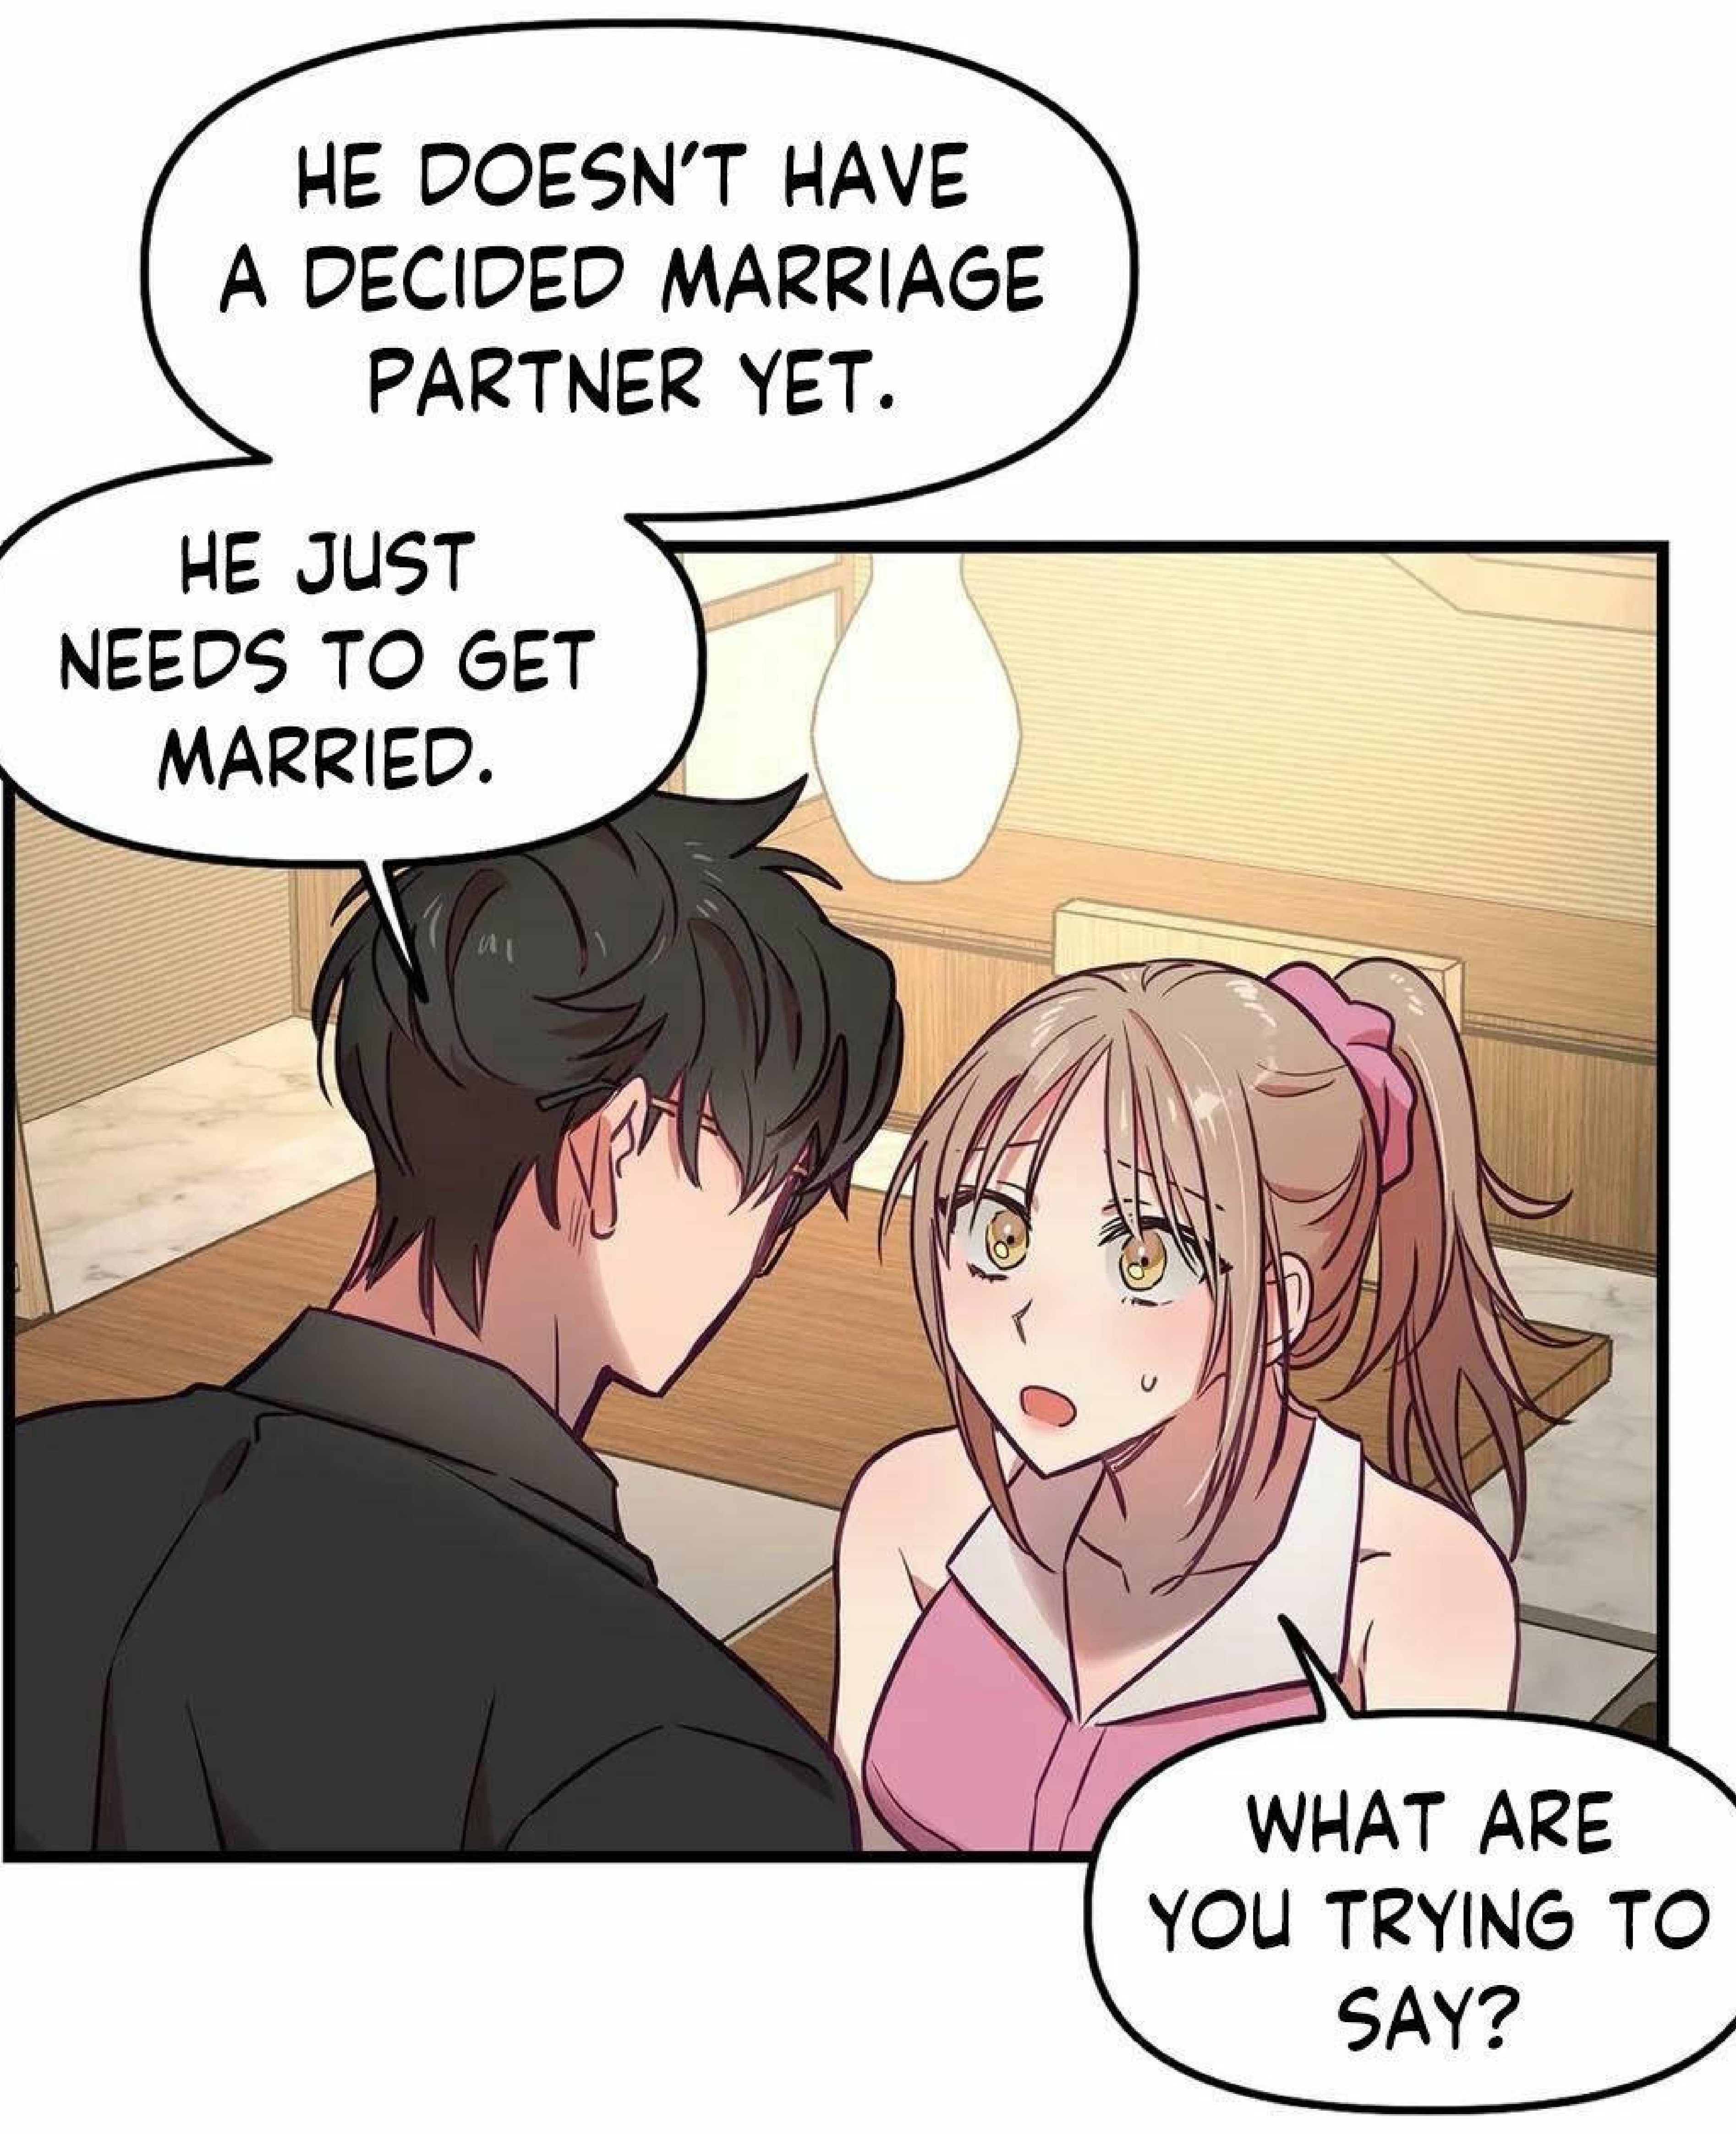

YOU'RE CLEAR ABOUT YOUR LIKES AND DISLIKES.
YOU CAN'T WILLINGLY THROW AWAY YOUR OWN BELIEFS AND PRINCIPLES.
AND YOU'RE ABLE TO LOVE YOURSELF SO MUCH.
THAT EXPLAINS WHY YOU HAVE A STRONG MENTALITY.
IF IT WERE ME, I WOULD'VE ALREADY GONE CRAZY.
...ARE YOU BEING SARCASTIC? ARE YOU SAYING THAT I ONLY CARE ABOUT MYSELF?
OF COURSE NOT. I'M COMPLIMENT-ING YOU.
IF YOU WEREN'T THE WAY YOU WERE,
THIS RELATIONSHIP WOULDN'T HAVE BEGUN IN THE FIRST PLACE.

I NEED YOU.
THAT'S WHY I LIKE YOU.
WHISPER

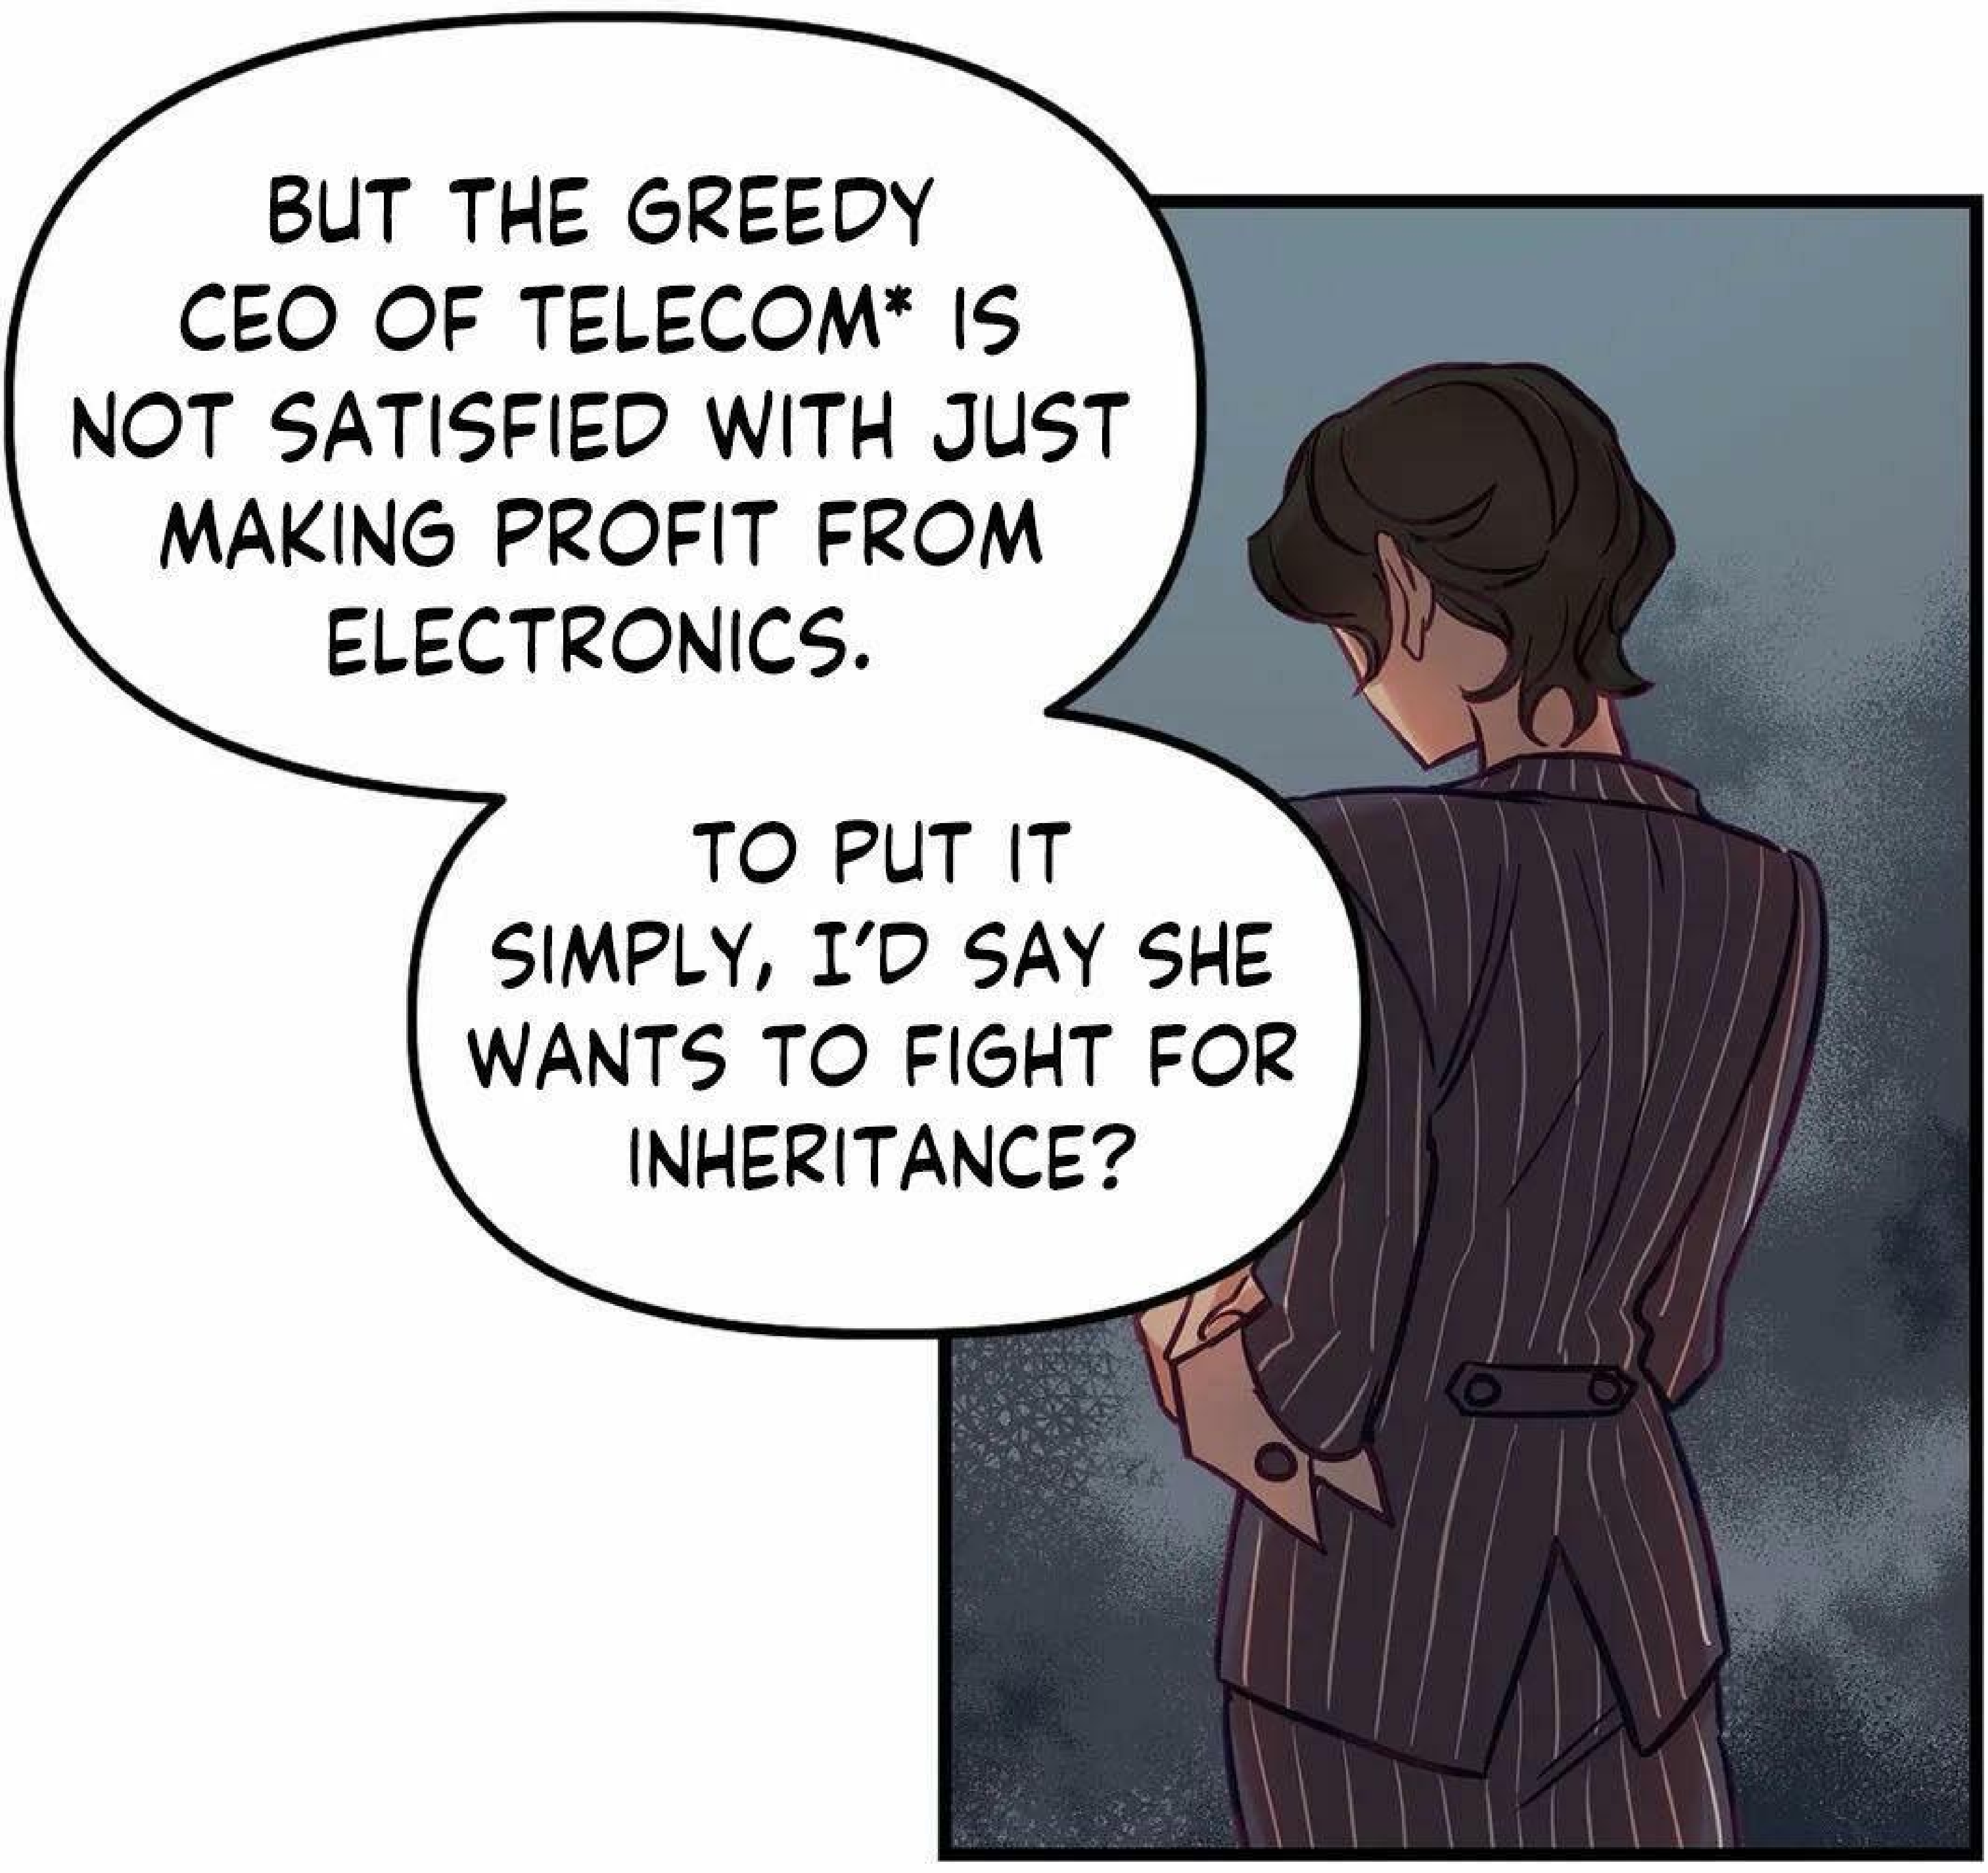

SO PLEASE, BE MY UNCLE'S MARRIAGE PARTNER.

...WHAT?

HE DOESN'T HAVE A DECIDED MARRIAGE PARTNER YET.
HE JUST NEEDS TO GET MARRIED.
WHAT ARE YOU TRYING TO SAY?

MY GRANDFATHER, THE CHAIRMAN, HASN'T BEEN FEELING WELL LATELY.

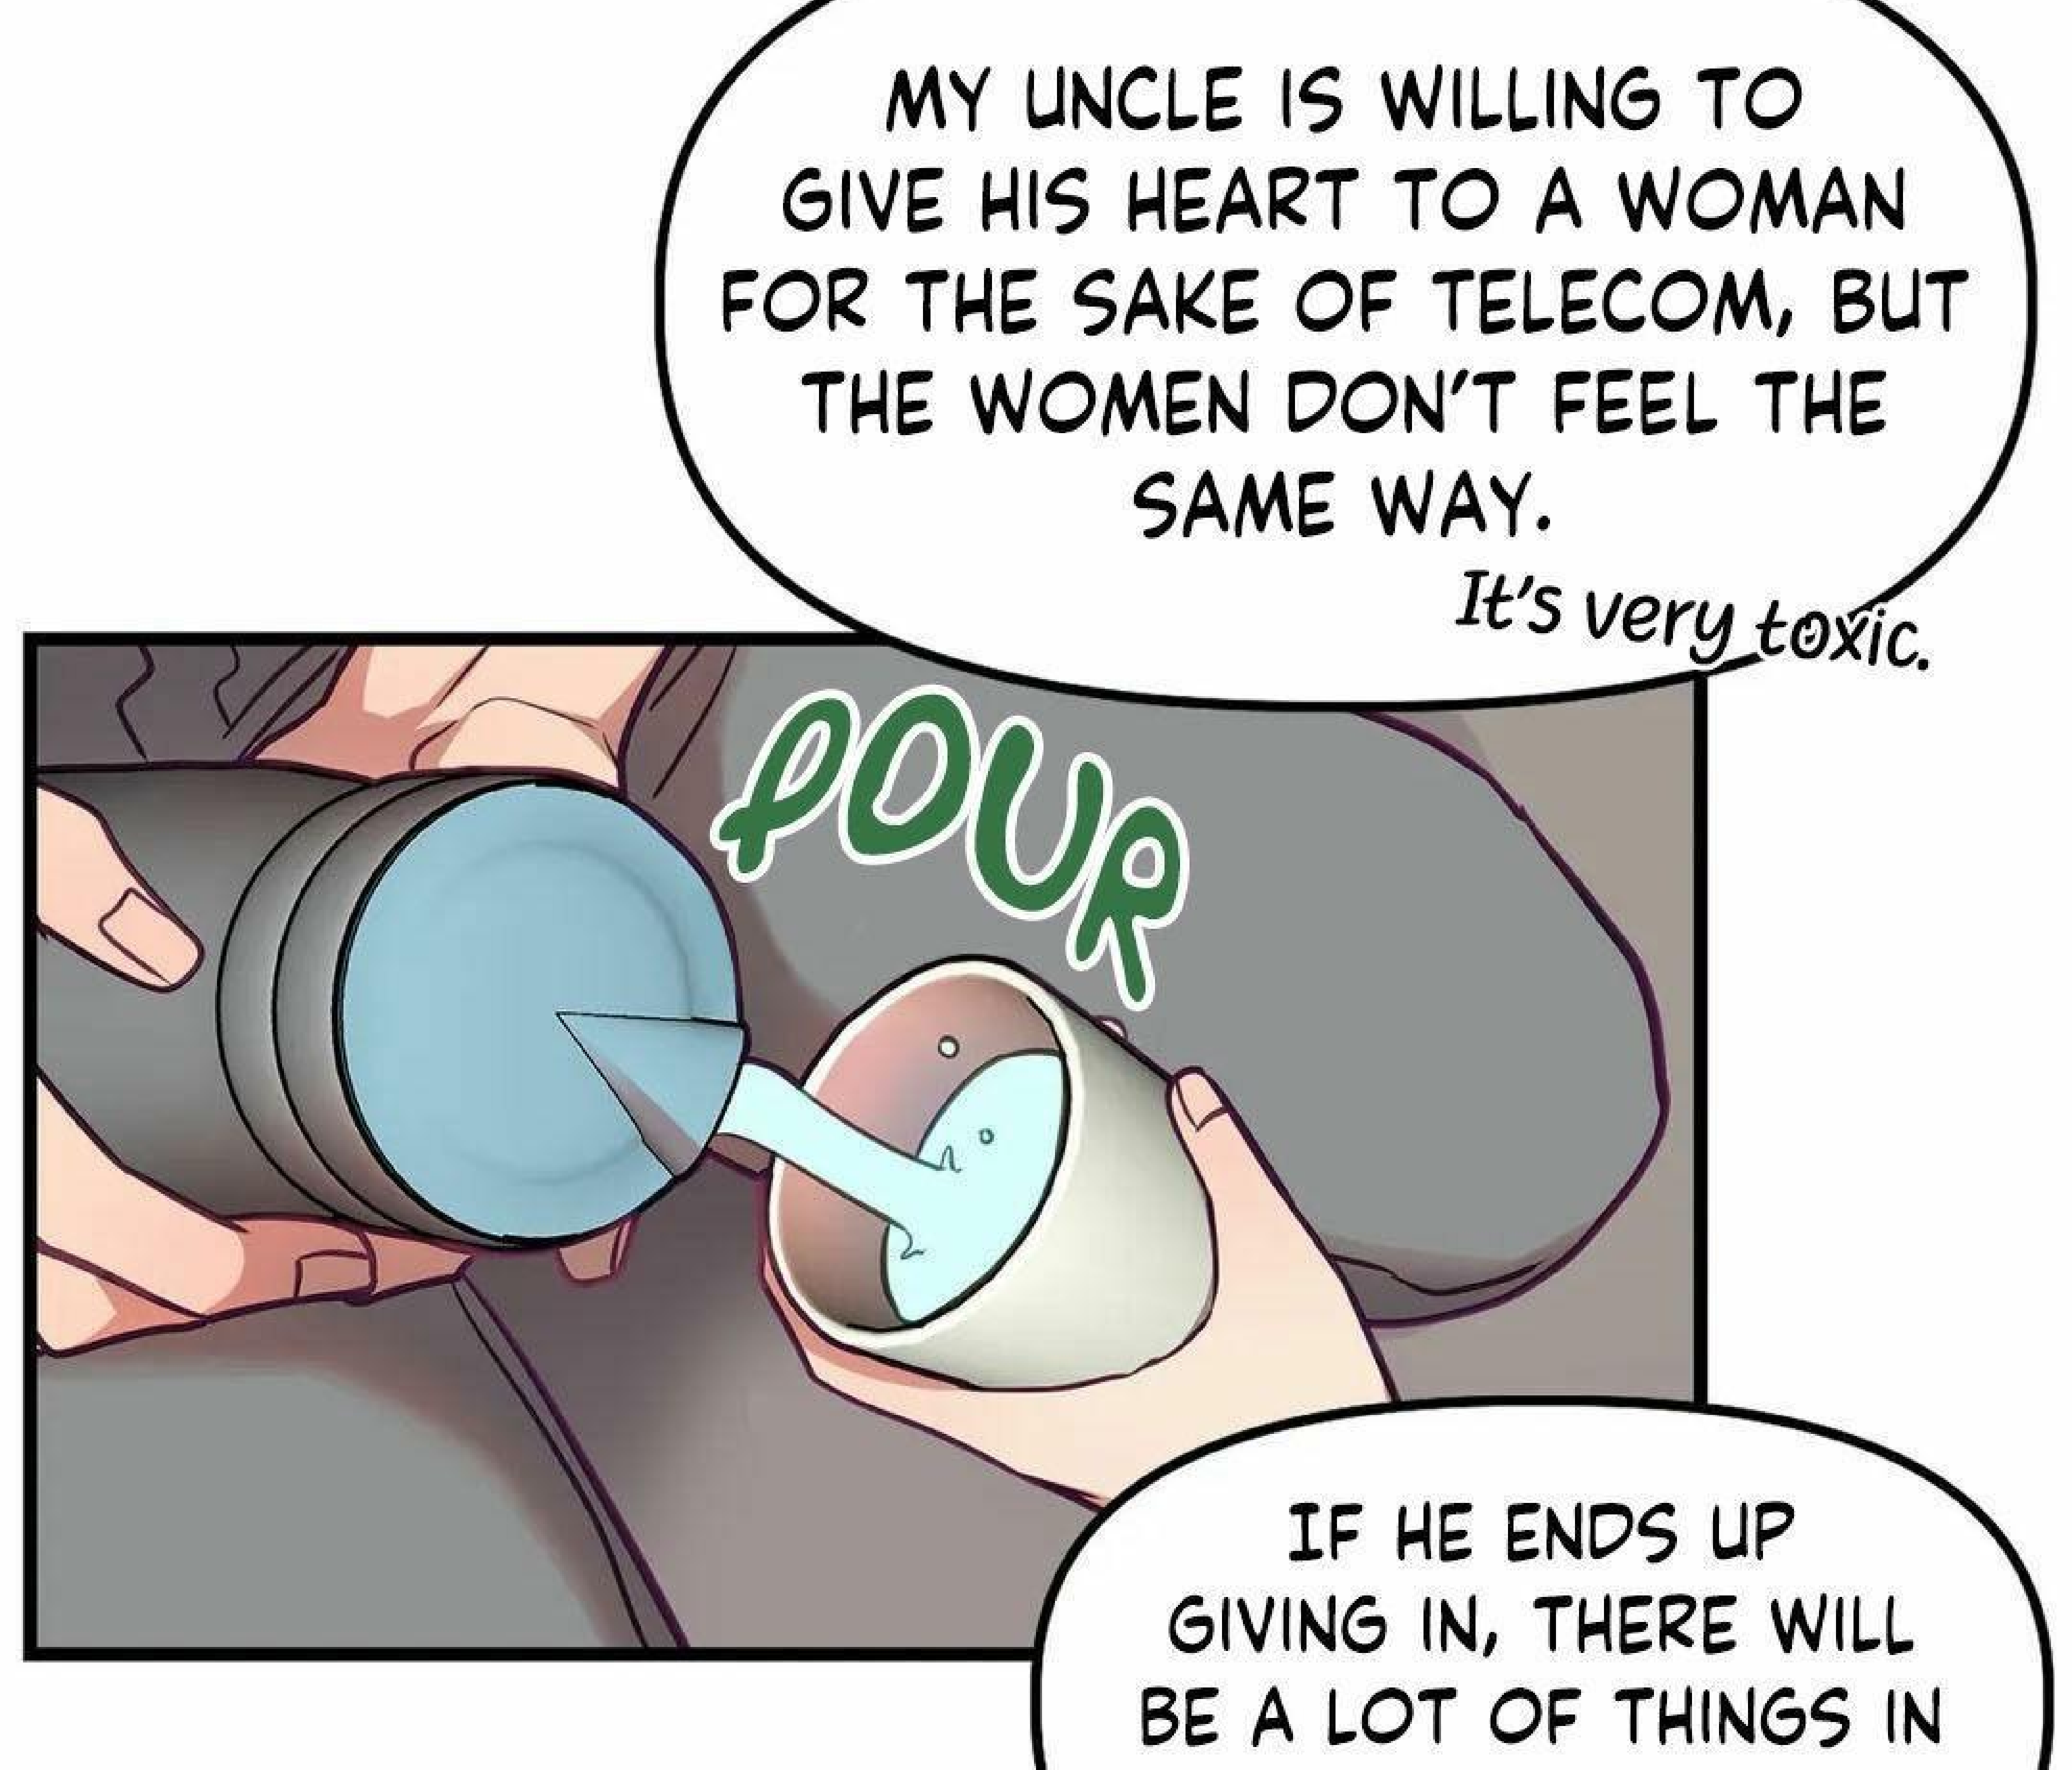

The twins' real mother, Lee Jin Hee, is the CEO of Telecom.

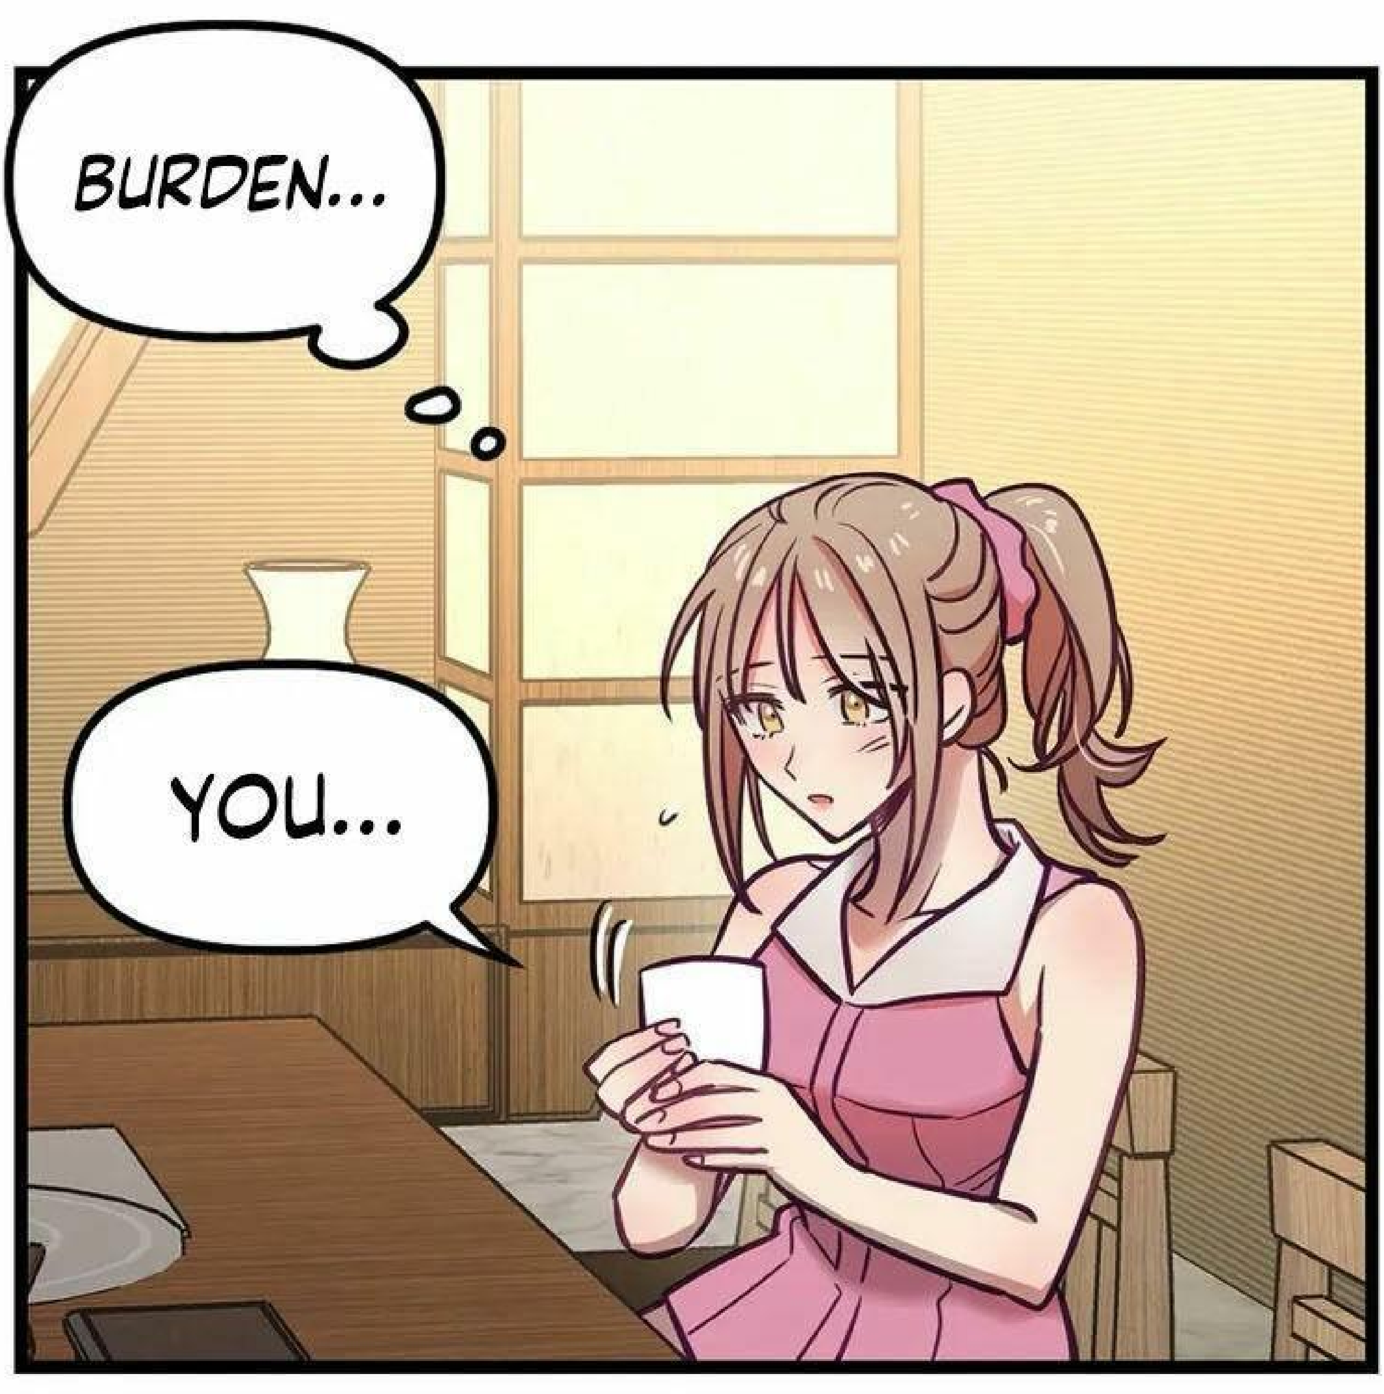

Tl/n (jennis): Crow's food as in more meat.
T/L (jennis): I think he suddenly changed the topic to change the mood, since his family topic wasn't the brightest topic.

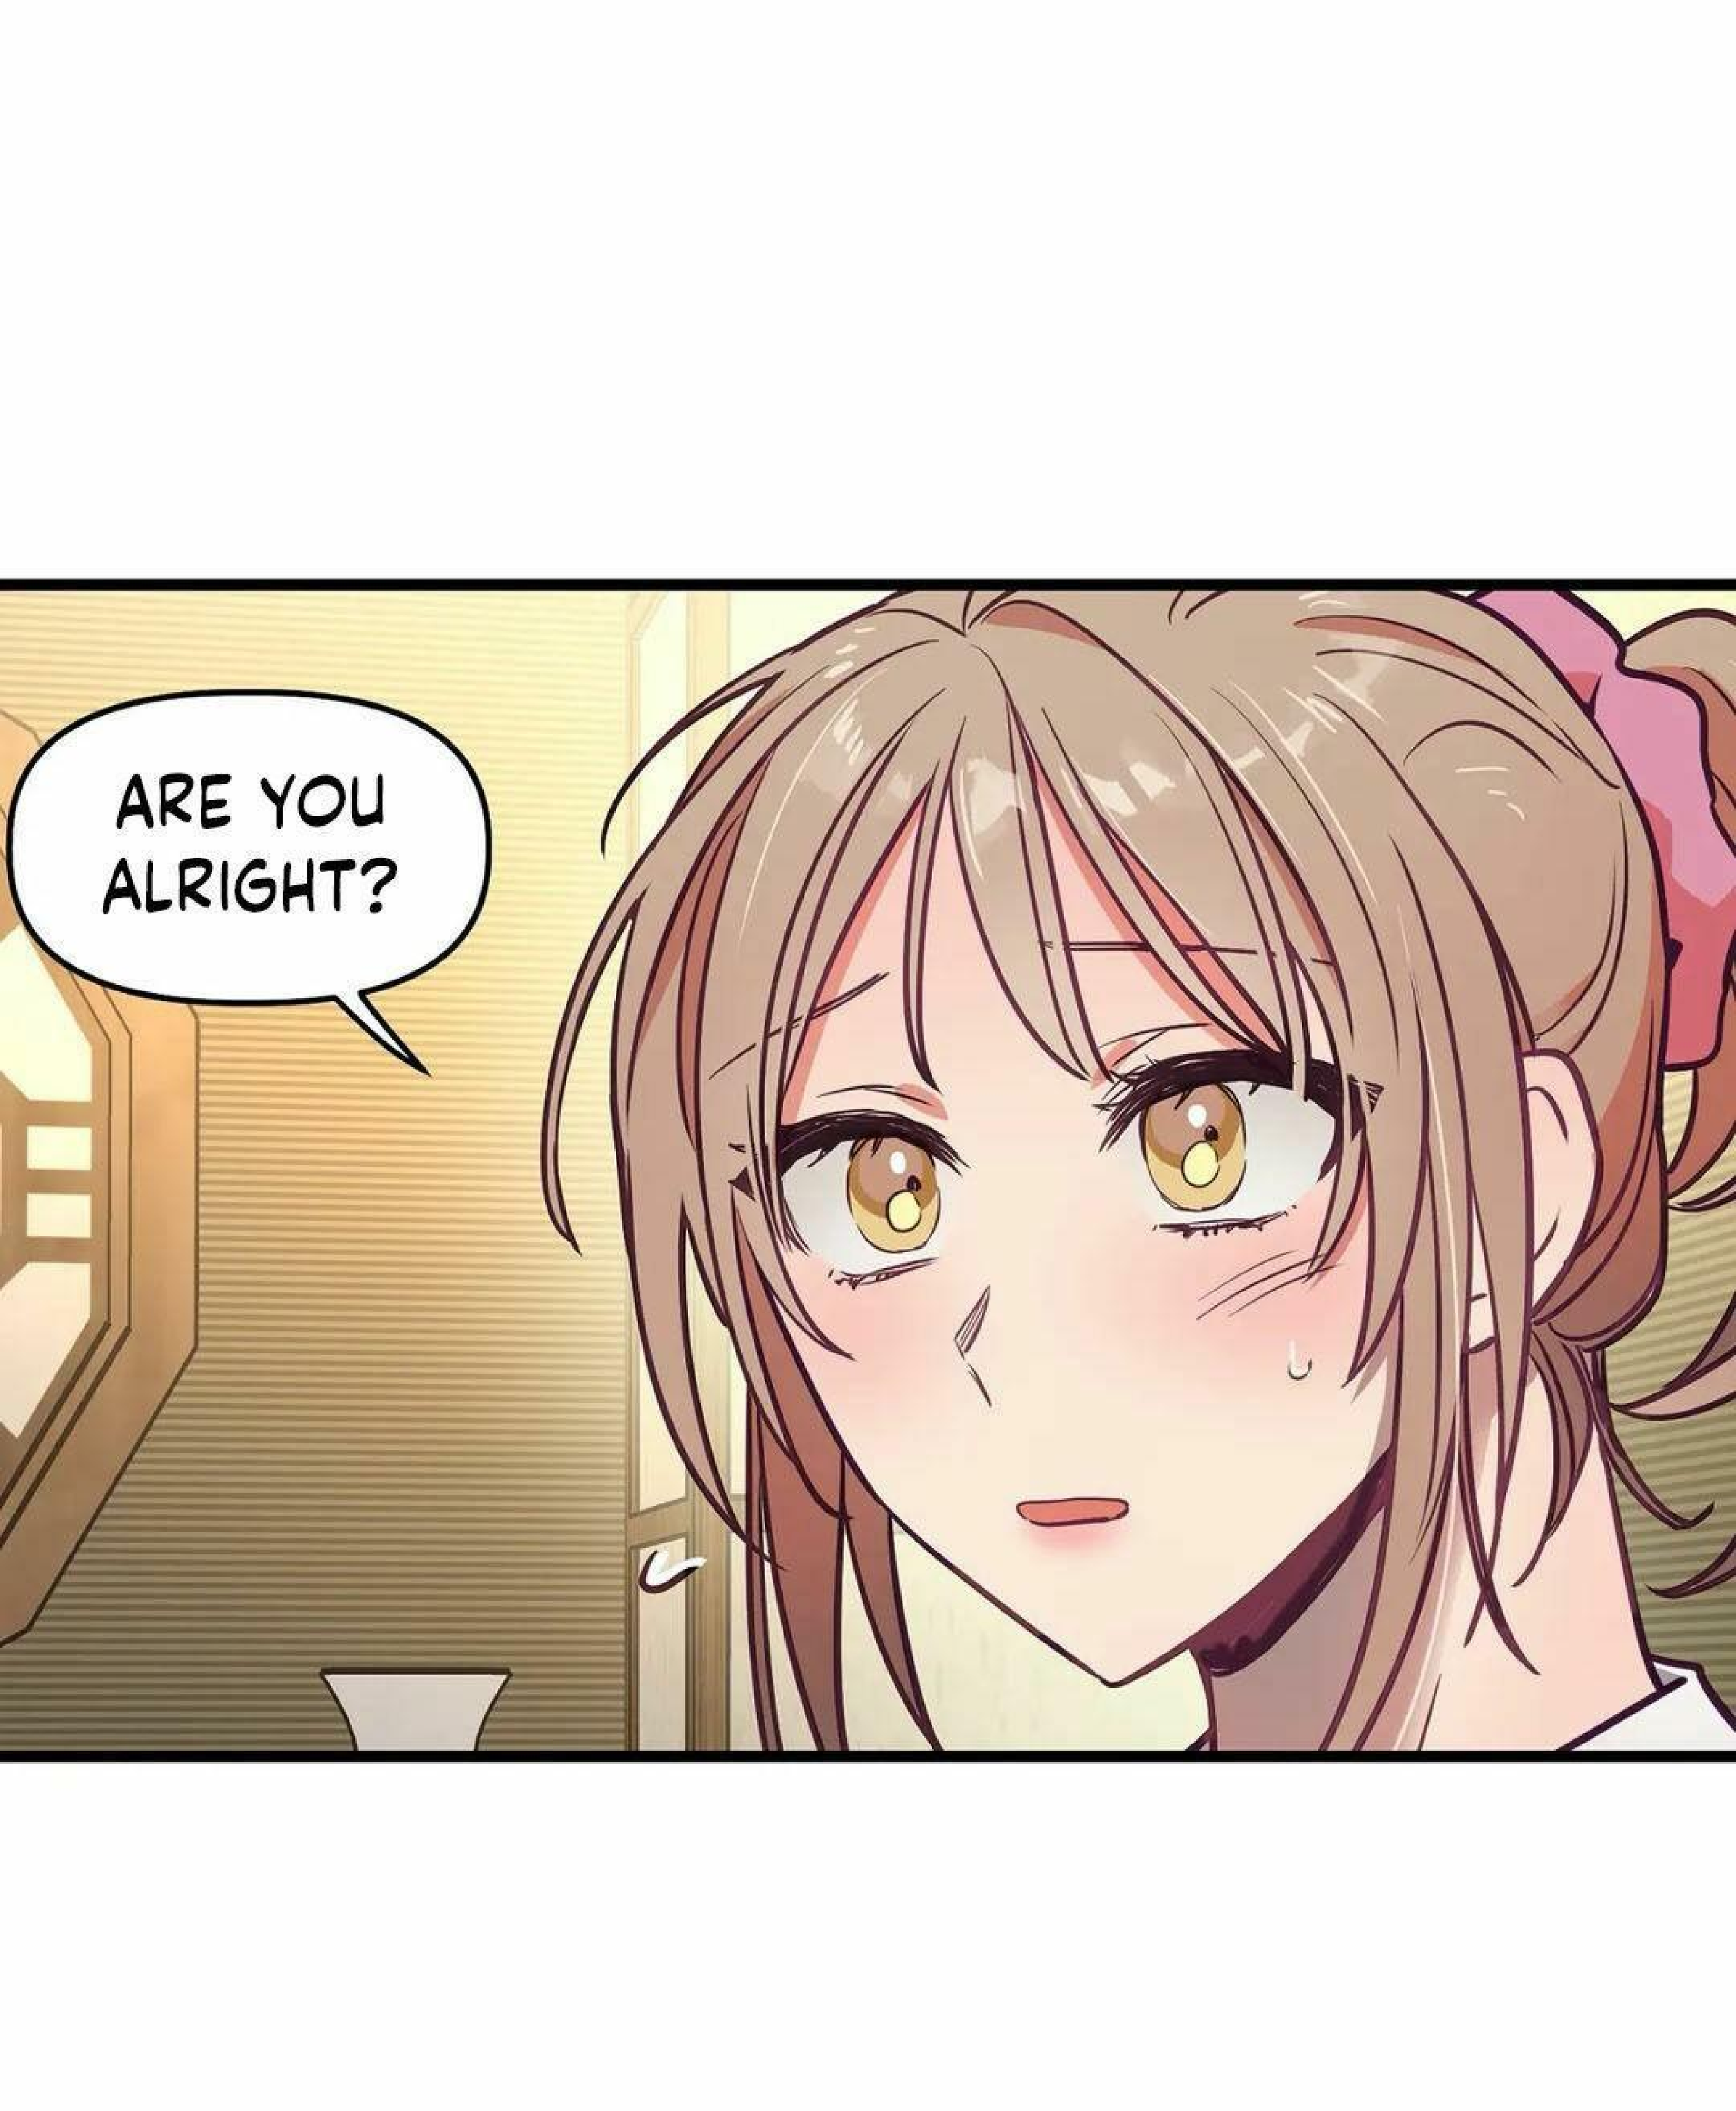

OH, BUT MAYBE SEONGJEONG IS LIKE THAT BECAUSE HE'S VIOLENT TOO. SO JUST LET THIS SLIDE.
HOW CAN I LET THIS SLIDE...
Would you like some tea?

MY UNCLE IS WILLING TO GIVE HIS HEART TO A WOMAN FOR THE SAKE OF TELECOM, BUT THE WOMEN DON'T FEEL THE SAME WAY.
It's very toxic.
POUR
IF HE ENDS UP GIVING IN, THERE WILL BE A LOT OF THINGS IN

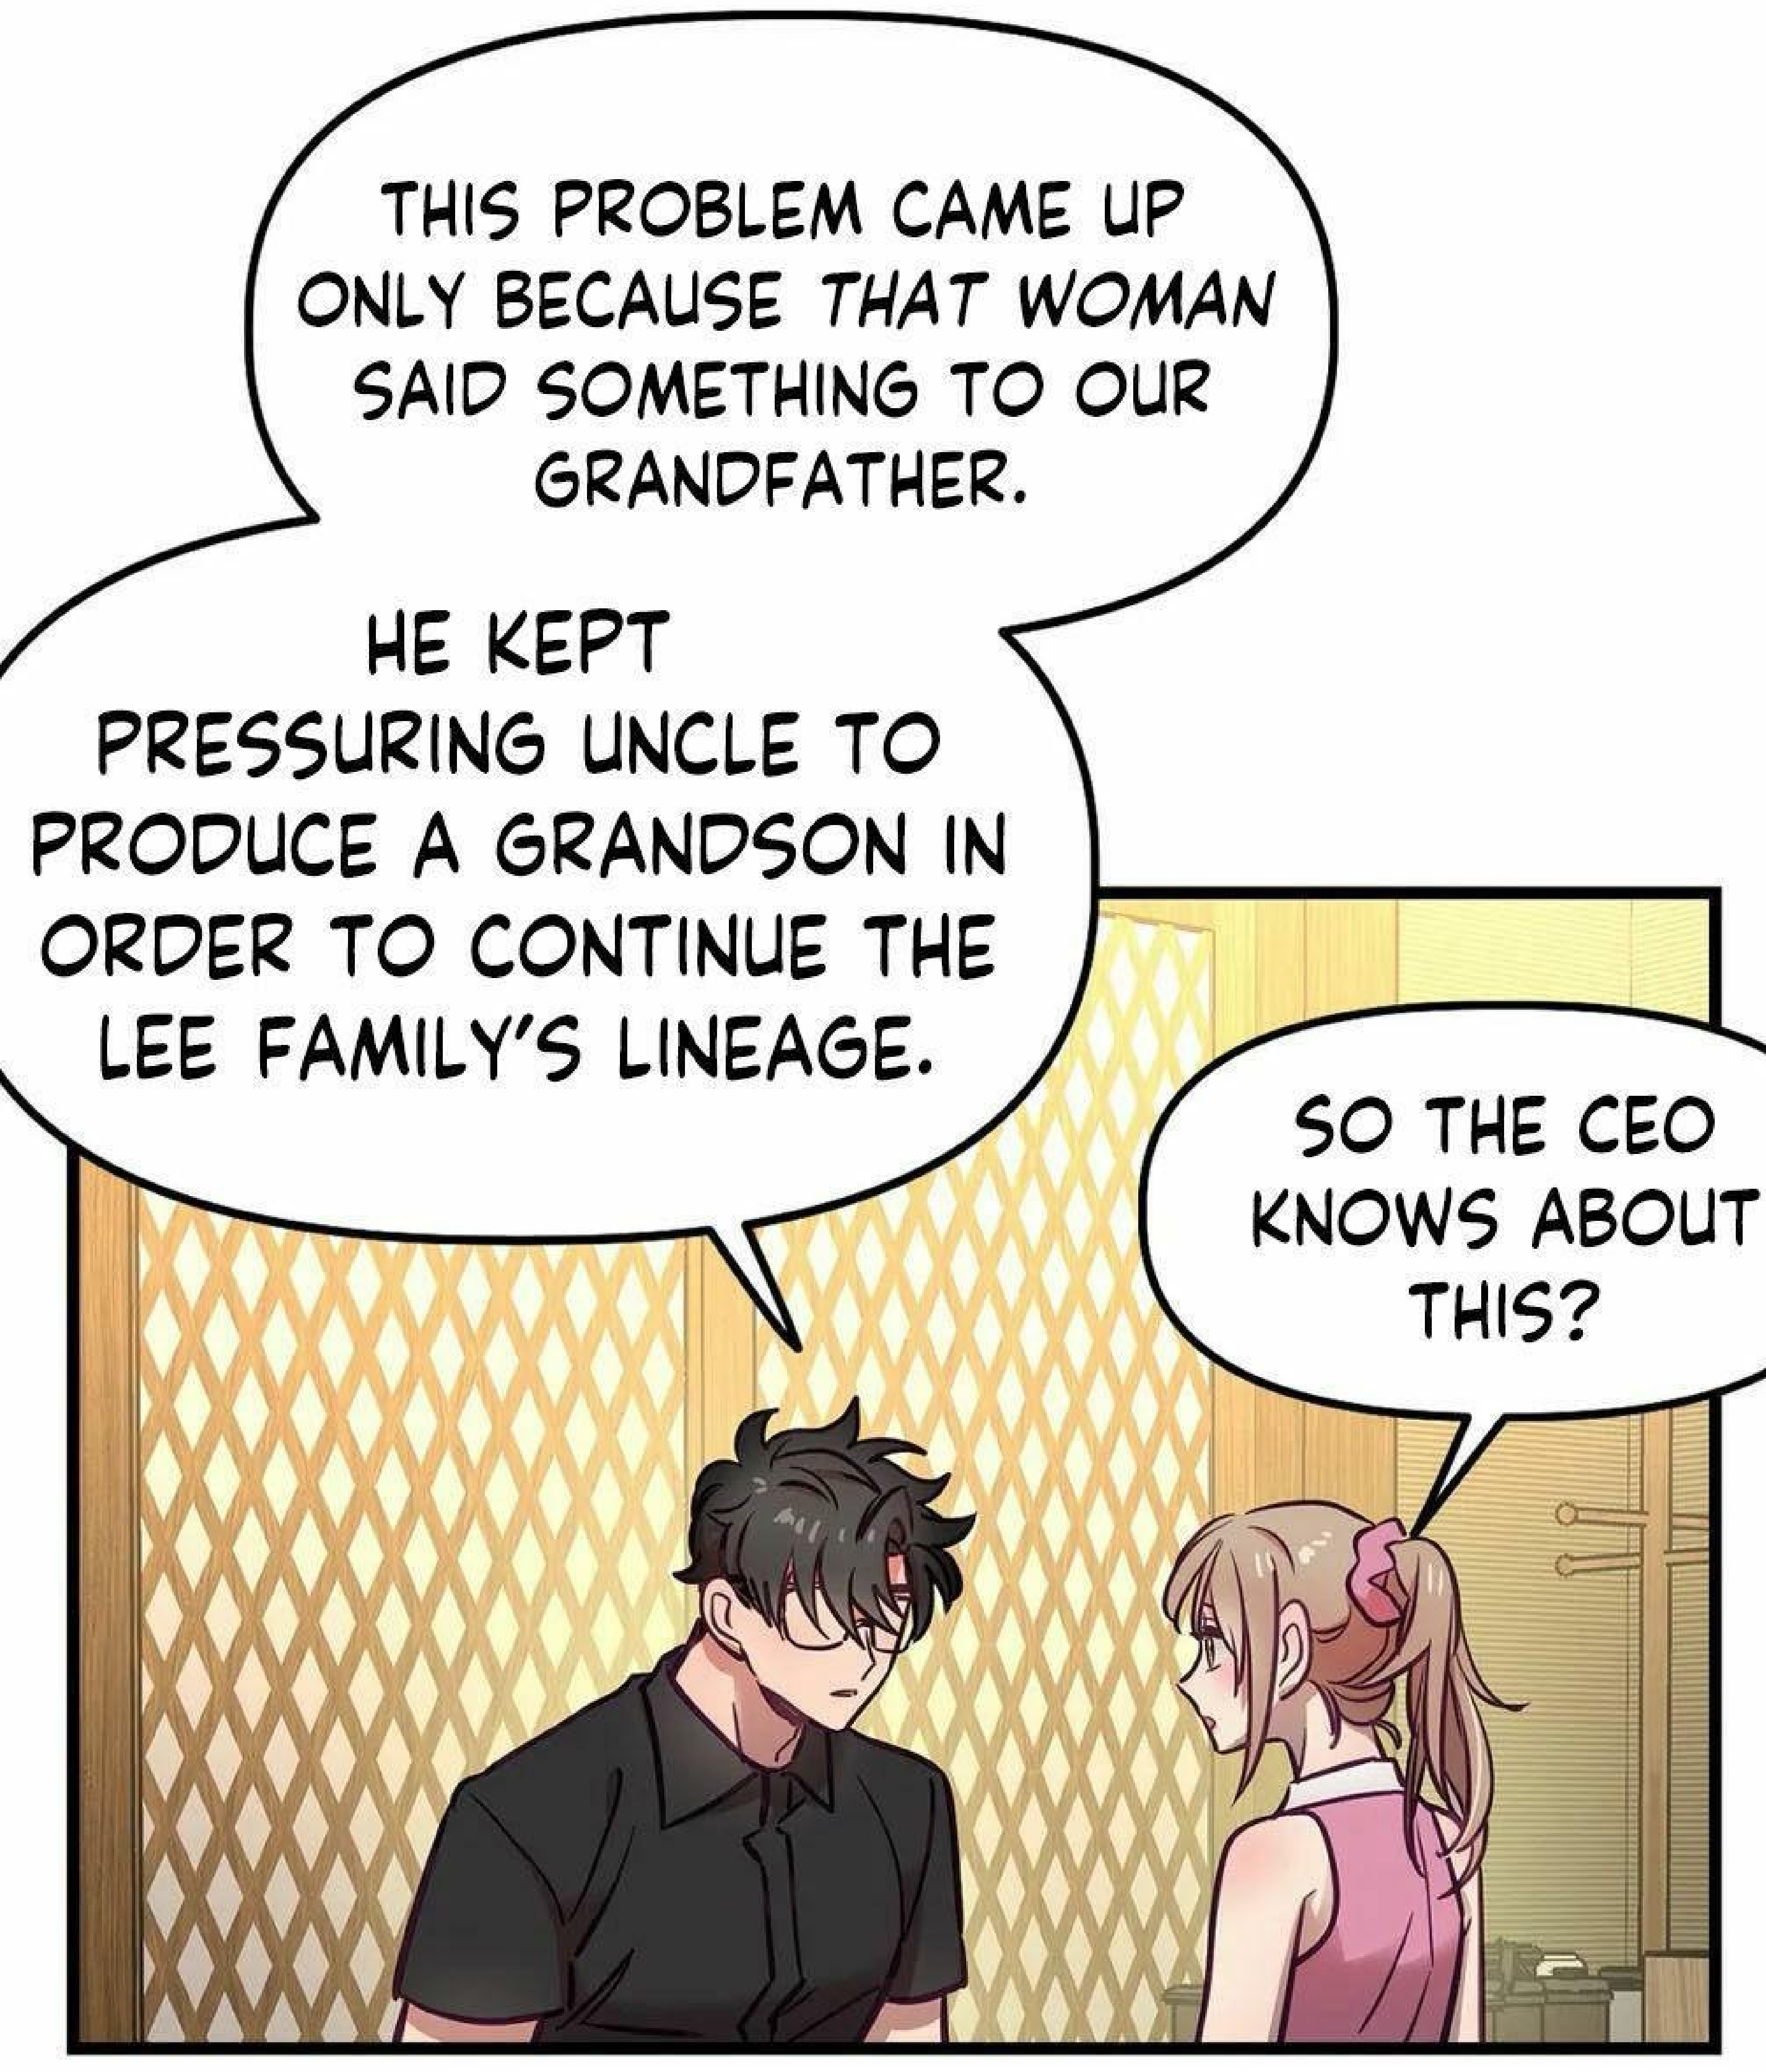

TL/N (jennis): he's talking about himself and his twin brother, since they have no say in the family since they don't carry the blood.

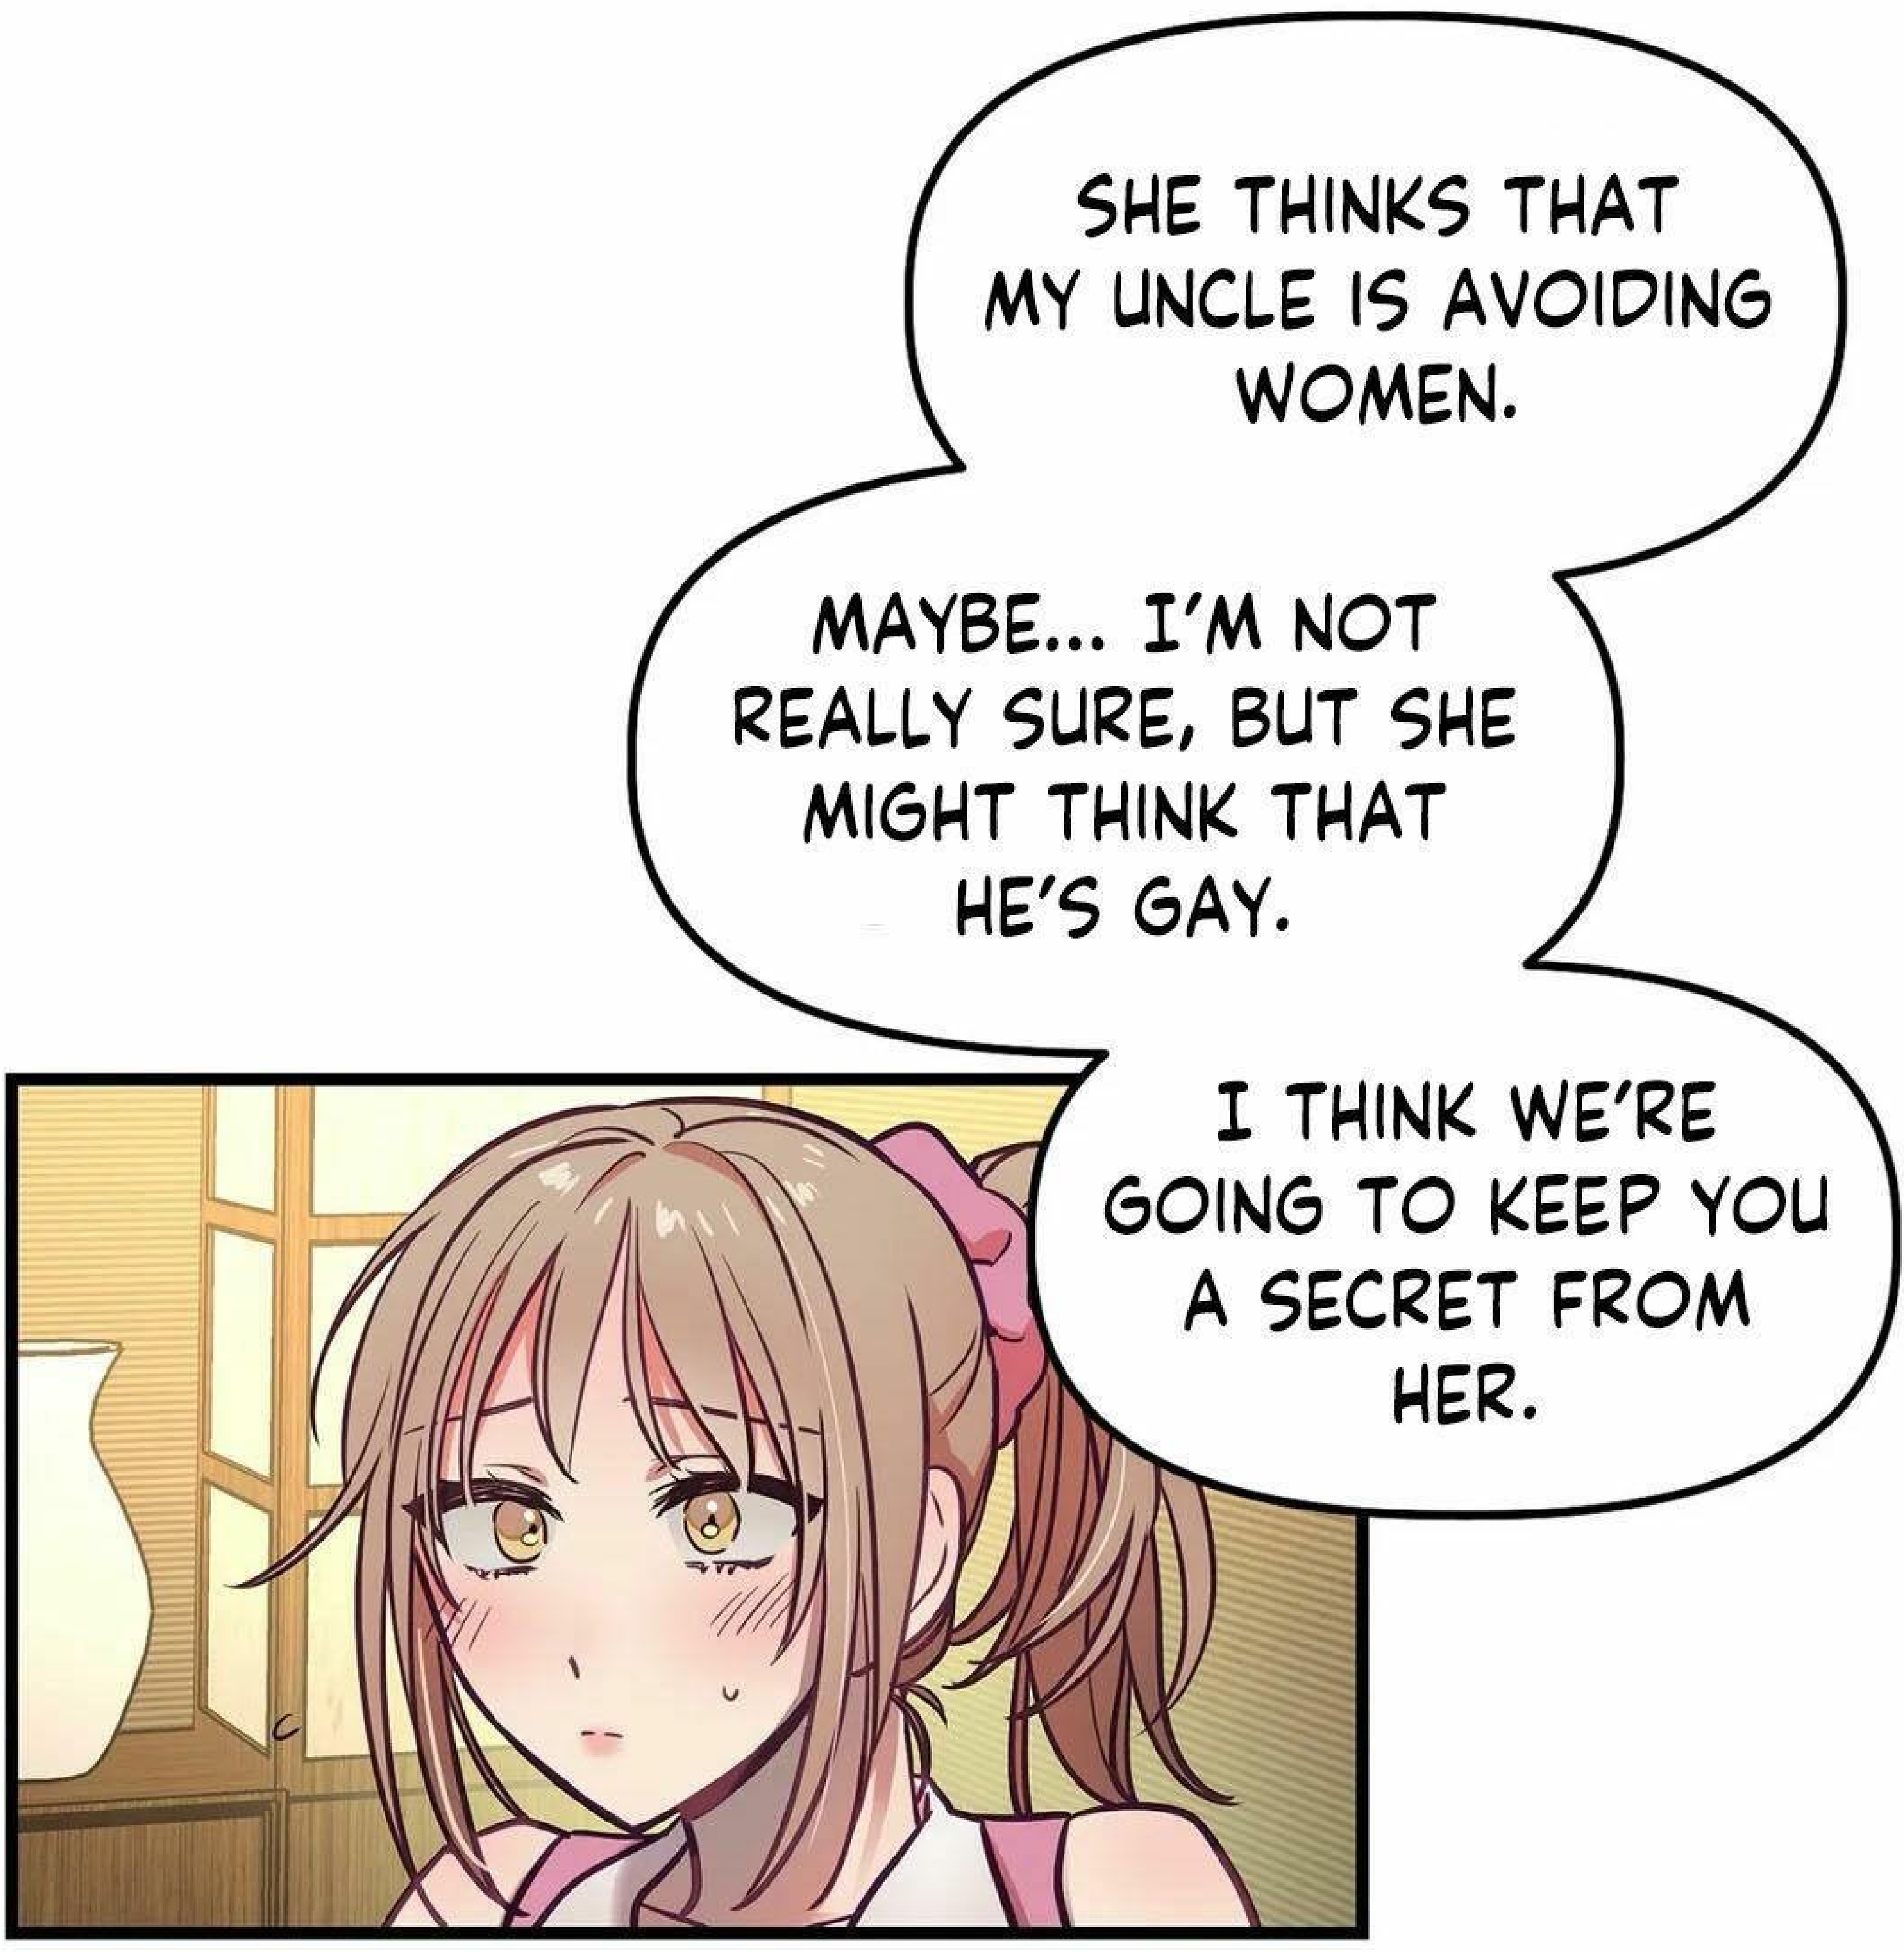

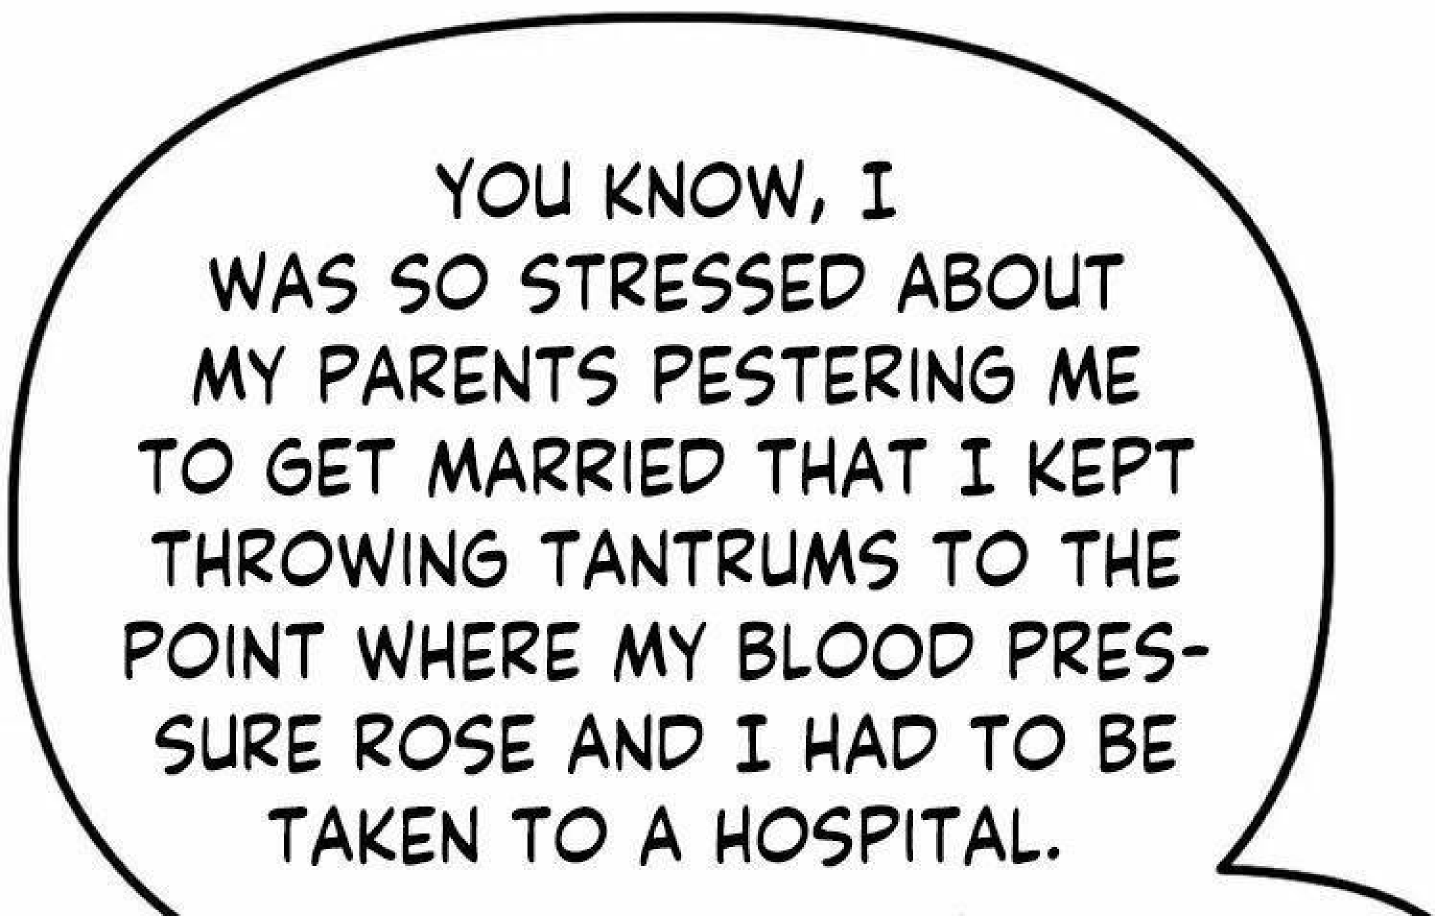

......
DID ANY OF THIS TALK MAKE YOU FEEL WORRIED ABOUT ME?

THIS PROBLEM CAME UP ONLY BECAUSE THAT WOMAN SAID SOMETHING TO OUR GRANDFATHER.
HE KEPT PRESSURING UNCLE TO PRODUCE A GRANDSON IN ORDER TO CONTINUE THE LEE FAMILY'S LINEAGE.
SO THE CEO KNOWS ABOUT THIS?

TL/N (yu): "That woman" refers to the twins' mother, he just doesn't want to take her name.

YOU COULD SAY I HAD ANGER ISSUES.
woah...
DAZED
SO, MY PERSONALITY IS NO JOKE EITHER.
THE CEO IS PROBABLY THE ONLY ONE WHO COULD SYMPATHIZE WITH DOHA'S TRAUMA...
I HAVE A FUNNIER STORY TO TELL.

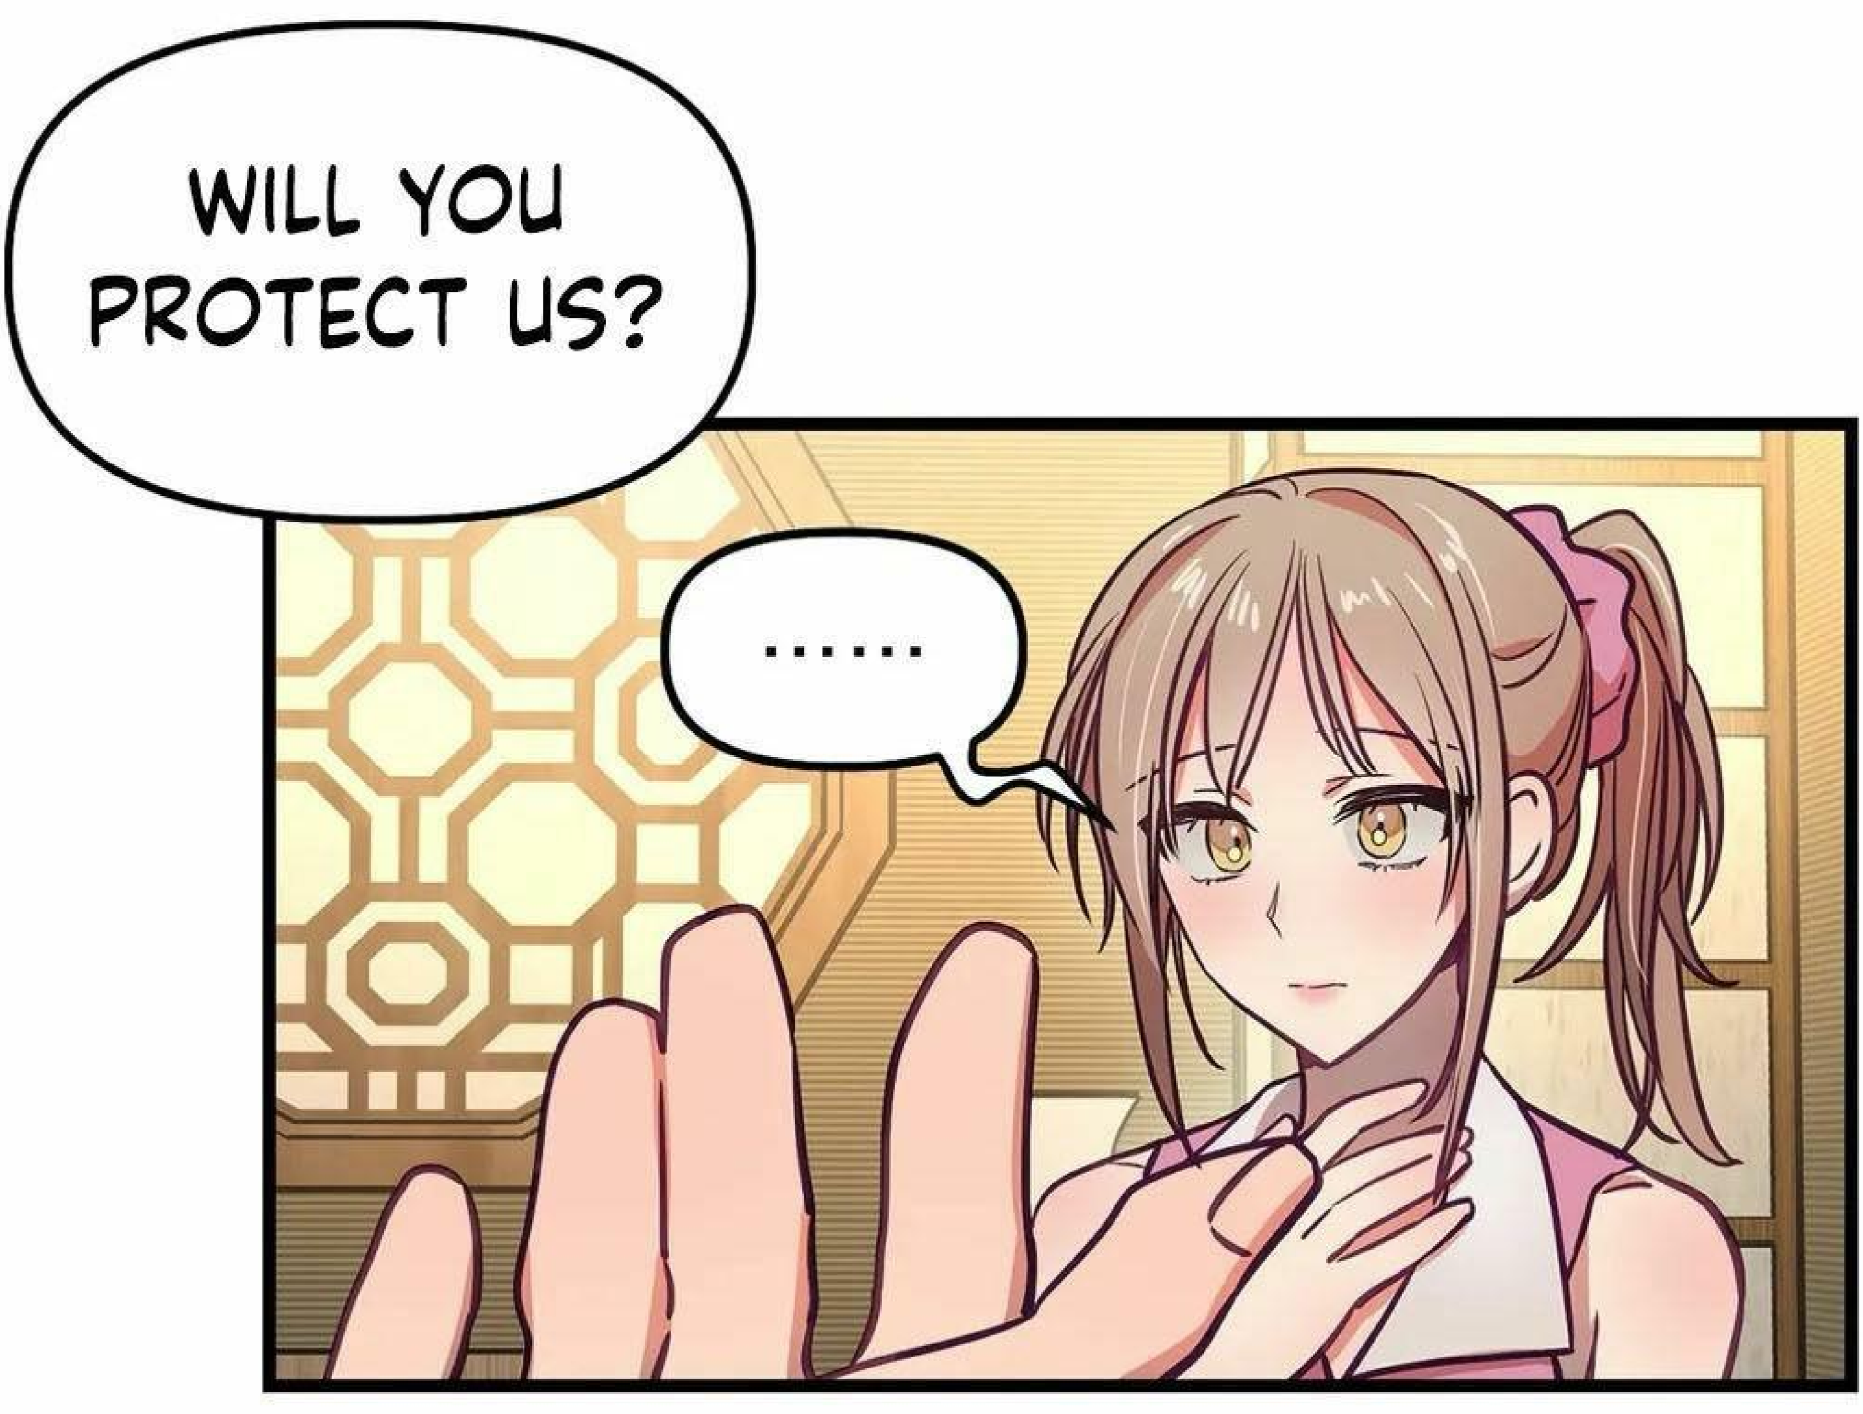

AFTER CREATING SUCH A RUCKUS, MY FAMILY FINALLY STARTED TO RESPECT MY AUTHORITY.
MY UNCLE TOLD US THAT HE'D TAKE CARE OF HIS MARRIAGE. HE AGREED TO IT BECAUSE HE WANTED TO RAISE THE CHILD IN A DIFFERENT ENVIRONMENT, NOT BECAUSE HIS PARENTS PRESSURED HIM TO CONTINUE THE BLOODLINE.
IF MY UNCLE IGNORES ALL THE NAGGING AND STAYS SINGLE, THEN HE'D EVENTUALLY HAVE TO PASS THE STOCKS ON TO LEE JIN HEE.
THE POWER WILL BE PASSED ONTO MY UNCLE LITTLE BY LITTLE, BUT THE ISSUE IS ABOUT THE DIVI-SION OF STOCKS.
IT'LL BE DANGEROUS IF MY GRANDFATHER PASSES ALL THE STOCKS TO THE CEO OF TELECOM.

BATOTO SCANS
MY UNCLE PROBABLY WOULDN'T MARRY UNLESS IT'S SEAH.
AND MY GRANDFATHER, WHO ONLY HAS EYES FOR MONEY, SAID THAT HE HAS NO NEED FOR SOMEONE WHO DOESN'T LISTEN TO HIM.
T/L (Jennis): alas. This is why he needs to get married in order to gain power in this succession fight.
TELECOM'S CEO DIDN'T EVEN HESITATE TO BLACKMAIL MY UNCLE TO HAND OVER THE REMAINING STOCKS TO HER.
WHAT'S EVEN WORSE, SHE DID IT WHOLEHEARTEDLY. ALMOST LIKE IT WAS AN ACT.
BUT ALL OF IT WAS ACTUALLY VERY REAL...
SMIRK

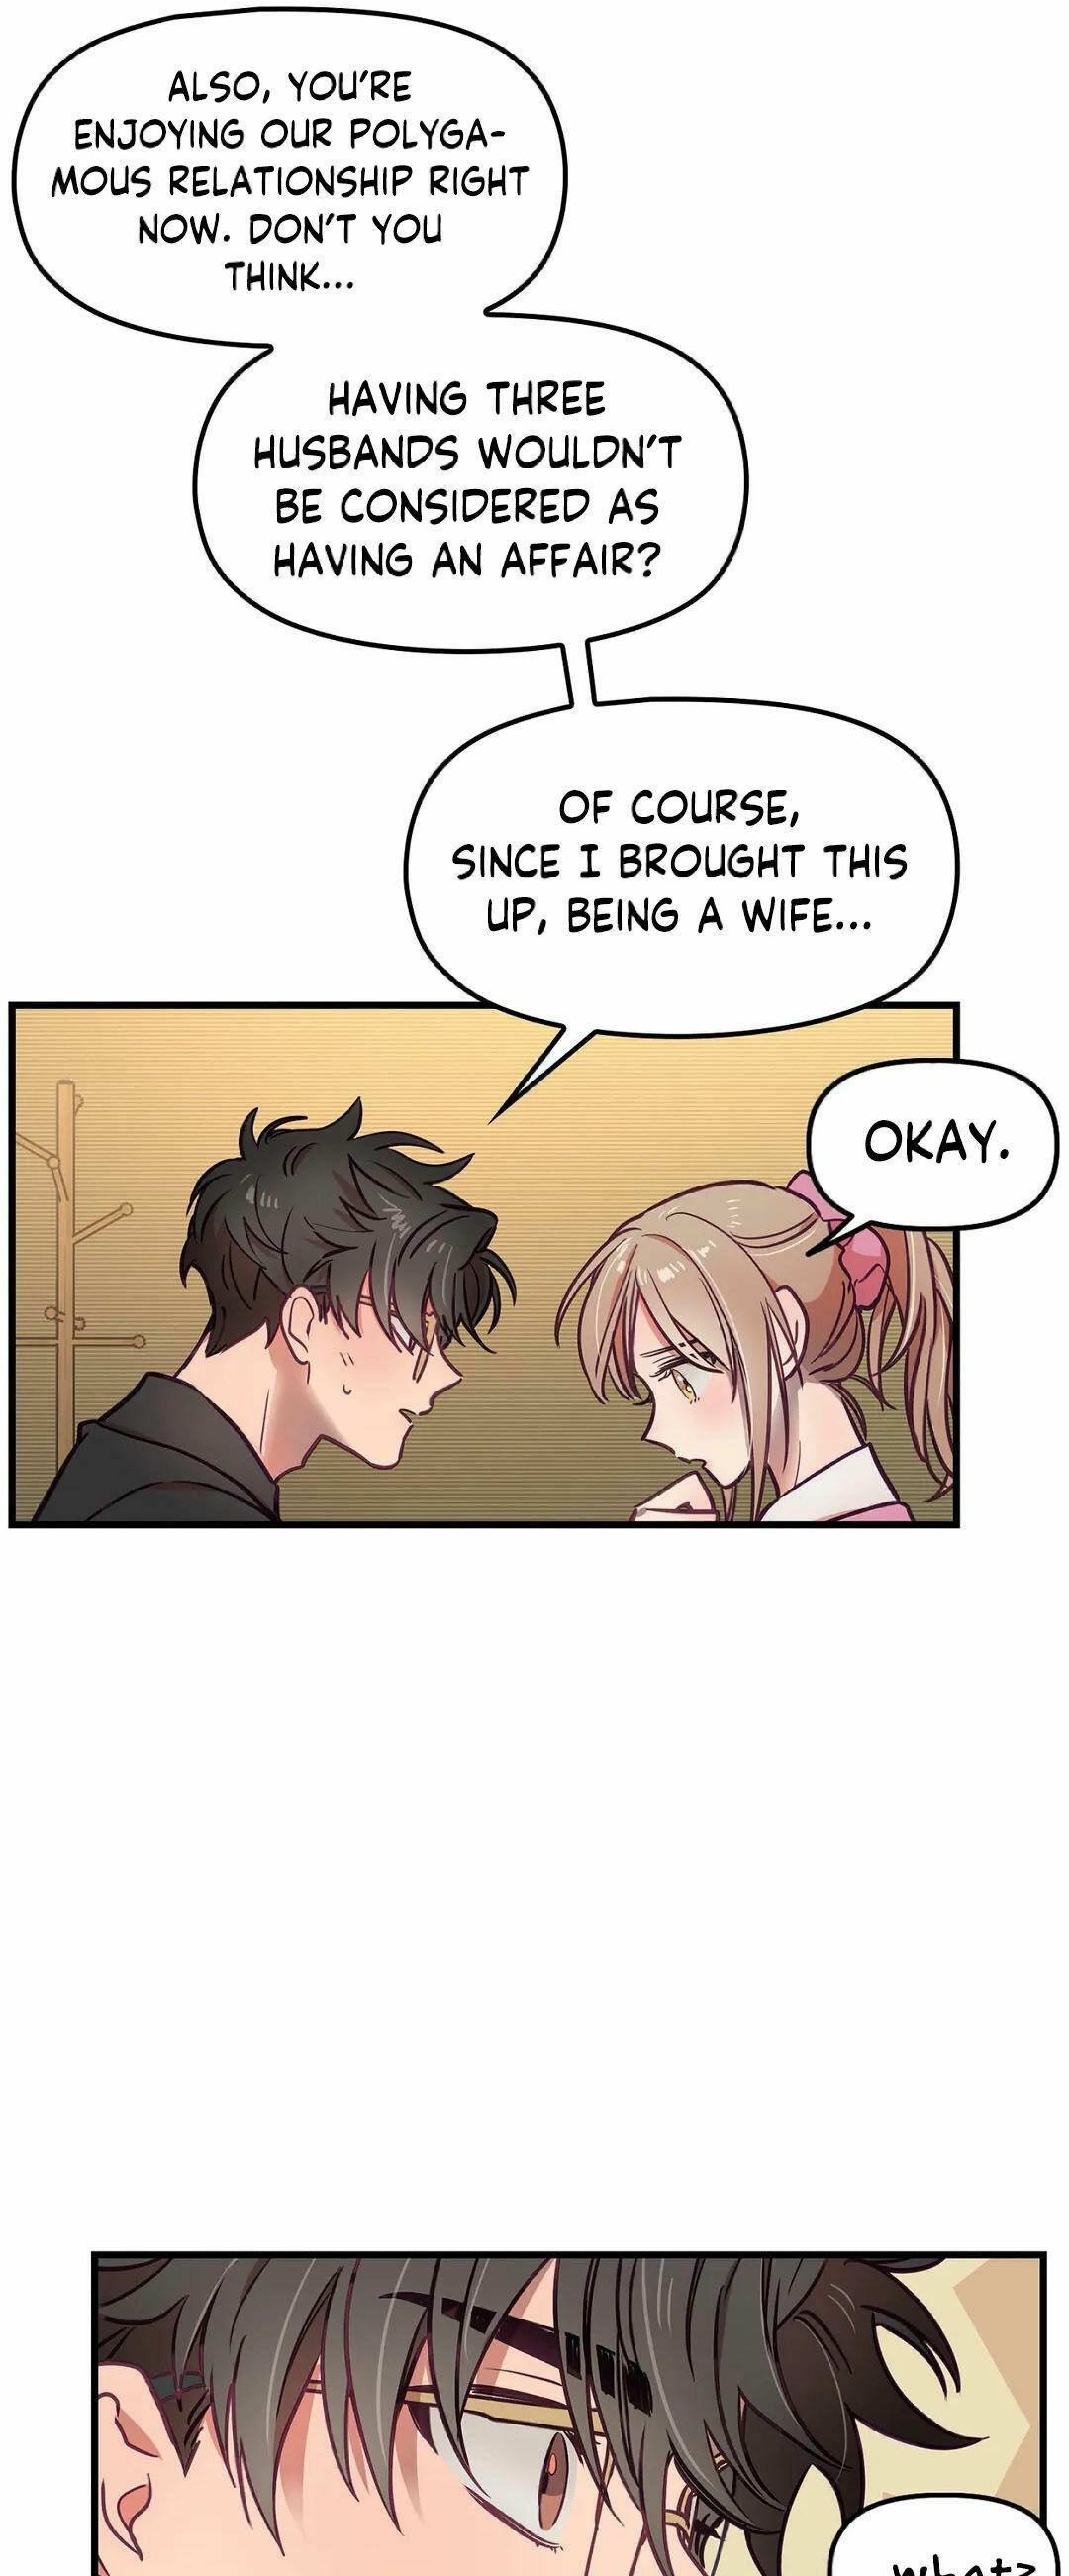

ONLY YOU CAN DO THIS, SEAH.
I...
NO, WE...

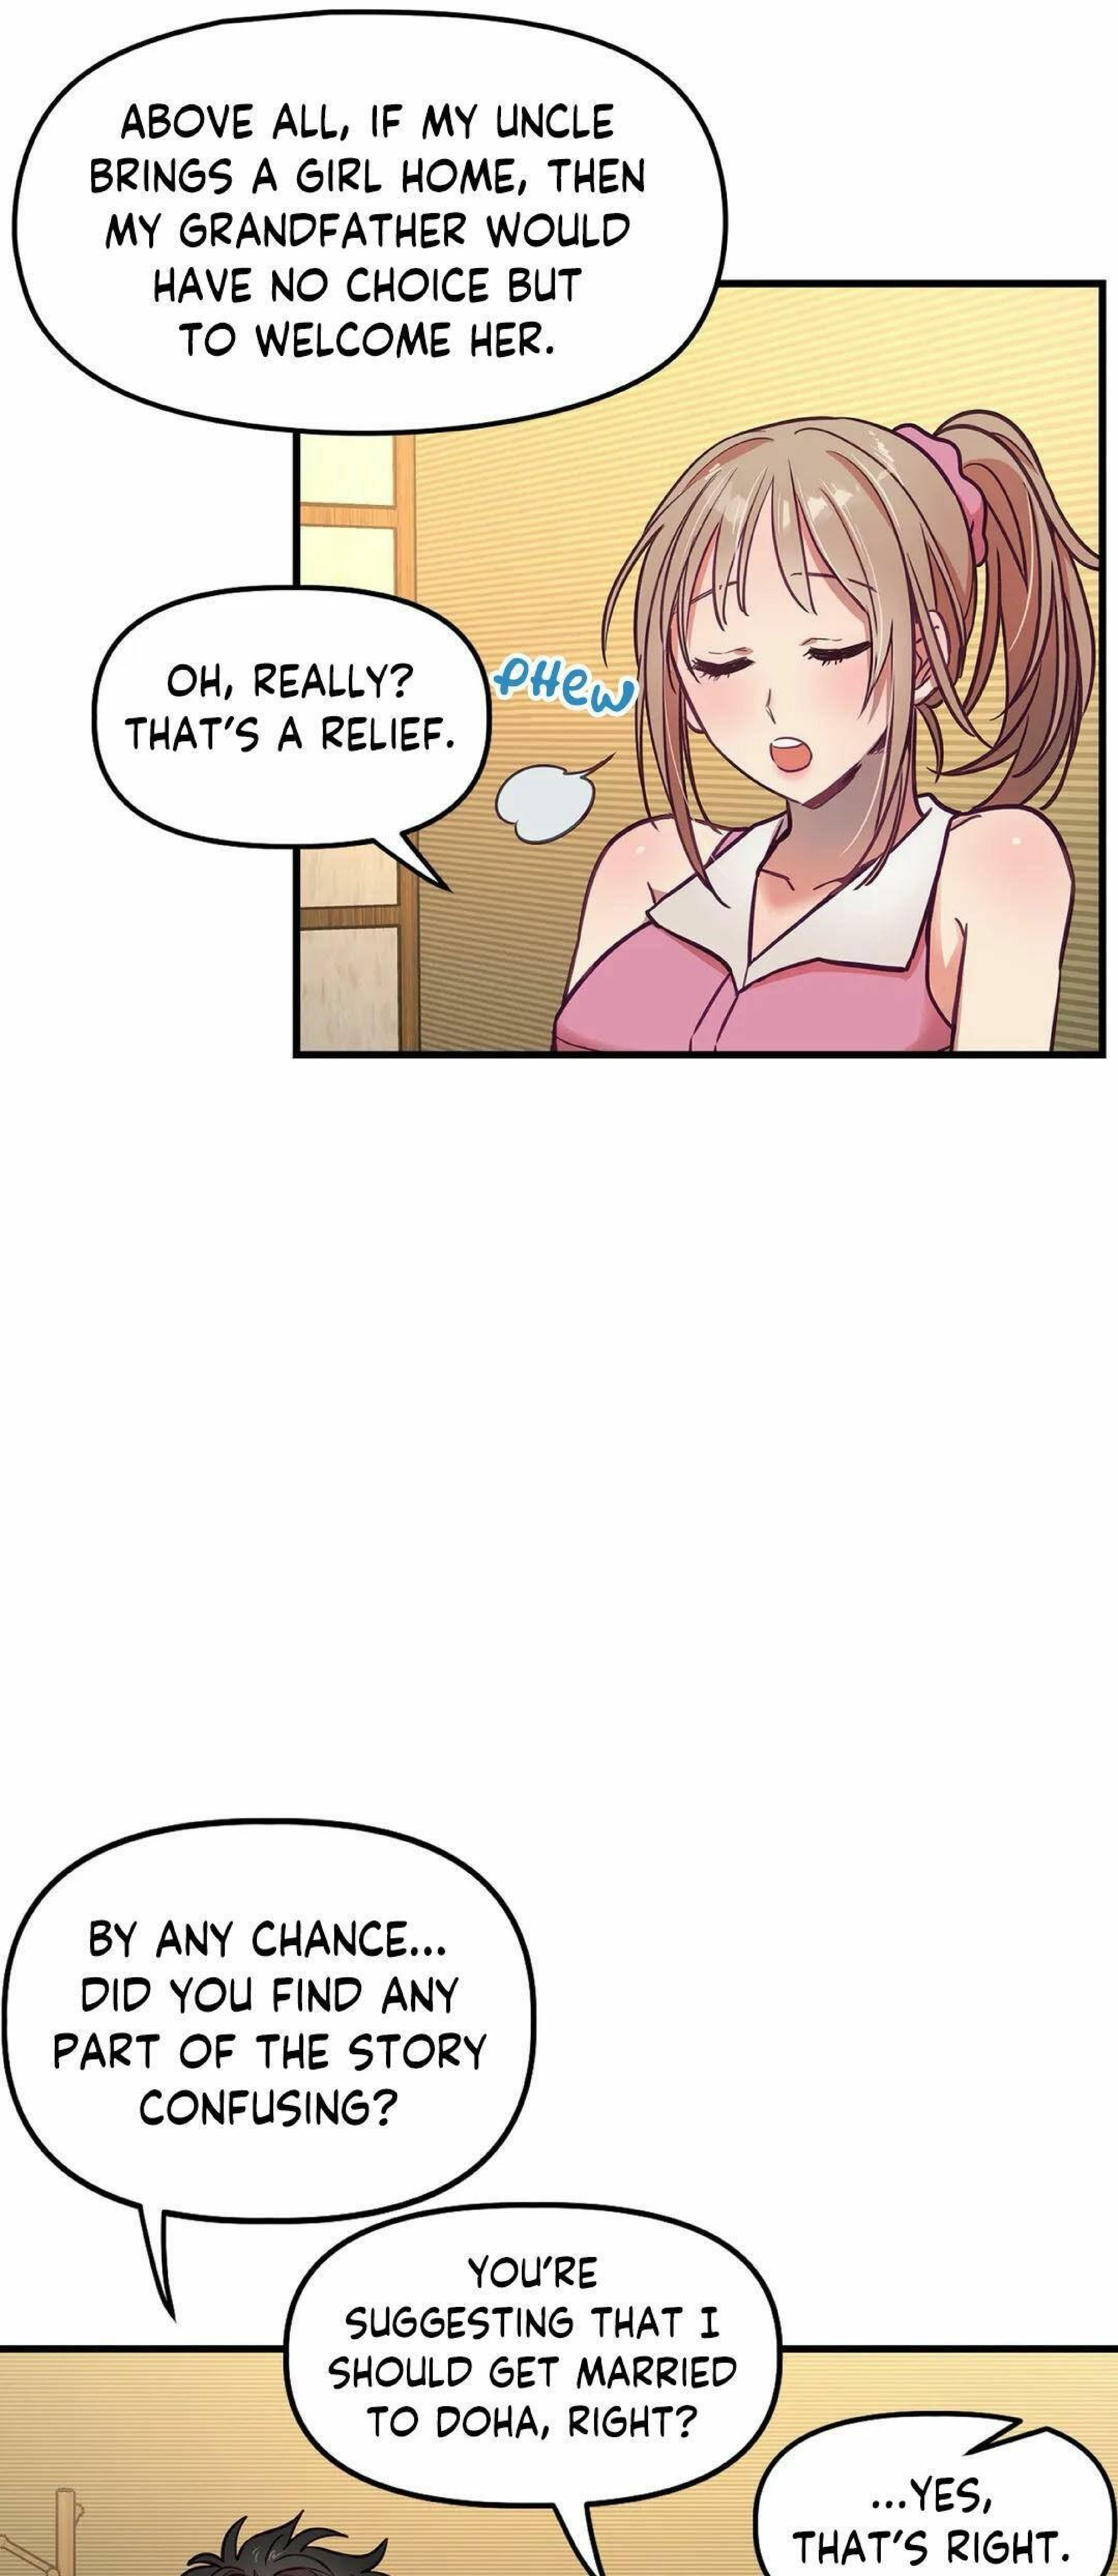

T/s: aww... but, we...? don't you want her for yourself?

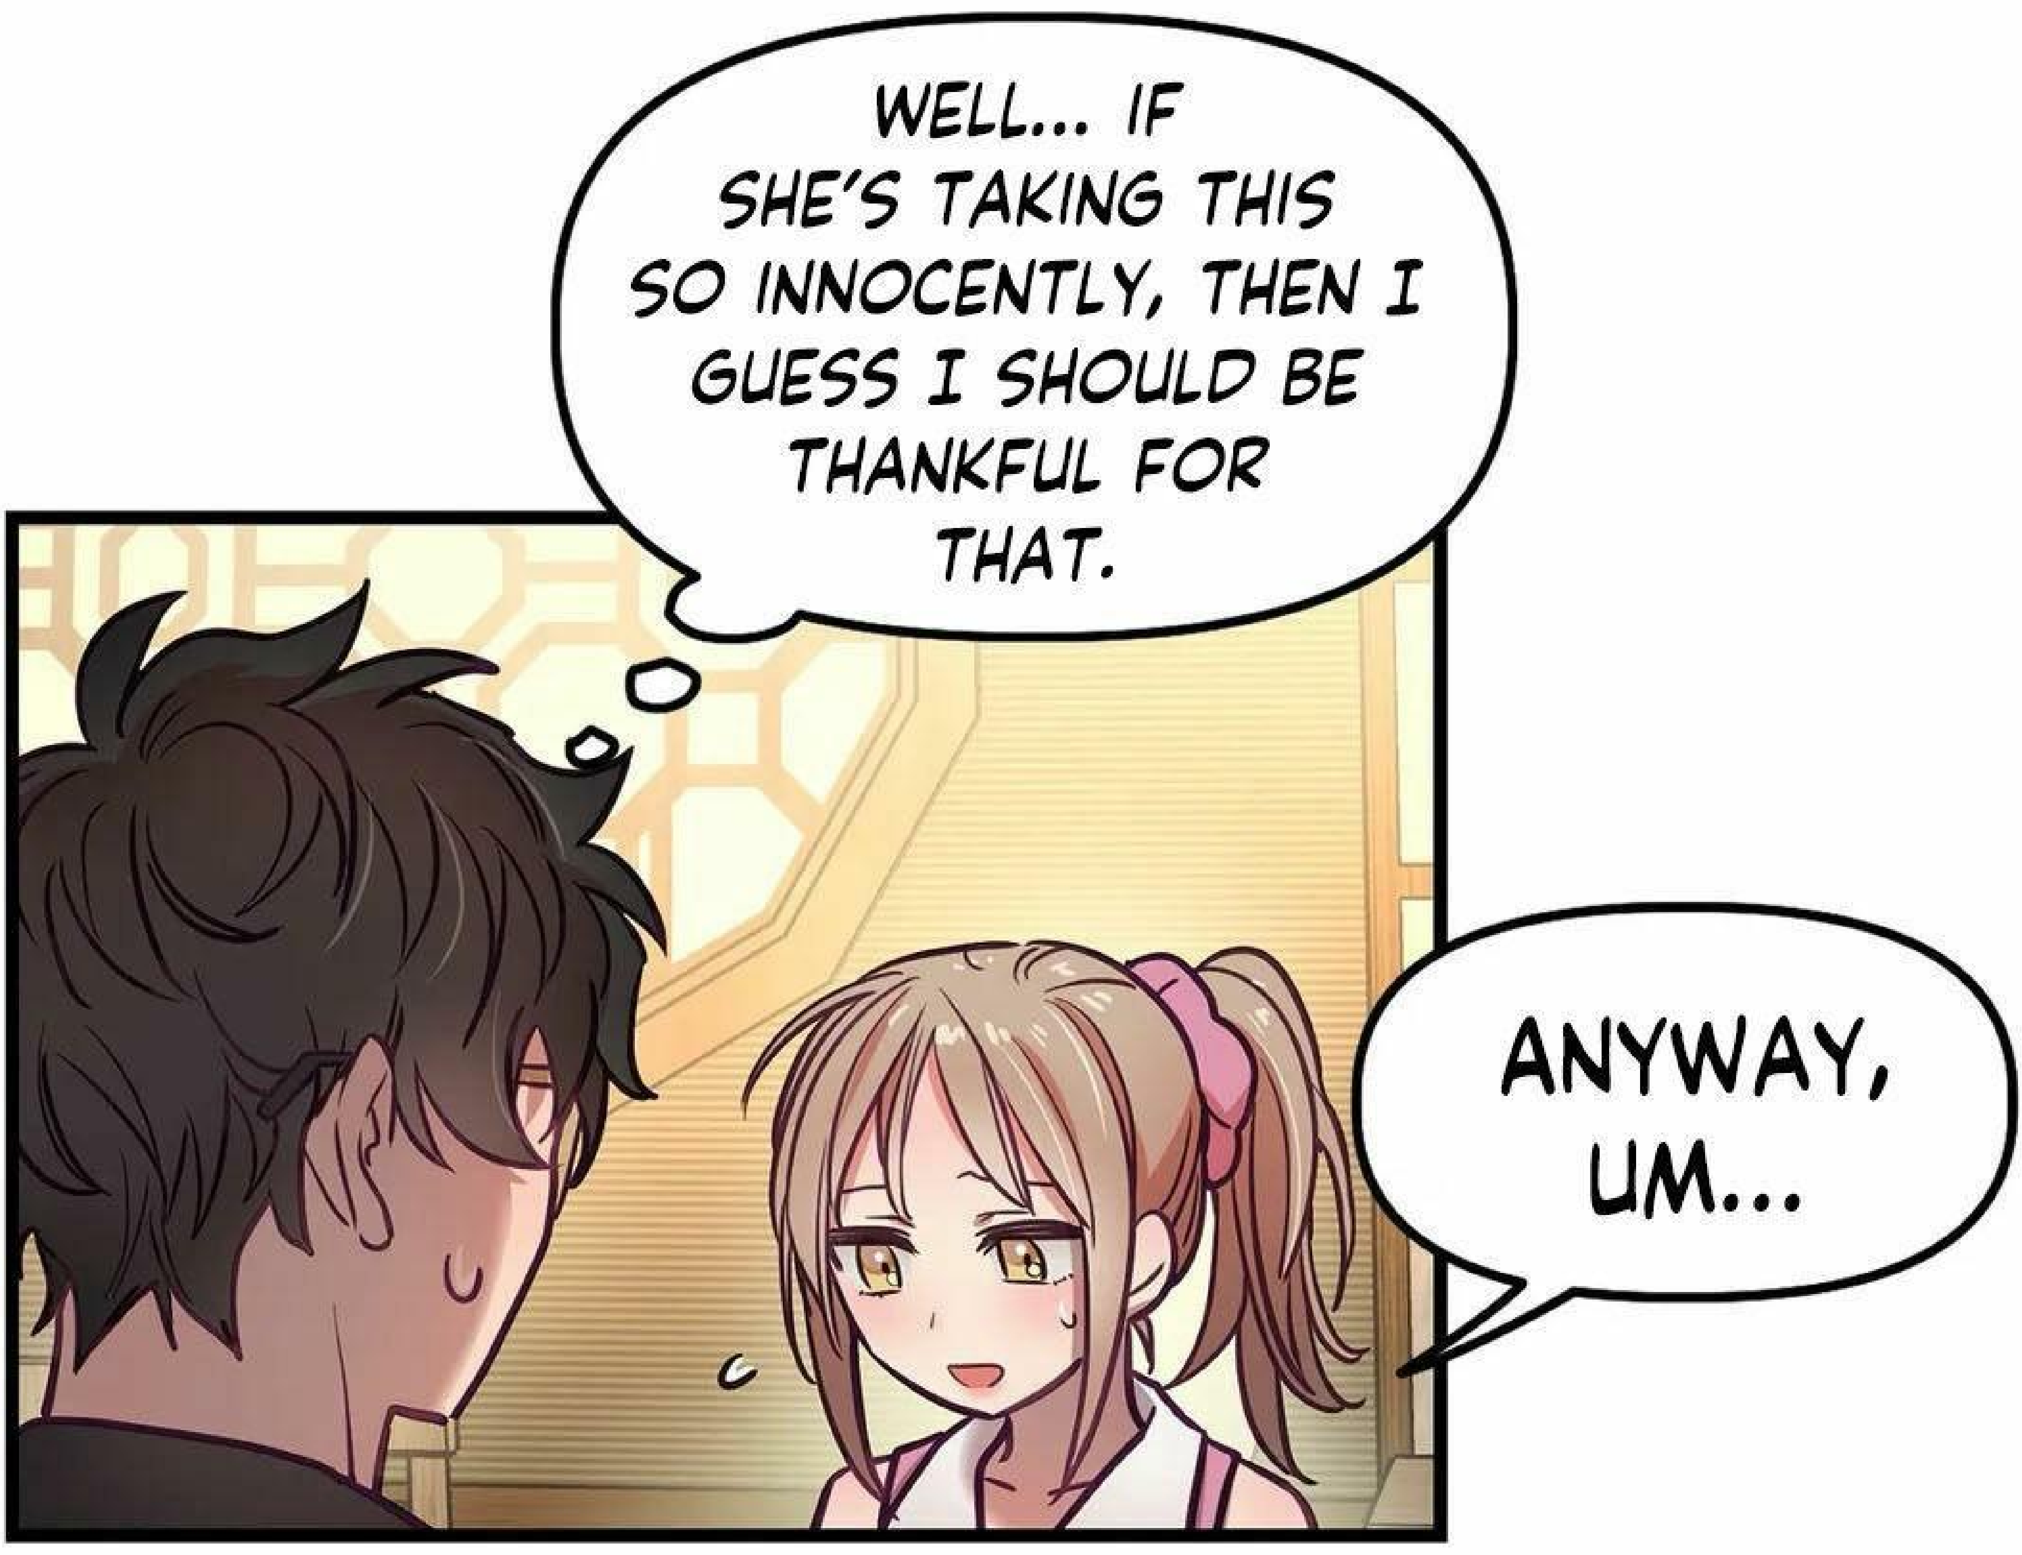

ALSO, YOU'RE ENJOYING OUR POLYGA-MOUS RELATIONSHIP RIGHT NOW. DON'T YOU THINK...
HAVING THREE HUSBANDS WOULDN'T BE CONSIDERED AS HAVING AN AFFAIR?
OF COURSE, SINCE I BROUGHT THIS UP, BEING A WIFE...
OKAY.

...WHAT?
BUT I HAVE TWO QUESTIONS FOR YOU.
FIRST, DOES DOHA REALLY THINK OF ME AS A POTENTIAL MARRIAGE PARTNER?
AND SECOND, WOULD ME BEING HIS WIFE SATISFY THE CHAIRMAN?
...MY UNCLE HAS ONLY HAD ONE WOMAN IN HIS 31 YEARS OF LIFE, AND THAT'S YOU, SEAH.
TL/N (yu): He's referring back to her question, saying that she doesn't need to ask if Doha sees her as a potential marriage partner even if he's 62 and still not particularly concerned about marriage.
THERE WOULDN'T BE A NEED TO ASK EVEN IF HE WAS 62 YEARS OLD AND NOT THINKING ABOUT MARRIAGE.

ABOVE ALL, IF MY UNCLE BRINGS A GIRL HOME, THEN MY GRANDFATHER WOULD HAVE NO CHOICE BUT TO WELCOME HER.
OH, REALLY? THAT'S A RELIEF.
PHEW
BY ANY CHANCE... DID YOU FIND ANY PART OF THE STORY CONFUSING?
YOU'RE SUGGESTING THAT I SHOULD GET MARRIED TO DOHA, RIGHT?
...YES, THAT'S RIGHT.

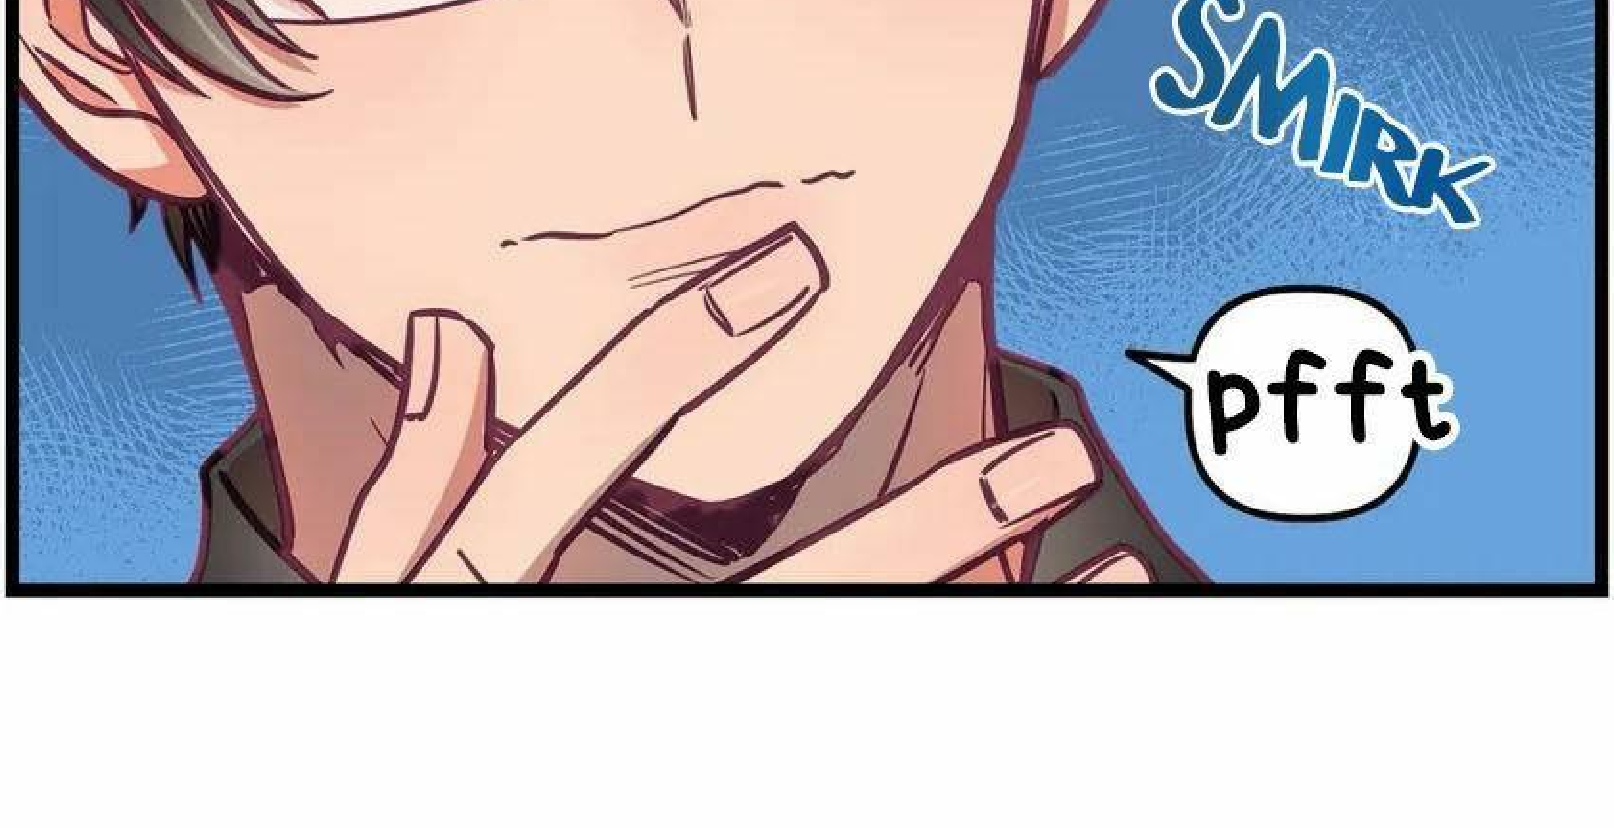

BATOTO SCANS
UNCLE NEEDS TO GET MARRIED RIGHT AWAY, AND I WANT TO CONTINUE TO BE WITH YOU GUYS.
TL/N (yu): "You guys" here refers to Doha x Seah, like them as a married couple.
I'M NOT SURE HOW INTENSE THE FIGHT FOR SUCCESSION WILL BE, BUT I HOPE YOU GUYS STAY SAFE.
CHANGING THE STATUS OF OUR RELA-TIONSHIP WOULDN'T CHANGE WHO WE ARE.
IF I DO GET HURT LATER ON, I CAN JUST RIP THE ALIMONY OFF OF YOU GUYS...
SO IF I TAKE THAT INTO ACCOUNT, I THINK IT'LL BE JUST FINE.
......

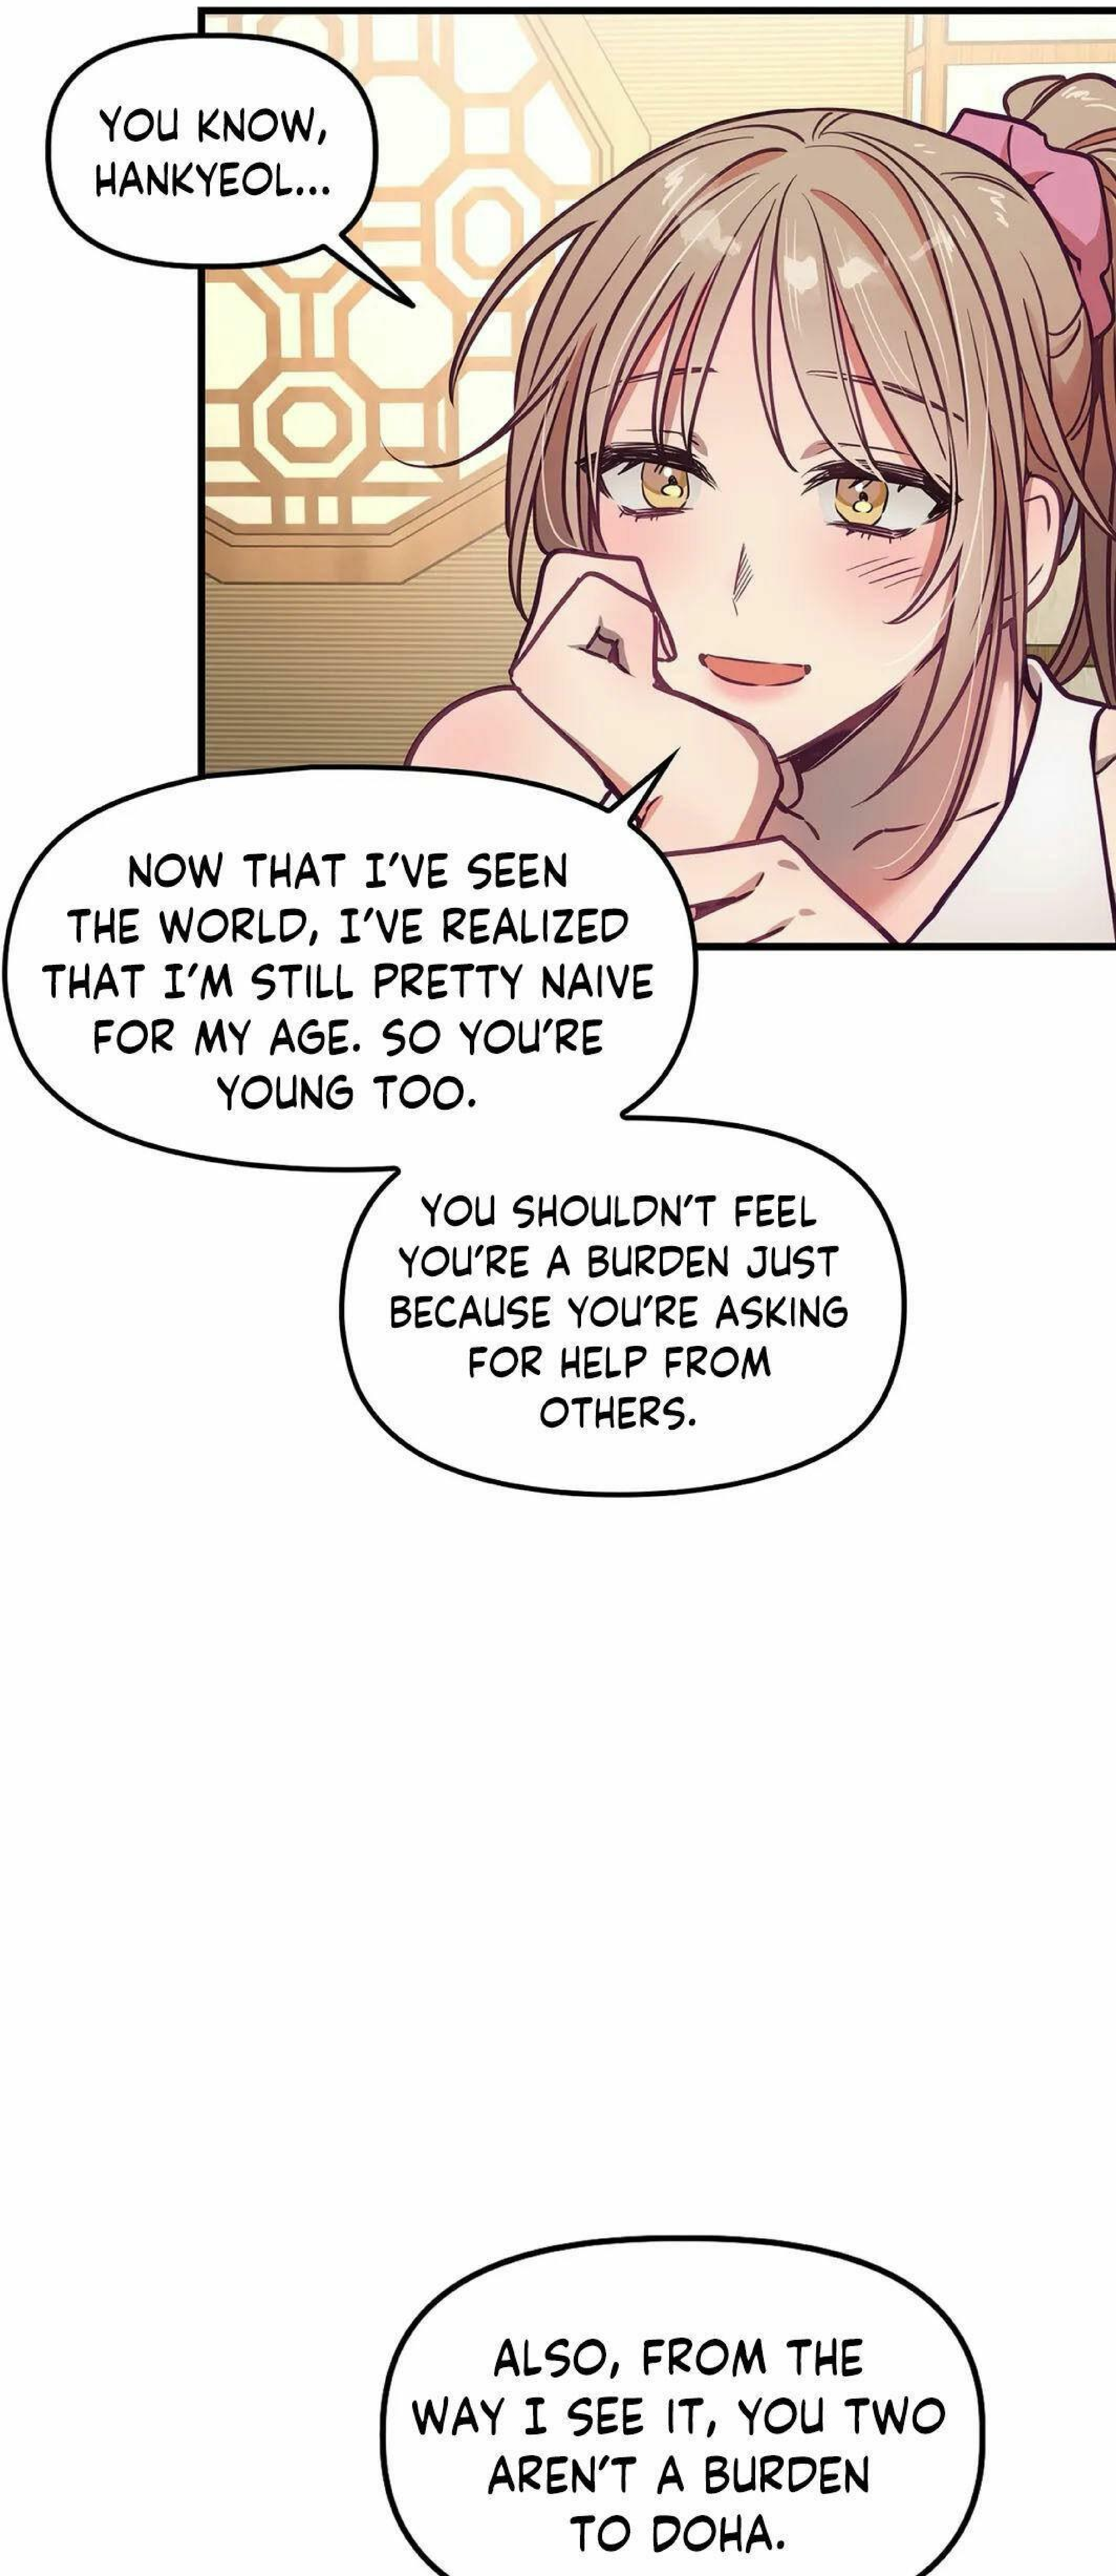

Tl/N (jennis): I think he's trying to say that it won't be that easy to get a divorce in his household, rather than speaking in a condescending manner.

AM I GOING TO BE THE ONE PROPOSING TO DOHA?
?!!

pfft

AHAHAHA!

Darn it.

MENSTRUATION

The Female Reproductive System
BATOTO SCANS
What is Menstruation?
medlineplus.gov
Menstruation, or period, is normal vaginal bleeding that occurs as part of a woman's monthly cycle. Every month, your body prepares for pregnancy. If no pregnancy occurs, the uterus, or womb, sheds its lining. The menstrual blood is partly blood and partly tissue from inside the uterus. It passes out of the body through the vagina.
Periods usually start between age 11 and 14 and continue until menopause at about age 51. They usually last from three to five days. Besides bleeding from the vagina, you may have
BATOTO SCANS
Wait umm... explain more plz
You have 2 ovaries, and each one holds a bunch of eggs. The eggs are super tiny – too small to see with the naked eye.
During your menstrual cycle, hormones make the eggs in your ovaries mature – when an egg is mature, that means it's ready to be fertilized by a sperm cell. These hormones also make the lining of your uterus thick and spongy. So if your egg does get fertilized, it has a nice cushy place to land and start a pregnancy. This lining is made of tissue and blood, like almost everything else inside our bodies. It has lots of nutrients to help a pregnancy grow.
About halfway through your menstrual cycle, your hormones tell one of your ovaries to release a mature egg – this is called ovulation. Most people don't feel it when they ovulate, but some ovulation symptoms are bloating, spotting, or a little pain in your lower belly that you may only feel on one side.
Once the egg leaves your ovary, it travels through one of your fallopian tubes toward your uterus.
BATOTO SCANS
Timing is eveRyThInG
The best time to get pregnant is at the most fertile point in your menstrual cycle. Your 'fertile window' includes five days prior to ovulation and the day of ovulation.
The two days before you ovulate and the day of ovulation have the highest probability of conception. Having sex on those days will give you the greatest odds of conceiving.
During ovulation, your ovary releases a mature egg. That egg makes its way down the fallopian tube on its way to your uterus.
On this route, the sperm will (hopefully) meet up with and fertilize the egg. Sperm can live for about five days. So if you're trying to conceive, your goal is to have live sperm in your Fallopian tubes when you ovulate.

cal model to correct for error in identifying ovulation and to re-estimate the length of the fertile window and day-specific fecundabilities. We estimate the same 6-day fertile interval in both studies after controlling for error. After adjusting for error both data sets showed the highest estimate of the probability of pregnancy on the day prior to ovulation and both fell close to zero after ovulation. Given that the fertile interval is before ovulation, methods that anticipate ovulation by several days (such as the assessment of cervical mucus) would be particularly useful for couples who want to time their intercourse either to avoid or facilitate conception.

About shooting the shot

Sperm health matters

Encourage your partner or sperm donor to consult his health practitioner to support his overall wellness. A man can increase sperm motility and count by taking steps to keep his testicles healthy. This includes not wearing tight pants, not going into hot tubs and not keeping a cell phone or other wireless devices near the testicles. Men might choose to stop smoking or stop using recreational drugs, including all forms of marijuana. Though research is always evolving here, past studies have found that vitamins and supplements such as vitamin C, vitamin E, carnitine, zinc, folate, L-arginine and coenzyme Q10 may contribute to improved sperm counts.

What positions are best?

With hundreds of millions of sperm released in each male orgasm, any unprotected sex around the time of ovulation could result in a pregnancy. As long as sperm enter the vagina, you have a chance to conceive.

No certain positions during sex have been proven to increase likelihood of conception. Yet certain positions may be better than others for ensuring those little swimmers find their way up to the egg. The missionary (man on top) and doggie-style positions (man behind) allow for deeper penetration — bringing sperm in closer proximity to the cervix.

In the standing and woman-on-top positions, gravity works against you. Yet standing up right after sex shouldn't reduce your odds of a pregnancy. Sperm are pretty good swimmers. Once deposited in the vagina, they can reach the cervix within 15 minutes.

The journey is different for everyone~

It can take a while

Most people won't get pregnant the first time they try to conceive—only about 25% of people who are trying to conceive will get pregnant in any given month. I know that sounds discouraging, but I actually think it's helpful to remember—because trying to conceive is stressful, and it can be easy to start to worry that something is wrong. In fact, it's quite normal to not get pregnant right away.

Now, there may come a time when you should seek medical advice. In women age 35 and under (who are using intercourse to get pregnant), infertility is diagnosed when pregnancy has not occurred after 12 or more months of regular, unprotected sex. For women over 35, infertility is diagnosed after six months.

You get to be the boss

The conception journey is very personal—and often very emotional. It can be exciting, scary, disappointing and confusing all at the same time. So check in with yourself often. Assess how you are feeling on an emotional level, and then respond. If you are feeling well, great! But if you need to pause or check in with a therapist along the way, it's completely fine.

You are the boss of your body. Full stop.

You don't have to go it alone.

Never feel embarrassed to ask your midwife or doctor questions about your pelvic or reproductive health. They are not embarrassed to talk about it (ahem, clearly), and you have every right to feel empowered and informed.

Scheduling a pre-conception visit before trying to conceive can be incredibly helpful to ensure that you are as healthy as possible before your journey. And you can always call us with questions you have along the way.

Also intercourse isn't the only way!

There are a lot of ways to make a baby (and they are all beautiful)

Sex ed tends to focus on heterosexual couples that conceive a baby through intercourse. That's certainly one way to do it—but it's definitely not the only way.

LGBTQ+ couples , single mothers and people with infertility concerns use assisted reproductive technologies to conceive their babies every day. And their stories are just as beautiful, powerful and moving as what we learn about in sex ed.

This article focuses on conception through intercourse, but you can learn more about the other amazing ways here: IVF, IUI, ICI, and IVI: There are so many ways to make a family .

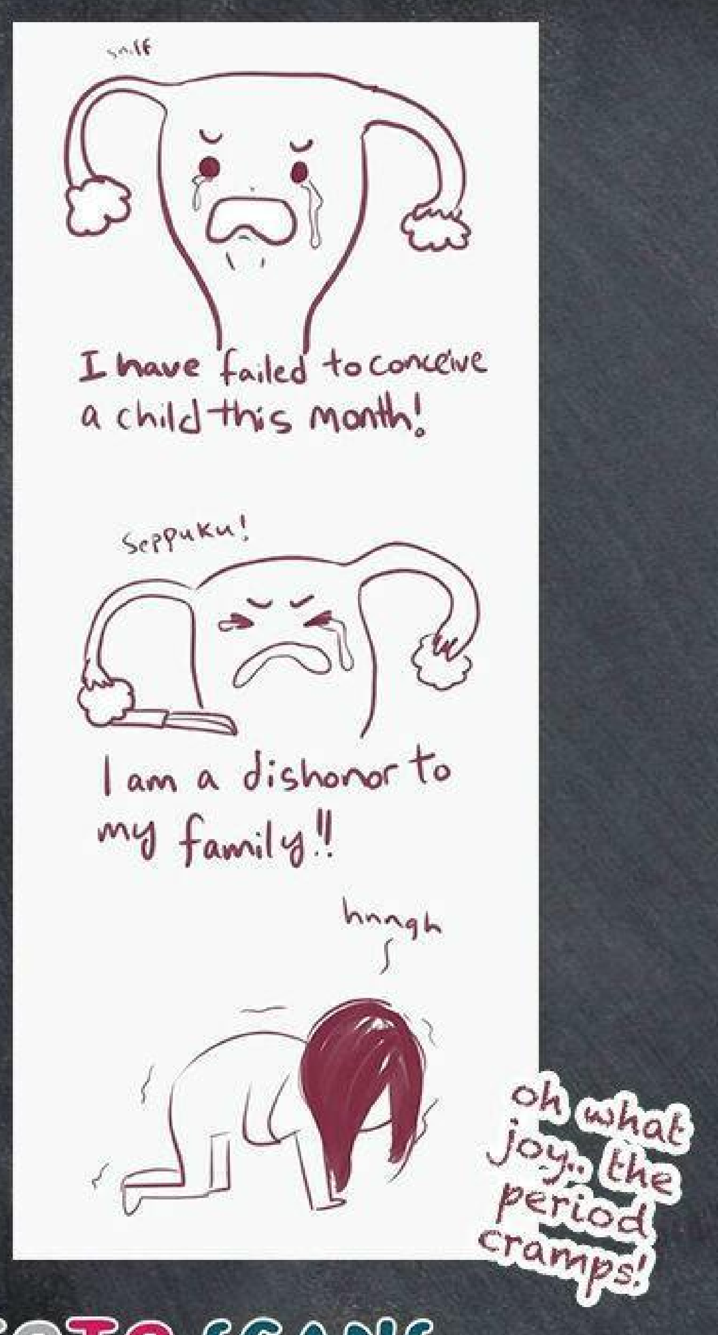

Artificial insemination (where sperm is put in a woman's reproductive system without involving sex) is an increasingly popular option for many people for a variety of reasons. This might be a good choice for you if your partner is not a cisgender male, if you don't have a partner or if you have a male partner who doesn't produce sperm.

In vitro fertilization (IVF): The egg and the sperm meet outside of the body (in a petri dish), and then the fertilized egg is placed into the uterus. This is usually done in cases of infertility, and always by a medical care provider.

Intrauterine insemination (IUI): The sperm is placed directly into the uterus via a very small tube that is passed up the cervix and into the uterus. This is done by a medical provider. The sperm needs to be "washed" by a sperm bank, to remove dead sperm and proteins that would otherwise cause a lot of cramping when they're inserted. IUI has been found to be slightly more effective than ICI (below).

Intracervical insemination (ICI): The sperm is placed into the cervix via a small tube. This is done by a medical provider. This sperm does not have to be washed.

Intravaginal insemination (IVI): The sperm is placed into the vagina with a syringe. Many people choose to do this at home by themselves.

Disclaimer

The topic for today is polygamous relationship including its sexual activities. It might be triggering for some people and be considered as 'cheating'. However our intention is only for informational purposes, so you can just skip this part as well as any negativity/shaming.

Thank you for reading! :>

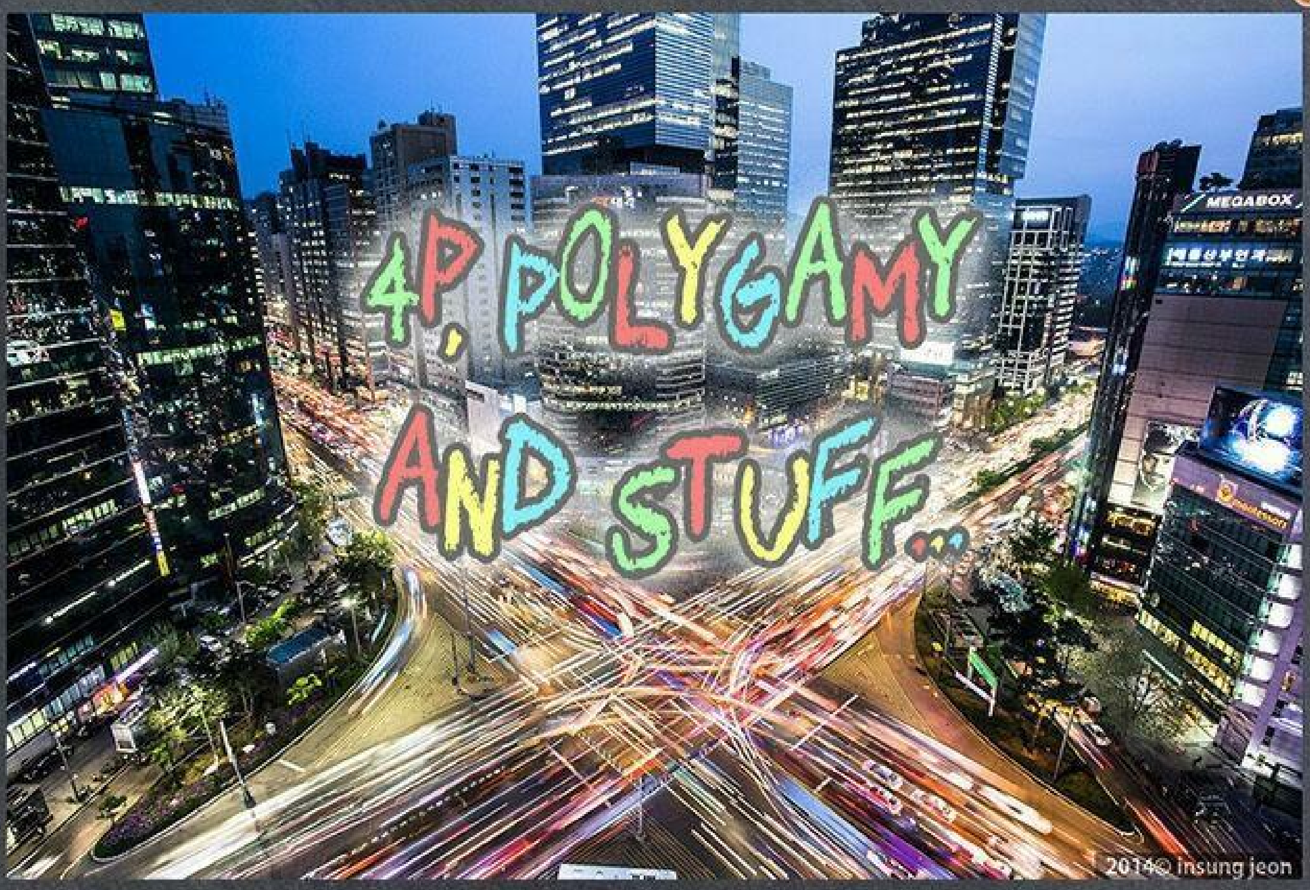

LEARN NEW THINGS WITH Him Him & Him.

In chapter 14 we saw Seah proposed to him, him and him wink wink

And today sob our lovely girl is in her wedding gown..

So what exactly is their relationship?

It would be something of:

An open relationship means having more than one romantic or sexual partner at a time. It's an arrangement that both parties agree is non-exclusive or non-monogamous. As one or both partners engage in romantic or sexual activities outside the relationship, the arrangement's partners engage in romantic or sexual activities outside the relationship, the arrangement's agreement aspect is key.

Other Names for Open Relationships

Another name for an open relationship is "consensual non-monogamy." Both parties agree that a relationship is non-monogamous. "Non-monogamy," "polyamory," and "polyamorous relationship" also refer to an open relationship.

"Polygamy" refers to having more than one spouse at the same time. This is not legal in the U.S. If a marriage is non-monogamous, it may be called an "open marriage."

More into non-monogamy polyamory, polygamy, polygyny, polyandry, polly jolly, wait... what?

In short, polyamory is the act of having intimate relationships with more than one person at the same time. A polyamorous person might have or might be open to having multiple romantic partners.

Polygamy, on the other hand, involves being married to multiple partners.

Some polyamorous people are married and have partners outside of their marriage. However, polygamy exclusively describes relationships where people are married.

Polyandry and polygyny are both forms of polygamy (in other words, they involve marriage too).

So uh... what's the different again?

Marriage

While polyamory is about intimate relationships of all kinds (including dating and marriage), polygamy specifically refers to marriage, as does polygyny and polyandry.

Gender

Polyamory and polygamy are both gender-neutral terms. They can refer to women having multiple partners of any gender, men having multiple partners of any gender, or nonbinary people having partners of any gender.

Polygyny specifically refers to a man who has multiple wives. Polyandry refers to a woman who has multiple husbands.

In practice, polygyny is far more common than polyandry.

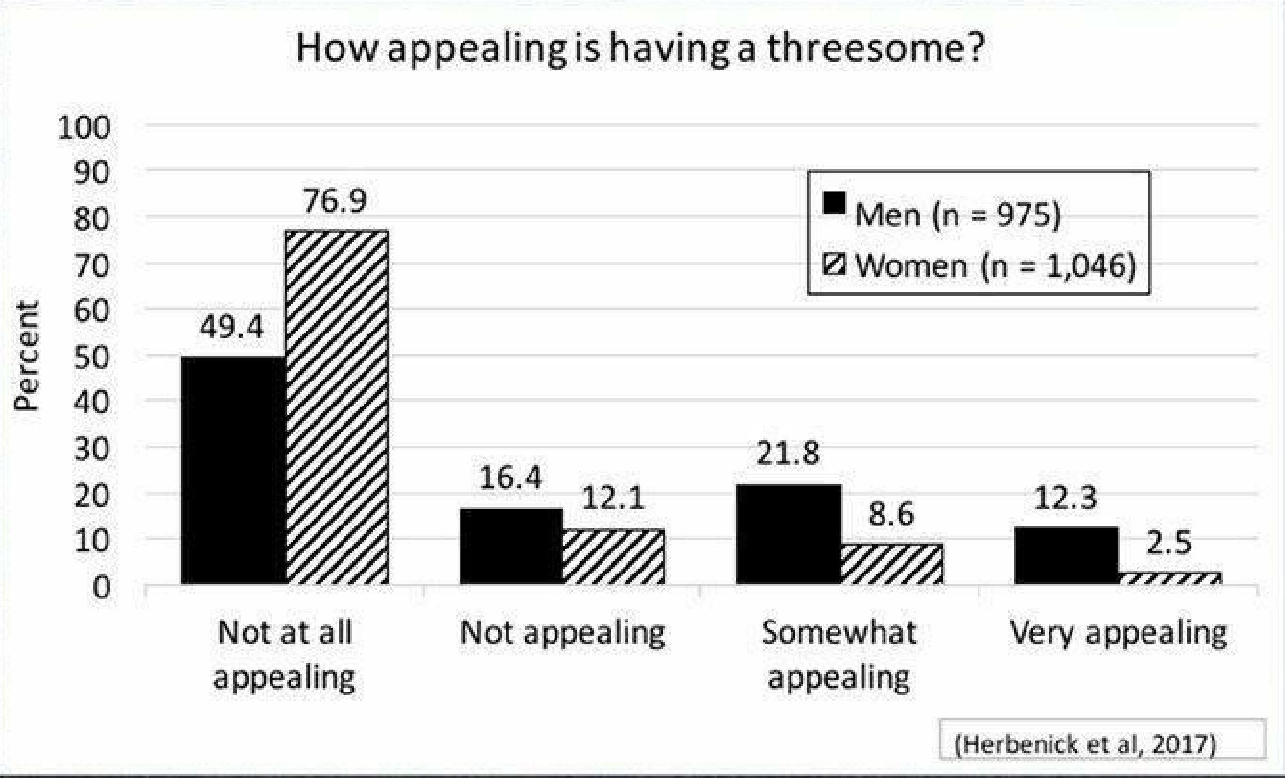

Yes ma'am that's Seah our gurll

But why poly?

- You or your partner feel attracted to others while still feeling attracted to each other.
- You or your partner want to love multiple people at the same time.
- One person may not want to have sex, or do certain sex acts or kinks, while the other wants to.
- You might want to experience romantic love or sex with someone of a different gender than your partner.
- The idea of dating multiple people feels liberating and appealing to you.
- You're interested in experimenting out of curiosity.

Still iffy about this?

That's okay, a lot of people agree with you*

*data pulled from the survey of Debbie Herbenick and colleagues in the journal PLOS ONE that uses a nationally representative sample of over 2,000 U.S. adults aged 18+ about the appeal of sexual acts and kinks

(Herbenick D, Bowling J, Fu T-C(, Dodge B, Guerra-Reyes L, Sanders S (2017) Sexual diversity in the United States: Results from a nationally representative probability sample of adult women and men. PLOS ONE 12(7): e0181198. https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0181198

That was only the fantasy of threesome in monogamy, let alone the discussion of polygamy, but if you'd like to have a new perspective, there's a Ted talk called Changing the Way We Think About Consensual Non-monogamy | Nirel Marofsky

If you do choose to act out your fantasy

Whether it's a one-time thing or in a polygamous term

- ✓ Safer sex precautions are non-negotiable.
- ✓ Communication is more important than anything else you do the whole night.
- ✓ Don't forget that everyone involved is a person, not just a sex partner.
- ✓ Don't be afraid to take a break if you or anyone reaches a point where they aren't sure about continuing.
- ✓ Don't even think about trying to have a threesome to impress your boyfriend/a man.
- ✓ Find someone who is looking for the same things you are.
- ✓ Role-play using sex toys.
- ✓ Don't pretend like you're having a good time if you aren't!
- ✓ It's totally cool if you want to have one threesome and then never do it again.

IT'S BEEN MORE THAN FIVE YEARS SINCE CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL MARRIED, BUT THERE WAS NO SIGN OF A SUCCESSOR SO HE FINALLY DECIDED TO GO SEE A FORTUNE TELLER.
CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL HAD HIS FIRST CHILD AFTER THE FORTUNE TELLER USED A TALISMAN, AFTER THIS, HE STARTED TO PUT HIS FULL TRUST IN THE FORTUNE TELLER.

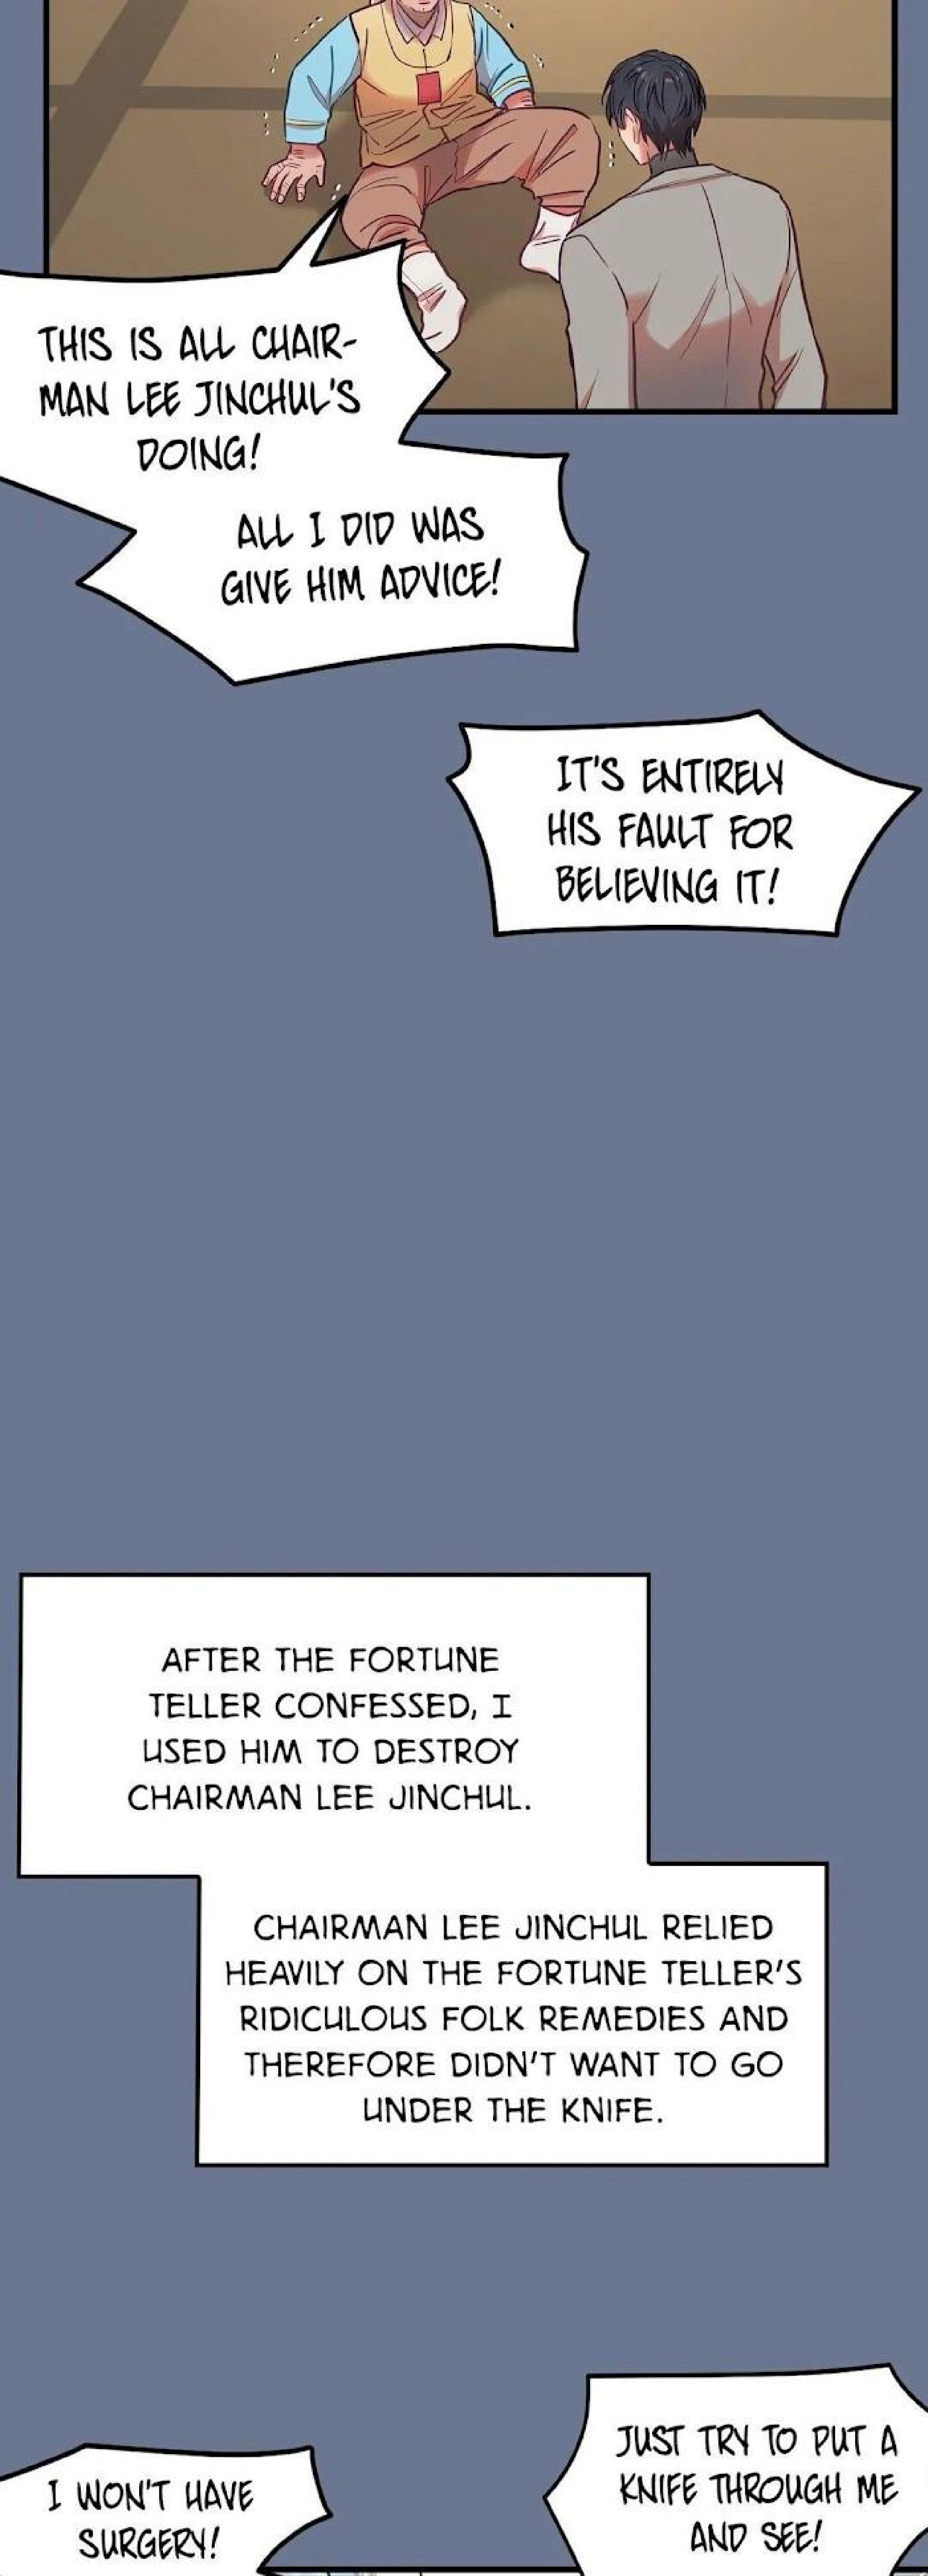

THE FORTUNE TELLER TOLD THE CHAIRMAN THAT IF HE WANTED TO HAVE A SON, HE WOULD NEED TO HAVE A RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DAUGHTER OF A SUBCONTRACTOR WHO WAS AROUND TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER THAN HIM.

AND THAT DAUGHTER WAS MY MOTHER, CHOI SUJIN.

EVEN THOUGH MY MOTHER GAVE BIRTH TO ME, SHE SUF-FERED FROM THE HANDS OF CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL AND DIED AT A VERY YOUNG AGE.
AS TIME WENT BY, CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL'S HEALTH DETERIORATED SO I WENT TO MEET THE FORTUNE TELLER.
ARGH! STOP!
I-I DIDN'T DO ANYTHING WRONG!

THIS IS ALL CHAIR-MAN LEE JINCHUL'S DOING!
ALL I DID WAS GIVE HIM ADVICE!
IT'S ENTIRELY HIS FAULT FOR BELIEVING IT!
AFTER THE FORTUNE TELLER CONFESSED, I USED HIM TO DESTROY CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL.
CHAIRMAN LEE JINCHUL RELIED HEAVILY ON THE FORTUNE TELLER'S RIDICULOUS FOLK REMEDIES AND THEREFORE DIDN'T WANT TO GO UNDER THE KNIFE.
I WON'T HAVE SURGERY!
JUST TRY TO PUT A KNIFE THROUGH ME AND SEE!

I DON'T WANT TO!
THAT'LL BE THE END FOR ALL OF YOU!

I'll write the Sex Ed endnotes for you! The Uncle can only get hard watching other people doing it. He's what is called a voyeur, fetish called voyeurism. This is also a symptom of Porn Addiction in men, who watched so much porn they've rewired their brain to only get erect while watching
Special shoutout to these amazing comments for giving us ideas as well as educating us!

The importance of urination and keeping sex toys clean:
It's important for both men and women to pee after sex. Having sex can lead to UTIs and peeing prevents this, as urine's pH can burn away the bacteria that causes UTI. Further more, it's also important for sex toys to be cleaned for the same reasons! Or use condoms on them, especially porous toys that are used anally.
On top of just cleanliness post-sex, it's also important to remember the rule:
You can go to mouth to genitals, genitals to mouth, but you should never go anal to ANYWHERE expect to clean your 'self'- Fingers, penis, or sex toy! Our anuses, even with a enema, can still carry bacteria, so it's super important to remember this.
Also douching of vagina is a big no-no. Our vaginas aren't meant to smell like flowers in a summer breeze. Douching can lead to many health problems, it's linked to vaginal infections and sexually transmitted infections since it can kill off the vagina's nature "cleansing" bacteria it already has! Repeated douching can lead to bacterial vagionosis (you can smell it!), pelvic inflammatory disease, increase cervical cancer rates, low birth rate, etc. OB/GYNs just recommend you using regular water, no soap! as soap can kill natural occurring bacteria down there.
Again, if you're having problems with redness, sensitivity, smell, discolouration, discharge, or discomfort- see your doctor or OB/GYN!

Alright here's some sex education: don't have sex with a condom in water because it causes a lot of friction, which leads to condom breakage. Plus, the lube will be washed away so it won't be enjoyable. Just info for those who don't know. We all want to be safe here!

BATOTO SCANS
You can use condoms on sex toys, it's specially recommended with anal toys. You should make sure the lube on the sex toy is also works with the type of material of your sex toys. Dawn dish soap is the cheap, easy way of cleaning your toys. But some toys may come with a recommended cleaner. Honestly, I recommend Dawn Dish soap since it tends to be hypoallergenic in general and gentle on most types of material.
It's recommended you just use separate toys for anal play VS any other hole play. Even with condoms, unless you're sterilizing them between hole use.
ALSO, make sure to use the RIGHT LUBE on the RIGHT sex toy material. Google will tell you if you the material of your toy is good with your lube! There are different lube choices for toys AND holes. You should be careful of anything that desensitizes you, as pain is a good indicator that something is WRONG.

np! feel free to ask me stuff. I was a nursing student who switched to social work. So I did sexual education to I/DD community for a while, teaching boundaries and good relationship habits. I think it's super important people feel comfortable talking about sex, especially with their partners.

LE Hammerin' the ol' Cervix
Sometimes a penis or toy is large and can hit the entrance of the cervix. This is okay! Unless it causes pain, bleeding (outside of periods), or discharge. When the cervix is unhealthy, if pressure or stimulation is applied to it- it can cause pain, bleeding/discharge. You need to see a doctor ASAP! You'll also see frequent, painful urination, also pain during sex, persistent, unusual vaginal discharge that could include bleeding/spotting between periods or fluid/mucus.
Otherwise, if there is no pain, discharge or spotting between period and you're seeing your doctor regularly for ol'check, you should be fine with getting it hammered. If you feel pain, however, you should stop! Sometimes too much abuse (looking at you subs!) can be a bad thing.
Pain also includes for anal on stopping too. The anus heals A L O T slower the vagina or mouth. So if you are rough anally, serious complications can occur. Pain during any action is a sign something is a wrong and you should ALWAYS feel comfortable expressing this to your partner. Even losing your virginity can hurt, but it should not be overtly painful. If something feels wrong, stop! Yes, it kills the mood, but your body and comfort is important for long term sexual health.

WHAT DOES IT HAVE TO DO WITH HONEYMOON?

MOST PEOPLE REGARD THE "HONEYMOON" AS A VACATION FOR NEWLYWEDS, BUT ITS ORIGINS IS SAID TO MEAN AS AN "ESCAPE".
THE VACATION IS AN ESCAPE FOR THE BRIDE AND THE GROOM TO AVOID THE FATHER OF THE BRIDE.

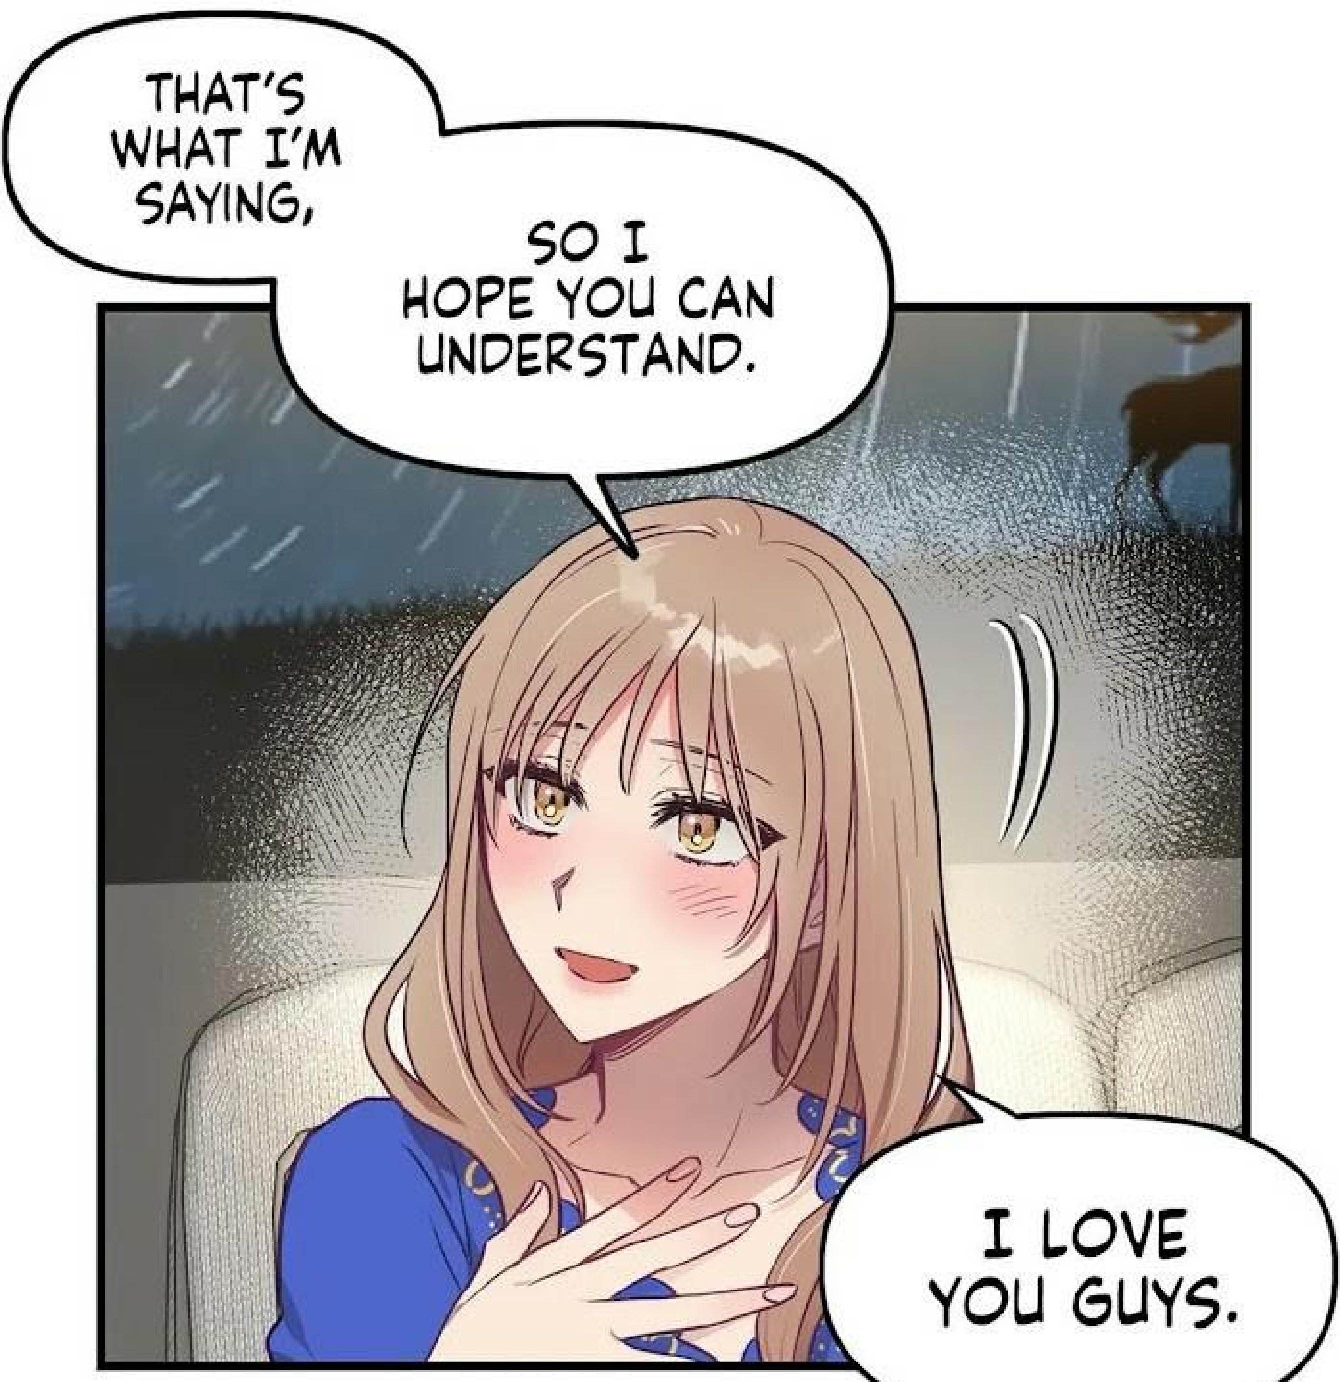

IN THE EYES OF THE BRIDE'S FATHER, THE GROOM IS THE BASTARD WHO STOLE HIS DAUGHTER AWAY.
IF THE COUPLE HAD SUCCESSFULLY ESCAPED THE BRIDE'S FATHER, THEY SHARE A GLASS OF HONEY FOR EACH VICTORIOUS DAY.
BUT AS YOU KNOW, IN THE OLD DAYS, THIS IS CONSIDERED SCANDA-LOUS BUT THRILLING AT THE SAME TIME.
THE TENSION, NERVOUSNESS, AND ANXIETY PILES UP.

ONCE THEIR ESCAPE ENDS WITHOUT THEM GETTING CAUGHT, IT'S BEEN SAID THAT THE COUPLE'S BOND AND AFFECTION WOULD BECOME RELIABLY STRONGER.
NOW THAT YOU ARE HERE, NOTHING IS AMISS AND OUR FAMILY IS COMPLETE, SO...
I'M REALLY HAPPY.

REALLY?
I THINK IT WILL STILL BE FINE, EVEN IF I'M NOT HERE.

DOESN'T THIS PLACE HAVE MEANING BECAUSE OF THE PEOPLE WHO ARE HERE TOGETHER?
It broke...
...I'll buy another one, so throw it away.

...

THAT'S WHAT I'M SAYING,
SO I HOPE YOU CAN UNDERSTAND.
I LOVE YOU GUYS.

A LOT MORE THAN YOU THINK.

Hello!
Him&Him&Him is back!
And so is our little corner!
Hope you guys like it ❤

Learn new things with Him&Him&Him.

What is honeymoon?

A honeymoon is a vacation taken by newlyweds immediately after their wedding, to celebrate their marriage. Today, honeymoons are often celebrated in destinations considered exotic or romantic.

Etymology

The etymology of the word comes from the Old English "hony moone."

Hony, a reference to honey, refers to the "indefinite period of tenderness and pleasure experienced by a newly wed couple," and how sweet the new marriage is.

Moone, meanwhile, refers to the fleeting amount of time that sweetness would last.

While honeymoon has a positive connotation today, it was first used as a term to warn newlyweds about waning love.

But... what does he mean?

Despite the modern day concept of intimacy and seclusion, post-wedding vacations aka honeymoon haven't always been quite so so enjoyable.

In fact, honeymoons have a pretty horrible history.

Here, some of the more shocking traditions.

Kidnapping

Yes, kidnapping. According to some historians, the honeymoon is a relic of "marriage by capture".

The groom would hide his kidnapped bride away for months until their family stopped looking for them or they became pregnant, at which point it was considered too late for the marriage to be nullified.

It is believed some poorer men did this to avoid having to pay the woman's family a dowry in areas such as China, South America, East and South Asia, Africa, and some Romani communities.

A month of wine

OK, so in principle, this sounds fantastic – but in truth it was pretty grim.

The idea of a "honeymoon" dates back as far as the fifth century in a number of European cultures when time was measured in moon cycles.

At their wedding, couples were presented with a "moon" (or roughly one month's) worth of mead, which was an alcoholic honey wine, to drink together.

Mead was believed to be an aphrodisiac, so couples were expected to binge on wine for 30 days to get drunk enough to establish sexual intimacy.

It was then hoped that the couple would conceive their first child during this time.

So many historians believe the term "honeymoon" was born from this concept: it's a moon's worth of honey wine.

Sounds romantic when Hankyeol said it, but drink Mead for a whole month so your libido always up high?

Thankfully, the honeymoon concept has grown into a much more luxury affair.

Honeymoons in the modern sense—a pure holiday voyage undertaken by the couple—became widespread during the Belle Époque, in the late 1800s as one of the first instances of modern mass tourism.

BUT!

Have you ever heard of honeymoonitis?

Honeymoon cystitis, or 'honeymoonitis' is a very real medical condition that occurs from an abundance of sex that can lead to UTIs caused by bacteria that spreads into the urinary tract.

Cystitis is the medical name for inflammation of the bladder. Typically, this inflammation occurs as a result of bacterial infection and is classified as a urinary tract infection.

It's perfectly okay to have a painful first night, or having a long session of sex during honeymoon. Just watch out if you faced some symptoms below!

Some of the symptoms and signs of honeymoon cystitis are as follows:

* A strong and persistent desire to pass urine
* A sensation of burning while passing urine
* Passing a small quantity of urine frequently
* Hematuria (presence of blood in your urine)
* Foamy urine
* Urine with a strong smell
* Pelvic discomfort
* Low-grade fever
* Feeling discomfort or pressure in the lower abdominal region

Don't let honeymoonitis ruins your Honeymoon! How to prevent and treat it when you've got one!

* Pee as soon as you can after having sexual intercourse
* Drink a lot of water
* Avoid using scented soap or talcum powder around the genital area
* Go to the bathroom the moment you feel the urge to pee. Always empty your urinary bladder fully
* Wiping from front to back
* Don't use tight undies & pants
* Take showers rather than baths

You may want to drink cranberry juice on a regular basis, as it appears that it can protect from cystitis by preventing bacteria from sticking to the walls of the bladder.
However, cranberry juice can't actually cure an existing bladder infection once you've got one.

Him & Him & Him.

Oh.
HE GOT HARD AGAIN.
IT LOOKS LIKE A BANANA.
BANANA...

BANANA?
DO YOU WANT TO EAT A BANANA?

THERE'S THIS SUGAR-COATED BANANA, IT COMES WITH A SOUFFLE PANCAKE...
IT'S REALLY DELICIOUS WHEN PAIRED WITH A SOUFFLE.
THE ONE THAT YOU ATE AT TERIUM CAFE? I REMEMBER YOU LIKED IT.
Yes! That's right, that one! Can we go eat it right now?

AH!
It's probably closed now...
Sniffle
I'LL HAVE THEM OPEN! I'LL PAY ANY PRICE SO THAT IT WON'T BE A BOTHER TO THEM, AND I'LL ASK IF THEY CAN MAKE YOU A PANCAKE.

NOONA, I'M HERE!

QC/N: She's not really calling him pretty per se, but it's a compliment like you're so freaking cute or good (for doing this).

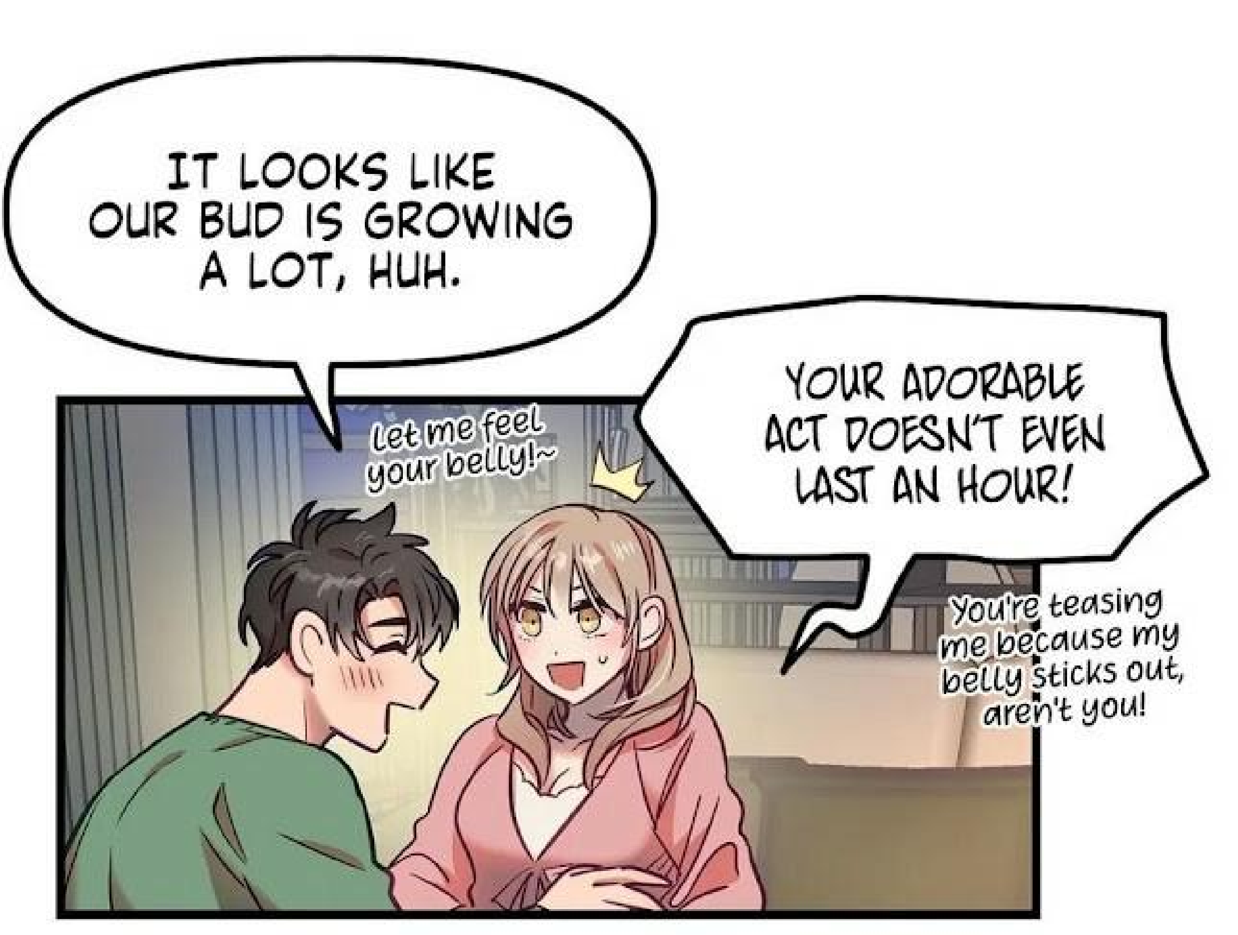

THIS IS THE TASTE OF HAPPINESS...
Enchanted~
YOU LIKE IT THAT MUCH?
IT'S REALLY STRANGE. I CAN'T CONTROL MYSELF FOR SOME REASON.
I FEEL LIKE I'LL GO CRAZY IF I CAN'T EAT SOMETHING.

BY THE WAY, I'M THE ONLY ONE EATING. I'M SORRY, HANKYEOM. YOU'RE THE ONE WHO BOUGHT IT.

I BOUGHT IT FOR NOONA.
SO THAT NOONA AND BUD CAN EAT IT TOGETHER.

IS THIS THE ULTRASOUND PICTURE YOU TOOK TODAY?

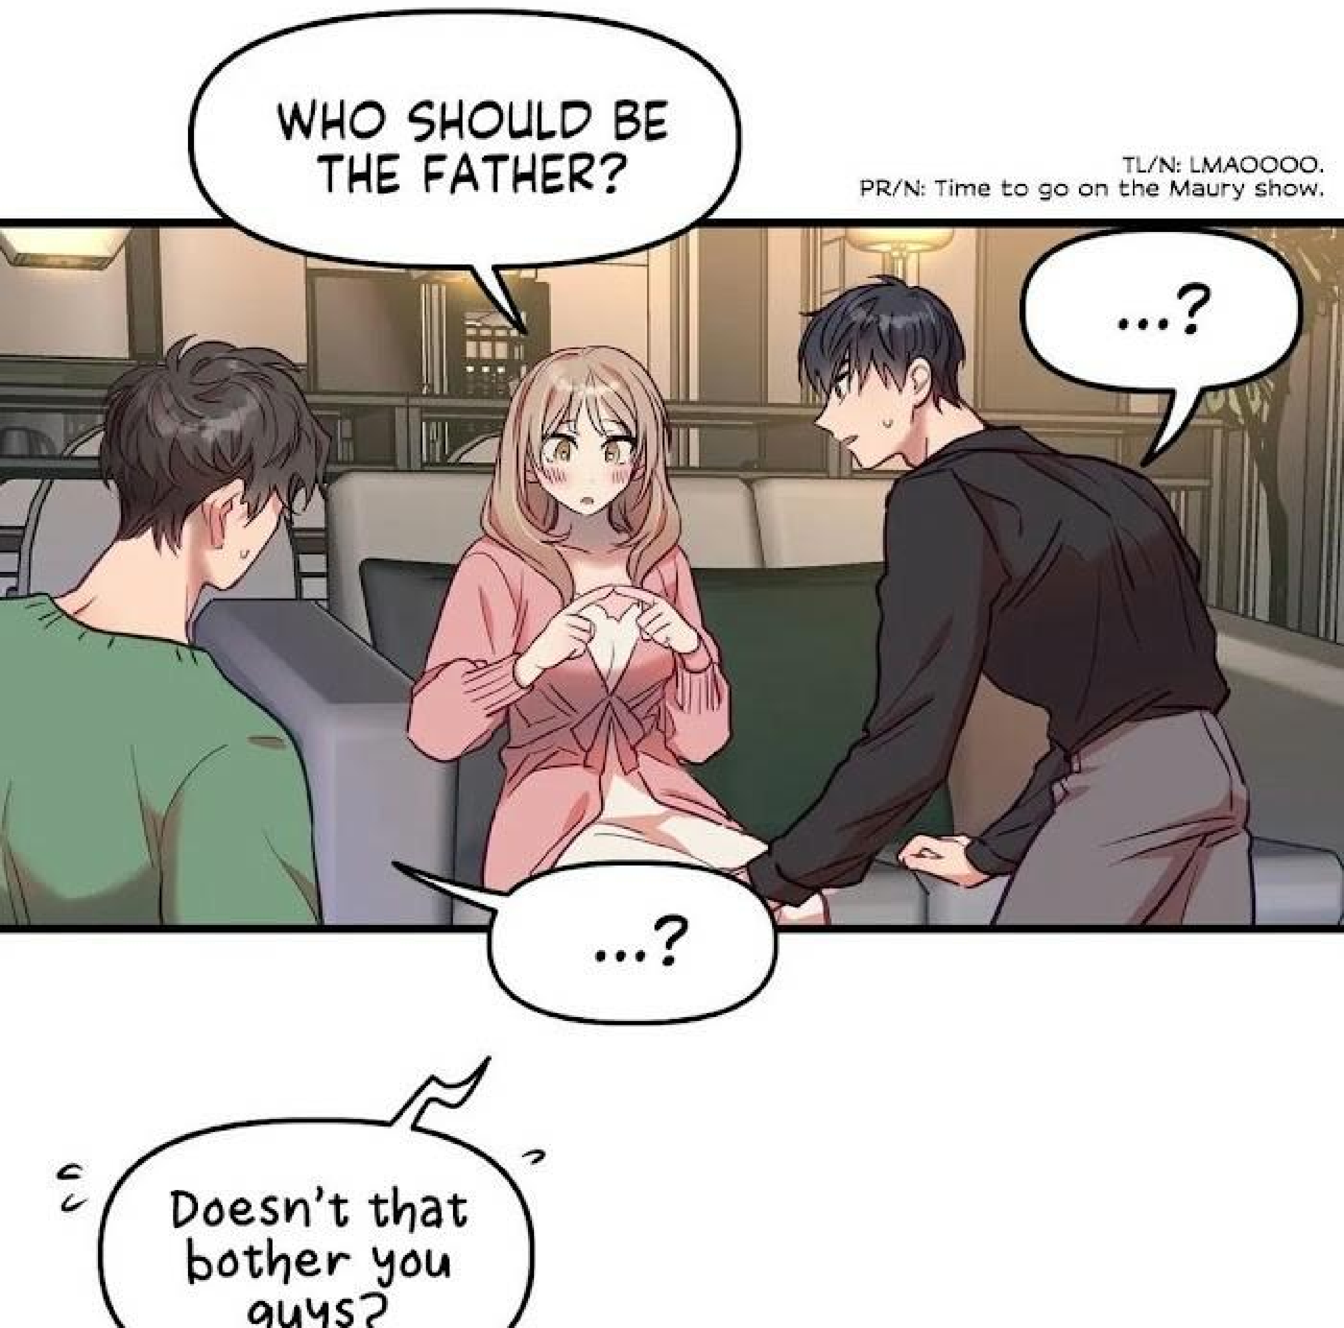

THAT'S RIGHT. ISN'T IT CUTE?
1.5 HEADS. IT LOOKS LIKE AN ALIEN.
HUH...? OH. THE ROUND HEAD, WITHOUT LIMBS, LOOKS LIKE A BEAR JELLY.

IT LOOKS LIKE OUR BUD IS GROWING A LOT, HUH.
Let me feel your belly!~
YOUR ADORABLE ACT DOESN'T EVEN LAST AN HOUR!
You're teasing me because my belly sticks out, aren't you!

AH...
NOONA, ARE YOU UPSET?
I'LL REMOVE HIM FROM YOUR SIGHT.
NO, THAT'S NOT IT. I'M JUST SO ANXIOUS LATELY.
I was thinking about Bud when you said my belly is growing...

CAN YOU TELL ME WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND? anxious?!
Lean
THAT'S RIGHT. TELL US, NOONA. A MOTHER'S MENTAL HEALTH IS A HUSBAND'S DUTY.

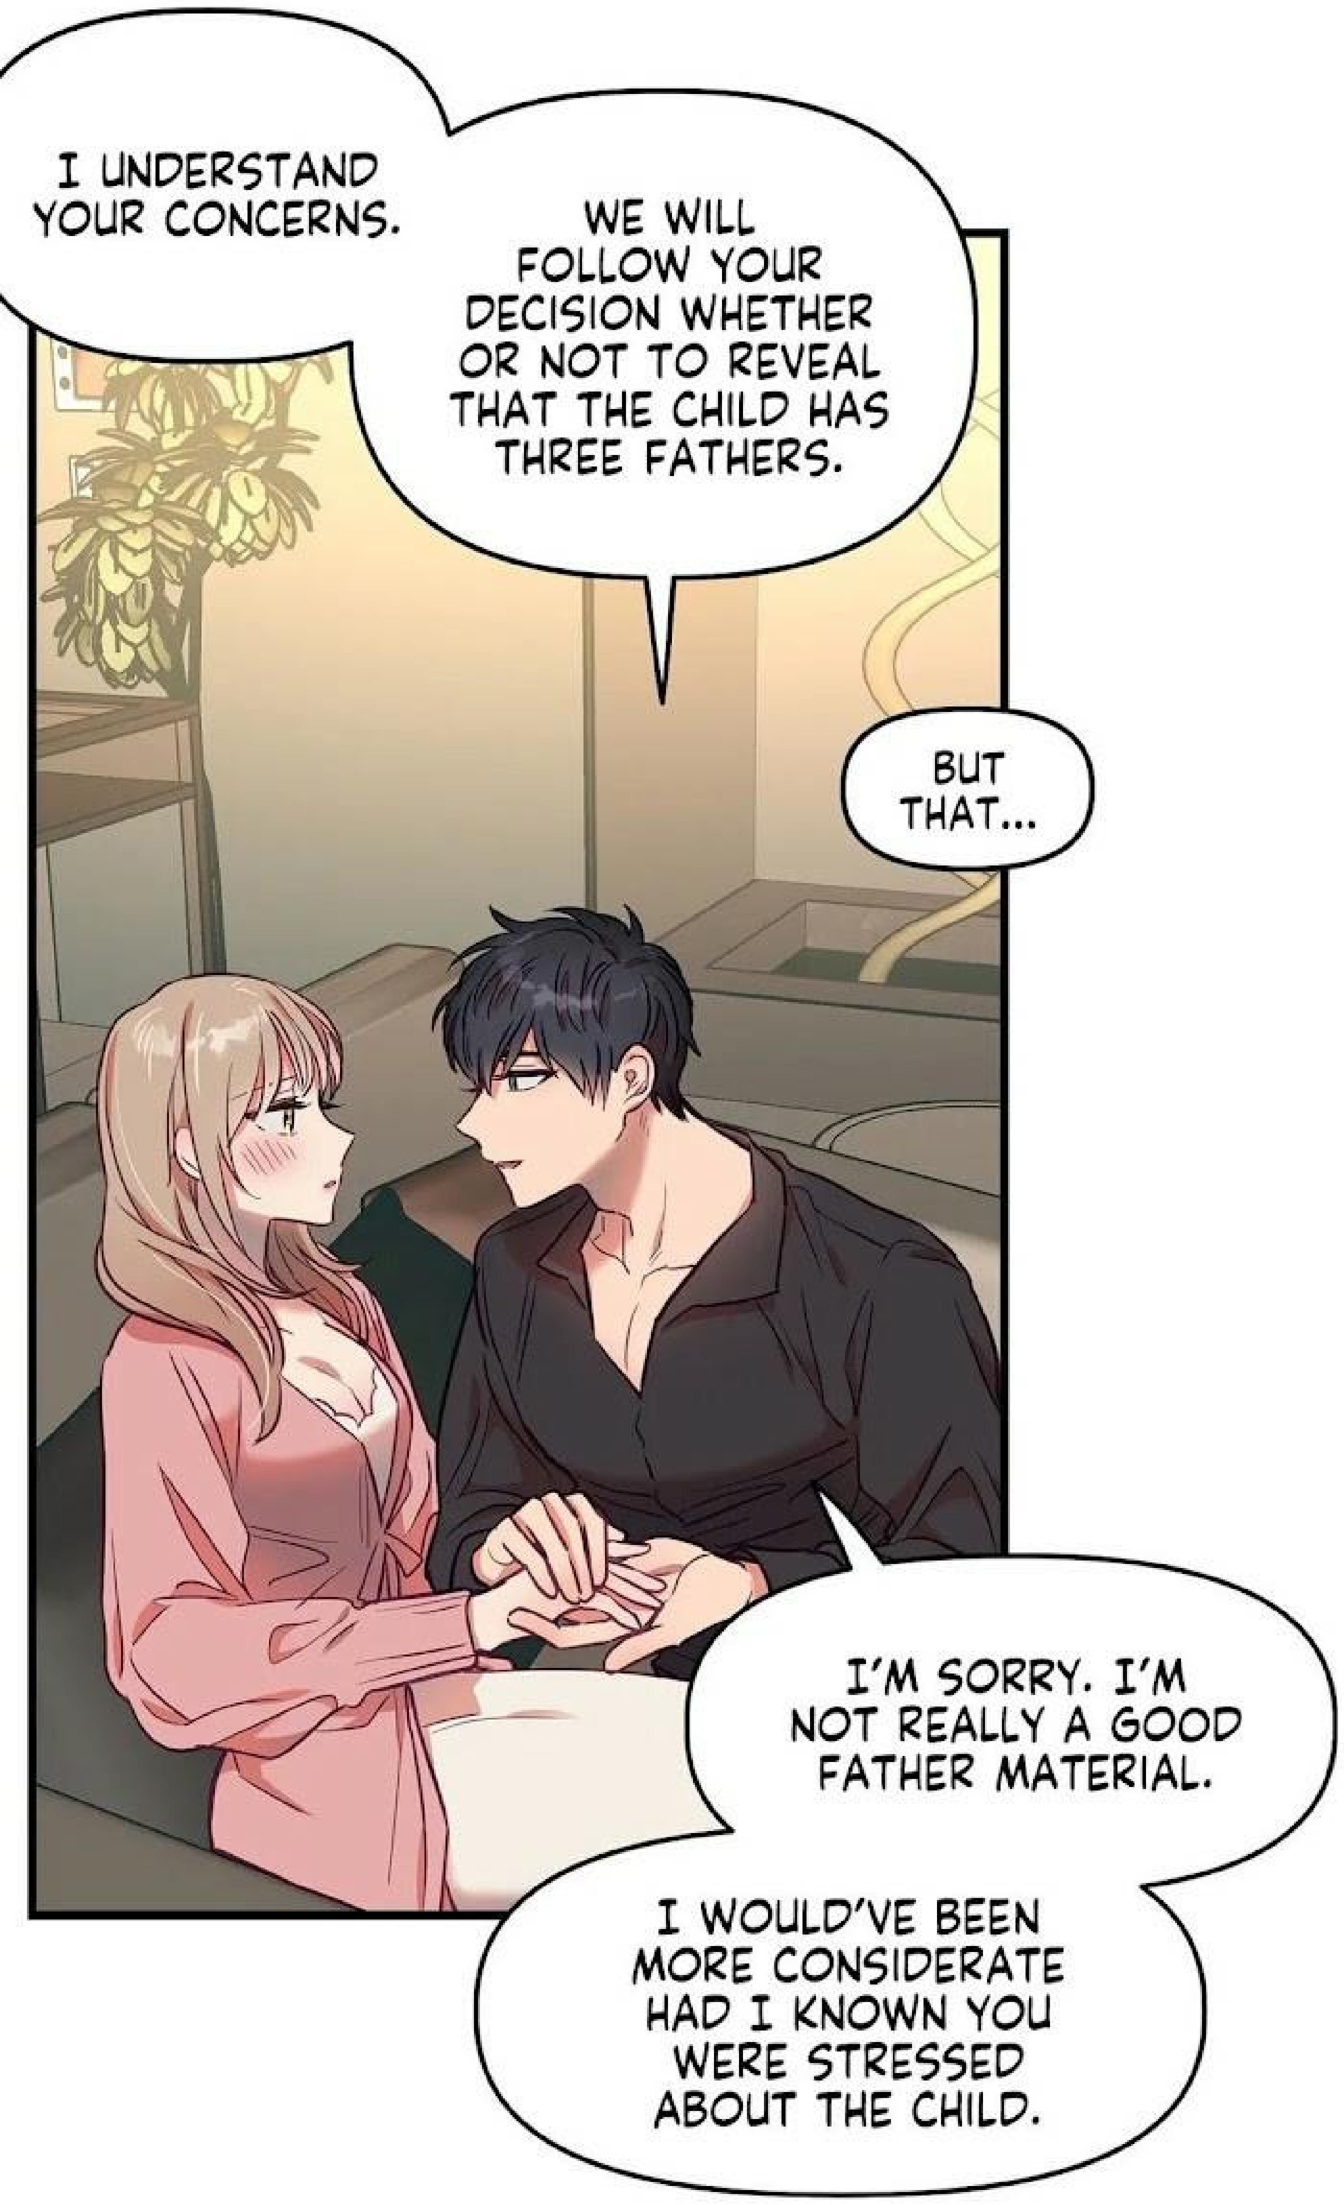

AH...
JUST STUFF LIKE...

WHO SHOULD BE THE FATHER?
TL/N: LMAOOOO.
PR/N: Time to go on the Maury show.
...?
...?
Doesn't that bother you guys?

IS THERE ANY REASON WHY WE SHOULD FEEL BOTHERED? IT DOESN'T MATTER WHO THE FATHER IS. THE BABY IS OUR CHILD.

BUT...
WILL THE CHILD UNDERSTAND THAT?
...

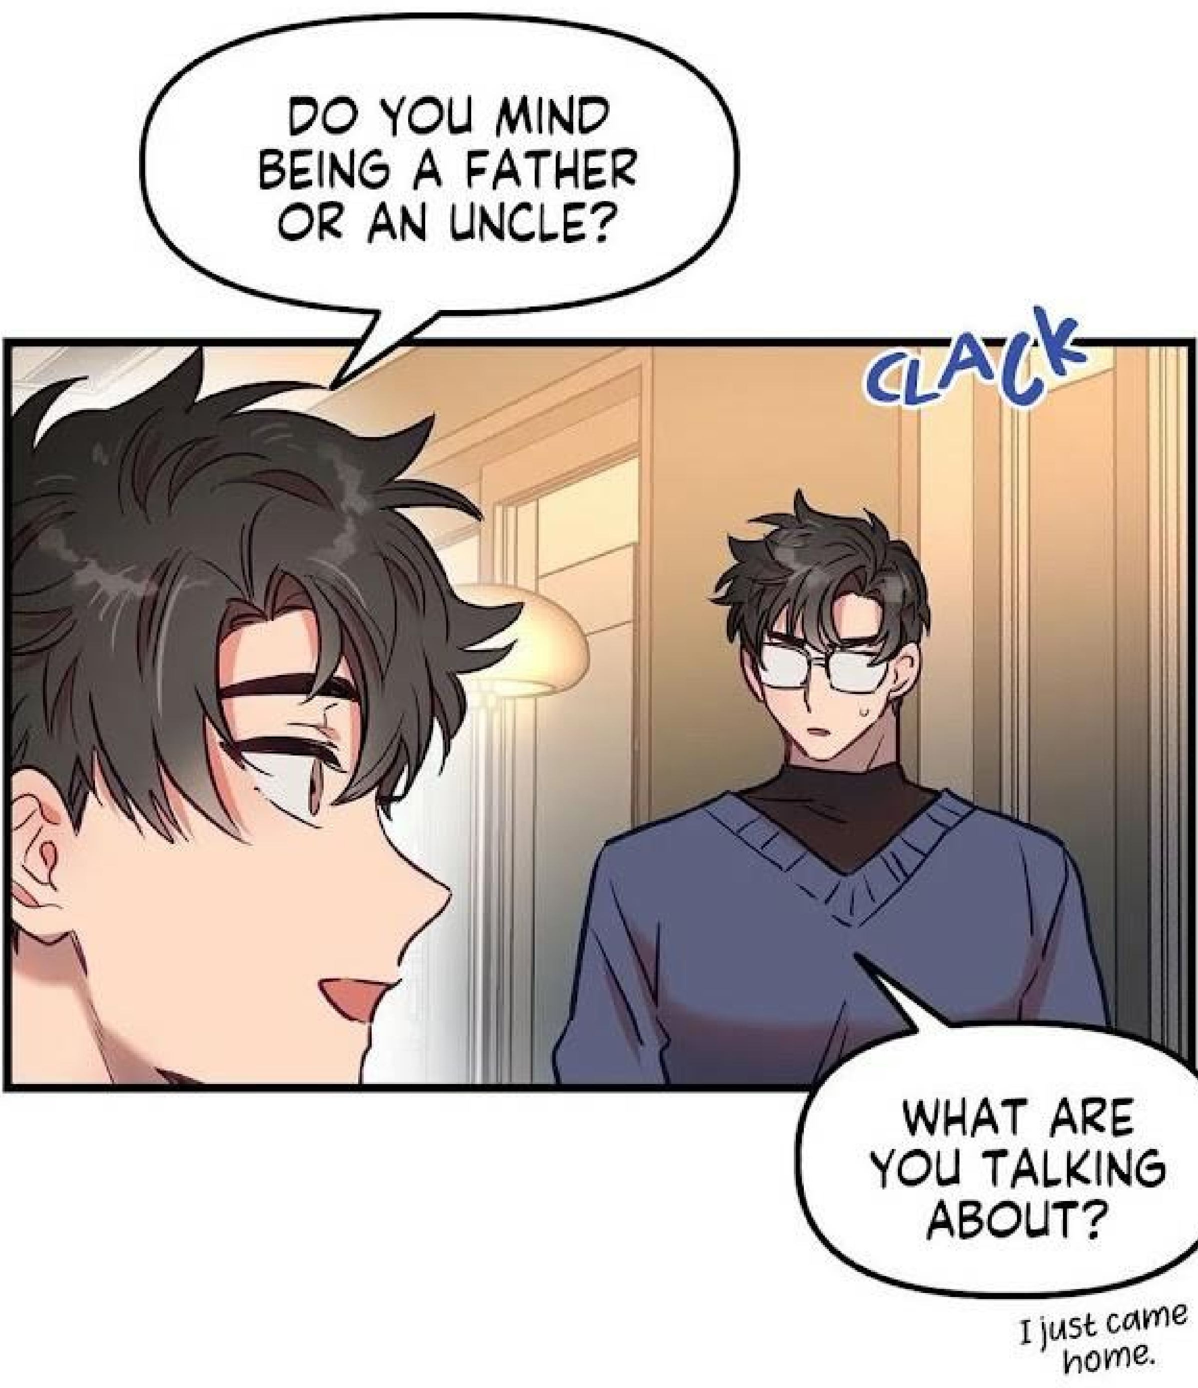

I GUESS I'M JUST NERVOUS ABOUT THE CHANGES.
I THOUGHT I'D BE HAPPY WHEN OUR CHILD COMES, BUT I'M SCARED SOMETIMES.
THIS MIGHT BE A LITTLE EXTREME, BUT THIS CHILD DOESN'T EVEN KNOW IT'LL BE BORN IN SUCH AN ENVIRONMENT.

I UNDERSTAND YOUR CONCERNS.
WE WILL FOLLOW YOUR DECISION WHETHER OR NOT TO REVEAL THAT THE CHILD HAS THREE FATHERS.
BUT THAT...
I'M SORRY. I'M NOT REALLY A GOOD FATHER MATERIAL.
I WOULD'VE BEEN MORE CONSIDERATE HAD I KNOWN YOU WERE STRESSED ABOUT THE CHILD.

I'M SORRY...
FOR ALWAYS BEING THE ONE TO HESITATE.
IT'S NOT THAT I WANT TO CHANGE ANYTHING, I'M JUST WORRIED.
HOLD
IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO THINK ABOUT THE CHILD'S PROBLEMS AS IT GROWS UP.
WE JUST HAVE TO SET A GOOD EXAMPLE, SO THAT WE WON'T BE MISUNDERSTOOD.
I PROMISE.
OUR CHILD WILL BE HAPPY AND TREATED BETTER THAN ANY OTHER FAMILY'S CHILD.
I'M SURE OF IT.

WELL, I'M FINE WITH EITHER ONE.
BEING A FATHER OR AN UNCLE.
OH? REALLY?
MHM. I'M SURE SEO HAN-KYEOL FEELS THE SAME?
BEEPBEEPBEEPBEEP BEEPBEEPBEEPBEEP
BLEEP

DO YOU MIND BEING A FATHER OR AN UNCLE?
CLACK
WHAT ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT?
I just came home.

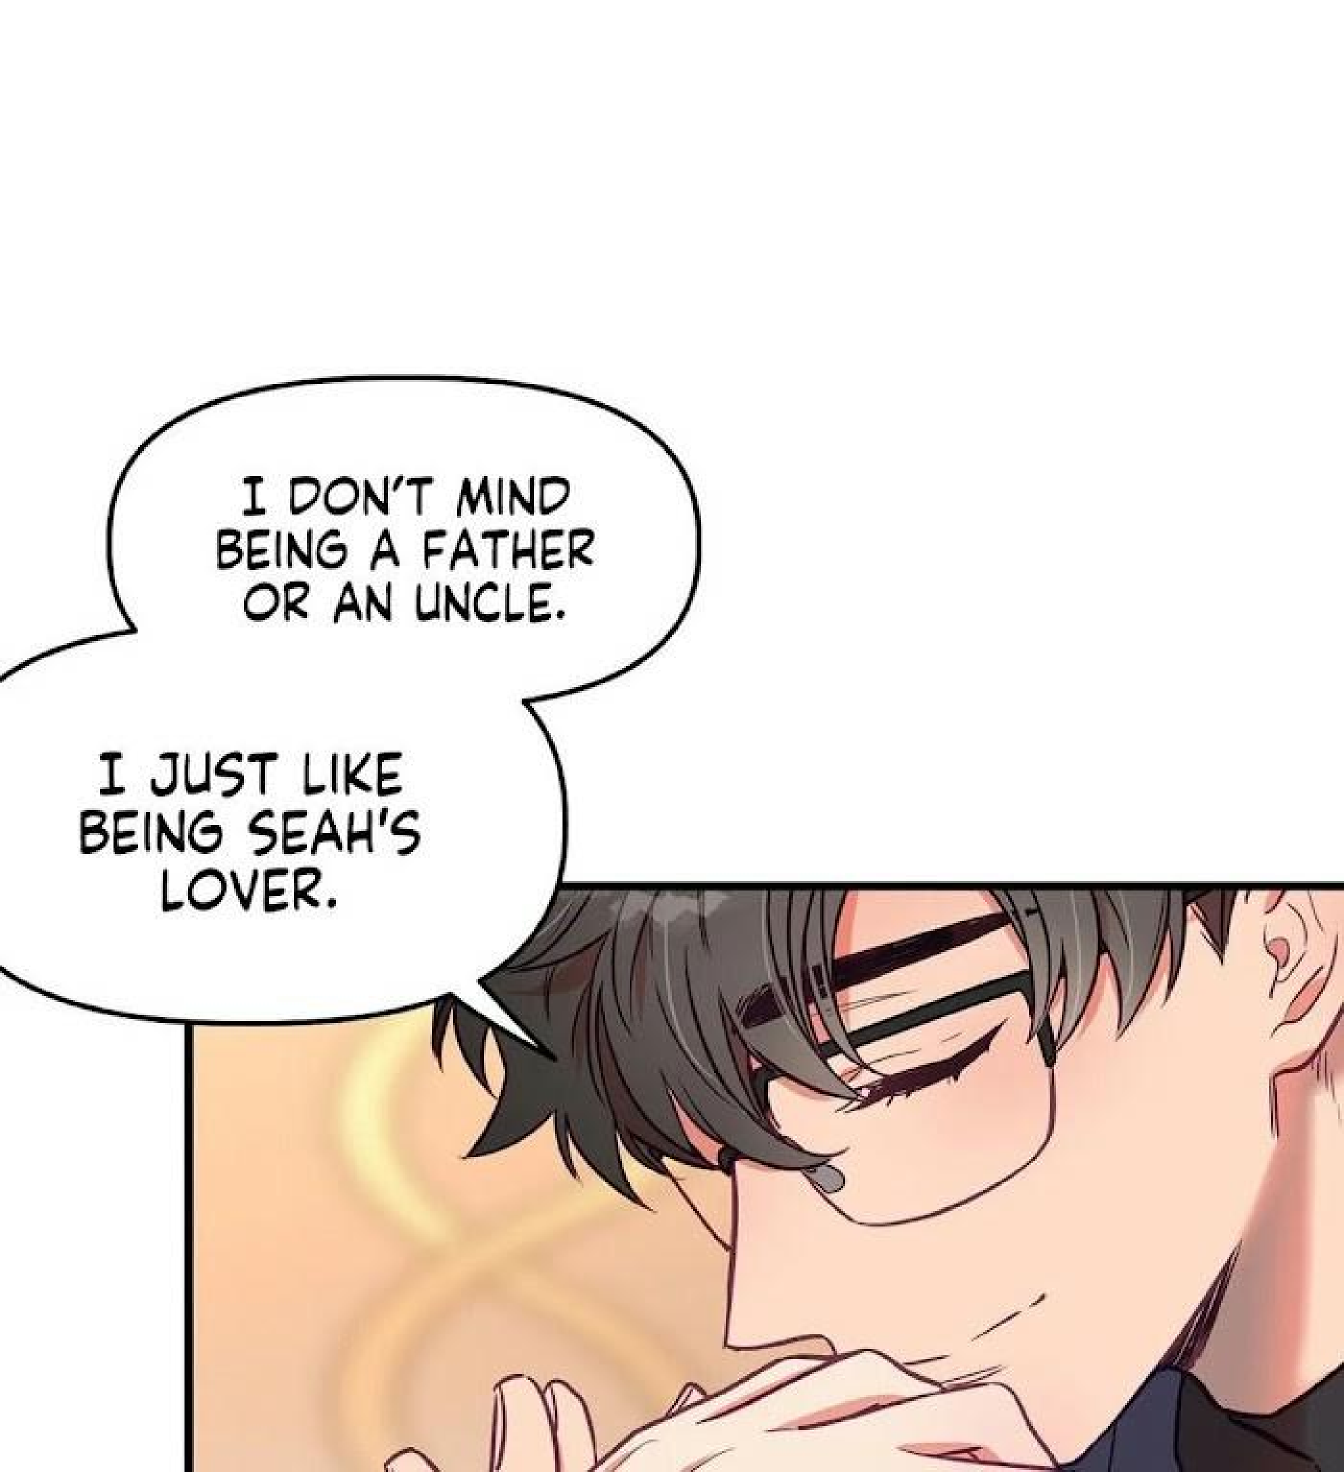

NOONA IS WORRIED.
AAH...

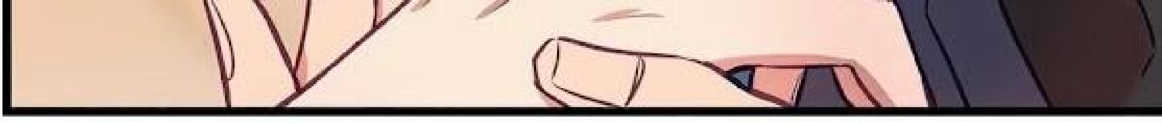

Um...
I ORIGINALLY PLANNED TO STAY SINGLE.
SINGLE? YOU?
DING-

I GREW UP IN A HOUSE THAT WAS WORSE THAN A BROKEN FAMILY, SO SHOULD I HAVE EXPECTED A HAPPY FAMILY OF MY OWN?
I THOUGHT IT WAS COMFORTABLE TO LIVE ALONE.
I DON'T LIKE KIDS THAT MUCH EITHER.

I'M SO THANKFUL TO SEAH.

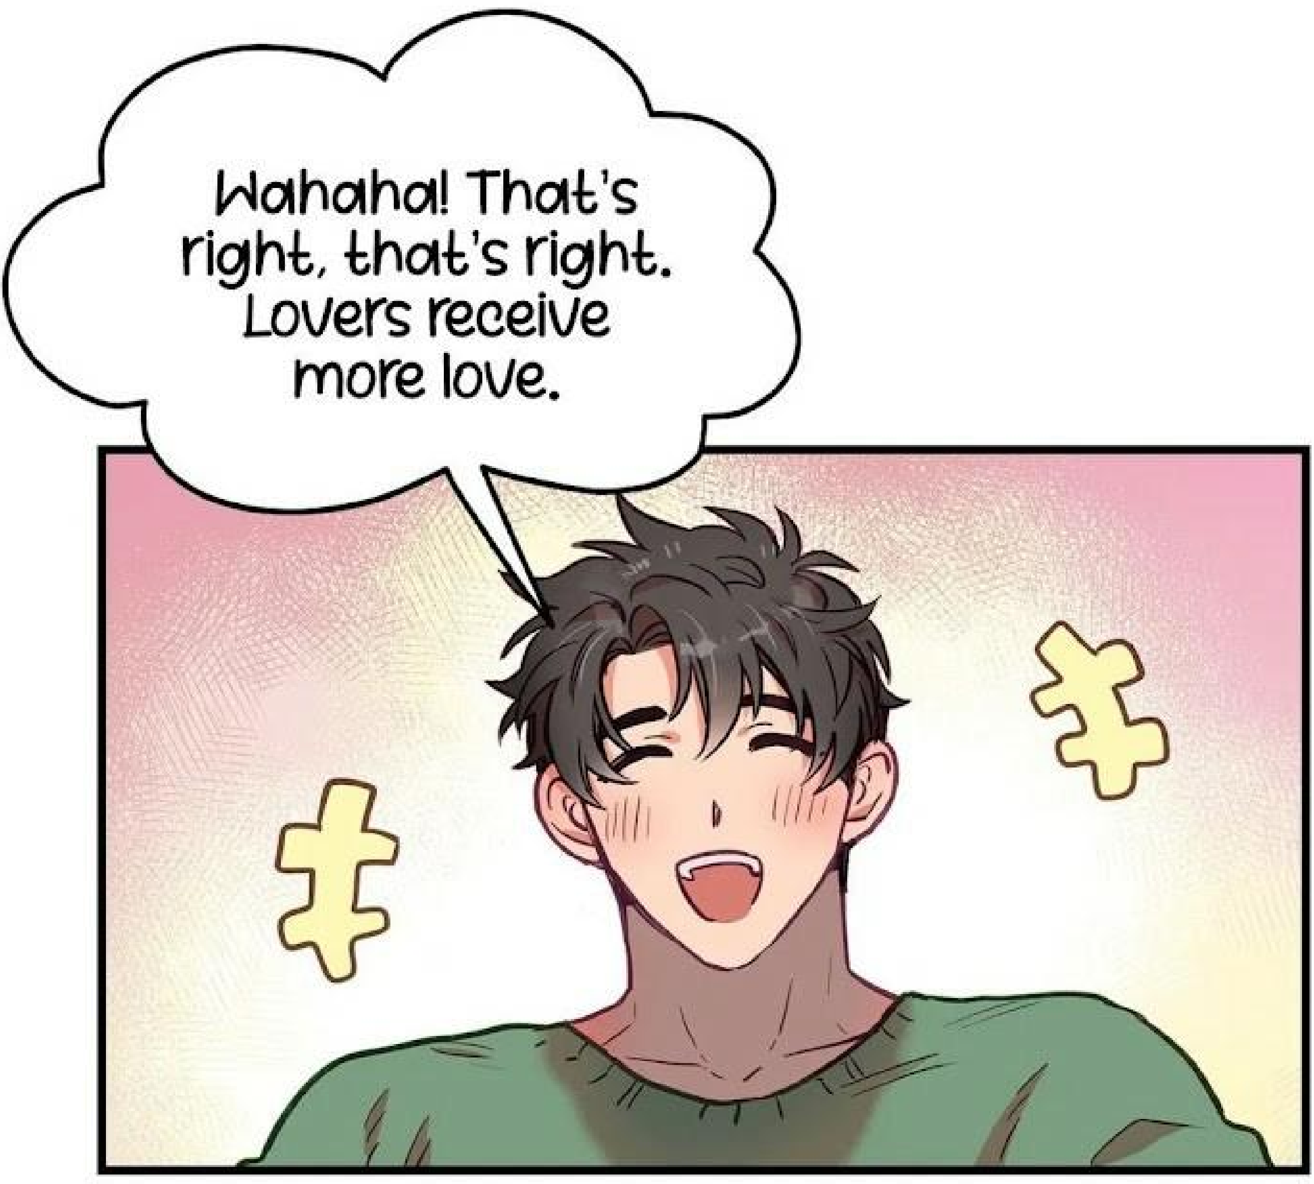

YOU GAVE ME A CHILD THAT I COULD LOVE.

I DON'T MIND BEING A FATHER OR AN UNCLE.
I JUST LIKE BEING SEAH'S LOVER.

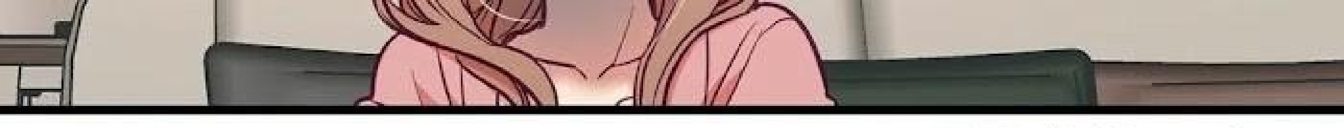

FOR SOME REASON, I THINK BEING A LOVER IS BETTER THAN BEING A HUSBAND.

Wahaha! That's right, that's right. Lovers receive more love.

ALSO, NOONA CAN BE MORE DEMANDING. THERE ARE THREE OBEDIENT MEN HERE.
DON'T BE IMPATIENT OR AFRAID. WE'LL WAIT FOR YOU TO MAKE THE DECISION.

TL/N: Seah is living our dreams.
PR/N: Why can't I be her?!
TS/N: *sobbing rn brb.

TS/N: ILY2 Seah pls share some crumbs. ㅠㅠ

GOOD MORNING, NOONA.
Seo Hankyeom, you...
AH, NOONA, IF YOU TALK TO ME LIKE THAT...
Ha. I think I'm coming.
It's getting erotic. Let me cum on your face.
Should I suck it?

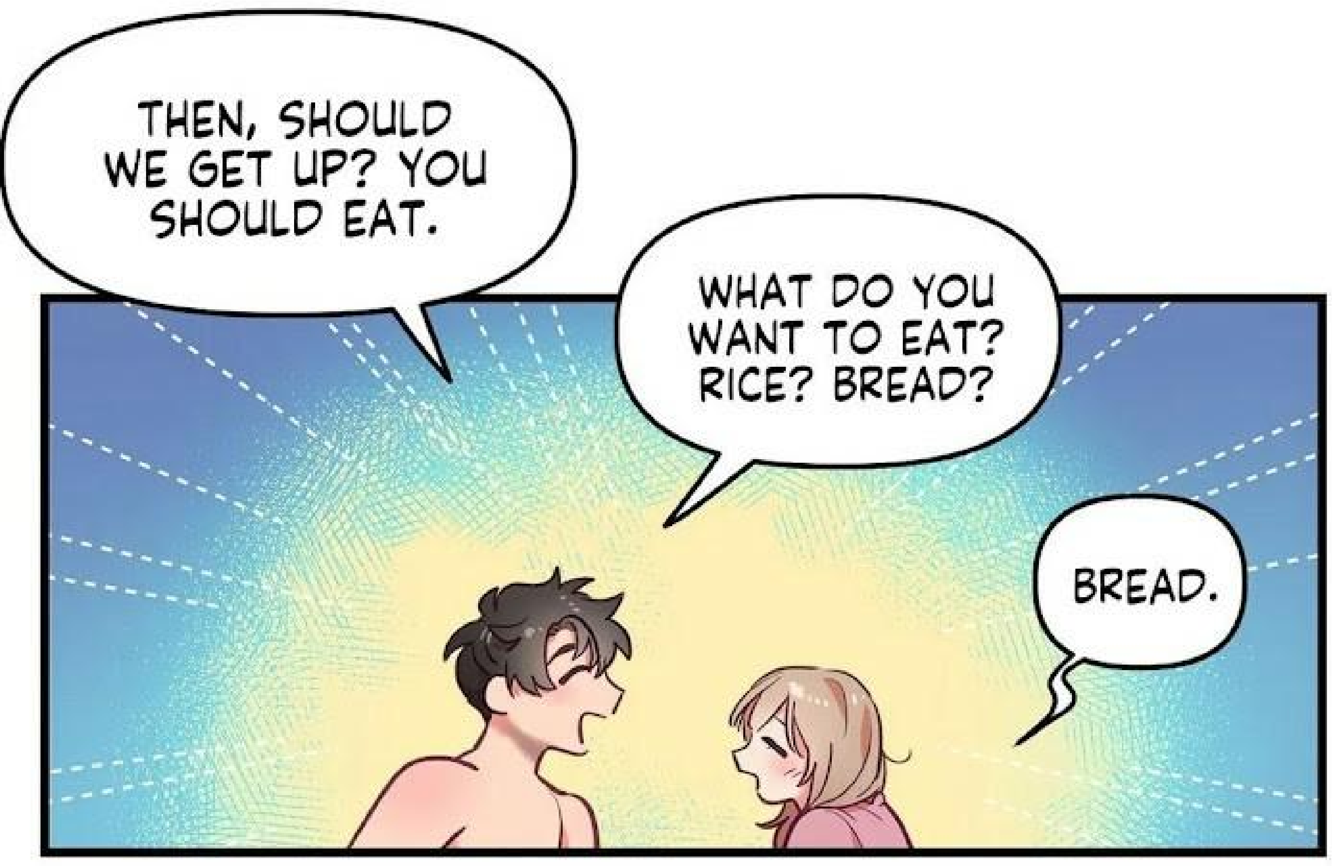

No, no, ugh...
I'll just rub it

NOONA, YOU LOOK LIKE A RABBIT IN THE SNOW. IT'S EROTIC.
DID YOU SLEEP WELL?
MHM...

THEN, SHOULD WE GET UP? YOU SHOULD EAT.
WHAT DO YOU WANT TO EAT? RICE? BREAD?
BREAD.

TOAST? SANDWICH?
TOAST. GRILLED WITH BUTTER.
GOT IT.

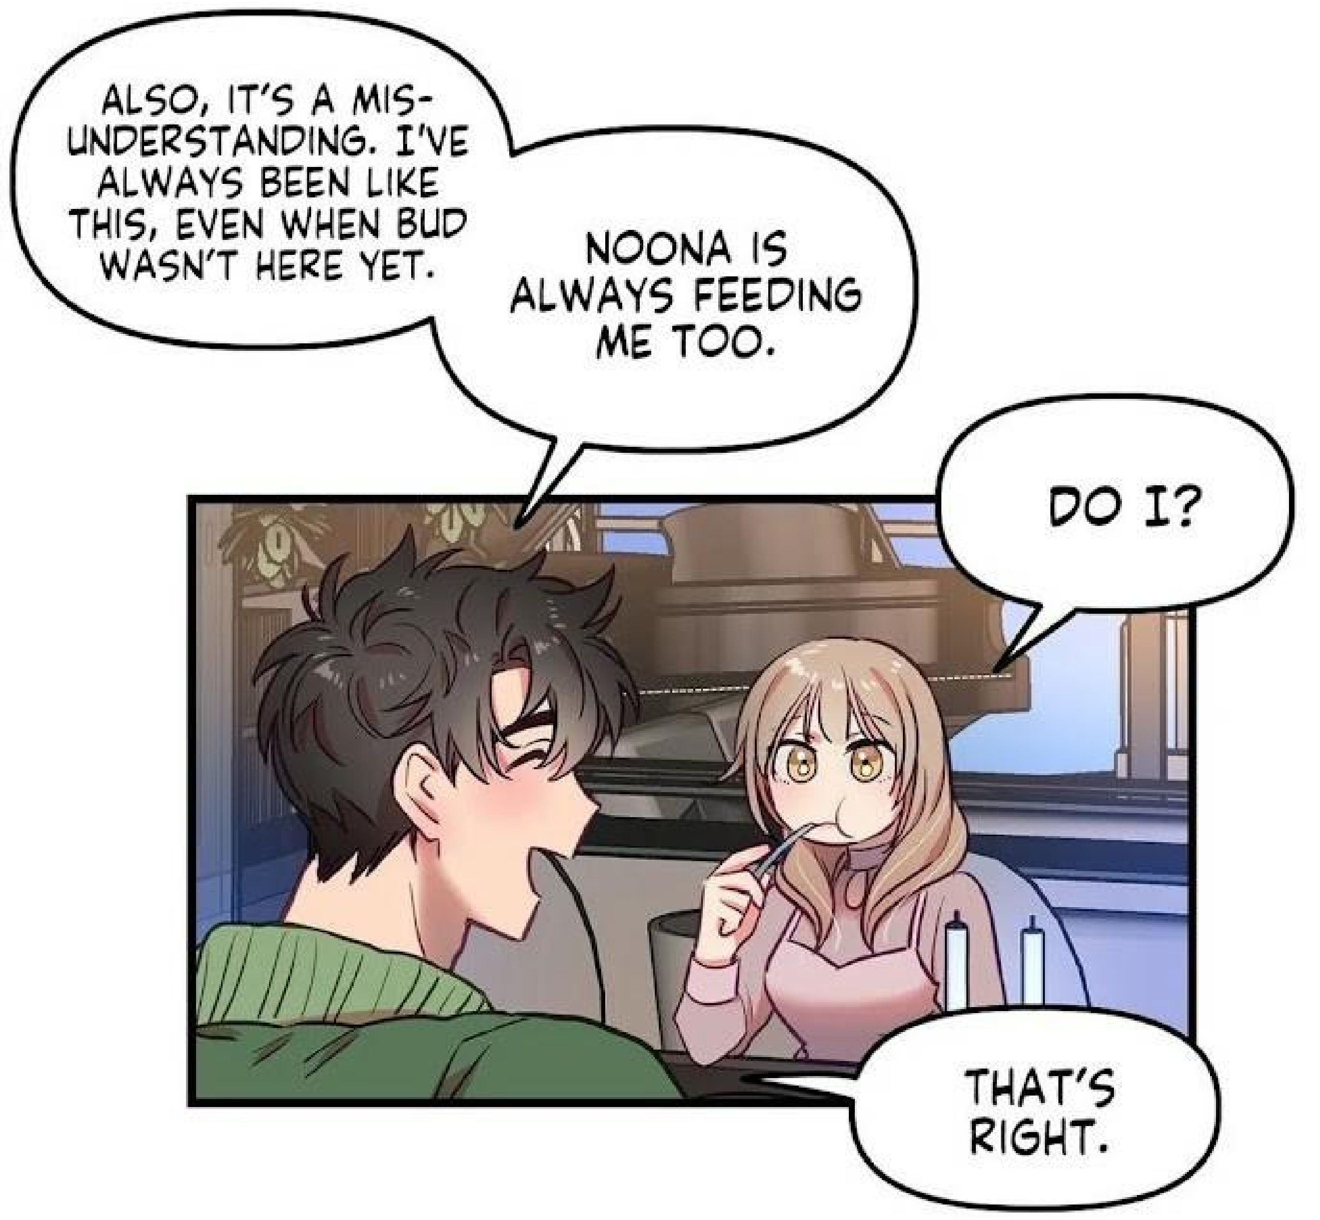

THE DOCTOR SAID THAT KOREANS GAIN AN AVERAGE OF 20KG WHEN THEY'RE PREGNANT.
7KG FOR JAPAN AND 12KG FOR THE UNITED STATES.
IT'S BECAUSE OF THE FALSE BELIEF THAT PEOPLE SHOULD EAT A LOT WHEN THEY ARE PREGNANT.
THE DOCTOR SAID THAT EATING WELL IS WHAT'S IMPORTANT, NOT EATING A LOT.

IS IT?

I'M TALKING ABOUT YOU.
HEY, THAT'S NOT TRUE. WE DON'T FORCE YOU TO EAT.

YEAH, YOU GUYS DON'T FORCE ME TO EAT. BUT THE PROBLEM IS I'M EATING ALONE...
This is delicious!
DRINK THIS JUICE AS WELL.

ALSO, IT'S A MIS-UNDERSTANDING. I'VE ALWAYS BEEN LIKE THIS, EVEN WHEN BUD WASN'T HERE YET.
NOONA IS ALWAYS FEEDING ME TOO.
DO I?
THAT'S RIGHT.

UNCLE AND HANKYEOL WENT HOME.
HM? WHEN? IN THE MORNING?

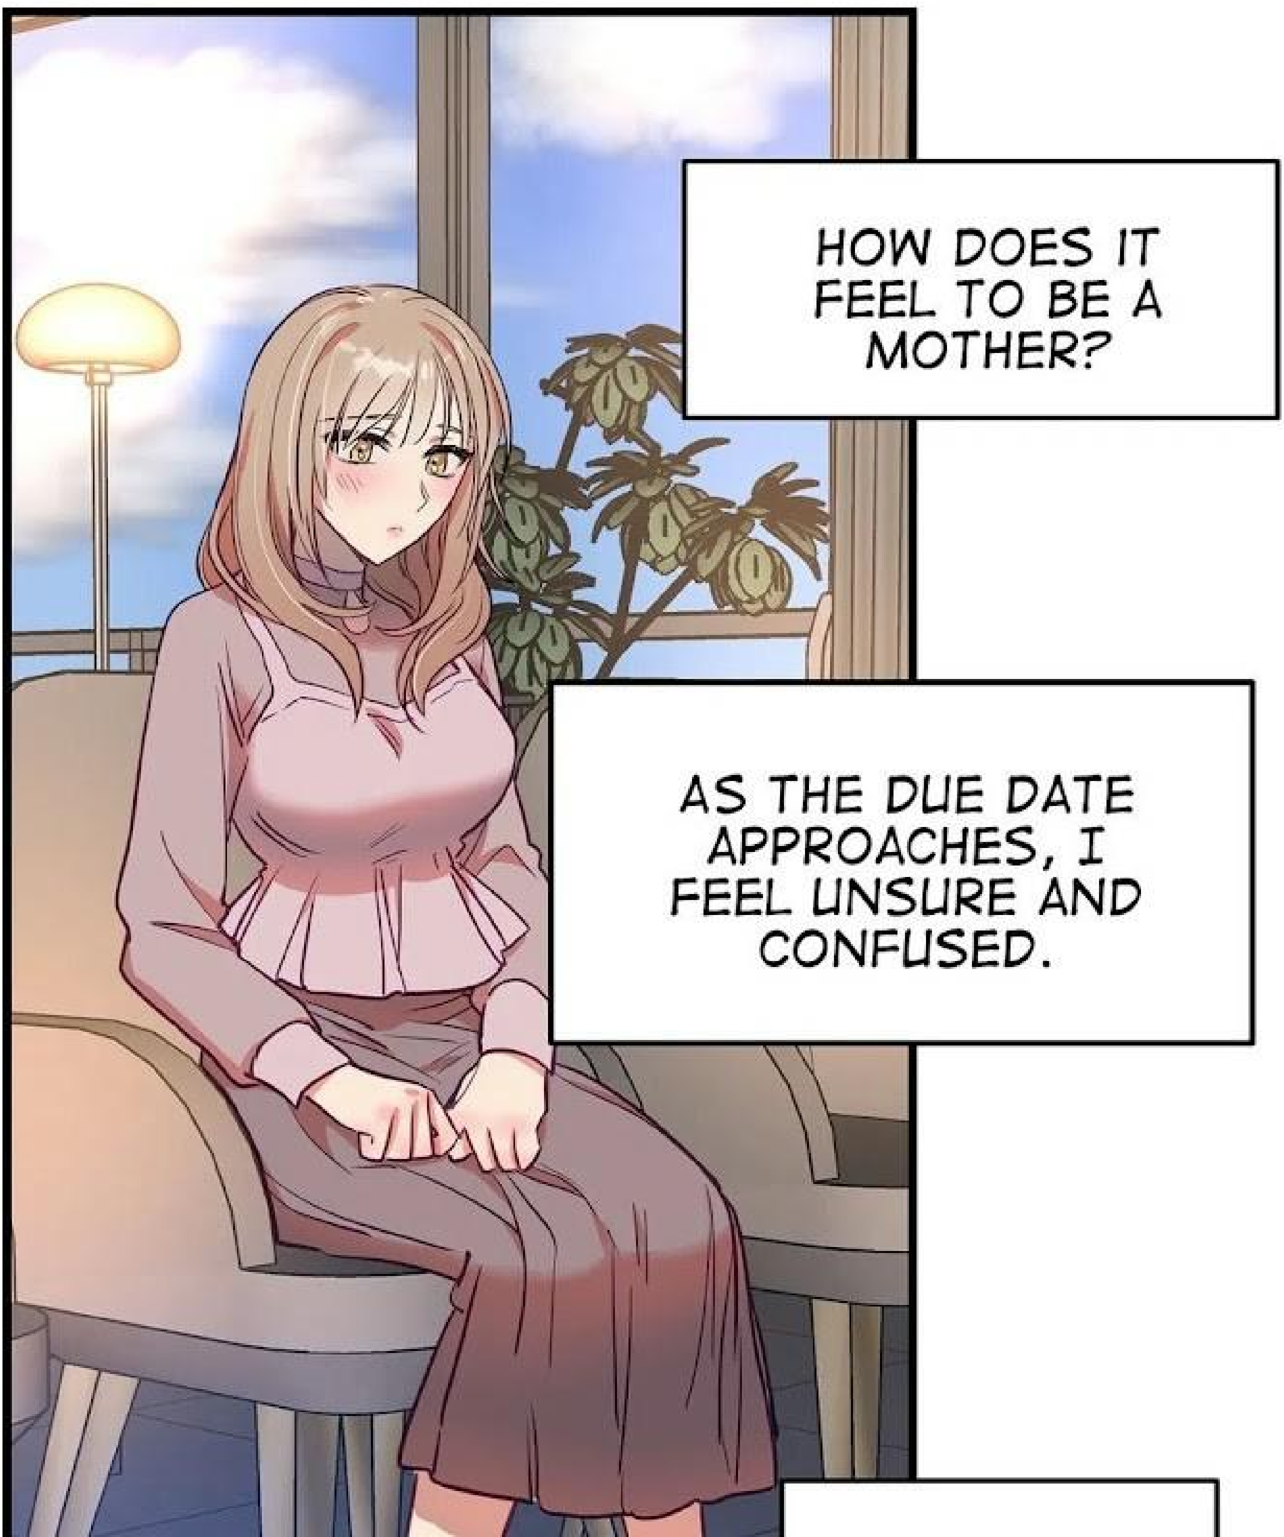

WHY DIDN'T I KNOW ABOUT IT?
I DIDN'T HEAR THEM WAKING UP.
NOONA MUST BE TIRED BECAUSE OF THE BABY.
IT'S ACTUALLY HEAVEN RIGHT NOW. I HEARD THAT THE REAL HELL UNFOLDS AFTER GIVING BIRTH.
THERE ARE FOUR OF US. ISN'T THAT BETTER THAN TWO PARENTS RAISING A CHILD?
WE'LL ALSO HIRE A BABY-SITTER.
YOU'LL HIRE A BABY-SITTER?
WON'T THAT BE UNCOM-FORTABLE?

WHY? BECAUSE THE BABYSITTER MIGHT HAVE WEIRD QUESTIONS?
LIKE WHY ARE TWO GROWN NEPHEWS LIVING IN A NEWLYWEDS' HOUSE?
Fidget
NO, NO, THAT'S...

WE CAN'T DO IT...

SEX?
EVERYTHING! THE WHOLE THING OVER-ALL. IF SOMEONE ELSE IS HERE,
IT'LL BE HARD FOR US TO ACT LIKE USUAL. OF COURSE, IT'LL BOTHER ME TOO IF SOMEONE ELSE IS HERE.
AHA.
IF YOU WANT, I'LL TAKE A SEMESTER OFF AND STAY WITH YOU.
CAN YOU TAKE A SEMESTER OFF THAT EASILY?
OF COURSE. OTHERS TAKE A SEMESTER OFF TO TRAVEL OVERSEAS, BUT THIS IS MUCH MORE IMPORTANT THAN THAT.
AS LONG AS NOONA LIKES THE IDEA.

I... LIKE IT
FOR SURE.

HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE A MOTHER?
AS THE DUE DATE
APPROACHES, I FEEL UNSURE AND CONFUSED.

BUT IT'S GOING TO BE ALRIGHT.
INSTEAD, LET'S GET THE SECOND TO TREAT YOU. WHAT DO YOU THINK?
The Second
Pfft
I HAVE THREE MEN BY MY SIDE.
IDIOT!
Haha.
Hit

AND WE WON'T CHANGE EVEN AFTER THE BABY IS HERE.

WHAT'S SO EMBARRASSING WITH YOUR HUSBANDS?

TL/N: They're doing all this because they don't want the thingy to go in too deep and hit the baby.

Y-YOU'RE SO SLY, HANKYEOM.

Ah, even though I know that... your insides are slurping me like crazy.

I REFUSED SO THAT YOU WOULDN'T BE PUT IN AN UNCOMFORT-ABLE SITUATION.
THESE KIND OF THINGS ARE A HUSBAND'S DUTY, AFTER ALL.
HAA
TELL ME THAT I DID WELL, SEAH.

TW - TALK OF DEATH

NO, DEFINITELY NOT EVEN ONCE.

SO, THIS WASN'T A TRIVIAL MATTER.

PR/N: The nurse is calling Seah "mom" because... she literally became one

AT THAT TIME, I EXPERIENCED HELL... AND RIGHT AS THE CHILD WAS COMING OUT, I FELT THE NUMBING EFFECTS OF THE SHOT EVAPORATE. I TRULY THOUGHT I WAS ABOUT TO DIE.

PR/N: I believe she means the epidural.

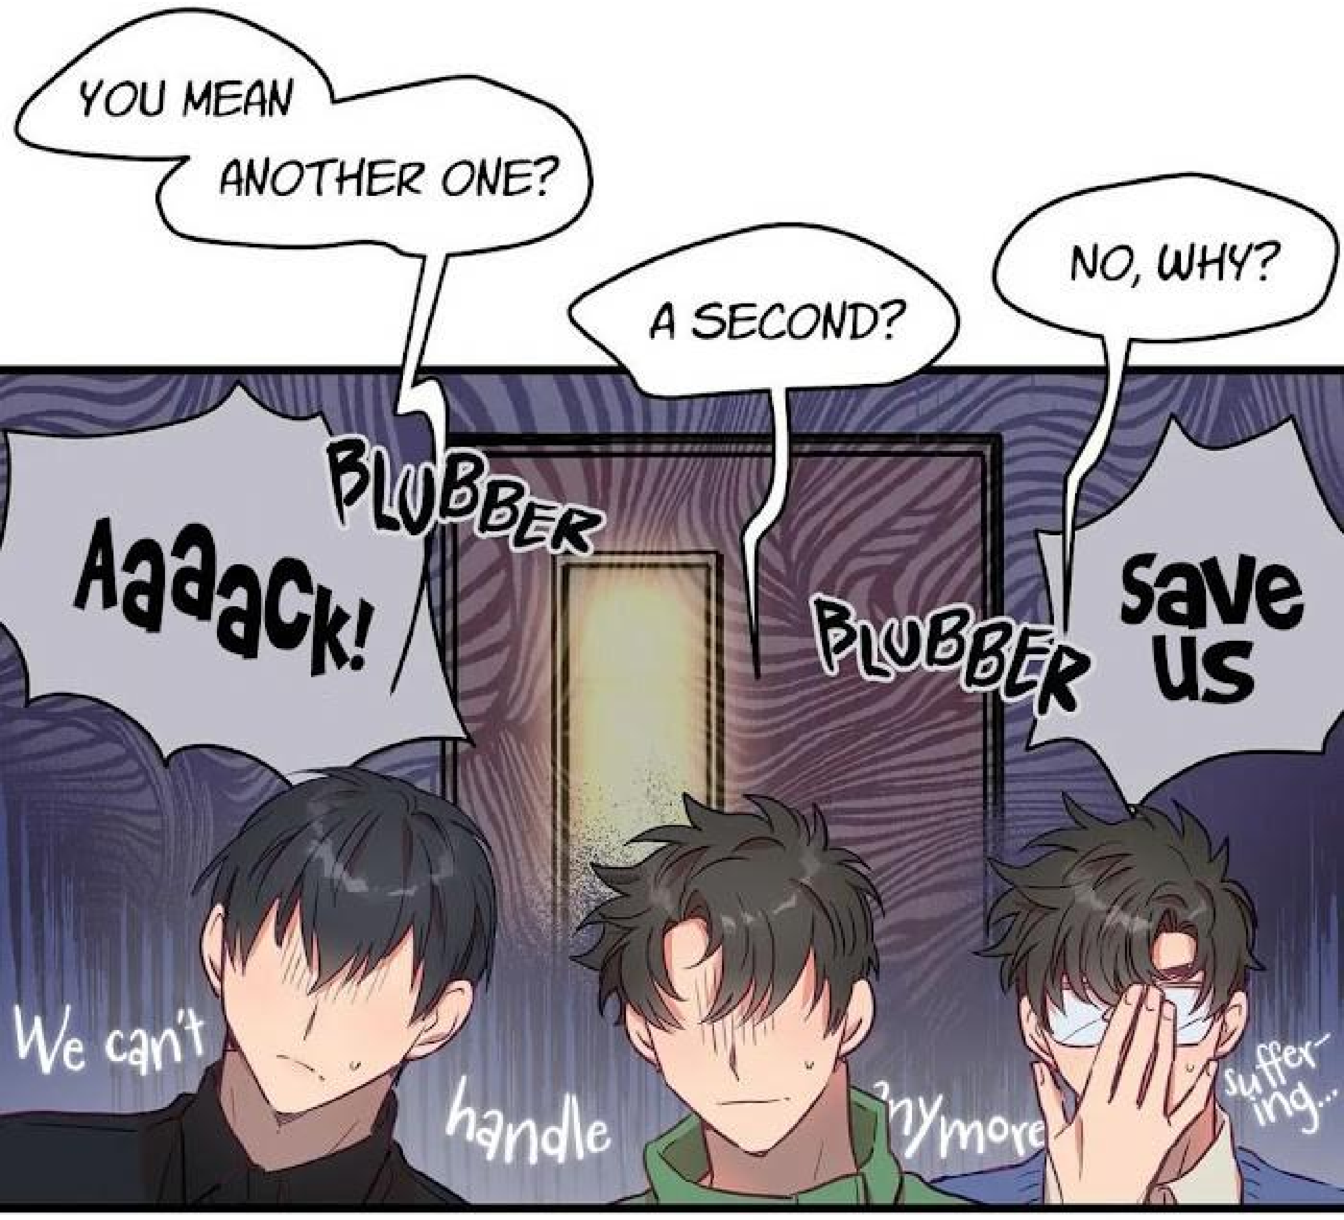

QC: Calling your baby ugly, ooff... :D

NEVERTHELESS, IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN THE ENDOR-PHINS COMING BACK, OR THAT THE TIME PASSED, BUT... I WAS ABLE TO GATHER THE COURAGE TO FEEL OKAY ENOUGH ABOUT HAVING THREE CHILDREN.

It seems like they're the prettiest when they're infants!
I did say that you were very wrinkly when you were first born, but now you're so chubby and cute!
Content
ONCE BUD GROWS UP A BIT MORE, LET'S TRY HAVING A SECOND ONE.
FREEZE

YOU MEAN ANOTHER ONE?
A SECOND?
NO, WHY?
Aaaack!
BLUBBER
BLUBBER
Save us

nymore suffer-ing...

WHAT'S WITH YOUR REACTIONS, EVERYONE? I THOUGHT YOU'D LIKE IT?
DIDN'T YOU ASK ME TO HAVE LOTS OF CHILDREN?

I KNOW WE AGREED TO NOT CHECK THE CHILD'S GENES, BUT I WANT TO CHECK AND HAVE A CHILD WITH THE OTHER TWO.
ISN'T THIS SOMETHING WE SHOULD CONSIDER MORE CAREFULLY, SINCE THE CHILD HAS JUST BEEN BORN?
Yeah!
YOU THINK SO?
BUT...
TO BE HONEST, I'M STILL A LITTLE SCARED OF HOLDING THE CHILD. I'M WORRIED THAT I'LL DROP THE BABY.

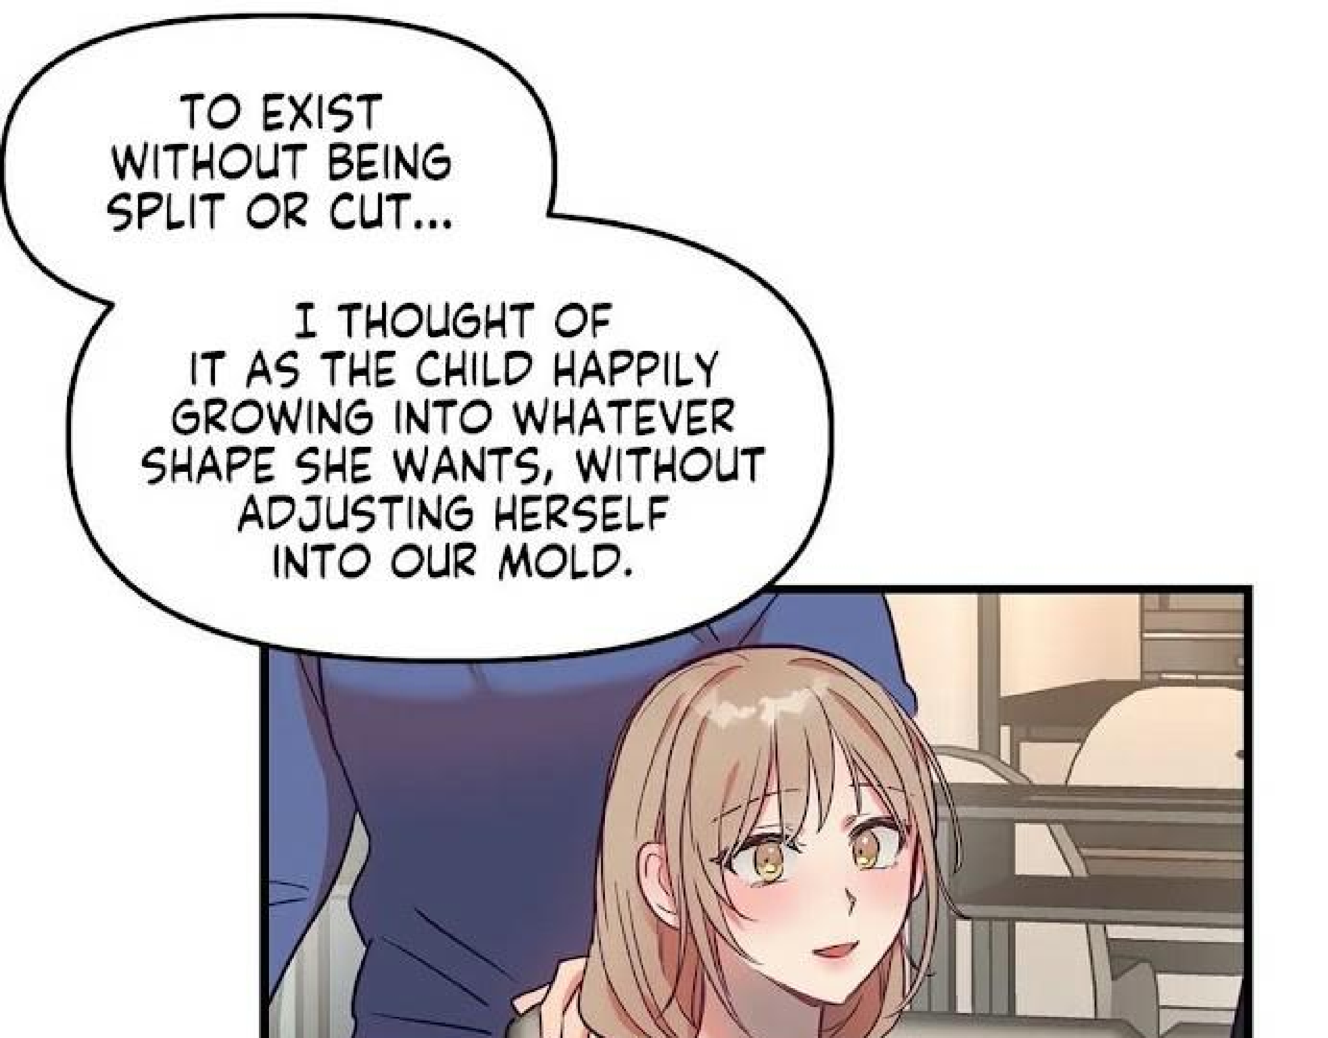

THEN IT'LL BE FINE IF WE HOLD THE CHILD.
SINCE SEAH DID THE BIRTHING, WE'LL DO THE RAISING.
THE GALLANT RETURN OF THE PEOPLE WHO HADN'T EXPERIENCED THE HELL OF PARENTING.

AH, LET'S SEE.

T/L: "onsaemiro" is an old and purely traditional Korean word that means "the nature without splitting or changing" or "something that is natural". It's one of the few words that can be called "purely Korean" because a lot of the Korean etymology comes from Chinese.

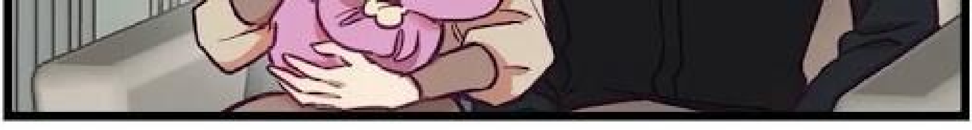

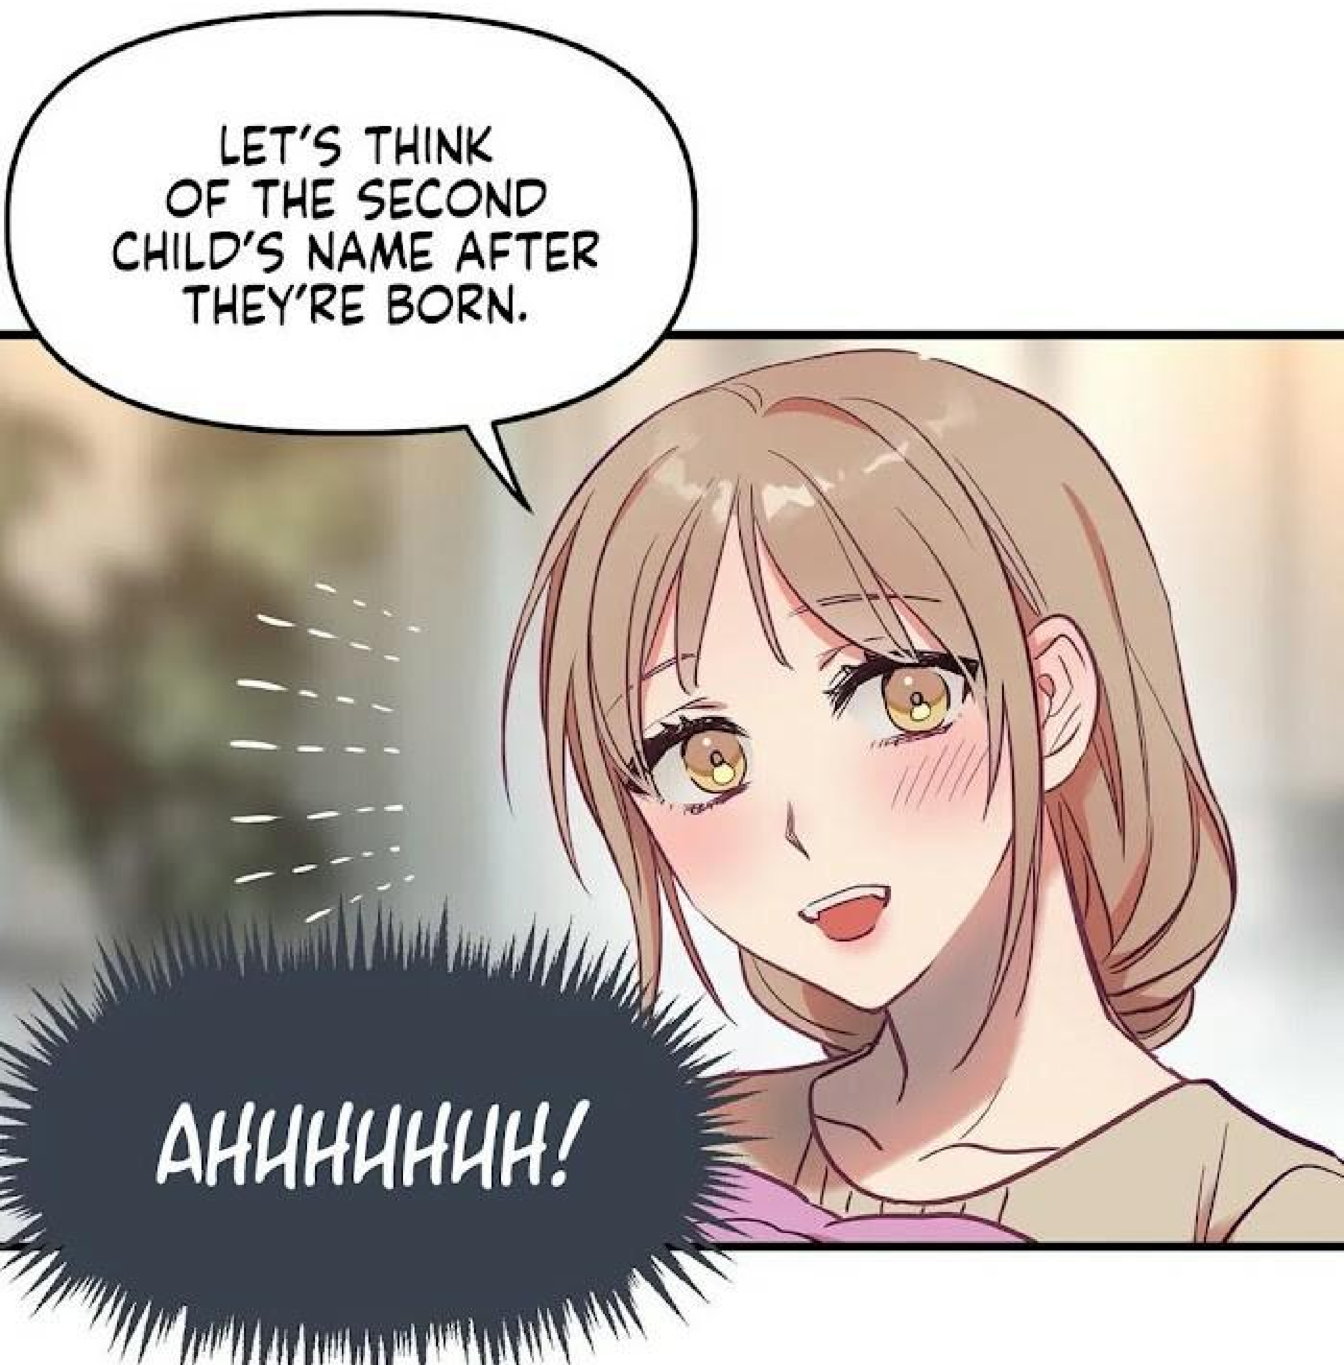

T/L: He chose the name because he wanted the child to grow however she likes without ever feeling like they're being forced to fit into the polygamy.

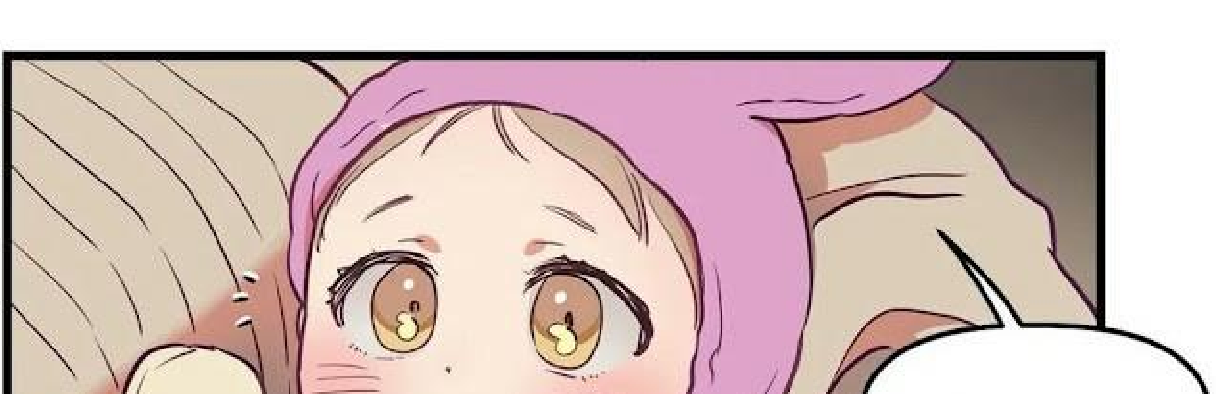

BUT, IF THERE'S AN ONSAE, THEN SHOULDN'T THERE BE A MIRO?

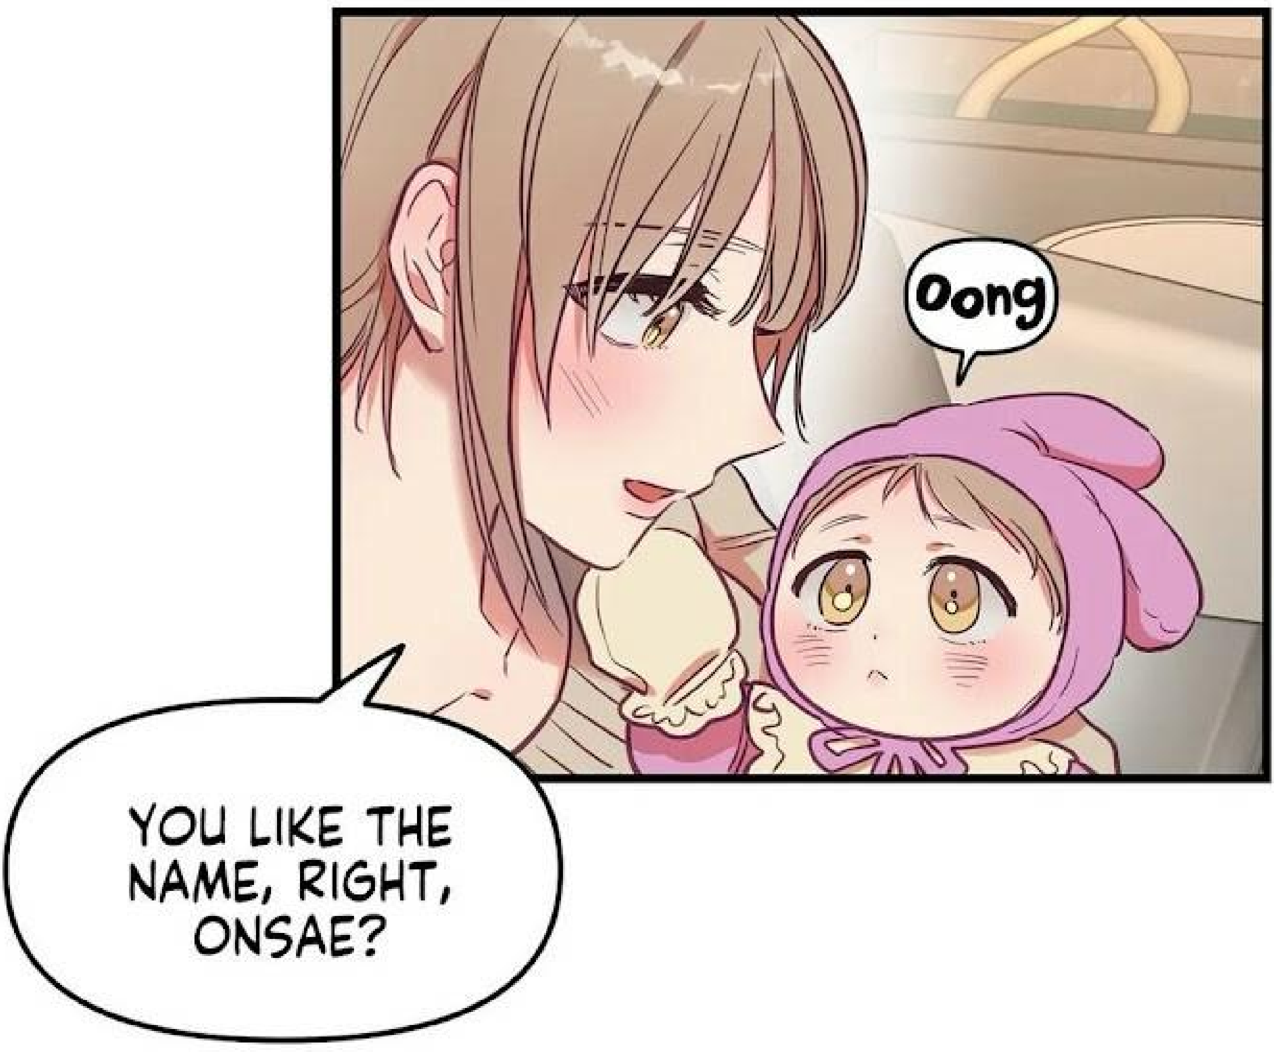

Silence...

IT'LL BE FINE IF WE JUST CALL THE CHILD LEE ONSAEMIRO.
ONSAE IS DEFINITELY CUTER THAN ONSAEMIRO
IT'D BE REALLY CUTE IF THE FIRST ONE WAS ONSAE AND THE SECOND ONE BECAME MIRO.
*insert intense nodding gifs
IS THERE ANY SPECIFIC HURRY TO CALL THE SECOND ONE MIRO?
BUD WOULD PROBABLY BE ENOUGH TO CARRY THE ENTIRE MEANING OF ONSAEMIRO.
Hm~ THERE'S ALSO THAT.
Phew

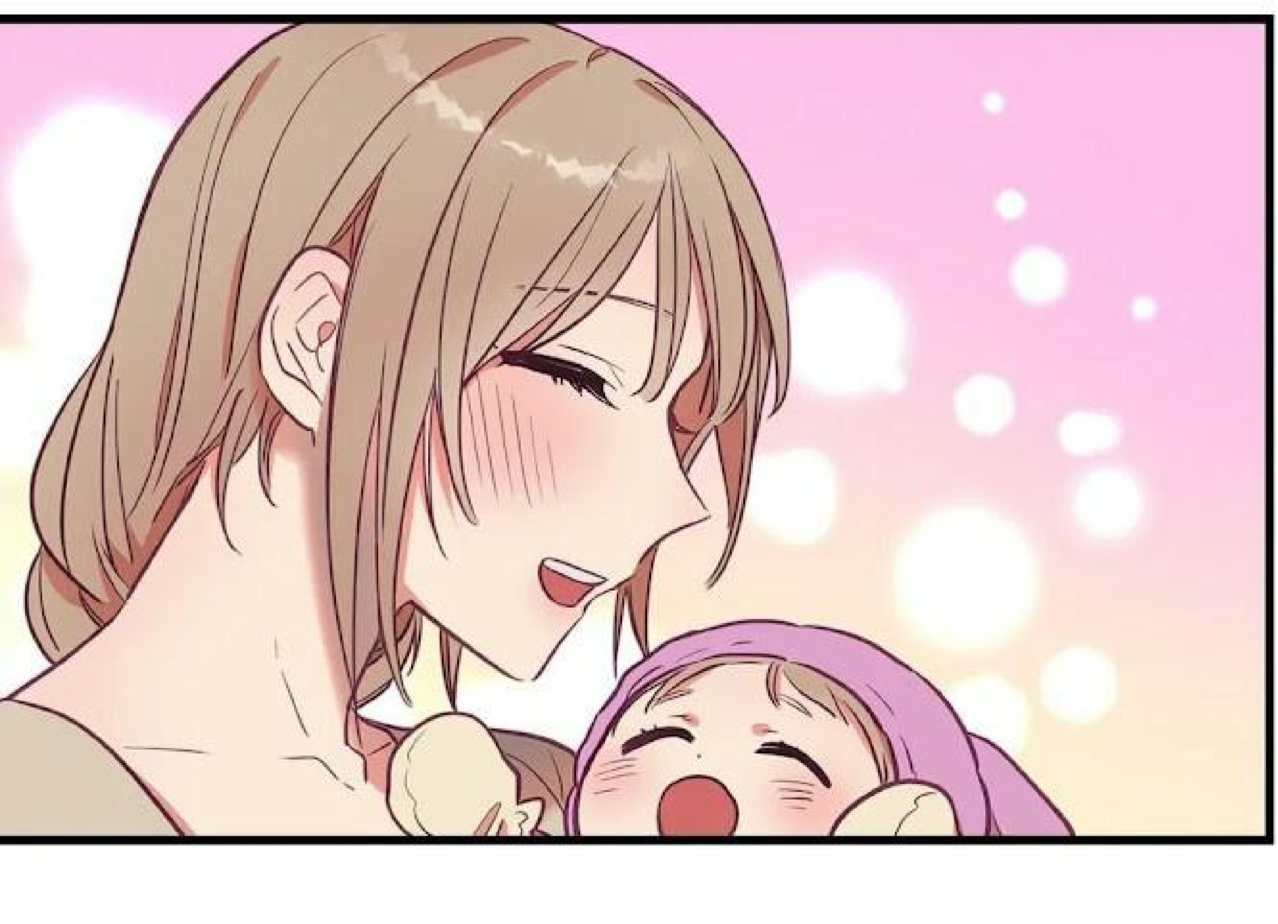

LET'S THINK OF THE SECOND CHILD'S NAME AFTER THEY'RE BORN.
AHUHUHUH!

ONSAE.

Oong
YOU LIKE THE NAME, RIGHT, ONSAE?

Gyao!
OH MY,
SHE SMILED!
SEEMS LIKE SHE DROPPED THE IDEA OF THE SECOND CHILD.

THIS WAS HOW THE CHILD CALLED ONSAE
WITH ONE MOTHER
AND THREE FATHERS

CAME
